Roll up your sleeves and bend your back and make a lively scrap; get in the game and make this town a big dot on the map; don't sit along the sidelines and watch the others work; keep rustling everlasting—not for a moment shirk; get busy gathering specimens from garden and from field; get together everywhere the choicest of the yield; little sheaves of oats and wheat, little bales of hay, spuds and carrots, cherries fine, bring them in today; Breitenstein is growling, cheer him up a bit; bring your fruit and garden sass—that will make a hit; bring the best of what you have—tell your neighbor, too; keep the ball a-rolling—that's the proper thing to do; every little helps the show, bring your stuff along; boost the big Montana fair, make it good and strong; get in with lots of ginger, hustle with some snap; help to make Missoula a big dot on the map.

W. B. George was in town yesterday on his way from Killings to Stevensville, where he will address a meeting today, discussing good roads, good citizenship and good farming. Yesterday afternoon Mr. George had a busy time with his Missoula friends. All were glad to see him and as many as could had a talk with him about the crops and other topics which are of interest in a campaign year. There were some local democrats who were anxious to talk with Mr. George and there were some who were not at all enthusiastic over the prospect of a conversation with him. W. B. George registers from Yellowstone county, but he is at home wherever he finds himself in Montana. It appears likely that the senator from Yellowstone will be a candidate for the nomination for governor at the democratic convention in Great Falls this month. He did not discuss the matter with the Man About Town, but it is generally understood that the nomination at Great Falls will be subject to the approval of the Amalgamated Copper company. In which case it is a long-odds bet that George will not get it. But sometimes things happen which are not scheduled and it will not do the gubernatorial canvass any harm if Mr. George talks earnestly today to the Bitter Root farmers about buttermilk, alfalfa and kindred topics.

E. M. Lamb of Butte, well known in the state as an attorney and public speaker, is the guest of George R. Brown, manager of the water works. Yesterday was spent in seeing the sights of Missoula and last night Mr. Lamb was the guest of honor at the Brown camp up the Rattlesnake. He had a good time; that goes without saying. "I had not seen Missoula for twelve years," said Mr. Lamb yesterday to the Man About Town. "A beautiful city has grown up here in that time. I have been amazed this afternoon at the size of Missoula and the attractiveness of all its districts. It is a pleasant surprise. We hear a great deal about Missoula, but we don't realize until we see it how great its development has been. It has seemed like a strange place. Mr. Brown has shown me much and he promises more when I get up to his camp tonight. I am convinced that he will make good and if he does, I expect to prolong my stay in Missoula indefinitely. I have seen enough today to make me want to stay, and I imagine I shall be even more unwilling to go away when I get to camping out."

There are displayed in the window of the business office of The Missoulian two photographs of the Bull Moose convention in Chicago which are interesting as showing the size of the gathering and the arrangement of the coliseum. The pictures were taken on the afternoon of the second day of the convention just before Mr. Roosevelt made his long address. The Montana delegation is recognizable in both pictures and the faces in the audience are clear. They are remarkable photographs of a remarkable convention. It was just after these pictures were taken that the incident above was discovered in the hunting above the flashlight bags; there was no hint of stampede, though there were thousands who watched the little flame make its way up the inflammable material. The firemen who climbed the steel trusses and extinguished the blaze did their work quickly and quietly.

Thomas Murray Spencer who writes poetry for his own amusement and for the delight of his friends and who sells cigars when his Pegasus is feeding, came down the Blackfoot yesterday afternoon from Clearwater, traveling by stage and train and trolley. He developed a splendid appetite en route and was just a plain, hungry mortal when he got to Missoula. There was no poetry but a tremendous lot of perspiration about Colonel Spencer when he got squared around and began to accustom himself to the change in altitude. "The Blackfoot country is fine," said he to the Man About Town last night. "They are having all through the valleys and the crop is immense. The towns are prosperous and business is good. When they get their railway built through, these towns will hum."

DON'T CUT THAT CORN

An Easier, Less Painful, More Effective Method Guaranteed by Missoula Drug Co.

That painful misfortune—a corn—is liable to become a far greater misfortune if you cut it. Aside from the danger of blood poisoning, which is always to be reckoned with in cutting a corn, the least slip of the instrument is likely to leave a gash that will make the corn many times more painful. Cutting through the corn into the flesh makes the corn grow deeper, and more irregularly, making its cure more difficult. We guarantee Resall Corn Solvent as a prompt and permanent relief in all cases of hard and soft corns, bunions, warts and moles, and any other calloused condition of the skin caused by undue pressure or friction. When we say guarantee, we mean it in all that the word implies. If Resall Corn Solvent does not remove the corn or other callous, we will cheerfully hand you back your money the instant you tell us. Price, 25 cents. Sold in this community only at our store, The Resall Store, Missoula Drug Co.

DELEGATES NAMED BY CAMP

MEN TO REPRESENT MISSOULA AT VETERANS' ENCAMPMENT ARE CHOSEN.

The local camp of the Spanish War Veterans has chosen Past Deputy Adjutant H. H. Montgomery and Past Deputy Inspector Gruner as its representatives at the ninth annual encampment, to be held in Atlantic City, September 7-12. The Missoula men will help swell a large Montana delegation that plans to make a fine showing for the state at the encampment. The Spanish War Veterans are planning big things for their annual meeting. The state of New Jersey has appropriated $15,000 to be spent in showing the veterans a good time and the New Jersey camps have spared neither work nor money in their efforts to make the encampment a success.

