the details of organization and the purposes of the national chamber.

Wheeler Explains.
Speaking of the scope and purposes of the chamber, President Wheeler said recently:

"The primary function of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America is to focus business sentiment. When policies affecting America's commerce are under discussion by federal authorities, the country now has for the first time an organization capable of expressing openly the business opinion of the entire nation, available alike to the executive and legislative branches of the government."

"One of the chief aims of the National Chamber of Commerce is to make more available and more useful to all business men the work of the various governmental bureaus at Washington. The government has not previously been able to make the work of these bureaus of great practical value to the business interests of the country because of having no representative national organization through which it could reach local or trade organizations and individual firms. It has been deterred from making overtures to local organizations lest it might lay itself open to charges of favoritism."

"The activities of the consular service, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, the bureau of corporations, the bureau of chemistry and the new department of labor should be closely allied with and made to aid materially the projects of business interests of the country."

"On the theory that strong commercial organizations in the cities mean a better organization of industry, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America exerts its energies in encouraging and promoting associations of business men in all parts of the country. It supplies advice and help in the formation of boards of trade and commercial clubs in all cities when apply for aid in that work; and aims to act in concert with such local bodies in promoting the nation's business at home and abroad."

"One branch of the chamber's work is the study of the work of existing organizations and their value to their respective trades and communities. Along these lines it acts as a clearing house of good ideas in the development and upbuilding of commercial organizations in cities all over the country. It advocates, also, the standardization of methods and of association effort in all cities, that progress can be made by business men's organizations with least expense of time, effort and money."

Trade Expansion.

"Although greatly burdened with organization work and the addition of new members to its ranks, the chamber is arranging a department for the dissemination of information relative to opportunities for trade expansion, especially in foreign markets. The opening of new markets at home and abroad and means of developing home markets for the various cities are matters of its concern. It aims to watch carefully all commercial developments and to analyze all statistics with regard to the production and distribution of our manufactures both in this and foreign countries."

Broad and Democratic.

"The organization and control of the chamber is on a broad and democratic basis. It will consider only national questions. Every organization in its membership has a right to propose such questions for consideration and a voice and vote in their determination. To prevent control of the organization by any part of the country, or by the big cities, the influence of the larger organizations is restricted. The smallest organization admitted to membership has one vote and one delegate, while no organization, however large and influential, can have more than 10 votes or 10 delegates. A two-thirds

CRISIS IS COMING IN MEXICO

ution. Advice which officials believe to be perfectly trustworthy seem to indicate that the strife between the Huerta regime and the revolutionary elements is nearing a point where some definite conclusion is to be reached.

Information of this situation when permitted to become known today was coupled with the authoritative statement that the United States was making no additional naval or military preparations. Reports of an impending collapse of the Huerta regime are being talked over freely in official circles though no official of the administration will permit his name to be coupled with them.

All information made public was with the exact stipulation that it should not be repeated as reflecting the views of the administration.

Meanwhile President Wilson is awaiting the coming of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, hurrying north to make a first-hand report. His reports will be compared with those President Wilson has received from other sources. Secretary Bryan, who has cancelled some of his lecture dates that he may return to Washington Thursday or Friday, will participate in the conference.

Ambassador Wilson was at Havana today and one indication of the desire to hurry him to Washington was seen in a request by Secretary Bryan to Surgeon General Blue of the public health service to expedite the ambassador's passage through quarantine at Havana and Key West.

While the first indication of the administration's apprehensive regard for the latest development came early today, there was no additional information to supplement the semi-official announcement from high quarters that this government considered the situation grave for the Huerta regime and looked forward to the developments of the next two weeks with deep interest.

Refusal of foreign consular representatives to hold a parley with General Urbina, the Mexican revolutionary leader before his attack on Durango is given as the reason for the outrage against residents, irrespective of nationality, following the rebel occupation of the city, according to state department advices received today. General Urbina sent the consular word of his intention to besiege Durango and sought a conference with them. As a retaliation for the refusal to meet him, it is said, the city virtually was given over to the soldiery and the mob, who fired and plundered property indiscriminately. Money was demanded from the banks and from wealthy citizens. Prices are very high and Consul Hanna fears that there may be a famine, although all American consuls remaining in the place are reported well.

The state department has been advised that the government at Mexico City has expressed its intention of preventing a demonstration upon the arrival of the new Japanese minister which might be considered anti-American in character.

Transportation facilities in Mexico are in a state of demoralization. More than 200 bridges have been destroyed in Monterey and Tampico. Bryan Guzman, Admiral Cowles, commanding the Pacific squadron, reported to the navy department today that the city was quiet, federal reinforcements having arrived.

The revolutionists have taken the principal towns to the west of Tuxpan and fighting is expected at that place. Consul Canada has reported that the battleship Louisiana probably will go from Vera Cruz to Tuxpan to guard American interests when the clash comes.

Marauders near that port have been attacked in a search for arms and provisions. Two Vera Cruz newspapers have been suspended by President Huerta. The wrecking of an iron bridge of the National railroad near Monterey has interrupted transportation to the north.

Troops Asked For.
Mexico City, July 21.—The American embassy, acting under instructions from Washington, made representations today to the Mexican foreign office relative to the danger in which a number of Americans in the town of Madera, in the state of Chihuahua, were placed. The embassy urged the dispatch of troops for their protection.

On the Way.
Havana, July 21.—The American ambassador to Mexico, Henry Lane Wilson, arrived here from Vera Cruz on the steamer Mexico this evening. He was greeted by the acting minister to Cuba, Hugh S. Gilson, Colonel Herbert J. Stoen, military attaché of the American legation, and the military aide of President Menocal.

On account of weariness, the ambassador decided not to come ashore. He will proceed by way of Key West tomorrow morning to Washington. He declined to discuss Mexican affairs or the object of his visit to Washington.

Fighting.
El Paso, Texas, July 21.—Federal reinforcements for the Juarez garrison are at Mochizuma, 11 miles south of the border on the Mexican National railway, according to messages received by General Francisco Castro here. The telegraph wires communicating with Chihuahua City were out today. Castro says that a column headed by General Pasquel Orozco is due to reach Chihuahua tomorrow from the south and that a detachment will be sent to reinforce the guard on the work train moving north from Mochizuma, repairing the track.

Mexican rebels of Maximo Castillo's command who are not affiliated with federal or constitutionalists, shot and killed Wong Chew, a Chinese restaurant keeper in the lumber town of Pearson, Chihuahua, last Friday, because the Chinese failed to pay them 500 pesos, according to American employes of the Madera company, who reached here from Pearson today. After killing the Chinaman, rebels looted the restaurant.

LONDON POLICE GET SUFFRAGETTE LEADER

London, July 21.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, who outwitted the police on Saturday, was arrested this afternoon when she was entering a public hall to attend the weekly convalescence of the Women's Social and Political Union. She had intended at the meeting to issue another defiant challenge to the government.

THIS WISE FATHER KNEW HIS SIN

Meriden, Conn., July 21.—When the will of Major Theodore Bixbee, a well-known Civil War veteran, who died Tuesday, was offered for probate today it was disclosed that he had bequeathed a half interest in property valued at $110,000 to "My son," although the fact that he had a son never was known to even his most intimate acquaintances.

A man who introduced himself as Theodore Bixbee of Philadelphia, said to be a traveling salesman, attended the funeral. The immediate relatives of the deceased say they had never heard of him before. He has not been seen since. It was said tonight there would be a contest on the part of a brother, a nephew and three nieces to break the will.

Major Bixbee raised the First Connecticut company to go to the civil war and served with distinction.
