Harrington, Kenneth Ross, W. P. Macley and J. B. Toole.

College of Montana

The parlors in North Hall at the College of Montana at Deer Lodge were filled Monday evening with a large and representative gathering of the people of the city. All music lovers were out in force and listened to one of the best recitals ever given at the college. While the school of music and expression has always maintained a high reputation the performance of Monday evening gives assurance of still greater excellence and success.

Miss Elizabeth Schwyn is a brilliant performer on the piano and delighted her hearers with the force and feeling with which she rendered her selections, the first Polonaise from Chopin; the second, Liebestraum from Liszt.

Miss Jessie Fleming is the possessor of a rich, deep contralto voice, sweet clear and well modulated, and her singing was most favorably received. "Spring's Singing" by McFadden given with much spirit and dash was a fitting climax to her numbers.

Miss Helen Coates proved herself an accomplished artist in the use of the violin. She plays with spirit and with a fine interpretation of the music theme. Her Concerto VII from De Beriot was particularly good.

Miss Arminda gave as her first selection Mon Pierre with a most happy rendering of the part of this French piece. In both selections rendered she evinced a charm of manner and a grace of expression which combined to make her a most pleasing reader.

The pleasure of the audience was shown by the generous encores given all the participants. The school of music and expression at the college starts out another year most auspiciously.

A committee from the women's auxiliary to the Country Life club made final visits of inspection to the gardens that are entered in the school garden contest held each year under the direction of the auxiliary. The ladies last Thursday inspected 50 gardens and they report excellent results. It is planned to have an exhibition of products from these gardens next Saturday evening at the Hawthorne school. At that time awards will be made and a program will be given. All friends, who may be interested in the enterprise of the boys and girls with their gardens are asked to attend the exhibition and admire the results.

The first dance of the series is appointed for Friday evening, October 2, at Elks' hall.

A Farewell Compliment.

There were about 30 ladies and gentlemen in the party last evening. A short program was rendered including as special features an original song, "Excuse Us," by the Park Addition quartet, Mesdames Stennett, Veeder, Cavin and Gray; also a vocal solo by Mrs. Grace Walpole, who is here from Mitchell, S. D., visiting her sister, Mrs. Bomgardner; and a poem written and read by Mrs. L. L. Wright, presenting a sugar and cream set to Mrs. Stennett and a shaving set to Mr. Stennett, with much appreciation and hearty good wishes for the happiness of the Stennetts in their new home. There was a guessing contest and a track meet to further enliven the evening, and a delicious supper was served. Freshmen Entertained.

The members of the freshmen class at the high school were royally entertained Friday evening by the seniors. The reception was held in the manual training room at the high school building. Numerous stunts were arranged to impress the freshmen with their lack of importance. Refreshments were served by the seniors during the evening. The freshmen were compelled to wear bibs and were fed animal cookies, stick candy and other delicacies of childhood days. The evening was a most enjoyable one for members of both classes, the best of feeling prevailing throughout the merriment.

"Gets-It" for Corns Sure as Sunrise

New Plan. Corns Shrivels, Vanish.

Until "GETS-IT" was born nobody was ever sure of getting rid of a corn. Corn treatments nearly all contained the same ingredients only some were "wrappers" and some in salve form. Now comes "GETS-IT" with a newly discovered formula—the corn cure on a new principle and a simple plan that never fails. This is why "GETS-IT" has grown in three years to be the biggest-selling corn cure the world has ever known. There's no more need of fussing with corns, no more digging or cutting. There's nothing to press down on the corn, nothing to inflame the flesh, to "pull" the corn or cause pain. Put two drops of "GETS-IT" on in two seconds. That's all. For any corn, callus, wart or bunion. "GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. "GETS-IT" is sold in Missoula by George Freisheimer.

SCARED TO DEATH IN AN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

MRS. SARAH HAGER DIES FROM SHOCK WHEN CAR TIPS, ALTHOUGH WAS UNHURT

Frightened to death in an automobile accident. This was the fate of Mrs. Sarah Hager of this city, 69 years old, who died on the road near the Maclay ranch, not far from Lolo, at 8:20 a. m. yesterday. With her cousin, Mrs. Effie Burgett and a party of friends, Mrs. Hager was on the way to Sleeping Child Springs. At the place where the accident happened the car struck a soft spot in the road and skidded sideways, then tipped partly over. None of the occupants were thrown from their seats or injured in any manner, so easy and graceful was the car's performance. Mrs. Hager, however, asked for help to get her coat unbuttoned and said she could hardly get her breath. Before those about her realized that she was ill, she was dead, the shock having directly affected her heart.

