

OF GREAT INTEREST AT CHAUTAUQUA THIS WEEK

DELLA CROWDER-MILLER, IN INTERPRETATION OF LITERATURE, AND AUTHORS, PLEASES.

Specially interesting as a feature of the chautauqua this week has been the work of Mrs. Della Crowder-Miller in the interpretation of literature and authors.

The first topic discussed was, naturally, the chautauqua movement in America. The movement originated in this country and has become distinctly an American institution, growing in favor and in influence.

The second topic given by Mrs. Crowder-Miller dealt with "The Monologues," which she characterized as a phase of literary form which has not received the recognition it merits, but which will in time be accorded a place along with the drama.

Third in order came "The Short Story." This form of literary effort possesses individuality which makes it important. Its force has become recognized by the advertisers, who are keenest of all people in perception, and its form has been adopted by them effectively.

"Our American Humorists" was the topic of Mrs. Crowder-Miller's talk yesterday morning. Speaking of this phase of development in literature, the speaker said she had heard, within a year, a professor in an eastern university, asked by a club to give something in literature from an American writer, responded: "There is nothing in American literature that is worth while."

"But," said the speaker, "I find nothing more distinctly American and at the same time better qualified for a place in permanent literature than the work of our humorists." Three divisions were made. Irving, Holmes and Lowell were given as types of early American humor.

The "Christmas Party" pleased yesterday's audience amazingly and there was warm applause for the Riley and Field selections.

"I am glad you are fond of Eugene Field," said Mrs. Miller yesterday to a Missoulian reporter. "To me, 'Little Boy Blue' is as great in literature as Wordsworth's 'Lucy'."

This morning Mrs. Crowder-Miller will discuss the "Literature of the Bible." In this talk, she discusses the Scriptures from a literary standpoint, illustrating with selections, rendered with dramatic effect which awaken new understanding of the literary merit of the Book.

The Missoulian Publishing Company signed, yesterday, a new two-year contract with the Missoula local of the Pressman's union No. 242. This entitles the Missoulian print shop to use the Allied Trades label on all the products of its plant.

A Remington typewriter which was stolen from the office of the Missoula Crushed Rock company some time ago, was found yesterday hidden in a growth of tall weeds but a short distance from the office.

"Tell Me the Secret" - How do you make such delicious muffins? Mine are always so dry. And if I make the batter thin they fall. How do you do it?

It is the baking powder. To make muffins, cakes and pastry rich and moist, yet light and feathery, a modern double acting baking powder must be used—one that will give off leavening gas in the oven as well as in the mixing bowl.

K.C. Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way. Try a can at our risk and be convinced.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT MISS HILL'S FUNERAL

BORROWING FRIENDS PERFORM LAST RITES TO MEMORY OF ACCIDENT'S VICTIM.

A large concourse of friends attended the funeral of Miss C. C. Hill, which was held yesterday afternoon at the Marsh chapel. The casket of the dead girl was hidden under a wealth of floral tribute sent by those who had known and admired her and by those who wished to show their sympathy with the sorrowing mother, sisters and brother.

A magnificent design of gates ajar was sent by the employees of the local exchange of the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph company, where Miss Hill formerly worked, and another handsome design was sent by the Electrical Workers. Rev. G. T. Bond of the Methodist church, south, conducted an effective funeral service. Appropriate musical selections were sung by a quintette. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Douglas, Mrs. E. M. Calhoun, W. H. Smith and J. H. Nottingham, with Mrs. G. I. Shaver as organist, The publishers were Messrs. E. S. Kirkpatrick, Howard Burton, E. J. Bloomer, William Beery, H. Douglas and H. A. Bissett. Besides these, there were six honorary pathbearers, Misses Mildred O'Brien, Ruth Wilson, Catherine Fox, Mabel McDermott, Edith Sherrin and Olive White, who walked before the casket both at the chapel and at the grave in Missoula cemetery. The telephone office was closed during the hour of the service.

FORESTERS TRADE JOBS FOR TWO SHORT MONTHS

T. P. McKenzie, assistant district forester in charge of grazing, with headquarters at Portland, will return here today after having been here the last two months. Mr. McKenzie came to Missoula and traded places with C. H. Adams, who holds the same position in this district. Mr. Adams is going to Portland, from where he spent much time in the field, as did Mr. McKenzie in this district. Mr. Adams will return to Missoula from Portland within a few days.

The trading of jobs between the assistant district foresters engaged in the same line of business in the various districts is considered a wise and helpful plan, for it gives a man from one section of the country an opportunity to learn something from another section which he can carry home with profit.

