MOVEMENT FOR PEACE IN BIG LEAGUES IS BELIEVED TO BE A FOOT IN NEW YORK

It Is Said That a Secret Meeting Has Been Called and That the Magnates of Organized Ball and the Outlaw Feds Have Come to Some Kind of Terms—Ban Johnson Was Out of the City and Knew Nothing of the Session—Gilmore and Others Jump Quickly.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Have the Federal league magnates and certain men connected with organized ball taken steps to bring about a peace pact?

The possibilities of such an attention has been discussed freely within the last month, but nothing was ever accomplished beyond the "Feds" admitting they would accept peace "honorable." And the O. B. backers insisting it was war to the end.

Secret Meeting Rumored

Now, however, comes a story from New York that looks legitimate. It is said that a secret meeting was held there yesterday. At the session were the heavy backers of the Federal league and prominent members of the rival force. B. B. Johnson, president of the American league and member of the National commission, was said to be the only big man of organized baseball who was not present.

Johnson was here yesterday, and apparently knew nothing of such a move. To explain his absence from the meeting it is whispered that many of the men interested in the two big leagues have decided not to listen to Johnson. He has repeatedly stated that the Federals would never even be considered by organized baseball.

Hence certain magnates have decided to go ahead and bring about a peace pact of their own, forcing Johnson to shift in his attitude after he finds it useless to stand out against the men who furnish the money.

Some Action Taken

That action of some kind was taken at New York could be denied. Last Sunday President Gilmore of the Federal league and Charles Weeghman and William Walker, owners of the Chicago club, suddenly departed for the east. Something came up unexpectedly and caused the jump.

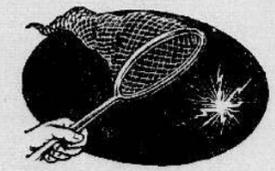

Garry Herrmann, chairman of the National commission; Governor John Tener, president of the National league and J. J. Lamm, owner of the Boston Americans, are among those the "Fed" emissaries are supposed to have met.

Furthermore, President Gilmore of the third league called his office yesterday on the long distance telephone from New York. He said he would be back today with some of the hottest baseball news unloading for many days. He gave no hint as to what the sensation would be, but it is supposed that it involves peace.

One line of dope has it that the Chicago end of the peace move will bring about a change in the West Side club. Weeghman and Walker are slated to buy the Cubs from Charles P. Taft, and move the club to the North Side park, now occupied by the Chicago Federals.

ARMY-NAVY GAME IS TO BE PLAYED THIS YEAR

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR NEXT FIVE MEETINGS, PHILADELPHIA THIS TIME

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 19.—The annual army and navy football games are assured for the next five years it was announced here tonight. The game this year will be played in Philadelphia November 25.

Under the agreement finally reached by the athletic councils of the West Point and Annapolis academies each will alternately select the site for the game.

Easy Sailing for Both.

The Navy will have easy sailing now to get ready for the Army game. The teams which the midshipmen will combat are Western Reserve, N. C. A. and M. Fordham, Colby and Ursinus, in the order named. All of these teams are classed as second raters in the eastern college contests.

The Army will have only one hard game and that will be with Notre Dame in November. The other teams the Army will meet are Holy Cross, Villanova, Maine and the Springfield Y. M. C. A.

Fans of the two teams are glad that arrangements have finally been made so the two "government" eleven can get into their annual clash. The game this year will attract unusual interest by virtue of its having broken into diplomatic circles in Washington and having been tied up with more or less red tape.

BRENNAN BEATS M'COY

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Willie (Knockout) Brennan outboxed Al McCoy, claimant of the middleweight championship, in a fast 10-round bout here today. Neither boxer scored a knockdown, but Brennan outpointed his opponent at all stages. McCoy weighed 158 and Brennan 157.

ISN'T SO POPULAR ON PACIFIC COAST

JOE RIVERS

Joe Rivers' popularity among coast fight fans is on another wane. The little Mexican in times gone by has been one of the best cards ever signed in western clubs, but it begins to appear that he is no longer the favorite he once was.

In his last bout with Willie Beecher, Rivers made less money than he has in any other battle for many seasons. The whole house amounted to only $1,100, of which Rivers' end was something like $1,050. Very often Joe has made for his end alone more than the whole Beecher fight drew, and a little more than a thousand seems like a small wage after the purses that used to be his.

It isn't unlikely that coast fans are beginning to weary of Rivers. Fortune has smiled on him no little throughout his career and many feel that he has had a greater popularity than he deserved. After being severely outclassed he has returned many times and been matched in very lucrative battles.

GRIDIRON BATTLES SHOULD BE MADE LONGER

SPECTATORS IN MIDDLE WEST THINK THAT PERIODS SHOULD BE OF 20 MINUTES TIME

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Changing the rules long has been a hobby of football followers and writers, but in the last year or two this particular pastime seems to have fallen into disfavor. Probably because games have been so interesting to the spectator under the present code and possibly because innovations could not be summoned to mind so readily, but at any rate, few changes have been favored since 1912.

