When Walter Raleigh took the walk that led him to the block, he chatted gaily with his guards and didn't watch the clock; and when he met the axeman stern, who would soon chop off his head, he greeted him serenely, though he knew he'd die quick, though he'd lost his head before. This time would be the last, but Walter didn't fudge a bit as the minutes quickly passed; as he had lived, so Raleigh died—serene and blithe and gay. Old Gloom ne'er got a grip on him, not even that last day; though many years have been checked off since Raleigh met his fate, his doctrine bright of cheerfulness is good this day and date; when Trouble makes a bluff at you, just look him in the eye; don't waver when he comes your way and he will pass you by.

There was never anything gained by a sour visage. The doctrine of sunshine is the one whose converts have the most comfortable time and who get farther than the followers of any other creed. There should never be a Blue Monday or a Black Friday. In local quarantine, today, there is a young man who within 30 days has had chicken pox, appendicitis and now a mild attack of small-pox. Yet the word that came from him yesterday, when I made inquiry, was that he was feeling fine and was as cheerful as anybody in the world. I admire that chap. A rapid-fire succession of mortal ills such as have been directed at him, is enough to test the courage of any man. A boy who can keep smiling under such conditions will win out in the end. He is getting his troubles in a bunch, but when they are over he will have left a lot of grief behind him and he will be practically immune from further ailment. The report yesterday, that he was laughing at the situation, demonstrated that he is made of the right stuff.

Never was there a situation which had not some bright side. No matter how hard our luck may seem, there is always somebody who is worse off than we are. The greatest dispensation of charity is not by the millionaires whose gifts are heralded far and wide, but it comes from those who are comparatively poor and who give their mites to relieve the distress of close-at-hand neighbors and who make no parade of their little benefactions, though the aggregate of these bestowals, if we could total it, would be found to be far in excess of the great donations which are widely advertised. I heard a sermon yesterday morning upon good citizenship and its basis lay in the story of the good Samaritan. "A good Samaritan was shown to be better than a poor Jew," said the preacher. "All that was best in the religion and the intellectual side of the Jewish people was represented by the priest and the Levite who passed by on the other side. Yet a base-born citizen of the despised and accursed Samaria, he was the one who proved his good citizenship by the good cheer which he dispensed without ostentation."

Especially with us whose home is in this favored region and who live in an environment so delightful, is there no excuse for pessimism or gloom. While others suffer from extremes of weather, we have ideal conditions of temperature and humidity. While we complain sometimes because our business conditions seem dull, we are really better off than the majority of communities. During the past week I either saw or heard of several letters which had come to local business men from friends on the west coast. One of these, which was typical of all, said: "The business men of Missoula have no right to complain. They have no idea of the conditions which prevail elsewhere. If they could see the situation here in San Francisco or could visit other coast cities they would realize, as I do, how well off Missoula and her business men are." If ever there was a city where the people had no license to kick, that city is Missoula. We should have more sunshine, faces and more smiles in this town than anywhere else on earth. There is even a bright side to the fact that we are out of the Union Baseball association. —A. L. S.

MRS. KEITH IS DEAD

Death, ruthless and grim, yesterday called Mrs. John M. Keith from the home and the circle of friends where she was so much beloved. Her passing was peaceful. So had her sweet life been. The end came after an illness of months. For weeks it had been realized that her ailment was probably fatal and the scene of yesterday was not unexpected. But the blow falls none the less severely upon those to whom this gentle woman had so endeared herself, even though they knew that yesterday's passing marked the end of suffering and was a blessed relief.

Practically all of Mrs. Keith's life was spent in Missoula. Here she spent her girlhood, here she grew into womanhood, here she was married and here, as matron, she presided with charming grace over a home, to know which was an honor and a delight. To her husband and her relatives, the sympathy of the community goes out this morning—a sympathy which is deeper than words can express, for words are poor, weak things in such hours as this.

Announcement of the funeral plans will be made today. —A. L. S.

ABOUT ASTRONOMY
LENNES TO TALK
TONIGHT

LECTURE AT UNIVERSITY SHOULD NOT BE MISSED BY HOME GUARD TONIGHT.

The second number of the University Lecture course will be given in the university assembly room this evening, beginning at 8:15. This will be a lecture by Dr. N. J. Lennes, professor of mathematics, on the subject, "The Wonders of Modern Astronomy." The lecture will be illustrated with the stereopticon. Over 60 slides will be shown. The lantern slides were made from negatives taken at the Yerkes observatory, which has the largest and most powerful telescope in the world. Some of the exposures for the negatives were of several hours' duration.

Dr. Lennes is a fluent and interesting speaker. He came to Montana with a reputation of being a popular speaker at chautauques and other gatherings, and was much sought after because of his ability. While he is one of the "new arrivals" among the university faculty, he has, nevertheless, made a wide circle of friends among the people of the city.

