Montana, Idaho, May 2.—(Special.)—Though Montana's athletes worked pluckily in their meet with Idaho today, they were hopelessly outclassed and were unable to win a single first, the home team winning, 106 to 24. In only one event did Montana rank with Idaho, Prescott tied for first in the pole vault. Despite the one-sided score, the meet was interesting and was watched by a great crowd. Many of the marks were surprisingly good, but Montana was unable to make a showing comparable with that made in the meet with Washington State a week ago. The meet was made the occasion for the dedication of Idaho's new stadium. Coach Hellman of Montana attributed his defeat to the condition of the field, which he considered rough and heavy, though the Idaho men made remarkably good time over it, and the fact that his men were exhausted after 12 hours of travel. Missoula High Victorious Over Bitter Root School

Local Scholastics Defeat Victor by Score of 79 to 38—Murphy Cleans Up in Springs—Visitors Show Surprising Strength in Field Events.

Victor high school, though hopelessly outclassed in the running numbers, showed unexpected strength in the weight events and yesterday scored 38 points against the fast Missoula team, whose total at the end of a rather colorless meet was 79. The visitors were unable even to make things interesting in the races, but some of them performed remarkably in the other events. In view of the fact that Missoula is a large school with ambitions that lead toward the Missoula cup and that Victor has few students and fewer training advantages the showing of the Bitter Root boys was unusually good. Beyond a doubt Victor's purple diamond will win points in the interscholastic.

As the score shows, however, Victor's flashes of form were few and the Missoula team's victory was decisive enough to satisfy the most rabid of the two score loudly socked and hatted young men who cheered from the bleachers the efforts of their more energetic schoolmates. The Missoula boys should upset the dope in more than one event in the interscholastic and may win if they can develop new power in the field contests.

Murphy, the sprinter to whom Missoula supporters look for victory in the dashes this spring, had the short run all to himself yesterday, though out-pushed enough in any of them to register sensational marks. Orr and Sticht looked strong in the mile and Kemp ran the half mile easily in the rather ordinary time of 2:13.

Puyeur of Victor hung up the most creditable mark of the day. Though he is only a little fellow and has missed the expert coaching given men from larger schools, Puyeur showed the weight out 49 feet, 4 inches. Babbitt, the Victor man, who won the high jump at 5 feet, 3 inches, would be able to make the state interscholastic record look puny if he were shown how to jump. He clears the bar standing straight up, but won from the Missoula men at that.

The events in summary:

High hurdles—Denny, Missoula, first; Babbitt, Victor, second; Doty, Missoula, third. Time, 17-1-5.

50-yard dash—Murphy, Missoula, first; Anderson, Missoula, second; Puyeur, Victor, third. Time, 10-4-5.

Mile run—Sticht, Missoula, first; Orr, Missoula, second; Sterling, Missoula, third. Time, 4:18-1-5.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL TRACK MEET PROMISES TO ECLIPSE OTHERS

With the eleventh annual interscholastic meet, to be held on Montana field May 13 to 15, the Treasure state starts a second decade of high school athletics. The changes of the last 10 years have been so rapid that it is hard for high school students of the present generation to believe the stories told by the "old-timers" who were contestants in the early meets. A decade ago interscholastic games of any kind were rare; the present elaborate program of high school sports of all kinds owes its being to the university's interscholastic meet, for development in football and basketball has followed the inauguration of these annual games at which all the high schools of the state meet in tests of ability.

Ten Years Ago.

Ten years ago the high schools of the state knew nothing about one another. They seldom met in games of any sort and the only outlet for the energy of the high school boys was in local and inter-class contests. Then the university announced its first interscholastic meet. Nearly 20 high schools sent teams to Montana that spring. An organization was effected among the high school people and rules for the government of all interscholastic contests were drawn up. Almost immediately games of all sorts were scheduled among the high schools of the state. During the first year a regular program in football was arranged and the succeeding years brought development almost as rapid.

Each spring has seen more men participating in the university's big meet and similar strides have been taken in all lines of sport. The annual games have served to bind the high schools more closely together in every way. The state debating league has been a direct result and the annual meeting in Missoula of the high school principals has resulted in the development of high standard of work and of a greater co-ordination.

A New Decade.

At the outset of the second decade of interscholastic athletics, every indication points toward growth in all directions to a greater degree than during the preceding 10 years. The entries this spring will be larger than ever, new schools will participate and new standards of ability are to be expected.

From the standpoint of the spectator the meet this spring promises to be the most interesting ever staged. Gallatin's pre-eminence, so long extended as to become almost traditional, will not be so marked this spring, if, indeed, it exists at all. Many of the wonderful athletes who made it possible for the Bozeman school to win the meet for three successive years have graduated and the old champions will be represented this year by a team of new men. As active competitors for the vacated leadership Butte, Missoula, Great Falls and Anaconda are most prominent, though it is quite out of the question even to guess at the strength of any of the teams.

Stars This Year.

Butte, with Phelps, the wonderful little negro athlete, has this spring the best chance for victory since the early years of the meet. Phelps had no difficulty in winning the individual prize last spring and with many of his old rivals gone he should be

Great Falls, May 2.—(Special.)—The Great Falls track team won the first place in the first meet of the northern Montana track meet today with 75 points. Helena finished second with 25, Teton third with 14; Havre, 11; Pocatello, 9; and Belt, 1.

The meet was very successful in every way and will now become an annual affair. Lowell Watkins of Great Falls broke two of the state records, the 50-yard dash and the 100-yard dash, running them both 2-5 of a second shorter than the previous records. His time was 5-2-5 in the 50 and 10-1-5 in the 100.

Great Falls is noted as being about the strongest contender in the state meet this year and expects to get the first place at Missoula.

STRONGER THIS YEAR THAN EVER. IF THE COPPER TOWN CAN FIND POINT-WINNERS IN ANY OF ITS OTHER ATHLETES IT SHOULD RUN AWAY WITH THE MEET.

In Murphy Missoula has a man whom many place ahead of Phelps. Murphy was the little negro's most dangerous competitor last spring and it is said that he is running better than ever now. McGough's sound is strong and well-balanced and the students of the local high school feel sure of victory in the meet.

Anaconda, whose men have furnished uncounted surprises in years gone by, is the reputed possessor of a "dark horse" team this year. Reports from the home of Joe Horn and Ed Hauser, the remarkable athletes who won two individual prizes apiece without enough support to pull their school into victory, tell of a sprinter who has bettered in practice the best performances of his two predecessors, of a weight man who has broken all of the state records, of other men who have shown point-winning ability.

New and Welcomes.

Great Falls representatives at the university say that this is their year. The Electric City teams have never been strong contenders in the meet, though leaders in other branches of sport. Friends of the school are optimistic this year, though, and predict a victory for the blue and silver.

Competition will be more spirited than ever before, at any rate, and some of the old records are sure to go. The university is preparing to handle the largest crowd of its history and the interest taken in the meet by the high school contenders seems to justify the expectation of a record attendance.
