BOTH TEAMS CONFIDENT JUST GREEN TIMBER NOW

Aggies Declare That They Will Surely Win and Philon's Men Have Resolved to Win or Die—Game Called at 3 o'Clock.

Both Newcomer and Al Palzer Lack Experience and Are Not Good Enough to Go Up Against Champion for a While Yet.

At 3:00 o'clock this afternoon, Montana's varsity meets the state Aggies on Montana field in a game that will decide the state championship and will give the football fans of Missoula their only chance to see the speedy Grizzlies in action. It is going to be a game worth watching for the varsity will not have a walkaway. It is to be a battle for blood from the word go. For three weeks the Aggies have been working for this one game. Every effort has been directed toward a single aim. The Farmers came here yesterday with blood in their eyes, and they will fight hard this afternoon. They are confident of winning, and the varsity is none too sure of upstaging their hope.

Captain Dornblaser will not start the game this afternoon. He has been pretty sick since the Utah trip, and will not go in against the Aggies unless the tide of battle turns against Montana. "Fighting" Buck Smead will line up as the first string quarterback. He is feeling fit and strong for the road and will be there when the con game starts. To seek Buck play is worth the price of admission alone, for the red-headed fullback is a wonder. He did not play against the Aggies when Montana beat them three weeks ago, so there is a pleasant surprise waiting them this afternoon. The loss of Kelly will not be as serious as was feared at first, either. McCarthy is playing a splendid game at quarterback, and will deliver the goods in the shape of today.

The two teams will go into the game at an even weight. The Aggies average 154, and with Dornblaser on the sidelines Montana will not be any heavier. That means that a line-plugging game will be out of the question. Both teams will probably resort to the use of the forward pass and wide-end runs. The game ought to be a splendid representation of the new game. Montana field has never been in better shape. The ground is pretty springy and the footing sure. All of the playing conditions are perfect.

Coaches Philon and Dockstader got together on officials yesterday and chose Tom Robbins as referee, Coach McGough of the Missoula high school as umpire, and James Safford as head linesman.

The lineup of neither team has been officially announced, but the varsity will probably play as follows: Gault and Waldman, ends; Klebe and Craighead, tackles; Day and Barnes, guards; Streit, center; McCarthy, quarterback; Owsley and Deschamps, halfbacks; and Smead, fullback.

YALE PLAYS BROWN TODAY.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 8.—Yale plays Brown tomorrow on Yale field, it being the last home game but one for the blue. The Yale team did not play last Saturday on account of the death of York, the right guard, and as practice for several days was suspended, there is some apprehension on the part of the Yale followers that the team may have been set back in its development.

AT SPOKANE TODAY.

Spokane, Nov. 8.—Spokane state college and Whitman will meet in their annual football battle tomorrow. The teams are remarkably well matched in weight, Whitman having an advantage of one pound per man. As it has rained nearly all week the game will be played on a muddy field and a punting duel between Niles of Whitman and Kienholz of W. S. C. is expected.

EACH DEPENDS ON SPEED.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Perfect weather helped boost the members of the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Michigan football squads and added zest to their final preparations for tomorrow's game.

Both teams are lighter than the teams that usually represent the two institutions, and each will depend on speed to win.

TINKER DEAL NOT OFF.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Joe Tinker, shortstop of the Chicago Nationals, may yet go to Cincinnati as manager. It depends on his decision and that of Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati team. Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago club, today denied that negotiations for the Tinker trade were off.

New York, Nov. 8.—The stock of Luther McCarthy rose many points in the white hope market by his defeat of Al Kaufman in two rounds of their scheduled 20-round bout at San Francisco recently. It is generally conceded that McCarthy was second only to Al Palzer among the big fellows who seek to bring back the heavy-weight title to the white race. As Palzer won his position chiefly by his victory over Kaufman in five rounds, McCarthy's winning in two at least places him on a level with his rival. McCarthy can also point to the fact that he made Palzer hunt an excuse when they were matched in this city some months ago. At that time Palzer demanded more money than the promoters could afford to offer, and so the match was declared off.

Both of these young giants are too green at present for a championship match. The fight-going public would not care to see either offered up as a sacrifice to the present champion. But their future prospects look at least brighter than those of any other white heavy in the ring today. Although both have been outpointed by men of greater experience and may be again—this does not prove that they are not the real thing and may yet make good. At present, owing to troubles with his manager, Palzer is in retirement for a time, and meanwhile his rival will be gathering the much needed experience and will probably force ahead.

McCarthy's next important engagement will be with that destroyer of white hopes, Jim Flynn. Followers of pugilism see no hope in Flynn, because he is too old to improve. But the Pueblo fireman is still strong and having plenty of experience, will be a dangerous obstacle in McCarthy's path. Judging by the result of his last three bouts McCarthy has shown much of the improvement that was predicted for him when he was beaten here by Jim Stewart. In that contest McCarthy proved that he was game, aggressive and that his fine physique was equipped with quick-acting muscles. All his faults were of the kind that proper schooling can remove. He had speed, the one essential quality, and one that is so frequently absent in big, heavy-muscled men. McCarthy's manner of hitting robbed his blows of their effectiveness, and made him look the novice he still is. But there is no reason apparent why, with proper instruction and constant practice, he should not correct this defect and also polish up his boxing. With greater skill will come the ability to keep cool and play his battle. Ring generalship only comes after long experience, no matter how pragmatic a boxer's disposition may be.

