

MISSOULIANS ARE ASKED TO PRAY FOR PEACE

SECOND PEACE DAY FOR NATIONS IS SEPTEMBER 28—MAYOR RECEIVES LETTER

Missoula is asked to arrange for the celebration of a "Second Peace Day for Nations," to be held on September 28, six days prior to the Day of Prayer appointed by President Wilson.

The request is made in a letter sent to Mayor Getchell by the Parliament of Peace and Universal Brotherhood, organized by Point Loma, Cal., citizens as a sideshow for the great exposition in 1915, but made prematurely active by the outbreak of hostilities in Europe.

Rivalry Evident.

The letter reveals the fact that there is no little competition among the would-be leaders of the nation's prayer. The Parliament of Peace hints that its letter to him inspired President Wilson to appoint a day for prayer. The Sacred Peace Day is the "only original."

Missoula will make no official observance of the occasion. It is expected that the churches will mark October 4 with special services, but the city will not celebrate September 28.

Letter to Mayor.

The letter sent by Katherine Tingley, foundress-president of the Parliament of Peace, to Mayor Getchell follows:

"It is to be hoped that you may find it possible to carry out in your city the inclosed plan for a Protest against War in the celebration of a Sacred Peace Day for the Nations. Mayor O'Neal, the city council and prominent citizens of San Diego are greatly interested in this program for our city. Your hearty co-operation is requested and an early reply will be greatly appreciated."

Plan of Celebration.

The plan for the celebration is outlined in the following telegram, sent by A. G. Spalding, secretary of the parliament, to Governor Eberhart of Minnesota:

"We believe that the president's announcement that there shall be a Day of Prayers for Peace will have a telling effect among the praying and God-fearing people of this country and will comfort many sad hearts in Europe. But as the plan for the Sacred Day of Peace was published and communicated to the president prior to his announcement, it will add to the force of the president's plan and evoke, beyond a doubt, a higher expression of patriotism and a more splendid unity, although the American people are noted for their devotion to their country."

Prepare for Climax.

"The Sacred Peace Day for the Nations can have its place on September 28, six days earlier than the day named by the president and can be devoted to a public demonstration and protest against war by all classes in parades and public meetings—an entirely different program from that which the president has suggested for prayers, which naturally would be conducted in churches and homes by those who respond. In fact, the president's day can be made a forcible climax to the humble efforts of yourself and the citizens of your state. The public demonstration must arouse those who take part in it and prepare them for other expressions of peace and good-will to the European people, which must follow in the course of time from all parts of the world."

An Instantaneous Wrinkle Remover

The average woman is always surprised to learn, after experimenting with all sorts of patent so-called "wrinkle removers," that the most effective remedy in the world is a simple face wash which she can make herself at home in a jiffy. She has only to get an ounce of pure powdered saxolite from her nearest druggist and dissolve it in half a pint of witch hazel. Apply this refreshing solution to the face every day for awhile. The result is charming—marvelous. Even after the very first treatment the wrinkles show less plainly and the face has a nice, firm, comfortable feeling that is thoroughly delightful and lends self-confidence in one's appearance. This harmless home remedy is used by thousands of women to obliterate the unwelcome traces of time.—Adv.

"Had Insomnia So Bad I Couldn't Work"

MR. EZRA B. HAND

Mr. Ezra B. Hand suffered many years from insomnia and found no relief until he used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. His letter is only one of many received from grateful users of this wonderful medicine. Read his own words:

"I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for several years and am still using it, and want to tell you what it has done for me. I had insomnia so bad that I could not work. I had some of the best doctors in Philadelphia, but none seemed to help me, so at last I made up my mind to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey; and I want to say that it has made a complete cure in my case."—Mr. Ezra B. Hand, 1628 Kitner St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

furnishes to the pale and weak patient a food tonic that rapidly feeds the starved tissues, brightens the mind, and promotes sound and undisturbed sleep, because it stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to healthy action, thereby enabling you to properly digest what food you eat.

"Get Duffy's and Keep Well."

