Wind the old alarm clock tight and set it near the bed; I want to be astirring before the dawn shows red; I want to get my breakfast fast before the roosters crow; so wind the old alarm clock and fix 'er so she'll go; Missoula's celebration is sure to be immense; 'twill make the joys of circus day look like 20 cents; I want my breakfast early and I'll pack along my lunch; I won't have time to eat at home; 'twill travel with the bunch; from early morn till late at night the day will be all fun; so fix me up some sandwiches and I'll eat 'em on the run; Colonel Billy Ferguson has all the plans well made; and General Sloane upon a horse will lead the grand parade; Chief Charlie of the Flathead will head the Indian band; the automobile turnout is certain to be grand; I hope the clouds will clear away, so the sky will be real high for Walter Beck needs lots of room when he sets out to fly; double-header baseball and budding contests, too; races, dancing, carnival-there'll be a lot to do; so you needn't mind about the clock, I will not go to bed; I'll just wait all night, I guess, and watch around instead.

Judge Sloane, grand marshal of the parade today, promises good weather.

He bases his forecast upon the barometer, upon the assurance of Park Commissioner

Thompson, and upon the precedent of former Fourth's. "It has never rained in Missoula on the Fourth until after the celebration was over," said Marshal Sloane. "Almost always there has been a shower in the afternoon of the third. Everything is moving according to precedent, and we are sure to have a bright day." Tom Hickox, than whom there is no more certain forecaster in this part of the country, made books yesterday; he gave seven-to-five odds in favor of fair weather up to 9 o'clock tonight. There was not much play against the books, however. Everybody wanted the sunny end of the gamble. The Indians, in their camp at Riverside, were making medicine all the afternoon yesterday and they said last night that it will be bright today. With all this influence in the right direction, it was decided yesterday afternoon that it would not be necessary to send up to the university biological station for Professor Elrod, though there were a good many of the local committee who thought the doctor should be here in order to make it a cinch.

Almost before the Fourth-of-July decorations were in place last night, the Elks had closed a contract for the decoration of the business streets of the city for the state convention of their order, which will meet here later in the month.

Chairman Ballman of the decorating committee last night closed with the Charles W. Goodman company for the proper trimming of the town. Mr. Goodman was in town yesterday and went over the ground. He will return July 21, as soon as he is through with the decorative work at the Seattle Potlatch. The company has had all of the larger decorating contracts in the west for several years. R. P. Weeks, Goodman's partner, has done the decorating for the Montana Elks for the last three years at Livingston, Aberdeen and Kalispell. "We propose," said Mr. Goodman last night to the Man About Town, "to make Missoula the best-decorated town that the Montana Elks have ever seen. Your lighting system in the business districts makes this possible. We are going to do the best job here you ever saw. From a trolley guide wire we shall suspend a feature of five units—in the center the Elks' emblem, on the street side an American flag and next to the pole a purple-and-white trolley. Around each trolley pole there will be six American flags. From pole to pole there will be a continuous line of pennants; it will take more than two miles of them."

It became the sad duty a few days ago of the Man About Town to report that Pete, the Koopman & Wisbrood collie, was missing and was probably dead. The fears of Pete's friends were correct. The dead body of the faithful dog was found in a shed on the Lapp place. It was evident that Pete had been overcome by heat in the stock pasture and had tried to get to the river. He had dragged himself almost to the stream when his strength gave out entirely and he crawled into the shed to die. His body was given decent burial and there is general sorrow over his demise. But he died on the line of action, he was at his post.

The entrance steps at the new library building were completed early yesterday morning and as soon as the concrete seasons they will be ready for use. These new steps will be appreciated by the patrons of the library; they are broad and low—a great improvement over the steep entrance to the old building. The concrete men worked all day Wednesday and all night, as the job had to be finished without interruption. It looks like a fine piece of work, but it will show better when the forms are removed.

COLUMBUS KNIGHTS IN BIG MEETING SUNDAY

LOCAL COUNCIL MAKES PREPARATION FOR LODGE WORK AND BRILLIANT BANQUET.

Missoula council No. 1021, Knights of Columbus, is planning on a lively meeting to be held here next Sunday, when a program will be carried out in which the brothers from all sections of the state have been asked to participate. The occasion will be the eighth annual exemplification of the Missoula council. The session will open early Sunday morning and continue all day, ending at night after a brilliant banquet at the Elks' temple. Headed by John Tolan, the committee in charge of the affair have been working faithfully for ten days making preparations for a big crowd and planning to make the entertainment feature of the gathering really enjoyable. Most of the state officers will be present, and these will participate in the speculimaking following the banquet.