In meeting Flynn, McCarthy will have need of good generalship, for the older man has the cunning gained by years in the ring. In other respects McCarthy will have the advantage, and should be able to prove the winner another big championship battle will not be so far off.

DAUGHTER EXECUTES WILL.

Minneapolis, Nov. 8.—Final action in the settlement of the $850,000 estate of the late H. C. Akley, millionaire lumberman, came today with the announcement that Mrs. James N. Quirk, a daughter, had been named as administratrix without objection by the widow, Mrs. Charles Akley, of California.

WILL SELL CLUB.

Louisville, Nov. 8.—A deal for the Louisville club of the American association practically was closed today. William Grayson has agreed to sell to William F. Knebelkamp, William Neal and O. H. Wahten, local men, for $100,000. The option of the purchasers is due to expire tomorrow.

MANDOT TO LOS ANGELES.

New Orleans, Nov. 8.—Joe Mandot, the local lightweight, who fought a 10-round no-decision bout here last Monday night with Ad Wolkast, left today for Los Angeles, where on Thanksgiving day he will again meet Joe Rivers in a 20-round contest.

NO SUCH OFFERS.

New York, Nov. 8.—President Frank Farrell of the New York Americans said tonight that he has made offers to neither Frank Chance nor to Harry Davis to manage his club next year.

AS IT LOOKS

In the sporting section of tomorrow's Missoulian will be printed the 1912 averages for players in the Union association.

We are shuddering in anticipation of the annual outbreak of the Elks' Minstrels. Isn't it about time for somebody to start that?

Sporting News: The veteran Nig Perrine, who captained the champion Missoula team of the Union association the past season, may get into higher company next year, for Victoria of the Northwestern league is said to be after him. Missoula, in the Union association, has signed a high school pitcher named Arthur Smith, who stands 6 feet 5 inches. It is expected that he will be big enough when grown to meet the requirements of even Bill Armour.

The A. P. sends us a tip that American coaches will be asked to train French athletes for the coming Olympic games. They are going to import a few Yankee stars and start an athletic college. Graduates will be shipped to smaller centers, there to teach the French idea how to shoot athletically. That's the old Y. M. C. A. system and it should work.

We hope there's a punt or two caught this afternoon. The varsity's deepfielders must get over that Studgrass habit.

Again John McCloskey arises to a point of personal privilege, this time in the Sporting News. Under an Oden date is printed the following, which is the old, familiar whoeze: In a signed statement John J. McCloskey denies that he is a candidate to succeed the late William Lucas as president of the Union association and intimates that he may not be in this section of the country again next season. "I gave up the management of the Milwaukee club," says Mr. McCloskey, "to come out to the Union association and take a franchise which Mr. Lucas secured for me. We were supposed to have a class D league, but it should be class B, as the salary limit was violated and not adhered to. Since the death of President Lucas I may not remain out here, but return east again."

Here's one for J. Helfrich: What's the difference between getting a football over the goal line and Amsterdam? Well, one's a touch down and the other's a Dutch town.

Woodrow Wilson, who is more or less in the public eye at present, once saved a college ball game by leaping over a ditch and snaring a "long fly." The question naturally arises, what sort of a hick college it was that irrigated the outfield that way? This year is unrecalled by ex-governor Glenn of North Carolina, famed for his duel with the governor of South Carolina. It sounds that way, too.

Sid Mercer in the New York Globe: McGraw is working alone—except for the audience, of course. Bozeman Tulger, who is tipping the signs for him, at first harbored the idea of engaging a bunch of umpires to sit in the front seats, so that John would feel at home and could talk freely, but the idea was rejected, because McGraw made a decided hit without such artificial stimulants in his bush league engagements out in Jersey. Bill Klein, the well-known arbitrator, offered to travel around with McGraw and have an argument with him every night just before he (McGraw) went on, but he was left flat on his proposal. Bill thought these arguments would set McGraw out in front of the curtain in a proper frame of mind to exude snappy remarks.

Kill daily 'urrah' for Greece; no grapes last night.

Billings Journal: A bunch—that Missoula will defeat Bozeman for the state football championship.

A bit better than unanimous.

The U. C. says that a buckskin is just right. Oh, very well.

Listen! It should have been "for McCloskey." A mechanical contraption made it "from McCloskey." Honest Jaw never had it. Besides, you can't get anything away from Jaw without anesthetics.

