AN IMPORTANT EXPLANATION---To Those of Our Customers Who Purchased the Linen Towels at 10c Each

On Wednesday of this week we held a sale of linen towels at 10c each. We sold them in perfect good faith, but have found out since that a large quantity of them were in such a condition, caused by too much lye in the bleaching, as to render them tender and cause them to break in the wash. It is not the policy of this store to sell bad merchandise so we ask that in justice to ourselves that you return these goods to the store for refund or exchange for other merchandise. If you care to wash them first do so, then if they break we still will gladly make them good.