Subject of Great Interest.
The subject is one of intense interest about which the ordinary reader knows little. There are not more than a dozen large telescopes in the world, so the information which comes to the public must, of necessity, be second hand. By the use of these instruments most astonishing results have been obtained. A summary of the results will be given, the methods of obtaining them explained and the telescope at Yerkes shown.
At these lectures there are no reserved seats. This is the second number. Eight others will be given. Tickets for the entire course will be sold at the door, price $1.00; to students from any school, $1.00. The general admission to all alike is 25 cents.

MUCH FOOD IS NEEDED TO SUPPORT REFUGEES

El Paso, Jan. 18.—Rations for the Mexican soldiers and refugees who are to be interned here, were ordered by Brigadier General Bliss today. The soldiers, generals and other officers of the defeated Huerta army are to be sheltered in 1,200 tents spread out on the reservation of Fort Bliss on a spur of a railroad.

The monthly food supplies required for the self-invited guests will be 32,000 pounds of beef, 20,000 pounds of beans, 125,000 loaves of bread and 5,000 pounds of coffee.

One thousand wives of the soldiers who elected to follow them into the United States will do the cooking. The refugee camp will be enclosed by 11 miles of barbed wire fence, within which the Mexicans will be guarded on the footing of prisoners of war. Four troops of United States cavalry will patrol the fence day and night. An accounting of the cost of the feeding, sheltering and clothing the refugees will be submitted regularly to the war department with a view that the amount, estimated at $1,600 a day, shall be made a claim against the Mexican government.

LAST WEEK'S BLIZZARD DID ENORMOUS DAMAGE

Boston, Jan. 18.—It is many years since such havoc has been wrought among the vessels of the coastwise fleet as that caused by the blizzard last week along the New England coast. The gale wrecked one steamer, six schooners and a barge, according to the record of disasters disclosed up to today. One schooner, the Prescott Palmer, is missing.
The property loss is estimated at nearly $1,000,000. Only one life was sacrificed while 161 persons were brought safely to shore. Of these 108 were on the steamer Cohoquet when she struck a rock in the Bay of Fundy off the Maine coast.

TIDDY, THE FORGER SAYS AN EX-CON CAN'T WORK

MAN SENT TO PEN ONCE FROM THIS COUNTY IS AGAIN IN TOILS BUT HAS EXCUSE.

Because an ex-convict, who knew him when they were both inmates of the state prison, tipped off the people he was working for to the fact that he had worn stripes, J. L. Tiddy alleges that he was forced to resort to forgery to live.
Tiddy, it is alleged, passed a couple of forged checks, each for a small amount, at the Missoula hotel where he was known. He skipped out then and for several weeks had been lost to the officers until word came that he was in Phillipsburg. There Deputy Sheriff Hugh Kelley found and arrested him Saturday. Tiddy was brought to the county jail. There he made the charge that because he had been a convict he was unable to keep a job and that this fact was tipped off to his employer by another ex-convict.
Tiddy was sent to the state penitentiary from Missoula as a forger. Those who know him best do not think much of the excuse offered to shield him for his more recent offense. —L. E. W.

FOR THE SECOND TIME SCHMIDT IS ON TRIAL

New York, Jan. 18.—With his mother as his only new important witness, Hans Schmidt will be placed on trial in the supreme court for the second time tomorrow charged with the murder of Anna Amador, whom he married through a ceremony self-performed as a German priest.
Schmidt's mother was ill during the first trial, in which the jury disagreed. She is expected to testify as to her son's eccentric actions during boyhood, for Schmidt's defense is to be insanity.
A special panel of 200 talemans has been called to appear tomorrow.

ROMAN COINS OVERLOOKED.

Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 18.—Six old Roman coins valued by the University of California at $5,000 each were overlooked last night by thieves who broke into the coin department in the library at the university. Other coins having a value of about $50 were stolen. The Roman coins were discovered in the ruins of Pompeii, in 1819 by a joint expedition of the French government and the University of California.

CLARK NOT FOUND THOUGH CROWDS WATCH

MILLIONAIRE STILL MISSING AND POLICE MAINTAIN THAT HE HAS DROWNED HIMSELF.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Jan. 18.—Thousands of persons lined the ocean shores here today watching the big waves and the police believe that had the body of F. Lewis Clark, the Spokane millionaire, who disappeared Friday night, been washed ashore, someone surely would have discovered it.
Clark, a mining and flour mill operator, well known in Washington, dropped from sight after having bidden his wife goodbye at a railway station, where she boarded a train for San Francisco. The police think he was committed suicide by walking off the end of the wharf as soon as he parted from Mrs. Clark.
Mrs. Clark left San Francisco yesterday for Santa Barbara, but her train was routed down the San Joaquin valley so that she may not arrive here before tomorrow noon. Her son, Theodore Clark, a Harvard student, left Cambridge today and is due here Thursday evening.
Walter Shute, valet of the missing man, declared today that he was satisfied Clark had no intention of suicide at the time he left in his automobile to accompany Mrs. Clark to the station. Shute says that Clark dismissed the automobile saying that he wished to walk back to the hotel and also asked for a key to the side entrance of the hotel, giving instructions that Shute should wait on him at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

