

FEW OUT OF WORK IN THIS CITY NOW

ACTIVITY IN WOODS AND WORK OF POLICE ELIMINATE WINTER PROBLEM.

By GEORGE P. STONE.

Either the unusual activity in the lumber camps or the simple policy of the city officials to hand "floaters" or hard labor to unemployed men seemingly has rid Missoula of the usual winter number of idle people.

Police officials declare that their practice of sending vagrants to the rockpile or the street has given Missoula a reputation which is as wide as the United States. Men out of work no longer dare to come here.

Rush New Over.

During December the procession of men on their annual bumper-begs to the Pacific coast was steady. The city jail held from six to 20 men every night, men who applied to Desk Sergeant Theriault for a night's lodging and then went their way.

Too Few for Rockpile.

This month there are hardly enough wanderers to keep the rockpile busy. Lack of "hands" and a superfluity of snow have caused the police department to suspend operations, and unless more recruits are found the rockpile will be inactive during the rest of the winter.

Conditions in Butte are much worse. The local papers admit that there are several thousand unemployed men in the city now. "Floater" sentences, which shift the burden to other communities, are of no avail, for the men refuse to leave Butte.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it. But flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's venous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Missoula Drug Co., agents.—Adv.

SCENE FROM "THE PORT OF DOOM," WITH LAURA SAWYER IN THE LEADING ROLE.

To characterize a film production as an extraordinary motion picture suggests, on the face of it, that it might have been produced by the Famous Players Film company. When it is explained that the Famous Players did produce the subject it becomes natural to understand why it is an extraordinary production.

That he will eventually obtain the insurance on the doomed ship through a marriage with the girl. The girl elopes with her lover on his ship, and the ship-owner later realizes that his daughter is on the rotten vessel, which may at any time sink with all on board.

PAVEMENT IS LOST BUT SILK DRESS FINDS IT

UNUSUAL JANUARY THAW HIDES HIGGINS AVENUE'S BRICKS UNDER MUD.

By GEORGE P. STONE.

So thoroughly was the Higgins avenue pavement hidden yesterday beneath the debris of a prolonged January thaw that it took a brown silk dress to find the bricks. The silk dress, containing a young lady, was skipping gaily home from church.

But for this incident no one would have known yesterday that Missoula's principal thoroughfare had any other dress than that with which short-sighted nature provided it. The street looked as if it did before paving bricks had crossed the city's muddy threshold.

City is Adamant.

Only a fresh snowstorm or a thaw so complete as to make the services of the street flusher practicable will remedy the situation, for the city is adamant in its determination to follow its economical program. The taxpayers have cried for retrenchment and retrenchment they shall have.

Conditions on the country roads are just as bad, apparently. Travelers from the suburbs came to the city yesterday fairly plastered with mud, telling of road conditions resembling those of spring.

SCHOOL BELL TONES SILENCE RING OF SKATES

PLAYGROUND POPULATION RETURNS TO DESKS AND BOOKS THIS MORNING.

By LEWIS W. HUNT.

Bells on the city school buildings will ring out the close of New Year's vacation time and the beginning of work in 1914 this morning. Also the university and high school, whose students are not expected to depend on the summons of a bell, will be open for the final intellectual spurt of the semester.

Children in the graded schools will be returning after a shorter vacation than those in the higher institutions. Their work was resumed last Monday and school was held until Wednesday afternoon.

Yesterday's trains brought back the full enrollment of the university and regular work will begin with 8:30 classes this morning. A good many of the students have been back for several days for a few extra hours of grind before the strenuous labors that come with the end of the semester.

High school will open with no other feature of a new year's beginning than to take up the work where it was dropped on the last day before vacation. The students there, too, have a prospect of three weeks of work and little else is planned until the half year is finished.

Schlitz Brown Bottle Claims Authenticated

by Dr. Robert Wahl, President of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology. We reprint from his letter.

"Our observations, extending over the last twenty-five years, have convinced us beyond a doubt that exposure of beer to light has a very detrimental influence on its quality generally, but especially upon the flavor of the beer.

We have tested beers repeatedly in this direction, placing the bottles into direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable, on account of the peculiar odor developed.

The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are therefore recommendable."

He quotes famous authorities to corroborate his opinion

Authorities on the subject of the detrimental influence of light on beer are:

- C. Lintner, Lehrbuch der Bierbrauerei 1875, S. 343.
Beck, Zeitschrift für das gesamte Brauwesen, 1882, S. 370.
V. Huth Der Bierbrauer 1876, S. 127.
Ney, Allg. Zeitschr. f. Bierbr. u. Malzfabr., 1878, S. 273

Light cannot harm Schlitz in Brown Bottles. It is made pure and then kept pure.

See that crown or cork is branded "Schlitz."

Philadelphian, Jan. 4.—Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, noted author and physician, died at his home here today.

Death was due to influenza, the seriousness of which was accentuated by his advanced age. He was in his 85th year.

Stricken last Monday with what was thought to be a mild attack of grippe, no apprehension for his recovery was felt until yesterday. Dr. Mitchell's fame both as a physician and an author was international. His last book appeared a few months ago under the title of "Westways."

He was noted as neurologist and his medical works were largely on the subject of nervous diseases. He was granted honorary degrees by two foreign universities and the degree of LL. D. was bestowed upon him by Harvard, Princeton and other institutions in his country.

Dr. Mitchell was an advocate of the "rest cure" in the treatment of nervous diseases and it has been said that this had much to do with making his reputation as a neurologist. He was born in Philadelphia, February 15, 1829.