The Day's Program. The lodge sessions during the day are to be held at the I. O. O. F. hall, and here the members will assemble at 8:30 Sunday morning to march in a body to the St. Francis Xavier church to attend a special mass. Returning to the hall at 10:30 a. m., work in the first degree will be given. At 1 p. m. comes the work in the second degree by the officers of the Missoula council, and at 3 p. m. will come the exemplification of the third degree.

This ends the program for the afternoon. The banquet is called for 7:30. The festivities will open with a selection by the Knights of Columbus orchestra, followed by the opening ode. The rest of the program of toasts and music follows:

"Our State Council," State Deputy George J. Joyce. "Duet, Anna and Jack Walsh, Missoula. "The Ladies," W. M. Kelley, Aberdeen council. Violin solo, Miss Ednee Deschamps; accompanist, Miss Laurette Deschamps. "Columbus," Grand Knight E. D. Phelan, Helena council. Vocal solo, Miss Nell Mulroney; accompanist, Katherine O'Leary. "Charity," R. C. Mulroney, Missoula council. Cornet solo, P. E. Martz, Missoula council. "Our Pastor," Rev. Father P. I. Delon. Closing ode.

REUNITED QUARTET PLANS SUNDAY OUTING

The Elks' quartet, reinforced with the voice of Professor Frank J. Thomas, a former member of the organization, entertained the guests of the Shepard hotel last evening with a song festival celebrating the reunion. "Dad" Farley, night clerk at the hotel, who is sponsor for the quartet, invited the boys to hold their gathering there, and during the jolly party proposed a trip to the Bitter Root Inn on next Sunday. Manager Davis of the valley tavern, who was a guest at the reunion, is anxious that the quartet pay him another visit and has left the arrangement of the visit to Dad. Six automobiles have already been promised to carry the guests to the inn and probably 20 or 25 will make the excursion.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McKenzie of Minneapolis arrived in Missoula Thursday and are visiting at the home of Mrs. McKenzie's brother, F. J. Day of the Day Produce company. Mr. McKenzie is superintendent of the Glen Lake school of Minneapolis and is on his way to Seattle to attend the national convention of charities and corrections next week.

EVERYTHING READY FOR BIG HOLE HIGHWAY

FOREST OFFICERS RETURN FROM SUCCESSFUL TRIP WHEN ROUTE IS SELECTED.

Geographer Frank Bonner, Assistant District Forester Preston of this field district, and Engineer Allen from the office of public roads at Washington, D. C., returned home yesterday after making a trip of inspection over the proposed route of the road which is to be built this season on the co-operative plan by the forest service, Ravalli and Beaverhead counties and the settlers along the route to be benefited, over the divide into the Big Hole country at the head of the Bitter Root valley. The result of the trip is that the route has been definitely fixed, the final survey is soon to be made and the data will be ready for a call for bids to be made about August 1.

The proposed road is 23 miles long and its construction will cost about $21,000. The route decided upon is the one surveyed out and recommended last December by Geographer Bonner. It follows a course up Camp creek on this side of the divide, crosses at a point where the present road now goes over and extends down the other side along Trail creek to Wisdom. The route was determined upon after a conference with the forest service officers, County Commissioner Ward of Ravalli county and Al Rissman, secretary of the Darby Commercial club and a number of citizens from Beaverhead county, all of whom made the trip together over the route. At Wisdom the party attended an enthusiastic meeting of citizens when the route was raised. This puts the matter in the shape and nothing can now interfere in the final survey and the letting of the contract for construction. This stretch of road will become a section of the great park-to-park highway and in addition will open up a route over the divide that has been almost impossible to negotiate except with light rigs.

Geographer Bonner expects to leave about July 15 to make the final survey. At that time contractors who are interested in the work will have a splendid opportunity of inspecting the route and can be in a better position to submit their bids.

INJUNCTION CASES WILL NOT SEE HIGH COURT

PAVING MATTER WILL NOT BE APPEALED, BUT NOTICE IS TO BE GIVEN.

Attorney Charles H. Hall, representing the Higgins estate and other petitioners in the condemnation proceedings brought against the city of Missoula to restrain it from proceeding with the paving of Stevens and Pattee streets, stated yesterday that his clients had decided not to appeal the case to the supreme court. The decision is final, according to the attorney, but before resting in the matter a notice will be filed with the city council that if the paving is done the Higgins estate will protest any assessment that may be levied for the work.

