Caught on the Run About Town

The second Sunday in each May we designate as Mothers' day; thus has congress wisely decreed, every Honorable agreed; TODAY sa the holiday's proclaimed and "Mothers' day" this day is named; It was a graceful thing to do; wisely congress put it through; each congressman has a heart, though some don't often act the part; and every one a mother had, though some have turned out mighty bad; but none of them seems to forget that to his mother he's in debt; and thus each sought this debt to pay, by helping make this Mothers' day; and it is well enough to note that mothers soon will have a vote; to big and little girls and boys—old and young—with cares or joys—dames worth that one day every year we must reserve for Mother dear; but though the law's stern mandates say that this one day is Mothers' day—I think each daughter and each son should give to mother every one; every day and every night—for that's no more than Mother's right.

There were indications last night that there would be proper note made in Missoula of Mother's day today. At the florists' stores there was a lively run yesterday on white blossoms; orders were received from out of town, by telephone and telegraph, as such as yesterday morning's Missoulian reached the outside towns with the announcement that congress had designated, finally, this day as the holiday for which notice has so long been asked. The report from the flower stores last night was that the call for white flowers had started early in the day and that it had been steady all through the hours of business. "We are sending many carnations out of town," said one store, "and the inquiries have been coming in all day. The last orders were received so late that we had a close margin for reaching the late trains. But we filled them all and there will be Missoula flowers on many tables in western Montana Sunday morning."

A. C. Anderson, the florist, is co-operating with Park Commissioner Houston in the completion of Sojakawa park, on the south side. Mr. Anderson thinks it will be a pretty park and he is convinced, too, that a mighty fine park commissioner has been conceived all these years in the person of Bill Houston, without anybody suspecting the potential efficiency that lurked there. "The new park will be attractive," said Mr. Anderson last night. "The plans which Mr. Duck prepared are admirably conceived. They are well adapted to the location and they extend across the street so that they give the park a fine setting. The rows of maples will develop into the chief beauties of Missoula. At the corners of the triangle and at walk intersections, flowering shrubs have been grouped to good advantage and these will be underplanted with flowering perennials, chosen for their adaptability to climate and environment. We have used the native soil, hauling in only enough to grade up low places and to replace some that had to be removed from the hard-beaten spots. And Mr. Houston takes hold of the park work as if he had always been doing it. I am delighted to know about his interest in the park question and I predict that the city will be benefited greatly by his term of office in this capacity. He is on the job all the time and he is doing good work."

There are many pretty places in Missoula—more than ever this spring—and there are scores of pleasant walks upon which you can take Mother for her celebration of this day, proclaimed in her honor, Greenough park, always beautiful, seems more than ever delightful this year. And there are the charming avenues of the south side, the home streets of the north side, the railway station yards and grounds—not to mention the hundreds of pleasing home premises which are now aglow with the early blossoms and showing bright green in the May sunshine. Green leaves and grass never grow as fast, I think, as they have grown in Missoula during the past few days, since the weather man turned over a new leaf and gave us a little made-in-Bitter Root weather of our own. And Mother will enjoy a walk with you this Sunday afternoon. Take her out somewhere and see her face light up as she holds your arm and enjoys with you the surroundings in which we live. It will prove a pleasant experience for you and will convince you that you have been overlooking some wonderfully fine companionship if you haven't been taking Mother out regularly. Do it today and you'll be planning all week to do it again next Sunday. —A. L. S.

ENDEAVORERS PLAN CONVENTION IN JUNE

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY OF MONTANA TO MEET HERE NEXT MONTH.

The local Christian Endeavor union is busy with plans for the state convention which is to be held here, June 18 to 21. Committees have been appointed and several enthusiastic meetings have been held that the convention may be up to standard. The program of the convention is arranged for the most part, by state and national workers, who are to be here in force and preliminary notices have assured the local committees that speakers of unusual merit will participate in the meetings. Last Friday evening an enthusiastic session was held for the purpose of shaping final plans. The local committees must entertain the hundred delegates who are to be here, must provide lodges, must arrange musical programs and, above all, must see to it that everyone in the city, especially the members of the three churches having Christian Endeavor societies, takes a healthy interest in the convention. The convention will open Thursday evening, June 18. Addresses of welcome and responses to them, and the president's address will constitute the first session. Following that a full program will be given each day from Friday until Sunday, when the closing sessions will be held. On Friday evening at 9 o'clock a banquet will be served in the Presbyterian church by the Ladies' Aid society of that church. This banquet is to be open not only to delegates, but also to all people of the city. Tickets for the banquet will be placed on sale several days before for the convenience of those who wish to attend and the better to assist the ladies in arranging the dinner. The chief feature of the convention, however, will be the daily meetings in the Christian church. Speakers of national prominence are to appear at these meetings and the convention is certain to have a spiritual uplift for the city. The committees arranging for the affair wish it clearly understood that they desire the co-operation of all churches and all citizens. They believe that the convention will be for the good of the city and will therefore ask for the assistance of all.

LOCAL MUSICIANS HELP HAMILTON MUSIC CLUB

DELOSS SMITH AND MRS. MOORE SING AT CONCERT GIVEN IN VALLEY TOWN.

Professor and Mrs. De Loss Smith and Mrs. W. E. Moore were honored guests in Hamilton last week, having gone at the invitation of the Hamilton Music club to assist in a concert program given at the Lucas opera house Wednesday evening. The music club rendered a number of beautiful choruses from "St. Cecilia's Day." Interposed with the choral numbers, were solo numbers by the musicians from Missoula. Mrs. Moore sang in one group, "A Perfect Day" (Bond), and "The Nightingale Song" (Nevin); in another group, she sang "Twilight Shadows" (Sans Souci), "When Song Is Sweet" (Sans Souci), and "A Necklake of Love" (Nevin). The numbers rendered by Professor Smith were arranged in three groups. The first was "The Sword of Ferrara" (Bullard), and "The Moon Drops Low" (Chadwick); the second, "Rolling Down to Rio" (German), "Love Is a Bubble" (Allison), and "Beesee" (d'Harlelet); and the third, "Auld Dr. McGinn" (Lehr), and "The Home Run" (De Loss Smith). Mrs. Smith played the accompaniments for all the numbers sung by her husband and by Mrs. Moore; she also played a solo number, "Valse Brillante" (Moszkowski), and "Hexen Tanz" (Mazowsky). Enthusiastic appreciation comes from Hamilton praising the musical treat offered by these well-known artists of Missoula.

Hupmobile

Precedence

The Hupmobile takes precedence in low cost of operation—in gas and oil economy, in tire economy, in repair economy. It excels in these most important features because Hup engineers, scientifically applying the small-bore, long-stroke principle, build throughout for quality and long life and untiring service, and for them alone

One Cent Per Mile

And because of these things, Hupmobiles uniformly command a price higher by 25 to 40 per cent in the second hand market. The Hup owner figures depreciation at an average of one cent per mile traveled. Isn't that an unanswerable argument for good motor car investment? Visit the Hup dealer. He will add specific instances that will delight and convince you.
