Extract From the Heating and Ventilating Magazine

The official publication of the central heating business.

It has been demonstrated that it is much easier to waste steam, than it is to waste other electric current or water. For instance, if the customer sees his electric meter, or if he sees the water running from the faucets that he is using the water, that there is not one customer out of 25 who knows that when he has the radiator turned on and the windows open on a day when the temperature out doors is about 40 degrees Fahrenheit, they zero, that the radiator are condensing more steam than they would on a day when the out doors temperature is zero and he has the windows closed.

There have been cases where, by covering exposed pipes in the basement and repairing windows and doors in same, a customer has been able to cut his bills in two. It has also been proved that by installing weather strips on the doors and windows of a building, the bills have been cut from 20 per cent to 25 per cent, and by shutting off the service valve at night and Sundays in business buildings when the out door temperature is about 40 degrees Fahrenheit, the bills for these months were reduced 40 per cent.

This extract we believe will be of interest and value generally, and especially to the owners of buildings recently connected to our new central heating system.

OVERHEAD CROSSING MOVED DOWN YARDS

STEVENS STREET BRIDGE OVER
TRACKS WILL BE SET UP NEAR CAR SHOPS.

By LEWIS W. HUNT.
Last evening the remaining timbers of the old footbridge on Stevens street at its crossing with the Northern Pacific tracks were taken down and moved to the new location of the trestle at Waverly street. The abutments have already been placed there and in a few days the transplanted bridge will be ready to use. It has taken a bridge crew only a little more than a week to wreck the crossing and move the material to the new position.

At Stevens street the bridge has been entirely disregarded by those for whom a safety crossing was intended. The tracks there were taken down for a transfer yard but now all of the freight switching is done farther down the yards and the only danger at Stevens street is from trains going in or out on the main line. So, rather than include two sets of stairs in crossing the tracks, most persons took a chance on the surface route.

The yards at Waverly street, however, are a much busier place and one where the overhead crossing will likely have many users. There is no surface crossing there and several switch engines working day and night make it a precarious district for pedestrians. Along the north side of the tracks are the car shops and repair tracks. The safety of the employees there and of their children who must cross the yards on their way to school is one reason for moving the bridge.

VINCENT MCCARTHY MISSES JOE BUSH

By GEORGE P. STONE.
Vincent McCarthy, whose brother is generally credited with the pre-Campbell discovery of "Joe Buller" Bush, prime factor in Missoula's single pennant victory and winner of a world series battle, has returned disappointed from a weary journey to Brainerd, the Mecca of all local baseball fans. When McCarthy reached the city of Joe Bush's nativity, the world-series hero had been called to Philadelphia by the watchful Cornelius McGillicuddy. Mack evidently feared the effect upon his prodigy of home lionizing, and called Bush to heel after the youngster had enjoyed a single taste of real glory. Otherwise Mr. McCarthy's trip was a tremendous success. He visited his brother and attracted much attention in Brainerd as a citizen of the town which boasted Bush into the limelight. All Brainerd citizens are disappointed, McCarthy says, because Count Mack grabbed Graves, the touted Indian hurler, before Missoula could use him. Brainerd firmly believes in the Highlanders as makers of big-league stars and hates to see a native son take a short cut. Graves is a southpaw who is expected to rival his teammates, Bush and Bender. He allowed the American Giants, the crack negro team, only three infield hits last year, but was beaten 1 to 4 through poor support. The local club was angling for him, but was a little late.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE WOMEN IN MEETING

LOST RADIUM RECOVERED.

New York, Jan. 4.—The disk of radium worth $1,500 belonging to Dr. William H. Dieffenbach, cancer specialist for the Hahnemann hospital, which had been missing since Tuesday, was recovered today. Dr. Dieffenbach refused to tell whether it had been stolen or under what circumstances it was found. Physicians pointed out that a thief ignorant of the nature of radium would be exposed to extreme danger from its activity. If the radium were carried near the heart it would cause death.

HERMANN'S ORDERS INSTALL WITH BANQUET

OFFICERS FOR YEAR FORMALLY GIVEN TITLES IN LOCAL GERMAN LODGES.

By LEWIS W. HUNT.
Officers in Schiller lodge No. 4 of the Sons of Hermann and in Lena lodge No. 7 of the Daughters of Hermann who were elected some time ago were formally placed in office at a joint installation held in the lodge rooms in the Eagles' hall last night. The ritual was conducted by F. W. Kuphal, ex-president of the grand lodge of Montana.
After the services of installation a banquet table was set the length of the lodge rooms. Mr. Kuphal sat at its head as toastmaster and leader of singing. The evening was closed with a social time and a general chorus in songs.

Those put in office by the Sons of Hermann were F. W. Herwig, president; William Werner, vice president; Ernest Misch, secretary; H. C. Sonntag, treasurer; Louis Valgt, guide; George Steinmuller, inside guard; Louis Streiberger, outside guard. The new finance committee is made up of Edward Rohkramer, J. J. Greis and Henry Partoll.

The new officers of Lena lodge are Lizzie Heckler, president; Theresa Walteskirchen, vice president; Minnie Volbrecht, secretary; Kathrina Walteskirchen, financial secretary; Montia Scherk, treasurer; Carlina Greenfield, conductor; Anna Schatz, inside guard; Minnie Myers, outside guard. The trustees installed are Augusta Meyer, Christina Siegel and Magdaline Hornsby.
On the finance committee are Minnie Swant and Carrie Garlic.

