Caught on the Run About Town

Badger tells us in the news that food is shy in Vera Cruz, Villa, the dispatches say, is moving down Huerta's way; rebel lines are closing light, Mexico is in a plight; in the south, Zapata's said he will get Huerta's head; Huerta's worried and forlorn, chomping with John Barleycorn; joshing out, four different ways, rebel armies meet his gaze; and Finston, down at Vera Cruz, makes him tremble in his shoes; any way he turns to run, he looks down a hostile gun; he'd like to take a foreign trip but, alas, he has no ship; should he take an airship flight, he hasn't any place to light; so he sits there on the lid, wishing he were safely hid; he must simply watch and wait, like our captain, each, of state; meditation holds some hope—it's his last ditch dose of dope; meanwhile, Villa notes the date when those chaps will meditate; there'll be naught for them to do if Villa's plans come safely through; from Juarez comes the news—from Mexico and Vera Cruz, thus we read it, day by day, thus the press dispatches say; as I get them from the wires, they curb my wandering desires, I'm not strong for my own job—fate with me plays merry bob, but I'd not swap my dull-gray place for all Huerta's gay gold lace; I'll stay here and handle news and keep away from Vera Cruz; monotonous it is and tame, but I'll stick here, just the same; in the placid Bitter Root, bombs don't burst and guns don't shoot; that is why it seems to me, this is just the place to be.

DAY'S NEWS

And it isn't so dull, either, here in the Bitter Root country. There's a lot of doing and there's more coming up. The public mind having been eased as to the bomb-throwing disposition of the new socialist administration, things seem to be adjusting themselves in the old groove pretty well. We are getting back to normal. And the normal condition at this time each year, is excitement enough, for we are getting ready for the track meet. There is plenty to do in that connection—plenty for everybody in the town. For there's going to be a great crowd this year. Professor Thompson, who is in charge of the registration for the meet, reported yesterday afternoon that he had 26 and not all of the schools had then reported. There will be a great crowd of the youngsters and Missoula will have her hands full taking care of them. The present problem is to find right places for all of them to sleep. Professor Thompson's gray hairs are accounted for—he has a worry coming. It is a puzzle. But he was working it out in good shape last night and when he gets the last one of the high-school throng located, he will probably find that he could have taken care of a few more if he had been pushed hard enough. In the meantime, the city end of the arrangements seems to be coming along in good shape. The visitors will be well taken care of, no matter how many of them there are. The meet will be a success if the weather man plays good ball.

TRACK MEETS

There is a track meet on every street in town these days and there are some of the longer streets which maintain three or four of these institutions. The little lads are sprinting and jumping and vaulting and jogging—all styles of action and all sorts of "form." And the discussion of relative ability is worth hearing. It is a right to remember, just to see these little, half-naked athletes scuffling along in correct imitation of their elder brothers, running with heads up and elbows close in, just according to the dope. Up on Our Street, this year, it is strangely quiet. We used to have the biggest and best meet of the city up our way and it lasted for weeks. Out in the shed the other day, I came across some of the old standards which were used in the high jumps and there were the remains of one or two of the old hurdles. It was a sorrowful discovery—just in that it was such a stern reminder that time is lying pretty fast. But there are other boys doing what our boys did in those years and our boys are walking elbow-to-elbow with us now. There is the satisfaction of remembering that we had the best team there was, those years. And there is not a bit of doubt that the track-meet work was good for our lads then and that it is good for the other lads now. Yet, none of us like to see the leaves turn so rapidly. —A. L. S.

DAIRYMAN OF INDIANA LEASES MILLS RANCH

John M. Davis, a brother of Mrs. John Schuch of this city, has arrived here with his family to enter into the dairy business. Mr. Davis has leased the Mills ranch at Lolo, one of the most noted dairy farms in this part of the country, and will start work at once. Mr. Davis is a practical dairyman and intends to carry on a stock business as well as to supply customers of the dairy ranch. He is much pleased with what he has seen of Missoula and the Bitter Root valley.

TO SUMMER SCHOOL OUTSIDERS ARE ATTRACTED

UNIVERSITY'S COURSES DRAW MANY INQUIRIES FROM OUT-OF-STATE PEOPLE.

That attendance at the summer sessions of the University of Montana, which open early in June, will exceed all previous totals is the belief of college officials. Inquiries have been coming in to the university offices at an unprecedented rate. Judging from the results of last summer's inquiries, the attendance this year will be well over 300.

Response from people outside the state has been particularly gratifying to the men who have the work of the summer school in charge. Though it is still too early for the bulk of letters, 143 inquiries have come from people in other states. In addition, more than a hundred Montana people have written for information and little had been expected from the people of this state so early in the year.

Twenty-three states, excluding Montana, are represented in the letters that have come to the registrar of the university regarding the work to be done here this summer. Missouri leads the list of foreign states with a total of 51 interested students.

The inquiries, summarized by states, group thus: Missouri, 51; Florida, one; New Jersey, two; Pennsylvania, one; Ohio, seven; Washington, three; Indiana, two; North Dakota, 16; New York, two; Oregon, three; Nebraska, seven; South Dakota, three; Kansas, 13; Wyoming, four; Oklahoma, three; Illinois, one; Idaho, five; Minnesota, four; Iowa, six; Maryland, three; Alabama, two; Nevada, two; Kentucky, two.

