

AID FROM RAILWAY WILL BE ASKED FOR SUBWAY

ESTIMATES ON OWENS STREET TUNNEL WILL BE PRESENTED NORTHERN PACIFIC.

Final decision on the location of the subway proposed through the Northern Pacific yards was not hastened by the conference between a representative of north-side citizens and the city council held last night. The only definite result of the meeting was a unanimous resolution accepted by the council, which will provide for a preliminary survey and an estimate of the cost of the under-track crossing on Owens street. The north-side people are firm in their opinion that the subway should be constructed there, and are now prepared to take it up for assistance from that quarter.

It was generally conceded by those attending that the funds for constructing the subway must come from other sources than the city treasury. Mayor Rhoades had already explained that the city's financial condition would not warrant financing in the present. It is apparent from that the money must come from the street railway, the Northern Pacific or from subscriptions raised among north-side property owners. Both corporations would undoubtedly benefit by an under-track crossing, and it is believed that assistance can be asked from them with reason. A difficulty is encountered in the matter of location, however. The railroad has declared in favor of Waverly street, and the trolley people have selected Stevens street as the most advantageous crossing for them should they decide to put in a line on the north side.

It is to give the railroad figures on the cost that the estimate by the city engineer has been ordered. When this has been prepared it will be sent to the company. The mayor expects to be in St. Paul in a few weeks, and he promised to do what he could in its favor.

H. J. Bickenbach, representing the street railway, attended the meeting and defined the attitude of his company as indefinite. He said that he was not in a position to say what Mr. Clark would do, but he believed the local officials would recommend the subway if it could be located in the right place.

STATE LAND BOARD MEETS IN MISSOULA

Secretary of State A. M. Alderson, Attorney General D. M. Kelly, State Superintendent of Schools H. A. Davve, C. A. Whipple, state land agent, and James Oker of the state land department, all members of the state land board, gathered in Missoula yesterday for an important session relative to some of the details of the state land exchange which is now in progress. The Missoulian told of the probable meeting yesterday morning, and the state officials put in most of the day considering the business in hand. Early in the day a conference was held with District Forester F. A. Sloop and in the afternoon the board held a session at the Palace hotel. This is the first time that the board has looked into the land exchange work since it was started several months ago, it being in the hands of two men—one a representative of the forest service and the other a representative named by the state. In a general way the members of the board seemed to be pleased with the conditions and the progress of the work, although none of the officials discussed the meeting here in detail.

MOTORMEN AND FRIENDS DANCE NEXT WEDNESDAY

The street railway motormen are planning for a dance at the Greenough park pavilion on next Wednesday night which they hope to make one of the most enjoyable public functions that has been held this summer. Committees have been appointed to fix up the pavilion in attractive style, the Missoula club orchestra to furnish the music, and with pleasant weather prevailing the boys who run W. A.'s cars are assured of a splendid crowd. The motormen have a reputation as entertainers and those who have attended any of their previous dances know full well that there is a good time in store for all who attend the dance next Wednesday evening. The ball will celebrate the opening of the extension of the street railway line in the Rattlesnake district.

AT FORT MISSOULA

Fort Missoula, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Corporal Evans arrived recently here from Fort Lawton to act as cook at the quartermaster corps.

Earl Smith, who has been spending the past month here, being at his home, left yesterday for Miles City, where he will be an instructor in the high school.

In a letter from the border, one of the soldiers writes of the cool location of the Eighteenth infantry has. He says, "It has been rainy and cloudy of late, with thunder storms and dust storms. The coolness, however, has been very acceptable to all of us. On August the 5th we had a terrible dust and rain storm. Fortunately, our camp is on the bay shore and we suffered much less than those of the troops in the interior of the camp." Last Saturday evening the Fort Mis-

As sure to rise as the Sun

You can't always make everything "just so." Sometimes you will get in more shortening than usual, or make the batter a little thin, or it may not be convenient to put a cake in the oven the moment it is mixed, or your oven may not bake evenly and it is necessary to turn the pan around—none of these little uncertainties make the slightest difference in results if you use

K.C. BAKING POWDER

This modern, double-raise baking powder has unusual strength and is absolutely certain to raise your biscuits, cakes and pastry light and feathery. It generates an abundance of leavening gas both in the mixing bowl and in the oven. The raising is sustained until the dough is cooked through.

Housewives who use K.C. never have "had luck" with their baking. Try K.C. at our risk. Your grocer will refund your money if you are not pleased in every way.

FOREST FIRE SCARE ALL OVER BUT SMOKE

The forest fire situation which, because of the unsatisfactory reports received, was beginning to cause some uneasiness at the forest service headquarters, cleared nicely yesterday when it was learned that men in the Indian service had succeeded in extinguishing the blaze on the Cabinet forest south of Paradise and that the crew of 50 fighters in Blodgett canyon had that blaze well under control. The fire on the Cabinet burned in section 4, township 19 north, range 25 west and did very little damage.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Isaac Bonaparte, the Flathead Indian charged with stealing cattle from the Sisters at St. Ignace, pleaded not guilty to a charge of grand larceny in the district court yesterday. He is held for trial under bonds of $500, which had not been furnished last night.

DECREE ORDERED.

In the divorce case of Jesse F. Shamb against Clara De Shamb, a decree in favor of the plaintiff was ordered by the court yesterday afternoon.

HERDER IS BLAMED FOR MANY THINGS

HUMANE SOCIETY MAKES SOME STARTLING ALLEGATIONS REGARDING POUND METHODS.

Editor Missoulian: In The Missoulian of August 29 there is an article saying the farmers are to make a test case of the manner in which stock is impounded. There is no city limits fence—simply an imaginary line. Complaints have been made for months that stock was being run in that was nowhere near the limits line, but there is no redress so long as the word of the city herder, who is also the dog catcher, is taken as law and gospel, while the taxpayers are turned down and called "busy-bodies." People have learned there is no use going to the city council with any complaint of his methods.

If anyone wishes to know how the city herds stock they can get all the information they want from Mrs. Mattie McMullen in Orchard Homes, or some of her neighbors. There was a herd of six or seven cows, all belonging to the neighborhood, near Mrs. McMullen's home, one evening about 6 o'clock. She was busy working in her garden, and in a short time looked up to see if her cow had not come up to the gate as usual for milking. No trace of the cows could be found anywhere. She and one of the neighbors drove until dark. The next morning some of the men in the neighborhood scoured the country again, but could find no trace of the cows. Finally one of the men, as a last resort, went to the city pound and found the cows there. Although they had not been within the city limits they were driven in, given no feed or water, and had not been milked night or morning.

Mrs. McMullen said when the cows were taken from the pound they were in such condition for lack of water and neglect of milking that they acted crazy. It took her cow six weeks to recover from being so many hours without milking. Complaints have been made from all directions that boys are paid 25 cents apiece for each cow they can run in and 20 cents for dogs they can round up until they can be taken to the pound. And Missoula stands for the expenditure of over $100 a month for such work as this. Surely the farmers are warranted in making a test case. Let us hope they will be more successful than the citizens who have protested against the city herder. And by the way, who has seen any statement of where the fees go that are collected from impounding horses and cattle? Ask the chief of police if he was ever called to Orchard Homes to protect the people there from a herd of city cows that were driven out there, broke fences in five places and did other damage.