HERMANSFELDT CASE POSTPONED ONE DAY

Recease Governor Stewart was not at home Thursday. W. O. McNelly, county attorney of McLeod county, Minnesota, did not reach Missoula until last night with extradition papers for William Hermansfeldt, wanted at Winstead, Minn., for having wronged a 17-year-old girl, the sister of his girl bride.

The story of the case was told in yesterday's Missoulian. Attorney McNelly and Sheriff Kohler came after the accused, who is fighting extradition. One attempt to secure his liberty on habeas corpus proceedings failed after Hermansfeldt was arrested a week ago. The prisoner is to make another attempt with the same kind of a procedure before Judge Duncan this morning at 10 o'clock.

HARRAH STOPS RUNAWAY.

Frightened by a swinging shaft that had slipped from the supporting strap, a horse belonging to the Butte Dynamo works, ran on South Higgins avenue yesterday until stopped by the hitching weight which had fallen in the street. The driver, Clyde Jones, was not injured, but his clothes were torn. Jack Harrah, the hero of many runaways, assisted, just before the horse was calmed.

WONDERFUL OUTING IS GIVEN THE CHILDREN

SALVATION ARMY ARE HOSTS TO 200 MOTHERS AND CHILDREN AT RIVERSIDE.

Nearly 200 women and children were made happy by the Salvation Army and the people who contributed to the outing, at Riverside park yesterday. It was a real picnic all day long. Tired mothers and children were carried by automobile, for many of them the first ride in a motor car, to the park early in the morning. It was evening before the first carload reached the city and then it took two hours for 20 machines, one of them carrying 20 passengers, to bring the happy crowd home. The picnic dinner was not the least of the joys of the day. A special street car was required to carry all the good things to eat. There was plenty of everything; cakes, ice cream, watermelons and lemonade, besides great stacks of sandwiches and other picnic staples. It was some time after the meal before the little fellows could summon enough energy for the races and games. A truck met for both boys and girls was held in the afternoon, with prizes of baseball bats and sets given to the successful boys, and bats of dishes for the girls.

Captain Bryant was very elated last night over the success of the outing. "If the people whose generosity made the picnic possible could have only seen these children," he said, "they would have been repaid in enjoyment of a kind that can't be bought for money. It couldn't have been more of a success, and it is all due to those who helped us out. I never saw a kinder lot of people, and I only wish they could have been with us today."

Too Many Automobiles.

When Captain Bryant started leading the children at the First National bank corner yesterday morning he found that more machines had swarmed than he could handle. There were children to fill and many were turned away. Those who loaned their cars to carry the picknickers were P. M. Reilly, C. H. Marsh, Connor Transfer, C. H. McLeod, J. M. Rhoades, H. A. Burk, Rev. J. N. Maclean, Dr. J. T. Buckley, T. B. Thompson, Green & Ellinghouse, Garden City garage, Dr. Randall, Dr. Freeze, Dr. McCullough, O. W. Perry, J. M. Dixon, William Kelley and F. H. Elmore.

Several others came to the picnic grounds and carried loads back to the city, but had done their good work before Captain Bryant was aware of their presence and he was unable to learn who they were. He wishes to thank them, nevertheless.

BEFORE PAYING NOTE ATTORNEY WANTS FEE

Demanding settlement in full of a claim for legal services before paying the balance due on a promissory note is the tone of a complaint filed in the district court yesterday by E. C. Mulrooney against the Missoula Lumber company. The complaint recites the fact that the plaintiff owed the defendant $1,278.25 on a note given in January, 1912; that since that time he has performed services for the company as an attorney, for which his charge is $25.00. As judgment it is asked that the plaintiff have judgment for this amount, $35.19, promising at the same time to pay the balance due on his note, $143.06.

LIBRARY IS TO MOVE BACK HOME MONDAY

"Next Monday will be the last day of library service in the temporary quarters in the Union block," was the announcement made yesterday by Miss Grace Stoddard, librarian of the Missoula public library. "Patrons who have books to return or who will want books for general reading or for reference, during the succeeding two weeks should attend to the matter before Monday night. We can not estimate exactly the time it will take to move back into our remodeled home, but it will be probably the best part of two weeks. During that time we shall not be able to receive or to give out books."

A NEW HONOR.

Bozeman, July 25.—(Special).—Professor R. D. Kneale head of the department of civil engineering in the Montana state college, and a member of the Montana state highway commission, has just received notice of his election to membership in the council of the National Highway association, the leading organization of highway engineers in the United States. The council is the active inner organization of the association, and has only a small membership, and election to this body is a high honor.