The splendid accomplishments of the summer session last year have won the university a wide reputation. Work of high class has been done and is being done here. Educators of national prominence are among the members of the summer faculty and special lecturers who cannot be bettered anywhere are to speak before the students of the school. Montana offers ideal advantages in the way of climate, scenery and accessibility. The fact that the campus of the university is within easy distance of the Yellowstone and the Glacier National parks has a lot of influence on eastern people who wish to give their summer studies as much of a vacation air as possible.

During the next month the flood of inquiries from Montana people is expected to come. The unusually good courses offered by the department of education are expected to attract scores of the state's teachers and to make the home representation even greater than it was last year.

According to the plan adopted last summer, the university furnishes board and room for the six weeks of the summer school for the sum of $20. The matriculation fee is only $10 and a rebate of all but $5 is allowed on the railroad fares of students coming from Montana points. This arrangement makes the total expense of the course only $15, a sum so low as to bar almost no one.

CORVALLIS MINISTER BACK FROM THE SOUTH

Corvallis, May 7.—(Special.)—Dr. D. T. McClelland, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has arrived home from an extended trip to California and has again taken up his regular work with his churches here and at Grantsdale. He was greeted by large audiences at each place last Sunday and this afternoon from 3 to 6 was responsible for the lively time enjoyed when the "Reds" entertained the "Blues" in the Sunday school contest.

Sunday Services. For the Corvallis church for next Sunday are announced as follows: Morning—Sunday school at 10:30; preaching, 11:30. Subject, "The Home That Recks the Cradle Rules the World." It being Mothers' day, white carnations, the chosen flower, will be generally worn. Evening—Sermon at 8 o'clock; subject, "Social Justice," being the third in the series of lectures on the social teachings of the Lord's prayer.

LUMBERMEN WILL GO.

San Francisco, May 7.—Word was received at the Panama Pacific exposition from Chicago today that the lumbermen of the United States will hold their convention at Frisco in 1915.

HOUSTON BUSY MAN WITH HIS NEW DUTIES

STREET COMMISSIONER SHAPING AFFAIRS IN HIS DEPARTMENT FOR SUMMER.

Bill Houston has been a busy man since last Monday. It is no simple matter to change a police commissioner into a superintendent of park and street improvement, and that is the job which Mr. Houston has had to do, with himself as the subject. To the extent of a pair of condoury pants and a teamster's shirt, the metamorphosis was accomplished on the first day, and now the commissioner has proceeded so far that he doesn't try to uproot stumps with warrants or to arrest vagrant tin cans.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Houston is becoming as good a street commissioner as he was a police chief. He has a force of men at work in Greenough park, clearing away winter rubbish and setting out new trees in spots that are particularly bare. On Saebojaven park he went to work yesterday. New trees are being set out there and grass will be planted. The work on this park ought to be finished in a few weeks.

A Real Surprise.

Unprecedented things haven't happened in the city hall since Monday night as rapidly as some folks expected, perhaps, but there have been surprises, just the same. Yesterday, for instance, the mayor of the city was interviewed in his office. Now past mayors have been interviewed on various hectic occasions, but never before was one caught in his city hall office.

Yet it was in his office that Mayor Getchell sat yesterday and in his office he has been seen since Monday night as rapidly as some folks expected, perhaps, but there have been surprises, just the same. Yesterday, for instance, the mayor of the city was interviewed in his office. Now past mayors have been interviewed on various hectic occasions, but never before was one caught in his city hall office.

From his office he led a rather strenuous fight yesterday against the Rice-Lore Water carnival, whose agents threatened all manner of violence against the city. The fight was abandoned, though, when the carnival people became convinced that it was useless.

SCHOOL CHILDREN WILL OBSERVE ARBOR DAY

LOVE OF TREES AND PROPER CARE FOR THEM WILL BE MESSAGE OF THE DAY.

Arbor day will be celebrated in spirit by the Missoula city schools, said City Superintendent J. E. Williams yesterday. "We should be pleased to give all of next Tuesday afternoon over to appropriate programs and out-of-door exercises. Were it not for the fact that we must give up our afternoon sessions on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday because of the interscholastic meet, we could see our way clear to have memorable exercises. As it is, we shall have Arbor day ideas expressed in the reading and language work. Arbor day songs are already being learned and the pupils' interest aroused in the new trees and shrubs which will be planted about the school grounds."

SCHOOL WILL SHOW ACHIEVEMENTS TODAY

ROOSEVELT SCHOOL WILL BE OPEN FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION THIS AFTERNOON.

Following the example recently set by the county high school, the Roosevelt school will today entertain the parents of the children engaged there and all other people who may be interested in the work which is being done. During the afternoon, from 2 until 5 o'clock, every pupil in the school will have samples of his work on exhibition.

