EXPERT IS COMING TO TAKE CHARGE OF GAS PLANT

PRESIDENT SMITH ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENT OF NOTED GAS ENGINEER AS MANAGER

President George Smith of the Missoula Gas company made an interesting announcement last night concerning a change in the affairs of his concern. The demands on the company have become so insistent that it has been decided to increase the efficiency of the plant and its service. To do this the company has secured the services of William A. Bachr of Chicago as general manager of the Missoula concern. Concerning the appointment, Mr. Smith said last night:

"Mr. Bachr is one of the most eminent gas engineers and operators in the country. He has control of the operation of several large gas works at the present time, one of these being the Great Falls Gas company, of which he is president and general manager. He will arrive in Missoula in a few days to make a thorough investigation here of the present plant and the changes to be made in increasing its capacity. Under his supervision the Missoula plant is to be made the equal of any in the northwest. This much I can say now. The details of these changes will probably be announced by Mr. Bachr after he has had time to thoroughly investigate conditions here."

Caught on the Run About Town

Martin Jones, who spent all the years of his life in Missoula, except the few required to make him OVER OCEANA native of Missouri, FOR GAME and the eight he has been in the government service in the Philippines, has returned home in time to see the big championship football game today. Jones was once Montana's most ferocious linesmen. He has battled with the Aggies and learned to hate them—not real hate, understand, but just that kind of hate that makes one football team desire to win from another. Jones played in the days of the Flaherty brothers, from Bozeman. There were three or four of these re-headed fellow, who were fast and furious players. Whenever they would get away for a long run, Jones would give vent to his disgust in no uncertain terms. Martin is a graduate of the university and since he received his degree he has been engaged in special educational work for Uncle Sam in the Pacific possessions. He has made an enviable record in his work of an organizer of the schools for the natives. "Eight years seem to have passed very quickly," said Mr. Jones yesterday, "although some of them dragged out slowly enough. I think I will spend the winter in Missoula. I believe it will do me good to freeze up my pores after they have been open so long down in that heat. Montana air certainly smells good to me."

Wednesday it was Fred Murray's right arm that was seriously out of commission, because of SORENESS SHIFTING

Tuesday, yesterday his arm was in commission again, but by evening his ear, the one that he uses in telephoning, was in pretty bad shape. Yesterday was lady's day for Fred. He was in reach of a telephone for the first time in a couple of weeks. He had heard that a good many of his lady friends were boosting for his election. Yesterday he answered scores of telephone calls and most of them were from Missoula ladies extending their congratulations. "I find that there are many ladies who kindly gave their influence in support of my candidacy," said Mr. Murray. "I am certainly grateful for their efforts. Gee! I hope suffrage carries Montana."

"Miss Stoddard? O yes, she is downstairs working in the magazine store-room. Go right down down that stairway and you will find her. So a reporter for the Missoulian was introduced to the narrowest and curliest stairway imaginable yesterday at the public library. Putting one foot circumspectly in front of the other, the reporter finally navigated the winding stair and found the librarian industriously sorting out old magazines to send into lumber camps near Missoula to cheer the long evenings of the lumbermen. Miss Stoddard explained the stairway. "The builders put all the room there was left into those stairs, and you can see how nearly they came out even. We have had some men of generous proportions on the library board. It has been customary to enforce the rule that only thin board members should visit the magazine room, lest we lose our big men half way down, neither up nor down."

A CURLY STAIRWAY

SHANNON INFANT BURIED

A private funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Taylor yesterday morning for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus W. Shannon of Perma. Brief, but tenderly comforting services were conducted by Rev. J. N. Maclean, D. D. Many beautiful floral offerings covered the little casket. Interment was made in Missoula cemetery.

It is with sincere appreciation of kind consideration of the voters for their splendid support of my candidacy on election day that I take this opportunity of extending my thanks. I wish to assure the people of Missoula county, whose servant I will be for another term as county clerk and recorder, that my "smile" is not superficial; that it results from a keen delight to accommodate and please them in my official capacity. I hope to be able to more fully express my thanks by conducting my office in an efficient and economical manner.

Multi-Millionaire Has Not Yet Decided as to Extensions in Missoula Properties—Business Conditions Throughout Country Depressed But Capitalist Is Hopeful.

