Thirteen-Round Tie. St. Louis, May 11.—Darkness ended the St. Louis-Chicago game this evening in the 13th inning, 5 to 5. The visitors scored by punching hits and through the wildness of Doak and Perritt.

The home team tied the score in the ninth, when Cather singled and was brought in by Wingo's triple, the latter scoring on Magee's single.

In the 11th inning Magee and Sweeney came to blows, the latter knocking the St. Louis player down before the players and umpire could interfere. After Magee had singled he tried to steal second, and, he says, after tagging him, Sweeney hit him in the back with the ball. He struck at the Chicago infielder, who dropped him with several punches to the head.

More than just mild.

Any cigar maker can make a mild cigar. But to blend a mild cigar that is flavored to the taste of a Havana Smoker is an art. The 25 years' leadership of the General Arthur proves that it is the most likeable of mild cigars.

Will Missoula's Athletes Bring Back Ancient Glory

Start of Third Five-Year Period May Again Bring Laurels to Local School, for Five Years Banished Into the Ruck of Contenders.

If the anonymous gentleman who first detected history's habit of repeating itself was not standing on his feet when he made his famous comment, Missoula county high school is due this spring to resume her old place at the head of the contenders in the university's interscholastic meet. With five years of triumph and five years of barren endeavor behind them the local scholastics stand now on the threshold of a third five-year period and according to precedent should walk home with the meet this week.

Time was when the purple and gold outclassed the whole state. For five years, alas, Missoula has struggled in vain, reaching her highest point when she took second honors last year. The power, cumulative until last spring, may be sufficient this year to bring a victory to the Missoulians; it is enough, at least, to make the local school feared by the field.

Students Confident. Students of the high school say that they are going to win, and the respect which they are given by the members of other schools of the state gives strength to their declaration. The Missoulians are among the prize dark horses of the coming meet, though on what this position is based, excepting only a one-sided victory over the Ravalli county champions, it is hard to say.

Last year Missoula won 24 points in the meet, but the winners of 19 of those tallies are no longer in school. Jones, winner of the 880 and the 440; Prescott, winner of the pole vault; Stone, who took second place in the 220 and the 440-yard dashes and in the broad jump and the shot put; George Trainer won the discus hurl, took second place in the shot put and third in the 440-yard dash.

Butte won the second meet with a total of 27 points, Missoula coming second with a score of 25. The Missoula point-winners: Fen Dorman won the broad jump, Sam Dinsmore won the high hurdles, the broad jump and ran second in the high hurdles.

Hugh Forbis ran second in the 50 and third in the 100-yard dash. Warren Jones took third place in the two mile run.

Charles Vealey won third place in the 880-yard run.

Anaconda won the meet with a total of 33 points. Missoula was third with 22 2/3. The Missoula points came thus: Bert Conrad ran second in the 100-yard dash.

Sam Dinsmore won the high hurdles and ran second in the low hurdles.

Sam Dinsmore and Fen Dorman tied with Wilson of Gallatin for second place in the high jump.

Fen Dorman took second place in the hammer throw and second in the broad jump.

Charles Duffy took second place in the shot put.

Flathead county won the fourth meet with a total of 25 points. Missoula was second with 22. The point-winners:

Sam Dinsmore won the high hurdles, the low hurdles and the broad jump and took second places in the 50-yard dash and the high jump. It is interesting to note that although he scored 21 points, Dinsmore did not win the individual championship. Denny of Flathead making 24. Last year 11 points won individual honors.

Fred Angwine took third place in the hammer throw.

Missoula won the fifth meet with a total of 54 1/2 points. They were won thus: D. B. Gish won first place in the 50-yard, the 100-yard, the 220-yard and the 440-yard dashes and in the broad jump and the shot put.

George Trainer won the discus hurl, took second place in the shot put and third in the 440-yard dash.

Charles Vealey won the low hurdles. Bert Conrad took third in the 50-yard dash, second in the 220-yard dash and third in the 100-yard dash.

Clifford Day won third place in the hammer throw. Wilson Mimmerly tied for third place in the pole vault.

On account of the sweeping victory of the Missoula team in 1908, which was attributed by other high schools to the fact that the local scholastics were allowed to train on Montana field, Missoula was barred from participation in the games of 1909 and 1910. In 1911 the local school was allowed to compete with the understanding that its athletes be barred from practice on the university's field.

BUSH AND OLDRING ARE HEROES OF THRILLER

Our own Leslie Bush and one Rubie Oldring were the heroes of a recent ball game that will for a long time hold a unique place in baseball history. The game was played in Shibe park on May 6, the Athletics defeating the Red Sox, 7 to 3. Excerpts from James C. Isaminger's story in the Philadelphia North American tell the tale:

"Rubie Oldring made a play in the eighth that a dispassionate recorder of cork-cored news would call the most wonderful play ever made at Shibe park.

"In the eighth inning Janvrin lined furiously to left center. Pete Daley, who had succeeded Strunk in center in that very round, sprinted hard for the smoking drive, but could not get a fair hold on it. By a leap he contrived to partly stop the ball with his fingertips. The ball took a sharp curve for the turf and it looked like a certain double or triple until the crowd was stunned to see Oldring make a headfirst dive, and, sliding five feet on his stomach, turn and then hold the ball in the air as a sign that it had been caught.

"Bill Evans, base umpire, had an uninterrupted view of the play and instantly waved Janvrin out. The catch, almost unparalleled in baseball, cost Boston at least one run, if not more. None of the writers can ever recall giving a center fielder an assist and a left fielder an out on the same fly ball, and the catch will go down in history with the miracles of baseball."

Of Bush the story says: "Joseph Leslie Bush hurled baffling trajectories to the common enemy whenever in danger. In every inning but two Red Sox reached base, but Bush was always going at top speed when the situation was desperate."