It is sold by most druggists, grocers and dealers. Insist on the genuine. Valuable medical booklet and doctor's advice sent free.

WEST WOULD ABOLISH CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Salem, Ore., Sept. 14.—Governor West today announced that he would permit no more hanging in Oregon until after the November election, at which the people will vote on a measure to abolish capital punishment. John A. Bender and Lloyd Wilkins, under sentence, will not be executed. A measure for the abolition of capital punishment similar to the one now pending was overwhelmingly defeated at the last general election.

Empress.

Robert Edeson, the prominent dramatic star, best remembered as the hero in "Strongheart," "Where the Trail Divides," "A Man's a Man" and "Fine Feathers," is now a full-fledged motion picture actor, having just finished his appearance before the cameras for the Pesse L. Lasky company, in a magnificent visualization of Stuart Edward White's powerful story, "The Call of the North." "The Call of the North" is in five parts, contains 217 scenes and was staged in the exact locale of the play. The appearance here at the Empress theater of "The Call of the North" will be Robert Edeson's first local appearance other than the stage. The picture will be shown tonight.

"The Candy Shop."

William Rock, of the team travesty of Rock and Fulton, who head the list of entertainers in "The Candy Shop," the musical comedy feast, which comes here to the Missoula theater next Thursday, has given unmistakable evidence of his knowledge of stagecraft in this production. It is his technical familiarity with the finer points of the game that is primarily and chiefly responsible for both the celerity and the smoothness of the performance, and the many little bits of "business" that go to make up this wonderful pacesetting show. In San Francisco, where "The Candy Shop" was first shown to the coast critics at the new Gaiety theater, and more recently at the new Morocco theater in Los Angeles, it is a veritable slogan among the theatrical "rail birds" that this show is a hard one to follow on account of its lightning speed and almost innumerable applause winning features. Resident theater managers along the line unanimously concede it to be the greatest and fastest musical comedy offering that has ever visited their city, an opinion that has been corroborated by every newspaper dramatic editor in San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities en route.

Bijou.

Mel Wilson, Salt Lake's favorite baritone, singing his most popular songs at the Bijou theater this week, is one of the most pleasing and talented singers that has ever appeared in this city. His singing is a treat that none can afford to miss. Mr. Wilson is featuring among his songs this week Nat Osborne's latest success, "I'm a Fool Who Believed in You." The Four Churchills, three women and a man, present a pleasing singing and musical act. No comedy has ever equalled "The Fable of the Difference Between Learning and Learning How," a George Ade comedy, showing how a supposed "bone-head" turns out to be a "regular guy." The story concerns two brothers who get the knowledge bug and enter college. One studies his lessons and is given a medal, the other's average is so low that he gets the can tied to him. He tells the president a few things as he closes the front door after

NELSON MISQUOTED TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR

Yesterday morning The Missoulian published a communication from Frank Nelson, chairman of the board of county commissioners. Because of a typographical error Mr. Nelson was misquoted regarding the money which was spent for roads and bridges on the Flathead reservation in 1913. Mr. Nelson's copy was that more than $15,000 had been spent during that period. The statement appeared in print as $155,000.

himself and beats it, with little coin in his jeans. With natural ability he lands a sucker, even if he didn't get a diploma. Twenty years later his brother is a college professor and he is a millionaire. He donates $50,000 to the college, which is hard up, and receives four degrees. Moral: Anybody with sufficient coin can be a renowned leader of thought.

The other two photoplays being shown are both comedy-dramas, making a pleasing and cheerful program. One Vitagraph entitled "The Apple," the other a Biograph, entitled "The Gypsy Talisman." The musical program by the orchestra is a winner of the very best.

"The Whip."

"The Whip," which comes to the Missoula theater on Friday, September 25, is the most pronounced example of spectacle melodrama that the Drury Lane theater, London's famous home of melodrama, has ever given to the amusement loving world. It is in four acts, divided into 13 scenes. Each scene closes with a big startling dramatic situation, ranging from an automobile smash up to a railroad collision, a mob scene and a race between real horses. Action abounds and there is an exciting story of love and intrigue running throughout the play.