"In the first place," said Mr. Hall, "we consider that the ruling and order of the court in the condemnation proceedings were in our favor and in support of our contentions except in one instance. That was the point we raised concerning the legality of the city library paying for its pavement out of its general fund. "But on Saturday morning we expect to file a notice with the council and the bidders on the paving contract that we intend to resist the payment of any assessments that may be levied against our property when the districts are paved. That is all we expect to do at this time.

Let Contracts Saturday.

"I understand today that the plan of the Higgins estate to appeal the paving injunction cases has been abandoned," said City Attorney Woody, when asked concerning the matter. "The serving of notice to protest the levying of assessments for payment of the work, if such notice is served, will have no bearing in the case now. If my advice is asked by the council it will be to proceed with the letting of the contracts, and I understand that the council intends to do this on Saturday morning." The five-day stay of execution granted by Judge Patterson on his own findings in the condemnation cases will expire today.

PROFITABLE TIME AT CONFERENCE IN HELENA

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS OF STATE MEET AND DISCUSS IMPORTANT MATTERS.

County Superintendent Mrs. Elma Reinhard returned home from Helena yesterday where she attended the conference of the other county superintendents of Montana with State Superintendent Davee. Mrs. Reinhard says that there was a splendid attendance and that the discussions about school matters resulted in much good for all concerned. "The questions raised by the superintendents were many," said Mrs. Reinhard, "and while we could not all agree about some things and while there are yet a number of matters to be passed upon by Superintendent Davee, the important matters which we have in common were put on a very satisfactory basis. It was a one-day session and we all worked hard. Such conferences cannot help but result in good for Montana schools."

Institute Dates.

Mrs. Reinhard reported that the superintendents decided to hold institutes this year during the first and second weeks in September and the second and third weeks in October. Some splendid instructors are to be brought to Montana to speak before these institutes. It was decided that Missoula and Ravalli counties would hold a joint institute this year, the meeting to be in Hamilton during the second week in October.

Each of the superintendents present made a report of her work in connection with the pioneer pamphlet which is being prepared and in which each superintendent is writing an accurate early-day history of her county. These are to be compiled and published and then added to and corrected again next year to finally become a brief but accurate text book of Montana's history.

Registration of Certificates.

The registration of teachers' certificates was another important matter discussed. It was decided that those having special, state or professional certificates must register them with the county superintendents before they will be considered valid in any county of the state. The basis for recommendations for state certificates was also given attention. Under the new plan an applicant is given a six-month permit, good for one year, first. This gives an opportunity to watch his work and further recommendations rest upon the showing that is made in practical work.

Eighth Grade Examinations.

In the matter of the new ruling of the state board regarding eighth grade examinations in which schools of a certain class may pass their pupils into high schools without requiring them to write the tests, it was decided that all pupils who have commenced these examinations must complete them this season before they can enter high school. There is yet some doubt concerning the classification of those schools to be exempt under the new ruling.

Mrs. Reinhard announced that those pupils who failed in the Missoula county examinations would be given a chance to write the tests again on August 28 and 29, the places where the examinations are to be held to be announced later.

Rural Schools.

Superintendent Davee asked the full co-operation of the county superintendents in the plan, as announced in The Missoulian some time ago, for securing a rating of all of the rural schools of the state. This is to be done upon a basis decided upon by the inspector of rural schools and is for the purpose of assisting to raise the standard of this class of institutions, considered of utmost importance to Montana. Mr. Davee also announced his plan for having conferences held by the school trustees and school-board clerks of the state in the hopes that the whole scheme for the state's school work may be put upon a more uniform basis and that the general standard may be raised ever higher than it is at the present.

NEW SALVATION HALL READY FOR OPENING

Special services prepared for the occasion will mark the opening of the new Salvation Army hall at 111 West Front street Saturday night. All the ministers of the city and the public are cordially invited to attend. Major and Mrs. Jordan from Butte will be here and speeches by him and others, with special music, will compose the evening's program. Since moving from the old hall under the old postoffice the members of the organization have been busy preparing their new home. It is now well furnished and ready for the holding of regular services, which will be resumed.

QUINLAN SENTENCED.

Paterson, N. J., July 3.—Patrick Quinlan, a leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, was sentenced today to prison for not less than two nor more than seven years and to pay a fine of $500. He was convicted recently of inciting riot among the striking silk mill workers.

Up to 11:30 this morning the jury in the case of Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, tried on a similar charge, had reached no agreement.