Here is something more that deals with Saltville and McCloskey. It has been bandied about a lot and we're not sure just where it broke out, especially since a Helena paper slipped a New York date line on it. So, without any visible line of descent, here it is: Within the next few days negotiations for the transfer of the Salt Lake franchise in the Union association from Dick Cooley, present owner, to a party of local fans will, in all probability, be completed. John J. McCloskey, one of the oldest heads now directly interested in the national pastime, is the engineer of the deal, and if it is completed, will without doubt be the manager and, to all outward appearances, the head of the 1913 club in Zion. While Mr. Cooley will not affirm the report that he is on the point of selling his interests here the information that he is contemplating such a move comes from an undeniable source. Sir Richard is now engaged in a very profitable cafe business and declares that a baseball club is not necessary to his financial interests. He has said from the beginning—or rather since he opened the Portola cafe—that he would prefer to get out of the game here and direct all his attentions to business. And now it is understood he has been offered his price for his baseball holdings and that he has given the Salt Lake interests the word that the offer was satisfactory.

That Clark Griffith deer story is being received with wild hilarity in the east, where they have seen his arm of late years.

Our idea of nothing to do is to say: "I told you so."

DE ORO DEFENDS TITLE.

New York, Nov. 8.—A. L. de Oro, defended his title tonight as world's champion at pocket billiards. Frank Sherman of Washington who challenged the Cuban, was altogether outclassed in the last block of the 600-point match. His score was 121 to de Oro's 200, making the challenger's total score 466, when de Oro reached the 600-point goal.

Des Moines, Nov. 8.—The most important football game in the Missouri valley this week will be staged at the Drake stadium tomorrow. Drake and Missouri will clash.

DRAKE AND MISSOURI.

"HAP" MEYERS WANTS COIN.

Spokane, Nov. 8.—"Hap" Meyers, first baseman of the Spokane Northwestern league team, whose base-running was one of the sensations of minor league ball last season, has filed

GNAT'S UBIQUITOUS SAYS PROFESSOR T. B. KANE

In zoological discussion, Tubal-kane this morning gets to the gnat, a small animal with a mean disposition. He infers that the gnat is ubiquitous in its habits. Here goes: The gnat, it is a pesky thing; It lives; I don't know why; It flits around from here to yon And hits one in the eye.

GALLATIN IS READY FOR THE CLASH WITH BUTTE

TODAY'S SCHOLASTIC GAME HAS MUCH TO DO WITH STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

FARMERS HAVE HOPES

If Smoky City Lads Win, the Title in All Probability Will Go to Missoula, Which Has Won Western Montana Games.

Bozeman, Nov. 8.—In anticipation of the football game with the Butte high school Saturday, the members of the Gallatin high school squad have been practicing hard and feel confident that they will be able to carry off the honors, although they are expecting a hard contest. If Butte wins it will leave Gallatin practically out of the race for the championship, as Missoula high has defeated Butte and most of the other teams in the western part of the state. However, if Gallatin succeeds in rolling up a fair score on the Butte players, it will be necessary for the Missoula team to play them in order to settle the race. For this reason the game tomorrow is expected to attract more than usual attention.

TIGERS EXPECT TO WIN.

Princeton, Nov. 8.—A light signal drill on University field today marked the final preparation of the Tiger football team for its game with New York university tomorrow. Princeton expects an easy time with the New Yorkers.

ENGLISH REFEREEING FAILS.

New York, Nov. 8.—The English system of refereeing boxing matches with the official sitting outside the ropes is a thing of the past in the New York boxing clubs.

MARQUARD IS WANTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

Atlantic City, Nov. 8.—On an affidavit sworn to by Joseph Kane of New York and two detectives, Police Magistrate Jammetty of this city today issued a warrant for the apprehension of "Rube" Marquard, the New York National league baseball pitcher. Kane charged he and the two detectives found Marquard and Mr. Kane's wife in a hotel here early today. While Kane was talking with the proprietor of the hotel, he said, Marquard and Mrs. Kane left the place through a rear exit with the aid of an employe of the hotel. Mrs. Kane is an actress, her stage name being Blossom Zealey. The pair have been appearing in a vaudeville sketch which exploited Marquard's prowess as a pitcher.

AUSTRALIAN OUTPOINTED.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Leo Houck of Lancaster, Pa., outpointed Dave Smith, the Australian middleweight champion, in a six-round bout here tonight. In the last two rounds Houck fairly smothered the Australian with straight left jabs.

A DRAW.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 8.—Harry Dell of San Francisco, and Tommie Dixon of Kansas City, featherweights, boxed 10 fast rounds to a draw here tonight.

The Make-good Tobacco

Whether you smoke it in a jimmy pipe or as a cigarette.

Take it from any angle, Prince Albert simply measures right up to every idea of what a smoke should be. Pack in your old jimmy and it opens up a new delight in pipe smoking. Roll up a cigarette and you have the finest paper-coated smoke ever compounded. Burns evenly, with none of that die-out-between-whiffs habit. And doesn't burf up in flash like dried-out, chaff-brand tobaccos. P. A. is long burning and it's handy for cigarette smokers because it is easily handled on a windy day.

Now, Mr. Man—you who think you can't smoke a pipe—give P. A. the third degree in YOUR jimmy pipe. You'll find all its promises right in bloom.

Put this on ice: Prince Albert won't bite your tongue. The sting is taken out by the patent process that we spent three years and a fortune to perfect.

All the tobacco shops, in tidy red 10 cent tins, topped and 5 cent cloth bags, half-pound and pound tin humidors with moisture pads in top, and pound glass humidors with a sponge in the lid.
