SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

STOP EATING MEAT FOR A WHILE IF YOUR BLADDER IS TROUBLING YOU.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

LIBRARY CATALOGUE FOR SONG AND STORY

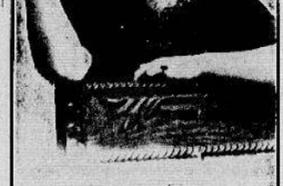

THOSE INTERESTED IN PUZZLE CONTEST CAN FIND HELP AT PUBLIC'S BOOK CASE.

Librarian Miss Grace Stoddard of the public library wishes to call attention to the card catalogue especially in regard to the picture puzzles on books and songs now running in The Missoulian. "Every day," said the librarian, "we are besieged with inquiries about names of the authors of the different books. The card catalogue, which stands to the right of the delivery desk, is the best reference for these people. This catalogue is very easy to use. All our books are catalogued under title and author. If one wishes to know the author of a certain book all he has to do is to step to the catalogue and look that title up. The catalogue runs alphabetically and so is simple enough for a child to use. On the card bearing the title the author's name is always found. Maybe the case would be what did a certain author write? Look up your author's name; his books will be listed under his name alphabetically.

"The card catalogue has a third use which though not of value to the solvers of pictures, might be to a student or club worker. This is the catalogue using of books under subject headings. For instance, if a man wanted a book on irrigation he could look up the word 'irrigation' in the catalogue, working in the same way as he would in finding its meaning in a dictionary. Under that heading he would find all the books in the library dealing with that subject. Without a doubt this catalogue helps all who know its use and standing where it does—open and free of access—it should be a convenience."

MISS SVEA HALLGREN COMING BACK TO SING

Miss Svea Hallgren, who formerly made her home in this city and whose sweet voice won her a place in the hearts of Missoula's music lovers, is coming back to Missoula. She is expected to arrive from Spokane tonight.

MISS HALLGREN.

She has accepted an engagement to sing again at the Empress theater for an indefinite period and will be heard there for the first time on Tuesday. Miss Hallgren has a charming personality as well as a sweet voice. She made many warm friends in Missoula who will be delighted that she has decided to return.

NORTH SIDE NOTES

Mrs. John Hanson, who has been visiting friends in Tacoma and Spokane for the past 15 days, returned home last evening. A delightful party was held at the home of Mrs. E. Kennedy on Wolf avenue. Those present were members of Miss Sherman's class of the Methodist Sunday school and a few invited friends. The evening was spent in music and games until late when a dainty luncheon was served. Those who were fortunate to enjoy Mrs. Kennedy's hospitality were Miss Louise Matthews, Miss Vera Rainer, Miss Matilda Martin, Miss Merrill Keith, Miss Beta Balmer, Misses Matilda and Pearl Kennedy.

THE PRICE SHE PAYS. There is hardly an American woman nowadays who can keep pace with the demands made upon her time and energy without paying the penalty of ill-health. It may be that dreadful backache, dragging pains, head aches, nervousness or the tortures of a displacement. It is the price she pays. To women in this condition Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound comes as a boon and a blessing. A simple remedy made from roots and herbs which brings glorious health to suffering women.—Adv.

YOUNG WIFE DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

WIFE OF PROFESSOR TREXLER OF UNIVERSITY ANSWERS DEATH ANGEL'S CALL.

After an illness of about six months Mrs. Deeda Miller Trexler, wife of Professor H. H. Trexler of the university, died at the family residence at 9:20 o'clock last night. The cause of death was nervous paralysis. Mrs. Trexler came to Missoula with her husband last September when he came to accept his position on the university faculty. She had been married two years that month. Mrs. Trexler was born at Marshfield, Mo., 24 years ago. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Miller, and a younger sister live at Omaha. Another sister resides in North Dakota. These and her husband are the only surviving relatives in the immediate family.

Although Mrs. Trexler had been ill since coming to this city her death came as a shock to a wide circle of friends. The remains will be sent to Omaha for burial tonight. This afternoon the body will lie at the Marsh undertaking parlors on East Main street and friends will have an opportunity to view it there. There will be no funeral service in Missoula. L. E. W.

The Theaters

Empress. The announcement that the Famous Players production at the Empress today and tomorrow is to bring that distinguished American actress, Carlotta Nilsen, before a Missoula audience and that she appears in "Leah Kleschna," a play that has achieved international dramatic success, has stirred the interest of many in Missoula—all who have read of the wonderful play and the brilliant actress. The picture is in four reels. It was witnessed by Manager Quimby and a few of his friends at its trial run after the show last night. No better picture play has ever been offered in Missoula.

This intensely dramatic story of a woman's regeneration, by the noted dramatist, C. M. S. McClellan, stirred the civilized world with its appeal for the criminal who has never been shown the right way to live and has been termed one of the greatest sermons ever contained in a play. The situation of the woman burglar, reformed by the kindness of the man whose house she attempts to rob, affords unlimited opportunity for camera action. The girl, trained from infancy by her father to be a thief and the associate of thieves, is brought into the light by the influence of a love of which she is hardly aware, and by kind words of persuasion spoken at the psychological moment when her spirit, hardened and roughened by her past training is just about to merge with the refining and regenerating influence with which she is suddenly brought into contact. The play makes an irrefragable impression on the screen and contributes one of the greatest morals possible to incorporate in a film production.

Vaudeville. The ever-popular Bijou theater announces a big bill of vaudeville and pictures, opening with tonight's performance. There are three big acts of vaudeville and three reels of the finest films in the world of licensed pictures. Brinkman and Steele sisters present a high-class dancing and singing musical. Then there are William's comedy dogs, that are a scream of laughter. Fitzgerald and Sorenzen present a decided novelty in whistling and comedy singing. On the picture program "Pathe's Weekly" is featured, with Kalem's special feature film in two parts, entitled "Indian Blood," a great western production.