UNITED MINE WORKERS READY FOR CONVENTION

Indianapolis, Jan. 18.—Whether the United Mine Workers of America will hold their biennial convention here or some other city, as there have been suggestions on account of recent labor troubles here, will not be decided until the convention opens here Tuesday morning. It was learned today. John P. White, president of the organization, said it was up to the delegates to the convention to decide. The main business to come before the convention will be discussion of the wage contract which will supplant the present contract that expired March 31.
Reports on organization will occupy several days and the convention probably will continue three weeks. The union now has a membership of 41,142, which exceeds any previous records in its history.

BOATS SEEK SHORE AFTER FEARFUL STORM

TWO STEAMERS LIMP INTO PORT AFTER BATTLING WITH BAD GALE ON PACIFIC COAST.

Marshfield, Ore., Jan. 18.—Buffeted for two days in what both captains agreed have been the worst storm in their experience, the steamers Fair Oaks and Yellowstone, bound from Gray's harbor for California ports with lumber, though damaged, are safe tonight, the Fair Oaks at 5:30 in North Bend and the Yellowstone in tow of the steamer Breakwater en route for the Columbia river.
The Yellowstone is minus her main and mizzen masts, her rudder and her deck load of lumber. The Fair Oaks escaped with the loss of her deck load of lumber and half of her bridge.
Captain Ahlin of the Fair Oaks put in here today after having the Yellowstone in tow and standing by her since yesterday. He was finally obliged to leave the Yellowstone and enter Coos bay for fuel.
The Yellowstone and Fair Oaks left Gray's harbor Wednesday and the Fair Oaks ran into a wind early Thursday. The wind increased to a hurricane and at eight in the evening off Cape Mears her chain lashings slipped and she lost 200,000 feet of her forward deck load of lumber and half her bridge and one boiler room was flooded waist deep. Captain Ahlin and his crew worked vigorously and had the boiler room clear and the vessel under control by midnight and proceeded.

FIGHTER WHITEWASHED.

Santa Rosa, Cal., Jan. 18.—A coroner's jury exonerated today Charles Kirby, a middleweight pugilist, of responsibility for the death Saturday afternoon of Philip Schindler, who was fatally injured in the 16th round of a boxing contest here Friday night. The inquest found that Schindler came to his death as the result of injuries to his spinal cord during the boxing contest. Everyone connected with the fight was exonerated from any blame for the accident. Kirby, who has been in jail since he knocked out Schindler, was given his liberty after the verdict.

BEARDSLEY HOLDS FORT.

Mayville, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Edward Beardsley still holds his barricaded shack near Summerdale, where he took refuge five days ago after a shooting affray. Lying on a bed in the house is the woman known as Mrs. Beardsley. She has a bullet in her right leg. One of the children accidentally knocked Beardsley's revolver off the window sill today and the bullet hit her, according to Beardsley's statement.

BIG NAVAL PAGEANT THROUGH CANAL ASSURED

WARSHIPS OF NATIONS OF THE WORLD WILL SAIL THROUGH THE BIG DITCH.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Five of the nations invited to take part in the great naval procession which will start at Hampton Roads and cruise by way of the Panama canal to the Golden Gate next year have formally notified the state department of their acceptance. They are the Argentine Republic, France, Germany, Great Britain and Portugal. Japan also has decided to participate, according to press reports, and it is not doubted that when the time comes all of the maritime nations of the world will be represented in the line.
The plans of the navy department call for the appearance in line of about 100 warships, 68 of them under foreign flags. The powers having great navies are invited to send four ships each and those with lesser naval establishments to contribute two each.
The date for the assembling of this international fleet has not been fixed, but under the terms of the act of congress it must be early in 1915, and as the voyage from Hampton Roads to San Francisco will consume at least one month, the start must be made by the middle of January if the fleet is to reach San Francisco in time for the opening of the Panama-Pacific exposition February 20.

MOTHER IN BALTIMORE LOOKING FOR HER SON

The police department is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. B. Norwith of Baltimore, Md., in which the woman asks help in the search she is making for her son, Samuel. She says that up to November, 1912, he was in the habit of writing her frequently but that since that time she has not had a line. In his last letter the boy, who is 21 years of age, stated that he was in Butte, but was about to leave for Missoula to hunt a job.

ALLEGED SLAYER RECAPTURED.

Winnipeg, Jan. 18.—John J. Krafohenko, a former lightweight wrestler, who is accused of the murder of H. M. Arnold, manager of the Plum Coulee, Manitoba, branch of the Bank of Montreal, was arrested here tonight, nine days after his escape from a Winnipeg police station. Rewards amounting to $15,000 had been offered for his arrest. After the slaying of Arnold, about $7,000 was stolen from the bank. Half of the money was recovered.