In the sewing classes, for instance, 100 girls have been sewing one day a week during the entire year and the articles they have made will all be on display this afternoon. Mothers may see here the various kinds of stitches and machine work taught to their girls as well as the many beautiful articles finished and ready for use.

Mrs. Sumner, who is in charge of the work, also has taught the girls to distinguish between various grades and textures of cloth. In the basement of the building, the manual training rooms will be open for inspection and will contain exhibits of the things made by more than 100 boys under the direction of Mr. Ennis, the instructor. Here will be seen samples of the various kinds of joints used in wood work, samples of metal work, both cast and pounded, and hand work, many of the articles as fine as those on sale in furniture stores.

The fundamental purpose of these courses is to teach the boys to saw straightly and squarely, to make accurate joints, to produce smoothly-finished surfaces, to select and recognize different woods and to take care of cutting tools. In another room the drawing, color and art work will be displayed. This work not only teaches drawing, perspective and lines, but educates the children in color and in appreciation of the beauty of art. The pupils learn what colors harmonize, what colors best represent nature and, through study of natural objects, learn to understand the beauties of the world about them. Miss Walker, who has this work in charge, teaches the class in penmanship, too. Samples of practical work in writing will be on display. The exhibits in this department are doubly interesting because of the fact that they show the advancement made by the individual pupils.

In the other rooms, each teacher will have on the walls papers showing sample lessons. Teachers and pupils will be in attendance to escort visitors to all departments.

All who attend the exhibition will be asked to register in order that a record may be kept of those who are interested in the work.

Local Society By Mabel K. Hall

In the Fifth Precinct.

There will be a meeting of the suffrage club in the fifth precinct this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Mary C. Henley, 615 Alder street. An invitation is extended to all persons who may be interested.

Christian Endeavor Union.

The united societies of Christian Endeavor in Missoula will meet at 8 o'clock this evening in the Calvary Christian church. Among other important matters of business to be transacted, will be the completing of definite arrangements for entertaining the state convention of Christian Endeavor societies in this city June 10 and 20.

For Mrs. Swearingen.

Miss Hazel Swearingen arranged a pretty compliment for her mother, Mrs. C. W. Swearingen, Wednesday evening in the form of a surprise in honor of her birthday. Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. John Tolan and Mesdames Elmer J. Carter, Tolan and Sumner were assembled at the Swearingen home on South Fifth street east, for the occasion. There was a merry game of cards followed by refreshments served at a table cleverly appointed with wild flowers in yellow and white and with lighted birthday candles. Miss Doris Prescott assisted Miss Swearingen.

Christian Church Social.

About 200 members of the Christian church assembled at the Masonic temple hall Wednesday evening and made merry until a late hour. It was a congregational social, entirely informal in nature, and everybody present had a thoroughly enjoyable time. For entertainment there was a guessing contest over the baby pictures which the members brought of themselves, various other games and then refreshments were served. The plans for the gathering were made and carried out by the Ladies' Aid society.

Women's Relief Corps.

A special meeting will be held by the local post of the Women's Relief corps this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple. All members are expected to be present to assist in making final plans for the encampment of next week.

A Section Meeting.

Mrs. De Ryke's section of the Lend-a-Hand society will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. W. Himes, 402 South Fourth street west.

Big Church Social.

A large company of members and friends of the Congregational church gathered at the temple in South Missoula last evening and spent several

Ask About Burlington Service East

Will you go east in a tourist sleeper? You'll find them in all Northern Pacific-Burlington through trains to the East and Southeast. Or, will you take a standard? These, too, of the highest type, are in all through trains over the Burlington to Chicago, St. Louis, Denver, Omaha and Kansas City.

To see as much of the country as possible, you will, of course, want to go one way and return another.

Burlington main lines from the Twin Cities, from Billings, or from Denver, form a conspicuous and well-operated part of the whole scheme of diverse routes at your command. In choosing the railroad that's to carry you or your family, do you think of these essentials—block signal protection, integrity of roadbed, uniform speed, ample power, precision of operation, a smooth ride, "off time" trains, dynamo-electric lighting, highest class of equipment, civility of employes? All are Burlington characteristics.

Between the mountains and the lakes, the Burlington serves nearly all of the great cities and operates a passenger service of more than forty through trains daily, connecting with each other—

BIG FISH IS CAUGHT FOR MOVIE MAN

INTERESTING BIT OF FILM SECURED UNEXPECTEDLY AT RIVERSIDE PLANT.

In completing his series of motion picture views of Missoula, F. F. Baker, Pathe Weekly man, working here under the direction of the Empress theater, went to Bonner yesterday to get something of the big lumber plants and the power plant at Riverside.

While getting a panorama view at the latter place a man fishing served as an interesting figure in the immediate foreground. Just as he came into the range of the lens he got a bite and landed a big whitefish. His two air-dale dogs pounced upon the fish the minute it struck the bank and the little scene makes a most interesting bit of film.

Today Mr. Baker will take the university carnival parade at 2:30 o'clock and a picture at the Milwaukee station. Saturday he hopes to get his great picture of Higgins avenue immediately after the handcar race between the Milwaukee and Northern Pacific crews, which is to be run on the Higgins avenue car tracks at 2:20.
