

CALL MONEY RISES AND PUTS HALT TO TRADING

OPERATORS FIND IT ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO MOVE LIST EITHER DIRECTION.

New York, Nov. 28.—A flurry in call money which rose to 10 per cent, effectively curbed any inclination toward active speculation in stocks today. Outside business was small. Operators found it almost impossible to move the list in either direction. The drift of prices was downward and a few of the newer industrials fell back 10 to 20 points but among the leading stocks changes were slight. It was the last trading day of the month and money rates were affected by preparations for December 1 payments. Another influence was continuance of the outward movement of currency. Time money rates were not affected by these conditions.

Of the leading stocks Amalgamated was under heaviest pressure. Speculative selling of this stock was based on cessation of demand for the metal. United States Realty was affected by the failure of a New York real estate concern and slumped 6 points.

Bonds showed an easier tendency. Total sales, par value, $1,125,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—Lack of support eased the wheat market today, although there were several items of bullish import. Closing figures were steady at 1/4 to 1/2 net decline. Corn closed 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, oats

1/2 to 1/4 off and provisions unchanged to 2 1/4 higher.

Reports that balmy weather in the winter wheat belt was inducing an unhealthy growth with attendant insect development failed to impress traders. Argentine wet weather also was unnoticed though lower Liverpool cables were reflected here.

Warm rains scattered over the corn belt hampered husking and marketing. The market showed an early advance but toward the end prices slanted.

Oats moved sluggishly. Provisions were responsive to both buying and selling though the trade was not of great volume.

December wheat opened 87 1/2 to 87 3/4; high, 87 3/4; low, 86 1/2; close, 86 1/2.

December corn, opened, 70 1/2 to 70 3/4; high, 71 1/2; low, 70 1/2; close, 70 1/2.

December oats, opened, 37 1/2; high, 37 1/2; low, 37 1/2; close, 37 1/2.

Dun's Review.

New York, Nov. 28.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say:

Lessened activity in industrial channels reflects prevailing uncertainty regarding the future. The distribution of merchandise for immediate requirements continues large but retrenchment rather than expansion characterizes the situation. Caution is general in entering upon forward commitments and new enterprises are limited while economy is practiced in numerous quarters. Labor is not so well employed and more machinery is idle in iron and steel, the leading mills now running considerably below their full capacity.

Continuance of operations results usually from the restricted buying by transporting companies, which experience difficulty in obtaining needed funds for equipment and extensions. The opening of the eastern freight rate inquiry and the beginning of the currency debate in the senate attracted attention.

Bullness this week numbered 250 in the United States, against 220 last year and 41 in Canada compared with 41 a year ago.

FIGHT IN HAMILTON IS DECLARED DRAW

Hamilton, Nov. 28.—(Special.)—Jerry Dalton of Indianapolis and Matty Smith of Chicago fought 12 rounds to a draw here tonight. The fight was fast and snappy and gave a large crowd all the mixing it wanted to see. Both men took plenty of punishment and fought hard all the time. The decision was generally approved.

In a preliminary scheduled to go six rounds, Finley won over Fullerton on an accidental foul in the third round. Both were local men.

James Montgomery of Missoula acted as referee and Marsh Maher was timer.

DEARBORN WILL RUN FOR SENATE AGAIN

GRANITE COUNTY SENATOR, AS ACTING GOVERNOR, SAYS SO.

(The Montana Record.)

From mixing dope at the prescription desk of a drug store, to mixing dope in the governor's chair at the capitol building is not as abrupt a transition as sometimes comes, and Montana's acting governor is proving just as efficient and handy a mixer in the one position as the other.

A druggist by occupation, Acting Governor A. R. Dearborn is a politician for recreation and he is now completing a four-year term as state senator from Granite county.

"If the play comes right, and I can arrange my business affairs, I will be a candidate to succeed myself," he said this morning in answer to a question.

Senator Dearborn is a Missourian, a real one, for, as he humorously explained this morning, real ones are born "in the shadow of a cotton." He was reared in Springfield, Mo., and then in July, 1887, left the call that so many other Missourians have experienced, and like them, he headed it and came to Montana. For a short time he lived in Missoula and then removed to Phillipsburg, where he has since resided. Besides being engaged in the drug business, he has ranch interests in Granite county.

Phillipsburg, he says, is in much better shape now than a few years ago. When the mines shut down there in 1883 residents felt that the town was doomed, but after a few lean, hard years the ranches were developed and these are bringing back some of the former prosperity. Mining, too, has revived. Twelve miles north of Phillipsburg a fifty-foot vein of copper ore has been uncovered and development work is being done on it. Right at the head of the main street in Phillipsburg the Swastika Mining company has uncovered a splendid showing, and eight miles away at Georgetown the Southern Cross mine is pouring away. While this is directly connected with Anaconda by rail, some of the trade gravitates down the hill to Phillipsburg.

The improvement has been slow but steady.

NEWSPAPERS BOOSTED AS REAL LITERATURE

Madison, Wis., Nov. 28.—"The newspaper style, which is becoming more and more essential in the equipment of every successful writer, is the clearest, the most concise and the most interesting style in which things can be written," declared Professor E. W. Breckman of the department of journalism of the Iowa state college in addressing the second meeting of the American Conference of Teachers of Journalism today.

"News sense, ability to see what is new and its new meaning to the great mass of humanity, is necessary to men in every field of endeavor, but especially to men who write."

"It is news sense which enables a writer to see through a mass of non-essentials to the essential. With all its faults, I believe in news style as the most efficient style of this modern day for presenting information through the written word."

FATHER DROWNS.

Ellyson, Minn., Nov. 28.—Frank Wesley was drowned in Lake Lily, a mile east of here, near the spot where his two little sons lost their lives when the ice broke while they were skating seven years ago. Wesley's boat drifted to shore and his cap was found in it. The father's deep grief over the death of his children had been apparent ever since the skating accident.
