

PLAYER HAS NOVEL WAY TO SOLVE PICTURES IN "SONG AND STORY" GAME

Makes List of Likely Names and Then Looks for Them in His Catalogue—Gives Plan to Aid Other Players in the Pastime.

A resident of Missoula, who is a "Song and Story" fan, writes in the Missoulian describing a novel plan for solving pictures in the $500 game for gold, which this paper is conducting.

"I am using a system of my own in the search for correct titles," he says, "and don't mind telling others. It only makes it fair for all, if any want to use this system."

MAKES LIST OF APPROPRIATE WORDS.

In describing the system he says: "I took a large sheet of paper and ruled it off into squares. I numbered the squares from one to seventy; a space for each picture in the game.

"Each day I look over the daily puzzle picture, and in the corresponding space in my sheet I put a string of words which apply to the picture, from a descriptive standpoint. For instance, if the picture should represent a boy spinning a top I put down in the space of that picture—boy-top-spin-lad-joy-fun-play-youth-spring and other words that might be in a title to the picture.

LOOKS THEM UP IN THE CATALOGUE.

"Then I take these words and look them up in the catalogue. The system works well and I believe I am solving many of the pictures that way. The system is merely that of putting down in black and white ideas that occur to me as fitting for the subject in hand, but when one looks over a series of ideas that way, instead of trying to carry them in the mind, it is easier to get solutions."

This plan is recommended to players. There are many such ways, and players are devising new ones every day.

Elsewhere in today's paper is the picture puzzle for the day and a coupon which can be filled in and sent with 40 cents to The Missoulian for a catalogue. The catalogues are 35 cents when purchased at the office of The Missoulian, 40 cents by mail.

VOTES-FOR-WOMEN CAMPAIGN OPENS IN MONTANA

ANNOUNCEMENT COMES FROM MISS RANKIN, CHAIRMAN OF MONTANA COMMITTEE.

Editor Missoulian—I wish to announce to the men and women of Montana that the campaign for woman suffrage has begun. At the next general election, November 3, 1914, the men of this state can vote on the proposed amendment to the state constitution granting the franchise to the women of Montana.

If this amendment receives a majority of votes "for" then the women of the state will be enfranchised. It is necessary that every voter be informed on this world question. The women in almost every country on the globe are asking for a larger part in the government. Nine western states and Alaska have equal suffrage. Montana is bounded on two sides by suffrage states. There are nearly 4,000,000 women in the United States who can vote for president. Why not the women in Montana?

The woman suffrage state headquarters was opened February 1 in Butte. We are conducting an educational campaign and are prepared to answer all requests for literature and information. We can also supply you with leaflets covering all the reasons why women should not have the vote.

We ask every man and woman who believes in equal suffrage to so state, with name and address, on a postal card and send it to our headquarters in Butte.

The women in our organization are from all walks of life. They come from every political party, every religion and faith. We represent every reason why women should be enfranchised. We unite on one point, we all want to vote. We are working for one issue and only one, the ballot for women.

We ask you to join in the Votes-for-Women campaign.

We are going to win.

Very sincerely yours,
JEANNETTE RANKIN,
Butte, Feb. 2, 1914.

Open Campaign in Billings.

Billings, Feb. 5.—(Special)—Miss Jeannette Rankin of Missoula, chairman of the state central committee of the equal suffrage league, is here arranging for meetings on Friday afternoon and evening which open the state campaign for equal suffrage in Montana. The principal speakers will be Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Landway of New York. Mr. Landway is a prominent banker of New York city and Mrs. Landway, aside from being a leader in society, has the distinction of having been among the first of the wealthy women who have taken up the battle for the ballot. They will arrive in Billings Friday morning and remain until midnight. Plans for the meeting will be announced later.

Other notable leaders who will come to Montana are Mrs. Belmont and "General" Irosine Jones, who is well known throughout the country because of the suffragette "hikes" led by her to Albany and Washington. Miss Rankin has been identified with these leaders in the movement and their personal friendship for her has won their consent to take part in the campaign in this state.
