

GARDEN CITY'S FIRST CHAUTAUQUA OPENS TOMORROW TO RUN ONE WEEK

Big Brown Tent Will Be Erected on Lot South of Business College Today—This Is the Last Day for the Purchase of Season Tickets.

The committee appointed by the business men and citizens who have guaranteed the sale of 800 season tickets to make possible the coming of Missoula's first chautauqua, will make a final effort today to dispose of the tickets pledged. This will be the last day and those intending to enjoy the attractions which will be presented during the next six days at the big tent on the south side, should take advantage of the generous offer. The committee will make a general canvass of the town and tickets will also be on sale all day at the Peterson drug store. The representative of the Missoula Chautauqua will be on hand to explain the plans and the program.

The Chautauqua baggage car arrived at 10:45 last evening. This contains an enormous tent made especially for Chautauqua purposes. It has a brown top to keep the sun from shining through as in the ordinary tent, and this makes the interior cool and comfortable at all times. The side walls are adjustable, being raised or lowered according to the nature of the weather. The car also contains two or three small tents; uprights for the seats, which are made with backs, having a moderate slant to give the comfort of those attending. The Chautauqua system which presents the local Chautauqua employs 25 college students, three with each Chautauqua to assist in the management and comfort of the people, also to attend to all details of arrangements, etc. To surround the tent and give better facilities for handling the meeting and the children's work in the forenoon, there are 600 feet of canvas wall seven feet in height.

The big tent will be erected on the grounds opposite the business college on South Fourth street, west, early this forenoon.

Superintendents Here.

Ernest Smith is in Missoula. He came yesterday from Ellensburg, Wash., where he has been superintending their Chautauqua. He will have the superintendence of Missoula's Chautauqua week. He expects to spend today looking after a few details of arrangement and in getting acquainted with those locally interested in making the Missoula Chautauqua a marked success. C. H. White, president of the Ellison-White Chautauqua system, also came in yesterday afternoon, in behalf of the Missoula program. He will be here but a few hours, however. He says the Sandpoint Chautauqua now in active session, and many of the Chautauquas in eastern Washington are just about to close; among this number are those at Walla Walla, North Yakima and Wenatchee. At these places, as well as along the line, the program has been delivered in full as advertised. While even these cities did not thoroughly understand the Chautauqua idea and what was to be given them this year, each town has organized local associations and contracted for a similar Chautauqua for next year.

Act Now.

Mr. Smith said last night that the attendance increases day by day at all the other Chautauquas that he has superintended. But he reports that very many people make the mistake and regret it afterward—of waiting to secure their season tickets after they have attended several of the attractions and see that all the program is really coming to them just as promised. They do not understand that this is unfair and is not loyal to the local business and professional men who made it possible for a Chautauqua to be held. This is the mistake that Missoula people are making also if they miss their opportunity of securing season tickets beforehand. "We are going to have the full six-days program as advertised and according to your program for Missoula," said Mr. Smith last evening. He tells of the good times people are having at their first Chautauqua sessions. He says he meets many people who think the Chautauqua is to be some sort of a campmeeting; others think it is a carnival come to town; when as a matter of fact the programs are strictly entertainment and popularized lecture-education of the highest order. The entertainments are humorous in parts oftentimes to the extreme limit, but always clean and wholesome. Senator Burkett's lecture is so full of wit that people burst in laughter at the wholesaled wit in his treatment of his subject. All the numbers on the program are of the first order in ability and rendition. The musical and entertainment numbers are all well worth while and are giving Missoula the benefit of their observations and study in all parts of the world. Examination of the Missoula program shows that everyone who has something of genuine interest during each of the six days that the Chautauqua continues in Missoula. A few people may think that the "Morning Hour" will be dry and uninteresting, but those who can attend from 10 to 11 a. m. will enjoy meeting with Della Crowder Miller, every minute that she is here. She is an artist known abroad as well as in America. She is here through the whole week. The same is true of the whole program from the first to the last day with the sacred concert on Sunday and Ben Chapman's "Abraham Lincoln—Martyr."

More Than Fifty Entertainers.

President White states that all of the 56 people on the program are filling their dates like clockwork. Also that every other employee is on duty. To keep the entire Chautauqua going in the several cities on the circuit, 198 people are employed; these are employed in the six simultaneous Chautauquas. Without the advantage of being a part of this great system, it would be utterly impossible to have such a Chautauqua for less than $4,000; in fact it would be impossible to meet the expense of the White City band, and the Thavin Grand Opera company, without there being 40 other Chautauquas this summer in the northwest and all these in one system and under one management, by which method they can be kept constantly employed every day.

Now that the Chautauqua is proving itself such a success in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and promises so much for Montana, many cities not on the circuit for this season have applied for contracts for next year. Of such cities some 20 new ones will undoubtedly be accepted for next season.

Mr. White arrived here from North Yakima, Wash., where their Chautauqua closed last evening. Just before leaving, the business men handed him a contract for next year signed by the leading business men of that city. Mr. White gladly refers the Missoula Chautauqua committee to any commercial club or educational institution in any one of the 25 cities where this Chautauqua has been held as to the merit of the program offered, and the method of its management.

Superintendent Smith states that the concert by the Winona Ladies' Concert company will begin promptly at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday afternoon.

