LAMAR IS BEHIND LATEST CHARGES OF REBATING

HE'S PART OF 'BOARD OF STRATEGY' IN ALLEGATION AGAINST THE STEEL TRUST.

Washington, Jan. 19.—David Lamar, who furnished sensational testimony before the senate lobby investigating committee last summer, and who is under indictment in New York for impersonating congressmen in telephone conversations with big financiers, was revealed today as interested in the effort to initiate official investigation into alleged rebating by railroads to the United States Steel corporation.

Green Called. Mr. Green was called before the committee today to make a statement and to give details of his information as to rebates to the steel corporation.

Mr. Green said he had conferred with Mr. Lamar before coming to the committee room, and the latter had told him to go before the committee, but not to disclose his information as to rebates there.

The interstate commerce commission, after hearing Mr. Lamar and Mr. Green, adopted a resolution as a substitute for the Lamar resolution which will be submitted to the senate tomorrow by Chairman Newlands.

JUDGE SPEER SUFFERS FROM BAD MENTALITY

Macon, Ga., Jan. 19.—Testimony as to the mental condition of Federal Judge Emory Speer of the southern Georgia district was given here today before the congressional sub-committee here investigating the charges against the judge's official conduct.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow. Charges on which the investigation is based are that Judge Speer violated the judicial code by having his son-in-law employed in his court, violated a mandate of the supreme court decided cases in favor of his son-in-law, used court officials as private servants, granted orders appointing receivers for property without cause, caused money to be taken from court funds for private purposes, unlawfully ordered the sale of property, impaired his mental faculties by using drugs, and was guilty of general unlawful and oppressive conduct.

Dictographing G. Hermann

Being a Fairly Accurate Report of the Discussion of the National Commission Over the Demands Made by the Players' Fraternity.

(The Chicago Post.)

Mr. Hermann—Well, pass that proposition for awhile. Now, this next section—you say, Mr. Fultz, that it is intended to keep players from being hawked around the country without any information as to where they are going.

Mr. Fultz—Well, now—let me see—Oh, yes. Not more than 19 years ago a certain pitcher was sent round and round the circuits so incessantly that he lost all track of geography, and finally lost his life for shouting "Hooraay for General Sherman" in Columbus, Ga.

Governor Tener—Frankly, I fail to see where organized baseball is responsible for the number of Columbus in existence.

Mr. Hermann—The case that the Fraternity leader cites appears extraneous, superfluous and far from having any direct connection with the points at issue.

Mr. Johnson—Um-um. Mr. Hermann—Um-um. Mr. Johnson has so ably stated, the question is not relevant.

Mr. Fultz—We mean that no player should actually suffer financial loss by his promotion to a higher grade, nor reduction in his salary when he is turned back under "optional agreement."

Governor Tener—Have such injustices actually been recorded?

Mr. Hermann—The national commission wishes, at all stages, to protect the players, and to aid them in advancement in their profession.

Mr. Johnson—Um-um. Mr. Hermann—As so lucidly interpreted by Mr. Johnson, we stand for equity with all. Can you name any distinctive cases?

Mr. Fultz—Yes. Pitcher Kent, last season, was illegally sent from Brooklyn to Toronto; from Toronto to Pittsburgh; from Pittsburgh back to Brooklyn; from Brooklyn to Toronto again, and then—

Mr. Dreyfuss—One minute, gentlemen! I admit that I had it this man Kent upon the pay rolls, and for three weeks he tell me he has a sick man; and for three weeks he never once throw it a ball—and I have to pay it him his salary chist de same!

Mr. Hermann—This is, of course, an isolated, individual case. Past history, however, shows that the deserving player never gets any the worst of it. At least such has always been our intention.

Mr. Johnson—Um-um. Mr. Hermann—As so intelligently expounded by Mr. Johnson, the clause is one which is based on supposititious occurrences. Next—the idea of a green paint background for the batsmen.

Governor Tener—By Collins—Charles W. Murphy—Senator Kavanaugh—Mr. McKeever—

The green paint! The green paint! For Ireland was a nation when England was a pup, and Ireland will be Ireland when England's swallowed up.

Mr. Hermann—Order, gentlemen! That demand is granted. Now, then, we will take up the clause concerning side agreements. It is my belief that a side agreement, hidden from public view, should be penalized, but that the penalty should fall upon the club managers, not on the innocent, simple-minded players, who do not understand such illegality.

