The best doctors in the world are Doctor Diet, Doctor Quiet and Doctor Merryman. —Swift.

LOOKING UP "It's always morning somewhere."

According to tradition and precedent and inherited tendencies, mankind at this time of year seeks a tonic. There are not many of us who have not the memory of lining up before a big spoon and a bowl, backed by a determined mother, to receive a dose of sulphur and molasses.

But, fortunately, the employment of these medical concoctions has ceased to be as prevalent as it was a generation ago. Our grandmother had some excuse for doctoring her family in spring, for medical science had not made much general progress among the people, but there is next to no excuse for doing so now.

But conditions and practices are becoming modified. People have largely learned, and more people are daily learning, that boon nature provides the real medicine for spring fever or the tired feeling.

Get out of doors—that's the best medicine. It is best because it works on mind as well as on body, because it is wholesome and cheap, because it is natural.

So it is merciful to the doctor as well as helpful to ourselves to get out of doors and to get filled with fresh air and spring smells; to see the beauty of the world; to get the inspiration of growing things; to shake off the lethargy of the season's epidemic ailment.

And the medicine is so pleasant that there is no excuse for not taking it. There could be nothing more agreeable; there could be no treatment more satisfactory. So be your own doctor and dose yourself to the limit with this fresh-air medicine.

EGGS FROM CHINA

A favorite old joke deals with the folly of the hen that tried to hatch a china egg. But the joke was not as much on the hen as we thought during all the years that this ancient bit of humor has been going the rounds.

These eggs come from the Yangtse river; they have formed an article of export in China for years, but it is only since we had free trade that the shipments came this way.

Before the passage of our present tariff law we got little or none of this Chinese product. Now the importations are running higher every month.

Whether these increasing imports of an Asiatic product are to be regarded as beneficial or detrimental depends altogether upon the point of view. To the mind of the confirmed free trader they will seem beneficial.

"My dear sir," in substance said President Wilson in his tariff message, "can't you see that we have freed American business and industry from its shackles, and all that is now necessary will be for you to sharpen your wits and find ways to beat your Chinese competitors?"

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON.

A METAMORPHOSIS.

Under the spreading chestnut tree The village smithy stood; The smith, a merry man was he, Industrious and good.

He lived within a humble eel, And poverty he knew, And luxuries that came his way Were very, very few.

Then came the metamorphosis, He's now a millionaire; He has a mansion and a yacht, And railroad bonds to spare.

He doesn't tinker vagabond now; Where once he made a dime He charges $90 for Five minutes of his time.

The humble blacksmith is no more, He is a man of means; He's running a high-toned garage And tinkers limousines.

Uncle Abner. Elmer Jones says if he had all the money he has spent for amusements he could not buy the owner of a forty candle power automobile.

It don't always pay to judge by appearances. There are a lot of fancy looking watch chains in this country with nothing on the end of 'em.

Who weeps with you when you are sad, and laughs when you are glad, and smiles at you when you are mad—the editor.

There are times when it seems as though Senator Lodge's whiskers got in the way of his mental vision to some extent.

Added to the other forms of excitement, the first straw that appeared on the streets of the city today. Dispatches say that Hineria has received a consignment of grape. Is it grape shot or champagne?

Shot or champagne? Hotel keepers, in convention, decided to hang together. Well, let them. Who cares? Coxey's army might keep right on marching to Mexico.

THE GARDEN. Come into the garden, Maud, The one I have made for you; With its rows of turnips and cauliflower, And young spring onions, too.

I have spaded and hoed and raked And planted the congressman's seeds, And it seems as though we ought to raise Enough to supply our needs.

Allen Protests. Editor Daily Missoulian—In an article written by Chas. H. Hall, and published in the daily Missoulian, the writer requested the editor to be fair, in his criticisms of the administration at Washington, D. C., on the Mexico situation.

It is impossible for me not to leave some things out now and then. I know so much about it and have talked so much about it," Rose said.

MINIMUM WAGE SCALE DISCUSSED IN OLYMPIA. Olympia, Wash., May 13.—When the state conference called to recommend a minimum wage for women workers in factories took a two-hour recess at 6 o'clock tonight it seemed certain that a unanimous decision was impossible.

IDAHO'S DEDICATION. San Francisco, May 13.—Idaho's pavilion more nearly completed than that of any other state, will be dedicated tomorrow on the Panama-Pacific international exposition grounds with an attractive program of addresses and music.

SOCIALISTS JAILED FOR RIOT IN CHURCH

POLICE MAGISTRATE CENSURES AUTHOR-PREACHER FOR DESECRATION.

New York, May 13.—Bouck White, clergyman, author and socialist, and Milo Woolman, writer, each a Harvard graduate, were sentenced to the Blackwell's Island workhouse today by a police court magistrate for their participation in the disorderly scenes enacted last Sunday morning at the Cavalry Baptist church of which John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., are attendants.

White and Woolman were two of a group which invaded the church during the services to make a public request of the pastor to consent to debate the Colorado mine situation.

White and Woolman each were sentenced to serve six months. Emanuel Lopez was given 10 days, and five others including Woolman's wife, were placed on probation for six months.

Magistrate Campbell said in sentencing the clergyman: "As a university graduate and an ordained minister of the gospel, his actions and conduct, all things considered, are simply incomprehensible. He, and all men, should have been the last to foul and profane the house of worship and to use it as a means of advancing himself and his views."

AMMONS INCAPABLE RESIGNATION ASKED

COLORADO SENATE IS THE SCENE OF MUCH BITTERNESS IN DEBATE.

Denver, May 13.—The entire afternoon session of the Colorado state senate today was devoted to discussion of the administration bill creating a million dollar bond issue for past and possible future expenses of the state militia.

Bitterness characterized the session in the senate during which Senator W. B. Robinson asserted: "I will vote for this measure because the governor requires it, but I do not believe him capable of handling the fund. Tomorrow I shall introduce in this house a resolution, asking Governor Ammons to resign."

SCENES OF DISORDER OVER MARINE'S BODY

Cambridge, Mass., May 13.—Scenes of disorder tonight attended the effort of thousands of persons to view the body of Corporal Daniel A. Haggerty, one of the first to fall at Vera Cruz.

Women and children and men were knocked down and trampled upon. Many fainted and were taken into the armory, where the body lay in state.

Jelly Roll Recipe

Only Two Eggs Required. By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine. This Jelly Roll is fast becoming very popular on account of the way it keeps fresh. With proper handling it should keep fresh a whole week, providing it isn't eaten up in the meantime, for it is every bit as good as it looks.

Beat the sugar into the eggs; add the lemon rind, then the flour, sifted three times with the salt and baking powder; and, lastly, the milk. Bake in a buttered dripping pan; turn out on a damp cloth, trim off the crisp edges; spread with jelly and turn over and over into a roll while still warm. Dredge the top with powdered sugar.

Hot milk used in the jelly roll enables it to be rolled without danger of cracking. Have the milk scalding hot, also be careful to have the eggs and sugar beaten together until very light and creamy. Bake in a moderate oven.

K C Jelly Roll is illustrated on page thirty-two of the new and handsomely illustrated 64-page K C Cook's Book, which may be secured free by sending the certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JACOB MRS. CO., Chicago, Ill.
