

For the Legislature CARL CAMERON Progressive Candidate

TO THE PEOPLE OF MISSOULA COUNTY:

It is a matter of common knowledge that the people generally esteem individual representation at the polls a duty, sacred and inviolate. Yet notwithstanding the strict guardianship of this privilege many men of vicious political propensities have crept into high public office, not because the people were in any way particularly deceived as to the character of such men, but largely because the opportunity was often-times not present for the voter to carefully scrutinize the records, the character, and the qualifications of the respective candidates.

Under such circumstances politics then becomes a field of activity for the specialist, a profession for political burglars, a prey for the machine of the special interests.

The multiplicity of offices and of officials shields the consequent dishonesty in the administration of public affairs.

If real progress is to be attained in the administration of county and state affairs, the elected must be made more sensible to the responsibilities of their trust and the voters must more carefully scrutinize the character of the men who submit their candidacy for public office to the people.

I have lived in Missoula county all my life. Having attended the public school at St. Regis, I graduated from the Missoula high school in 1909.

I then took the four-year academic course at the State University and also the Law School, having been the first law student to receive a diploma from that institution.

On the organization of the progressive party, believing thoroughly in the principles laid down in its platform, I subscribed to its doctrines. If elected to the Legislature, I shall support:

1. A constitutional amendment providing for Commission government for counties.
2. The corporation license tax measure.
3. A non-partisan elective judiciary.
4. Legislation that will relieve the state of affairs on the railroads that has given rise to the discussion among the railroad men of the full crew and car limit bills.
5. An absent voters' bill.
6. Better support for the State University.
7. A county library law, that will give to the people living in the rural districts the same opportunity for free library service, as is now given to the residents of cities.

If you see fit to elect me as one of the representatives from Missoula county, I promise you to follow no dictation, except my sense of duty to the people whom I shall try to honestly represent.

Yours, very truly,
CARL E. CAMERON.

PETROGRAD DROWNS LOTS OF GERMANS

London, Oct. 3.—A Petrograd dispatch by way of Rome to the Central News says:

"The Germans are evacuating Russian territory. Whole regiments have been drowned in the Niemen river and have lost their siege artillery. The emperor, it is declared, escaped, with difficulty."

While in testing machines a solid wire, weight for weight, will show more strength than a stranded rope, in actual practice the reverse is almost always the case.

Great Britain sent near $4,000,000 telegraph messages last year, the United States about $5,500,000, France almost $8,000,000 and Germany about $2,500,000.

NOTES ON BACTERIA FROM INSECTICIDE MANUFACTURER

E. Leech, F. R. H. S., horticulturist and landscape architect and who is also the manufacturer of "Mustonia Insecticide," his plant being located at Stevensville, spent all week at the Western Montana fair. Mr. Leech was pleased to learn from some of the fruit exhibitors that they have had good success in the use of his insecticide in treating tree diseases.

For those interested in plant diseases ascribed to bacteria, Mr. Leech has issued the following notes on bacteria and its forms:

Bacteria are extremely minute, unicellular organisms, which in outline presents three primary forms each of great simplicity, namely the spheres (cocci) the straight rods (bacteria) the curved rods (spirilla).

In addition to these forms which comprise the vast majority of known species of bacteria there are also bacteria consisting of filamentous bodies, either simple or branched, attached or free. In both structure and physiology bacteria are allied to the vegetable kingdom and in it most closely to the blue green algae.

Under certain conditions most bacteria undergo abnormal changes in form, becoming elongated, branched, swollen, bulged, curved, or variously usually irregularly distorted, such are termed involution forms.

Bacteria in nature and under artificial conditions remain true to species, that one species can change directly and suddenly to another, much less a species of one genus into a species of another genus, is not to be credited.

Bacteria was discovered in the year 1683 by Loewenhoeek, the first disease producing bacteria were recognized in anthrax in 1849 by Pollander and Davaine.

The first plant disease to be definitely ascribed to bacteria was the pear blight in 1879 by Burri.

Entrance to the host plant is made in various ways, very often through wounds, particular wounds caused by insects, through roots, stomata, water pores, through delicate tissues as blossoms, etc. Once in the tissue, bacteria may migrate rapidly by means of the vessels, intercellular spaces or more slowly through cavities dissolved by the aid of enzymes. (Unorganized or soluble ferment).

Such a Busy-ness in Our Women's Apparel and Millinery Salons—Because Women Know the Best Styles Are Here and Priced Right

It is a well-established fact that the highest achievements in the designing of women's garments and hats are mirrored in M. M. Co. styles. In selecting our vast variety of fall modes we have been particularly careful to avoid the "common-place" or "merely novel," which is a matter of extreme importance to the woman who would be sure that her outer apparel is correct in every detail. Of equal importance to the woman who would retain her individuality, is the matter of exclusiveness, meaning the oneness of a style. When you buy your fall clothes here, we sell you not only so much material and workmanship, but the style as well, and it is yours alone.

New Things Arriving Daily

So well have our buyers gauged the tastes of Missoula women that with no special urging, except the appeal of our styles, we are breaking all selling records. There is a constant flow of garments and hats into and out of the store. By special arrangement, the more advanced styles are shown here almost as quickly as in New York. This means variety, no monotony of one thing or another, but a field for choice such as no other store in Missoula affords. Come and see.

EUROPE WILL WANT MORE WHEAT SOON

BUYERS ENTER PIT IN THAT BELIEF AND THERE IS A SMART ADVANCE

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Wheat today scored a rapid advance, mainly the result of belief that regardless of conditions at Liverpool, the demand from Europe as a whole was becoming more acute. The market closed strong, 2 1/2c to 3c above last night. Corn gained 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c net, and oats 1/2c to 1 1/4c. In provisions the outcome varied from 10c decline to a rise of 4 1/2c.

Slight Setback.

Commission house buying of wheat began at the opening and met no serious obstacle until the market reached the top prices of the day. Weekend realizing by miscellaneous holders resulted then in a small setback, from which, however, there was a decided rebound as the session came to an end.

Shorts were active buyers of corn owing to the outlook for unsettled weather, of scanty deliveries from first hands. Unabated export call sent oats up again with other grains. All the active deliveries in the provision market had a good upturn.

For County Assessor William P. Maclay Progressive Candidate

Respectfully solicits your support for County Assessor. Have lived in Missoula county since 1880. Have been engaged in farming during that entire period.

I believe that I have a knowledge of land values, based on actual experience, that will enable me to fill the position to your satisfaction. I find, from the official records of the county, that the yearly cost of administering the assessor's office, in salaries alone, has increased in the past 7-year period from $3,832.72 to $10,257.43, a difference of $6,424.71 per year, or about 170 per cent.

The taxpayers of this county are paying the bill. If elected, I promise you to materially reduce the yearly cost of the assessor's office.

May I have your support in my endeavor to reduce your next tax bill? Yours respectfully,

W. P. MACLAY.