There is one place, however, in which more than one spectator at recent games believe an improvement could be made, and that is the length of the contests. At present games last only an hour-four quarters of fifteen minutes each—and it is believed by some this is too short.

With the sparkling exhibitions of football which were furnished last season and promised for this, one hour seems all too short for the spectators. It would not be a bad idea, many believe to go back to the old thirty-five-minute half time game, or even to lengthen that out and make the entire contest consume eighty minutes.

POUND IN PARIS FULL OF ANIMAL REFUGEES

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

Paris, Oct. 19.—Human beings are not the only refugees from war zone now harbored in Paris. Homeless cats and dogs from Belgium and the stricken cities of northern France followed their homeless masters and mistresses and have added thousands to the canine and feline population of the city. They gave plenty of trouble to the pound keeper, whose war-reduced staff had already enough to do to collect the thousands of animal pets abandoned during the exodus of Parisians when siege was threatened. The pound-keeper became so overwhelmed that L. Fignaro took cognizance of the situation in the following article:

"The horrors of war do not prevent lovers of animals from continuing sensible to the sufferings of their proteges; especially cats and dogs—for the poor horses are no longer a question in our cities.

"We have received complaints from certain animal lovers who feel compassion for the cruel treatment of which these animals have been the object at the pound.

"We have made inquiries. Let sensitive persons console themselves.

"In these last weeks the exodus of the unfortunate populations of the north brought to Paris a certain quantity of stray cats.

"Dogs were also 'Belgian refugees.' And then there has been the dispersion in Paris of cats and dogs abandoned by their masters at the time of the panic the beginning of September. And it is thus that the pound has had to receive five times as many prisoners as usual. Mobilization reduces its personnel by two-thirds and its wagons have been requisitioned. The animals have consequently suffered and the care of them has become insufficient for many days.

"But now all goes well. Order has been re-established at the pound. The dogs are again almost happy. The cats also."

This committee notified the departments in other cities and has received assurance that the other cities will be represented. The Louisville club has announced that Jack Hayden will be retained as manager next year. Hayden has finished third and second in the two years he has led the team, yet some Louisville fans clamored for his removal. Owner Walthen, however, wisely concludes that the showing made is satisfactory.

For the first time in the history of the Harvard vs. Yale football game applicants will be allowed to apply for more than two tickets. The great capacity of the new bowl at New Haven, in which the game will be played this fall, makes possible this radical change. Four instead of two will be the maximum, and they may not be "for personal use."

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE OF LEAGUE GAME BUSY MAKING PLANS FOR THE EXHIBITION

Park Will Be Put in Good Shape for a Fast Contest and All Details Are Being Worked Out—Tickets Have Been Placed on Sale at Various Cigar Stores and the Northern Pacific Station and Fans Are Requested to Call for Them Early.

Preparations are being made for the game between the representatives of the National and American leagues, who are to play in Missoula, the latter part of this week. The committee in charge of the game is lining up its plans and hopes to have everything in readiness when the big leaguers arrive in the city. O. Kelly has made a survey of the park and the repairs needed to put it in shape for the visitors and the other details are being worked out.

The tickets have been put on sale at Owen Kelly's, Frank Gleason's, the Smoke House and the Northern Pacific depot. Everyone who signed the lists some time ago is requested to call for his ticket at once, inasmuch as the committee would like to have the guarantee by the time the teams arrive in the city. The tickets issued to signers of the first lists and anyone purchasing seats in advance will be good for grandstand as well as admission. Box seats are to be reserved and anyone desiring to reserve such a seat should make application at Kelly's cigar store. The box tickets will be issued just as soon as they have been printed.

The score cards will be sold as souvenirs of the first real Big

According to the schedule of the teams, as given the Northern Pacific officials here, the big leaguers will first arrive in Missoula at 10:20 o'clock on the evening of Thursday, October 22. They will spend the night here in their private Pullman cars and will go to Hamilton on Friday morning. ROCHESTER CARD IS COMPLETELY ARRANGED

COLLINS AND ALLARD WILL GO OVER 12-ROUND ROUTE, MOONEY AND GOMEZ TOO

Jack Collins and Art Allard will meet in Missoula on October 29 in a 12-round contest, according to an announcement made yesterday by Manager Plunkett of the Rochester club. They will fight at 160 pounds. To complete the card, an eight-round go has been arranged between "Monk" Mooney of Butte and Soldier Gomez of Fort Missoula. These men will weigh 130 pounds.

The Collins-Allard event is attracting much attention from the Missoula fans. These men met in Hamilton in a 12-round draw a few weeks ago and their battle was a hot one all the way. Experts who saw the fight declare the Hamilton meeting of these men was one of the best bouts that has been staged in the state.

"Monk" Mooney of Butte is said to be one of the best 130-pound fighters in Montana. He is as yet undefeated. Soldier Gomez sprang into prominence in the fight world of the state when he boxed an eight-round draw with Jerry Dalton in Helena at the time of the state fair.

Training has been begun and will continue in the Rochester gymnasium each day.