CHESTER A. NICKUM HERE ON VISIT

FORMER TELEGRAPH OPERATOR MAKING GOOD AS HEAD OF CEREAL COMPANY.

Chester A. Nickum, who for three years was the Associated Press operator at The Missoulian office, with his wife and daughter arrived from Spokane yesterday and will spend the remainder of the week visiting friends in this city.

Mr. Nickum left here three years ago to take a position with the Western Union Telegraph company at Spokane. He left the Western Union in March to accept a position as secretary to Dr. O. M. Graves, the originator of a number of new wheat products which are being manufactured at the factory of the Cereal Products company in Spokane.

Last month Mr. Nickum was appointed general manager of that company.

Mr. Nickum always has nice things to say about everything and everybody, but he was particularly earnest in expressing his astonishment in the changes which have taken place in Missoula since he went away, especially in the downtown section. "The changes in the outskirts of town do not seem so great to him. He says that the "home beautification" bug has taken a great hold of the Spokane people, and that all of the suburban residences and property there is maintained in the neatest condition possible. "They all got up at 4 a. m. in the Spokane suburbs," said he, "and start at work about their yards."

When questioned about his new business enterprise, Mr. Nickum—we have to call him "Mr." now but it seems hard because around the shop we used to think Chester Adelbert was good enough—spoke interestingly.

"We have some new and attractive food products and it will not be long before we will be putting them on the market in large quantities," said he. "They are made from whole wheat and whole barley, and are highly nutritious. The process is radically new and necessitates the invention of machinery unlike any mill machinery in use today for the treatment of wheat.

REMINGTON ARMS MAN RESIGNS OFFICE HERE

Announcement was made yesterday that E. S. MacColl, who has been district manager of the Remington Arms-Union Metallic Cartridge company with headquarters in Missoula, has resigned and that a new man is to be given charge of the district. K. Dunham, the district manager of the same company, who has charge of the territory west of Minneapolis, was in the city several days last week and before leaving turned the office over temporarily to C. G. Elton, who for some time has been a field representative for the Remington people. Mr. Elton took charge Saturday. It was understood from Mr. Dunham's talk before leaving that Mr. Elton is to be made the permanent representative of the company in charge of the office here. Mr. Elton has a host of friends throughout the territory he has been working who will be well pleased to see him in the position.

BRIDGE CLUB.

The Bridge club will meet this week on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lombard. Because Mrs. Lombard will be hostess the members are anticipating a most pleasant time.

The Theaters

Empress.
A highly flourishing and entertaining program is that of the Empress today. "San Francisco, the Daughter City," a remarkable, interesting and comprehensive series of views depicting the marvelous growth of the city of San Francisco since the disastrous earthquake and fire of six years ago.

American energy and enterprise has made it possible to rebuild a city more gigantic and beautiful than the old and have made capital out of the scholar, student and public at large.

"The Wager." Cast of characters: John Dean ..... Stanley Walpole
Mary ..... Rosemary Theyby
Little Edith ..... Rosanna Logan
Mr. Ellis ..... Alan Hale
Mrs. Ellis ..... Edgena de Lamping
Edith ..... Isabelle Lamon
Little Edith ..... Runa Hodges

To prove his argument that any child reared in the right atmosphere will turn out well, young John Dean, millionaire, adopts a child from the slums and has her raised with the child of his friend, Mr. Ellis—Little Edith. The children are of the same age and grow up together as sisters. Edith's father awaits developments of hidden traits in little Mary, but she is as pure and sweet as his own child and in time he grows fond of her. When the girls are 18, Dean returns from abroad, and his pride in his young ward turns to love. They are very happy together. Edith has become infatuated with the good looking chauffeur and Mary tries in every way to take her thoughts from him. One day she drops a letter from him in the library. Dean and her father find it, and as they are puzzling over it, Mary enters looking for something, and to save Edith, claims the note as hers. Dean is heartbroken and Mr. Ellis says: "I told you so." Edith impatient at Mary's plight confesses. Mary is about to go away forever when Dean rushes after her and blames himself for doubting her. He offers her his name and his heart. And as she has learned to love him, she accepts both.

One other splendid photoplay and the Empress entertainers in new selections and songs will make today's program an unusually good one.

Bijou.
Nothing more worthy has been given this season than "Shenandoah." Kalem's three-reel masterpiece, so be presented tonight and Tuesday. Kenean Buell, who produced the picture, went to the Shenandoah valley among other places for his settings and battle locations, and the greatest pains have been taken to make this production correct in detail with historical facts. Shenandoah is no empty name. It was at Shenandoah that General Phil Sheridan, the famous Irish soldier, administered a crushing defeat to General Early in June 1864. "Shenandoah" has been promised at the Bijou for the past week and the picture is worth more than all the advance notices claimed for it. It is a beautiful picture of a day that is a memory to most. Shown only for two days, there will not be a chance for every one in Missoula to see it. But all who can should attend. Nothing greater has been attempted in local theaters. Nothing more worthy has been given this season. Taken from Howard Bronson's great civil war drama, the picture embraces the bombardment of Fort Sumter, the escape from Richmond prison, the spectacular midnight combat, Sheridan's historic ride and the terrific, awe-inspiring battle of Winchester.

The special musical accompaniment will be played by the orchestra under the able leadership of Robb Brown. Supplementary numbers will be a catchy song by Miss Lillian Richards and a fourth reel, a dandy comedy.