"At times, the Brainerd boy was 'very badly put in the cart,' as Baron Wimborne, the backer of the English polo team would say. Among those guilty of cart imperfections were Murphy, Baker, Schang and Orr. Had it not been for these slips, Boston would have been blanked.

"Besides his firmness in the pinches, Bush shone at the bat. With Orr on base in the eighth inning, Bush clinched victory by flogging the ball over the right field fence, the first time it has been done this season. This homer settled Boston for good. Joseph Leslie Bush is the third right-handed hitter to put the ball over the right field fence since Shibe park was opened in 1909. The others are Daniel Murphy and Bird Cree, both of whom have passed out of fast company. Bush's lick was a terrific smash. It fell into Twentieth street and bounced above a porch on the east side of the street. The boy from Brainerd is rapidly developing into one of the heaviest hitting pitchers in the game."

His Young Hurlers Help Keep Frank Chance Going

It has been observed by many who are interested in the affairs of the big leagues this season that the behavior of the weaker teams thus far is gratifying (to them) beyond measure. Somehow all of us feel an instinctive friendliness for the under dog. And this year the under dogs—i. e., the second division—seem to be having their day.

Previous to the regime of Frank Chance the New York Yanks were content to repose from April to October in the region of the nethermost stall. Seldom if ever did they make an effort to climb out of that Slough of Despond, and if they did they were quickly shoved back again. Last season, however, Chance managed to inject a little pep and energy into their slumbering and recumbent forms to instill in their apathetic systems some sort of a germ of vigor. At different times last year the Yanks showed signs of what might be expected of them in the season to come. Alert observers opined that when 1914 came around it would be well for one and all to trim their lamps and give the Yanks a thorough once over.

This year the Yanks are not to be satisfied with anything short of the first division and they are showing a determination to stick at the top of the heap that is fretting their competitors. They are working together like a crowd of veteran pennant winners and not the least of the reasons why they are where they are is their pitching staff. Keating and Caldwell in the few times they have been out have behaved in a most capable fashion. Caldwell in particular has been displaying class. He has apparently started the season with an eye toward a rivalry for Johnson a rivalry for shutouts and in every performance has held the opposition to few hits.

Roger Peckinpaugh, at short, who has guided the team on the field during Frank Chance's sickness, is a person of unusual energy. Roy Hartzell is often the ringleader of Yank rallies and with his little bat has started many swamplings of the enemy. The new and unwonted pep and ginger the Yankees are displaying will make him an item in the settlement of this season's American league pennant.

THOMPSON IN TRIM FOR FRIDAY'S BATTLE

BUTTE FIGHTER WILL BE IN FINE SHAPE FOR HIS MATCH WITH COLLINS.

OTHER MEN WORKING

Collins Eager to Prove His Superiority Over Man With Whom He Has Fought Two Draws—Preliminary Will Be Red-Hot Battle.

Maurice Thompson, whose battling record appeared in the Sunday Missoulian, has the approval of all his friends. His work for the coming meeting with Collins is faithful and his condition is the best the Butte man has possessed for years, and that means that he is today in practically as good trim as when he toured with Joe Woods and Aurelia Herrera and met boxers of first-class in Montana and in other states east and west.

Jack Collins trains unceasingly, and if youth, condition and intent count, he is certain he will be the victor Friday evening. He is positive that he will appear in better form than in any of his previous meetings with Thompson, and assures that he will endeavor to prove himself the better boxer of the two.

Frankie Harris, who will meet "Battling" Tay in the semi-windup, continues to develop for the coming fight, with the assistance of his speedy little sparring partner, Travers. The Milwaukee man, who has been in the arena with both Wolgast and Nelson, is a splendid glove thrower and will prove a hard working opponent. Tay, whose record includes a "stop" and a "draw" with two of the topnotchers of the game, works faithfully and has nothing to say other than that his portion of the card will receive approval if hard training will bring it out.

Just how the curtain raiser will culminate is a matter of conjecture. Joe Bourgeois and Windy Williams work as hard as the principals of the approaching card, and just which is the more qualified to win is most uncertain. Much interest is being shown the bout, and no doubt the gong will sound upon a well-filled gymnasium at the Rochester this Friday evening.

SIX CREWS ENTERED.

Philadelphia, May 11.—Six colleges have entered crews in the American regatta to be rowed next Saturday on the Schuylkill river over the Henley distance of one mile and 550 yards. It was announced tonight.

The United States naval academy and the University of Pennsylvania each have three entries, one four and two eight-oared shells. Harvard and Yale are entered in the junior collegiate and the first eight-oared shells, while Syracuse will row in the first eight and Princeton in the junior collegiate eights.

PENNSY HITS AGAIN.

Philadelphia, May 11.—The University of Pennsylvania's squad of middle distance runners was further depleted today when Lockwood, the quarter-miler, was confined to his room suffering with the grip and tonsillitis. He will be unable to compete in the dual meet next Saturday against Cornell, and will probably be unable to enter the intercollegiate championship.

Lockwood is the fifth member of the squad to be incapacitated by illness of accident.

Irrigates the Blood Knocks Rheumatism

A Remedy That Flushes the Blood from Head to Foot.

To get rid of rheumatism requires that the blood be completely flushed—not a mere makeshift by salt and pain killers. This remarkable medicine, for it is a medicine, has found its way into every section of the nation. It is the most widely used and most widely talked-of remedy there is for all blood troubles. It is a known fact that rheumatism is primarily a blood trouble.

It is conceded by the closest students of the subject that rheumatism is caused in most cases by an acid condition of the blood, and aggravated by the remedies commonly used for relief. In other cases rheumatism is the result of some venereal or other blood condition, having been treated with mercury, iodine, arsenic, and other poisonous mineral drugs.