The program arranged for the Atlantic City meeting is an elaborate one and includes every pleasure that the big summer resort has to offer. Before the real business of the encampment begins there will be two days of pleasure. There will be concerts and a grand ball and an army and navy camp fire at which stories will be told and stunts will be performed. One of the principal features of the camp-fire night will be a badger fight. On Tuesday, September 10, the grand parade will be held and in the evening will be speeches and responses by Governor Wilson and other state officials and by men high up in Spanish War Veteran circles. On Wednesday will be another big parade, this one in the evening, the navy camp fire at which stories will be told and stunts will be performed. The matter of allowing the Northern Pacific Railway company and E. C. Reltz to pave a piece of South Third street, from the Bitter Root track to Oak street property line was considered, but no action was taken.

THE WEATHER

Arthur Mometer did pretty well yesterday. He didn't come within several degrees of the season's record, but he put himself right up in the 400 class by climbing to an even 90. There was a barely perceptible breeze from the southwest.

CEDAR STREET WORK

STARTS TODAY

COUNCIL ORDERS ELIMINATION OF DELAY AND SAYS WORK MUST BE FINISHED NOW.

Another short, snappy session was the regular Wednesday morning meeting of the city council. All members, and this includes the clerk and the city attorney, were in their chairs at the opening hour and the passing of a few bills and some other routine matters were disposed of in short order.

The bids for the city printing, action upon which had been delayed for some days, was brought up by Mayor Rhoades. The mayor stated he was not satisfied in his own mind as to which bid was the lowest and that he would like to go over the figures with each of the bidders present to make explanations, or else he would be in favor of advertising for new bids. Councilman Price said that the bids had been referred to City Attorney Woody who reported the bid of The Missoulian Publishing company the lowest. The mayor asked Mr. Woody if he really knew this to be the case and was answered in the affirmative. Mr. Price moved the acceptance of The Missoulian's bid and the motion was seconded by Commissioner Houston. On roll call Price and Houston voted "aye" and Rhoades "no" on the motion, the contract being declared awarded to The Missoulian Publishing company.

Contractor Nash, who is to do the Cedar street paving, was present at the meeting yesterday and in answer to questions from the council said that he was ready to start on the work this morning, but was afraid that the street railway company would hold him up so that the work could not be completed until cold weather sets in. The council insisted that there should be no delay, that the work must be finished this fall and that the street car company had promised to be out of the way in time. Mr. Nash stated he would start work this morning.

New Improvement Districts. Resolutions creating two new special improvement districts were read for the first time. District No. 21 is along Railroad street from the west line of Higgins avenue to the west line of Owens street. District No. 22 is along railroad street from Higgins avenue to Pattee street. Both are for the paving of the street. August 20 was set for the date when objections are to be heard.

The mayor read a communication from the officials of the National Irrigation congress which made him an ex-officio delegate and asked him to appoint five others from Missoula, it being especially desired that this section be well represented. The mayor stated that he desired to appoint men who would go and be active delegates; that if anyone desires to make the trip and will notify the mayor he will receive official appointment. The only requirement imposed is that the delegates pay their own expenses.

The matter of allowing the Northern Pacific Railway company and E. C. Reltz to pave a piece of South Third street, from the Bitter Root track to Oak street property line was considered, but no action was taken.

The Garden City brewery filed a petition for permission to build a short spur track to its coal docks. No objection was raised and the city attorney was instructed to proceed with the drawing of the ordinance required in such cases.

The city engineer was instructed to proceed with the establishment of grades east on Higgins avenue to Van Braden street. These will be needed when doing any work there and will also be required in planning a new Cedar street crossing of the Rattlesnake.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for a street flusher. Bids for a sweeper have already been asked. They are all to be opened August 23.

BODY TO DEER LODGE. The remains of Henry McClain, the car carpenter who was killed several days ago in the Puget Sound yards at Albatross, were shipped to Deer Lodge yesterday for burial. Mr. McClain leaves a wife and five children. At the inquest held over the body it was decided that McClain came to his death through the negligence of fellow employees of the railroad company.

PRESIDENT ELLIOTT

ON RESERVATION

HEAD OF NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD PLEASD WITH FLATHEAD TRIP.

President Howard Elliott of the Northern Pacific and a party of railroad officials and Missoula business men made a quick but comprehensive tour of the Flathead valley in automobiles yesterday. They went to Ravalli by special train and returned to Missoula last night in the same manner. All of the people who made the trip were delighted with what they saw.

"The Flathead is a beautiful valley," said President Elliott, "as, indeed most of your valleys are. Montana has so many beautiful sections like the Flathead that it is hard to compare them. It is a valley of great possibilities, though, I believe. We were able to see most of it and I was impressed with what I saw. We left Ravalli this morning, motored up the valley to Polson and then turned back and went down the west side to Dixon." Said Mr. Elliott when he was asked if there is any possibility of the Northern Pacific building a line through the reservation: "That is too big a question for me to discuss in the newspapers. We went across the reservation, though, in order to gain an understanding of its possibilities. We wanted to be equipped with personal knowledge of all that the valley has to offer in case the question of a road through the country ever comes up. It is certainly a beautiful country and will one day, I believe, become a rich and prosperous valley."

With President Elliott were J. M. Rapelle, general superintendent of lines from Mandan to Paradise; W. H. Merriman, division freight and passenger agent; F. S. Lusk, F. C. Sterling and C. H. McLeod.

President Elliott and his party leave for Wallace this morning.