SPLENDID AUDIENCE ATTENDS SPECIAL SERVICES

METHODIST CHURCH IS CROWD-ED WITH PEOPLE DURING EVENING MEETING.

By GEORGE P. STONE.
The large auditorium of the Methodist church could not contain the audience that attended the special services held there last evening. So many sought admittance to the church that the opening of the reserve space, shut off ordinarily by sliding doors, was necessary.
"Heaven, Its Character" was the subject of Dr. Charles D. Crouch's sermon. He took his text from the third, fourth and fifth verses of the first chapter of the first epistle of Peter.
"Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath gotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead."

"To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time."

Dr. Crouch discussed the character of heaven from the four points suggested by the apostle. Heaven, he said, is incorruptible in substance, undefiled in purity, unending in beauty and untouched in security.
The incorruptibility of heaven, he said, is insured by the incorruptibility of God and of His word, which has stood as the leading light of the whole Christian era. Jesus Christ, who was undefiled though coming into contact with all that defiles mortal men, illustrates the purity of heaven. The unending beauty of heaven Dr. Crouch presented by contrast with the great cities of old times which have fallen into dust and corruption. Babylon, Athens, Rome—each the most beautiful city of its time—have crumbled and faded away, while the beauty of heaven changes not. Heaven is made secure to all men because it was purchased for humanity with the blood of Jesus Christ.

Fully 300 of the people who crowded the church during the evening service attended the special music hour which commenced at 7:15. An organ recital opened the program and was followed by a sacred concert in which the choir of the Methodist church and the Wood Orchestral company took part. The musical services were impressive and thoroughly enjoyable.

LUCY ROOSEVELT DIES.

New York, Jan. 4.—Miss Lucy Margaret Roosevelt, daughter of W. Edin Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt's cousin, is dead at her father's home on Fifth avenue, from typhoid fever. She contracted the disease, it was said, during the trip with Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt up the Paraguay river, South America, although the fever did not develop until nearly a month later, while she and Mrs. Roosevelt were nearing New York.

CANCER AUTHORITY DEAD.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 4.—Dr. Frederick C. Busch, widely known as an authority on cancer, is dead here from a malignant cancer and pneumonia. Two months ago he was operated on in the Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore. Radium was used. Dr. Busch's cancer was of the incurable type and at the most, radium in his case could only alleviate suffering. He was 40 years old.

TREWHELA IS BACK ENTHUSIASTIC AND HAPPY

LOCAL SALESMAN RETURNS FROM STONE-ORDEAN-WELLS CON-VENTION WITH NEW VIGOR.

By A. L. STONE.
John Trewhela returned yesterday from the annual convention and banquet of the Stone-Ordean-Wells officers and salesmen in Duluth. Mr. Trewhela declares it was the most impressive and helpful gathering of which he ever formed a part. "Of no idea," said he last night, "of the size of the concern or the extent of its business." The plant at Duluth is immense; they don't talk there in less than five figures about anything. And everything is carried on according to system; everything is the best that can be secured. Warehouses, offices, stables—everything is high class. I was particularly impressed by the horses. I never saw so many fine draft animals in my life. The amount of stock carried also took me off my feet. The meetings were fine; the men there learned a lot about the business. Every one of us ought to be a better salesman now than he was when he went to Duluth. All I am afraid of is that I shall get to quoting those big figures—all of which are correct—and that nobody will believe me. My customers will think I've been eating lotus."

FALSE REPORT.

Boston, Jan. 4.—A spurious or misinterpreted wireless message received at the radio station tonight was responsible for an unfounded report sent out by the revenue cutter service that the Koenigsluise, a North German Lloyd liner, was in distress off the Jersey coast. As a matter of fact the steamer is safe in Australian waters. The message was received apparently from the Brooklyn navy yards, though the latter station denied having any such information.

POSSIBLY JEWELL'S BODY.

New York, Jan. 4.—The torso of a body believed to be that of Albert J. Jewell, an aviator who disappeared while making a flight in a monoplane on October 12, was cast up by the sea at Edemere, Lanz Island, today. It was not possible to identify the body positively.

ENGAGEMENT IS TRUE.

Madrid, Jan. 4.—The American ambassador, Joseph E. Willard of Richmond, Va., made official announcement today of the engagement of his daughter, Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, to Kermit Roosevelt, son of ex-President Roosevelt. The marriage probably will take place in the spring.

TROUT PACKED IN ICE COME TO LIFE IN STORE

By LEWIS W. HUNT.
A winter fish story that outclasses any angler's summertime tale and that ranks high with the output of a hot stove gathering, comes from Butte. A box of fish was opened Saturday afternoon in the meat department of Hennessy's store. In order to clean them of small particles of the ice in which they were packed the fish were dumped in a tank of water. In a few minutes some of them showed signs of animation and a little later all of them were swimming spryly around the tank as though they had never been taken from their native lake.

Fish customers then, instead of selecting from the counter, were taken to the tank and sold fresh fish. These fish were trout shipped from Washington. They had been packed several days and carried 40 miles by stage and 250 miles by railroad. Although the Hennessy store receives frequent shipments of fish, this is the first instance of any playing Rm Van Winkle.