Mr. Sexton—What! Innocent, simple-minded ball players? SAY—did you ever have a bunch of ball players, all college men and most of 'em practicing lawyers, come to you with their side agreement, all drawn up according to their own ideas? Innocent, simple-minded GORILLAS!

Mr. Hermann—Nevertheless I have seen numerous examples of these secret side agreements, and they are a menace to the integrity of the game.

Mr. Johnson—Um-um. Mr. Hermann—As Mr. Johnson has eloquently explained, the business of baseball must be carried on without by-paths of dubious morality. Now let's take up the next proposition!

USE OF STRATEGY FAILS TO TAKE BEARDSLEY

FARMER OUTLAW OF MAYVILLE, N. Y., CONTINUES TO HOLD OFF THE POSSE.

Mayville, N. Y., Jan. 19.—Sheriff Anderson failed in two attempts today to break the seven-day siege of the Beardsley farm at Summerville and to arrest Edward Beardsley. In the first he used two out-of-town detectives, posing as photographers, to get close enough to Beardsley to grapple with him.

Beardsley posed for a picture at the window, but never relinquished his rifle, and the detectives could not carry out their plan. Late this afternoon Fred Beardsley, a cousin of the besieged farmer, Axel Olson, a friend, and Luther S. Lukin, county clerk, joined the outlaw.

The sheriff thought Beardsley might surrender to Louis Beardsley received them at the window and talked freely, but stuck to his determination not to surrender.

"I will surrender on Wednesday when the mother-in-law takes the kids," he said. "Then I am going to jail with Attorney Pickard. If there's any monkey business from the sheriff and his gang there's going to be trouble. I'm going to march to jail without their help."

Beardsley said the woman in the house, Mrs. Edna Pier, who was wounded by the accidental discharge of a revolver last night, was all right, but would not be able to do her turn at guard duty.

BOTH SIDES HOPEFUL IN BASEBALL CIRCLES

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Representatives of both warring factions of organized and outlaw baseball, the latter as represented by the Federal league, were confident tonight of future success.

Predicting that the Federal league would give up the ghost in a short time were made by President Johnson of the American league, Charles W. Murphy of Chicago echoed the sentiment. The Federal's headquarters were filled all day with men who were optimistic for the future of the new league, while about 40 ball players, many of them members of major league teams, made calls at the office. The most noted of the players present were Russell Ford and Ed Sweeney, battery mates of the New York Americans. Howard Cannitz was also a caller.

SHERIFF OF ROSEBUD IS KILLED IN A DUEL

Miles City, Jan. 19.—Sheriff William Moses of Rosebud county was shot and killed today at Rosebud and Mrs. John A. Burgess, formerly a close friend of the sheriff, is in jail, charged with the killing of the officer.

Sheriff Moses was shot while attempting to serve a warrant on Burgess, charging him with disturbing the peace. Reports of the affair are conflicting, one that Mrs. Burgess came the door of their house with a rifle, which was accidentally discharged. Burgess was standing on the porch near his wife at the time the firing began, half a dozen shots being fired. When the firing stopped the sheriff was lying dead, and Mrs. Burgess had collapsed. Burgess proceeded to the railroad depot and with rifle in hand, announced that he would wait the arrival of officers. Unsettling trouble in the sheriff's family had caused an estrangement between him and Burgess.

and fired at the approaching officers. The other convicts bent low to avoid the spitting bullets. Reed fought the fight alone. Fear-stricken, the others crouched behind the staggering horse. The guards poured a merciless fire into the buggy. The horse fell and the convicts ceased firing. Then the three outlaws lay in a heap in the bullet-riddled buggy dead.

Although the greatest confusion prevailed among the 1,500 prisoners, the guards soon subdued them and none escaped.

Warden Dick was unable to explain tonight how the convicts secured the revolvers. It is believed they were secreted near the prison by friends. One of the guards told of hearing a motor car stop in the road near the prison last night. He said the car remained outside the prison a few minutes and then drove away. The authorities believe this car had some thing to do with the mutiny.

Reed, Lane and Kozintz were known in the prison as "bad" men. Reed had a long prison record in the early days of old Indian Territory. He was sentenced to two years in prison last year on a charge of stealing a horse. Lane came in on a forgery sentence of five years, while Kozintz was serving 10 years for manslaughter.
