

DELL I. RICHARDSON ANSWERS CALL OF DEATH

WELL-LOVED YOUNG WOMAN PASSES AWAY IN MIDST OF ACTIVE INTERESTS.

Death came without warning yesterday morning and called Miss Dell I. Richardson from the midst of those who loved her and admired her in this city. Miss Richardson had been not quite well last Saturday, but she felt better and able to go about with her friends on Sunday. She was dressed ready to go to her work yesterday morning, when an attack of heart trouble came upon her and before her sister, Miss Julia Richardson, who had run up to her room to see how she was, could get a physician to the room, death had come. The shock of sudden bereavement was felt throughout the city, in so many homes had Miss Richardson made friends during the three years of her residence here.

Miss Richardson was born 28 years ago in Canada, but she spent the greater part of her girlhood in Marquette, Mich., where her father and mother still reside. She served for some time as a stenographer for Marquette county and three years ago she came to Missoula to be a stenographer in the Northern Pacific railway service, first in the store department and for the last year in the office of the trainmaster. She was a competent and energetic worker, with a happy disposition that was like a tonic to the clerks with whom she worked day by day in the office. She was vigorous physically, entering with enthusiasm into games of tennis, ping-pong, skating and horseback riding. She was getting ready to be married this summer and her fiancé had come from Butte to spend the week end with her. It was with this friend that Miss Richardson was walking on Sunday.

It is believed that some organ heart disease had been weakening her power of resistance, without her knowledge, and so made her liable to the sudden attack. The grandmother of Miss Richardson is known to have dropped dead of heart trouble, although she lived to the first age of a family of 12 children to pass away. Besides the father and mother and sisters and brothers in Michigan, there are in Montana Miss Julia Richardson, Travelers Aid secretary of the Y. W. C. A., at the Northern Pacific railway station, Chester Richardson, who is in charge of the Northern Pacific signal service at Garrison, Mrs. Anderson of Livingston, and Roy Richardson of Butte. Chester Richardson had come to Missoula to visit his sisters Monday morning, but had not yet gone to the room of Miss Dell Richardson at the Hammond Hotel and so missed seeing her before she died. He will accompany the body east this morning. Miss Julia Richardson and Miss Be. M. Jackson will also go with the body to Marquette, Mich., where the funeral will be held. Miss Jackson was a close friend of Miss Dell Richardson during their girlhood days and she came to Missoula last winter to be with her. The two young women have had a room together at the Hammond Hotel only a few days ago. Miss Jackson took as position in the women's suit department of the Missoula Mercantile company in order to remain longer in Missoula with her friend.

ROSY AND PLUMP.

Good Health From Right Food.

"It's not a new food to me," remarked a Va. man, in speaking of Grape-Nuts.

"About twelve months ago my wife was in very bad health. She could not keep anything on her stomach. The doctor recommended milk, half water, but it was not sufficiently nourishing.

"A friend of mine told me one day to try Grape-Nuts and cream. The result was really marvelous. My wife soon regained her usual strength and today is as rosy and plump as when a girl of sixteen.

"These are plain facts and nothing I could say in praise of Grape-Nuts would exaggerate in the least the value of this great food."

COURSES TO TEACH IMPORTANCE OF HEALTH

RELATION OF PHYSICAL CONDITION TO MENTAL PROGRESS IS INTIMATE.

During the session of the University of Montana's summer school which opened yesterday special attention will be paid to courses fitting teachers in development and training the bodies of their pupils in the light of the knowledge that bodily health and mental progress are intimately related.

The department of physical education has arranged a splendid list of courses, with lecturers and teachers of exceptional merit in charge of them. The aim of all the work will be to bring the teachers of the state into closer touch with a movement in education to which great attention has been lately been paid, though the educators recognized its importance and developed it with care.

"The school rooms are the sculpture-rooms of humanity," and it is important that the sculptor should build only with healthy material. The first and most important aspect of a child is physical, but in the average schoolroom little attention is paid to this aspect because little is known of its importance.

Theory and Practice.

To the end that Montana's teachers may learn to appreciate the need of attention to the physical development of their charges special courses are offered this summer. Not only will suitable exercises be taught, but the meaning of them and the scientific principles upon which they are based will be explained.

Practical courses in gymnastics, athletics and play should, for these reasons, be taken only in connection with the theory courses in which the theory is explained. It is important that the scientific groundwork of physical education should be familiar to those who intend to direct the exercises of children, that they may determine whether exercises are good or bad and for what individuals.

Teachers and Courses.

W. H. H. Munsie, director of the department of physical education, will be in general charge and will give special attention to courses in the theory and practice of physical training and in the principles of athletic coaching and training.

Mr. Munsie has spent nearly 25 years in the study and practice of physical education. He is a graduate of the Yale and the Harvard summer schools in physical education and also of the Chautauque Normal School of Physical Education.

Mrs. C. C. Stuchling will conduct two courses: Theory of play, school and municipal playgrounds and athletic games. Mrs. Stuchling is a graduate of Saratoga school for physical education, one of the best in the United States. She has visited and studied the playgrounds of New York and has had two years of experience in teaching physical training, games and playground activities at the Washington, Mo., state normal school.

Mrs. Alice MacLeod, assistant physical director for women at the university, will give a course in fees, festivals and folk dancing. Mrs. MacLeod was trained for physical education and physical education and festivals at Northern western university. To those who say the university may be late to teach it is only necessary to say that Mrs. MacLeod had had charge of the dances.

C. W. Mathews, a young man who has had military training at the University of Minnesota and had had experience in work with boys and girls' athletic and vocational organizations in Redfield, S. D., will be assistant in charge of the boys' club, a number of which have already been made in this county.

Mrs. Elsie Koch will direct the girls' club. Mrs. Koch is in charge of the Camp Fire girls of Missoula. She has had wide experience in handling work of this sort and was for some time engaged in the teaching of Swedish and Danish dances, games, dancing and playground activities in Copenhagen.

Special Lectures.

Special lectures of importance not only to those enrolled in the department of physical education, but also to all teachers will be given during the summer as follows:

Dr. E. H. Nelson, "The Importance of Oral Hygiene and Dental Examination for School Children."

Dr. Asa Willard, "School Defects and Their Consequence and Correction."

Dr. H. R. Cutler, formerly secretary of the Playground and Recreation association of America, "Playground Problems."

Dr. J. J. Buckley, "How to Recognize Infectious Diseases Among School Children."

Rev. H. S. Gately, "Physical Training as a Factor in Morality."

Do You Want Help?

There are times when the assistance of a "third man" would be appreciated by almost every employer, especially in those cases of grass-cutting and gardening emergencies when the chance to hire a laborer for an hour, or a day or a week would be welcome.