A Pioneer.

Mrs. Hager was a pioneer resident of Missoula and western Montana. Thirty years ago she came here with her husband, George Hager, who was connected with the bridge and building department of the Northern Pacific. Then they moved to Saltese, where they conducted the company boarding house and hotel for many years. It was there that George Hager was accidentally killed, during the Milwaukee construction days. His death on May 24, 1908, was due to his being struck by a rock, blown several hundred feet by a blast. It was a most unusual accident. The widow sued the Milwaukee and was awarded $5,000 damages.

Mrs. Hager continued to reside at Saltese until a year ago last June, when she came here to make her home at 504 North First street.

Long Illness.

For some time Mrs. Hager has been ill with heart disease. It was because of her health that the trip to Sleeping Child Springs was planned. Her cousin, Mrs. Effie Burgett, who has been making her home with Mrs. Hager for five years, was driving the automobile. Her little girl, Lolo, Mrs. Louise Stetson and John Utting were the other passengers. They started from Missoula at 7 o'clock this morning and shortly after 8 had reached the point where a soft spot in the road, caused by seepage from an irrigation ditch, and not showing on the surface, threw the car crosswise and tipped it on its side.

Mrs. Burgett's Story.

"We were all joking about the bad luck," said Mrs. Burgett, who told the story of the accident, "when another—I always called her auntie, although she was really my cousin—said: 'Effie, get my coat unfastened quick; I can't breathe.' "She had had heart trouble and quite often it would be hard for her to breathe for a time. I was sure she could not be hurt, as the jar of the machine's tipping up did not even throw us from our seats. I unbuttoned her coat and got some water. But before we realized that she was really ill, she was dead. The fright had affected her heart. She died before we could raise her from her seat."

Body Here.

Mrs. Hager left no children. Her nearest relatives are two half-sisters, Mrs. Frank Rise of Wallace and Mrs. Morn of Glasgow, Mont. They will probably come to Missoula and funeral arrangements will not be made until they arrive. The body was brought here and will lie at the Marsh parlors.

DAIRYING INDUSTRY TO GET A BOOST

commode the pigs. These are located along the west fence. Thirty pens have been reserved by breeders from eastern and central Montana and heavy entries from local breeders make it almost certain 50 pens will not accommodate this immense class without crowding. Ten portable pens have been made for sheep.

Tent for Poultry.

A large tent 48x70 will hold the poultry division this year. The Western Montana Poultry association will have charge of the exhibit and promise at least 750 birds. Just before leaving for Helena, Secretary Lawrence announced that he had secured David McKay, a noted stock judge of the east, to make the awards in this division. Mr. McKay is making a western trip at this time and because of this fact it was possible to secure his services.

New Feature.

A new feature, sure to meet with the approval of breeders, is to be introduced at the fair. This will be actual sale of livestock during the week at the auction block on the grounds.

This is bound to result in much good to the community, by introducing new blood into the herds of Western Montana. Many large breeders from other sections of the state who will exhibit, because of the lateness of the date, will take advantage of this fact and dispose of some blue-blooded cattle, sheep and hogs. In this way the breeder is saved the expense of transporting his stock back to the home ranch, and local stockmen and dairymen are offered an excellent opportunity of buying new heads for their herds.

The sales are bound to result in profit to the seller, for they are to be handled by Colonel Keye L. Kirkhart. Kirkhart is known throughout the northwest as an auctioneer, and this reputation as such is second to none.

Local stock dealers may also take advantage of this opportunity for sale. If such wish to dispose of stock, they are urged to make their wants known to the fair management before the 25th, so that a complete list of stock to be sold may be printed and published. The entry fee is merely nominal and, like that which governs at the state fair, is not made for profit, but to enable the farmer to buy and sell to his best advantage.

KNEISS DIVORCE.

Mary Kneiss was granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Charles W. Kneiss in the district court yesterday. The plaintiff was restored her maiden name, Mary Mills, by the same court order.