It was a very busy day that W. A. Clark, capitalist and multi-millionaire, spent in Missoula yesterday. Mr. Clark came to Montana primarily to exercise his right of franchise. He voted in Butte on Tuesday, and with that duty done, he began a tour of the state to inspect his properties.

"I am glad to get back to Montana," said Mr. Clark last evening. "I spent only two days in New York and hurried right through to Butte. There is much sentiment connected with a vote, you know. A person likes to get back to his own state to cast his ballot."

Things Here Please. In regard to his properties in Missoula, Mr. Clark said he is pleased with the way in which things are going. "Everything is satisfactory," he said, "except there is not enough business."

"This is no time to talk of extensions in business enterprises," said Mr. Clark. "Money is none too free at this time."

Mr. Clark visited at the Missoula county fairgrounds. He regretted that he was not able to get inside the enclosure, but he showed much interest in western Montana's show plant. He said, however, that he has not yet decided as to the extension of a car line to the fairgrounds.

Properties Visited. During the time spent in Missoula in western Montana's show plant. He Western Montana flour mill, the Western Lumber company's plant, near Bonner, the Clark-Missoula Power company's dam at Riverside, the intake dam of the Missoula Water company up the Rattlesnake, and the Clark Orchard company, in the Rattlesnake valley. As to improvements to be made in these properties, Mr. Clark had nothing to say.

Good Run at Mill. "The lumber mill near Bonner has had a most successful run," said Mr. Clark. "The cut was close to 15,000,000 feet, I understand. I think that the cut will be entirely finished on Saturday."

Outlook Bright. "Business conditions generally are, of course, somewhat depressed," continued Mr. Clark, "but I look to see things normal again in a short time. The lumber business at this time is especially dull, as Montana is not using much of the product of the mills and the freight rates are such that the mills in this section of the country cannot compete with those of the coast for the business in the Dakotas and Nebraska. However, it will not be long, I believe, until this condition is relieved. The zinc industry has, not yet been effected in any way and I hope that we will be able to continue with the operation of the mill and mine in Butte."

Outlook for Butte. "In Butte, at present, business is quiet, but I believe that after the election things will be more normal. The conditions in Butte were not as bad as I had expected. I had been led to believe that the depression there was very great, but I found conditions rather favorable, and the people very hopeful."

"I am satisfied that things in this country will come out all right," Mr. Clark said. "When you compare the conditions in Europe with those of the United States, the people of this country should be satisfied with their lot. The slaughter of the people in Europe is horrible to behold and when a person has had as close a contact with the war as I have had, the horrors of the struggle are depressing. In Paris I saw all of the principal hotels converted into hospitals to care for the sick and wounded soldiers."

"When peace does come to Europe, which I believe will not come in the near future, the United States will have great prosperity. Europe will have to be cared for in a large measure, then, and the United States will be called upon to do it. The financial depression came as a result of the flood of American securities held in Europe, that was turned on this country when the war broke out. Wall street could not absorb all the obligations. Now the debts are being gradually liquidated and the pool of American bankers, who put up $100,000,000 in gold and deposited the money in Canada to the credit of the Bank of England, is having its effect. Also the large exports of cotton and breadstuffs that are being sent to the war zone are serving to liquidate the other obligations."

Copper Output Curtailed. "Because Germany is not able to use any copper now, curtailment in the mining industry has been necessary. Germany was the greatest user of metal of any of the European countries and as metal is a contraband of war, none can be safely sent to that country."

"I believe conditions in Montana are now generally good and that things will be very prosperous here within another year, especially if we have as good a crop as we had this year. Missoula is in as good a condition, as to business, as any town in the state."

Mr. Clark leaves this morning for Wallace, where he will inspect his Coeur d'Alene properties. He will return to Missoula on Sunday afternoon and, if the road to the bungalow of W. A. Clark, Jr., is in good condition, a part of Mr. Clark's party will go out for a visit.

Mr. Clark is accompanied by his son, W. A. Clark, Jr., on this trip and will be accompanied by Judge W. M. Bickford on the tour of the Coeur d'Alene country.

This Will Remove Hairy or Fuzzy Growths

(Toilet Tips) A safe, certain method for ridding the skin of ugly, hairy growths is as follows: Mix a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface about two minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is entirely harmless and seldom requires repeating, but to avoid disappointment it is advisable to see that you get genuine delatone.—Adv.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to sincerely thank my friends in Missoula County for the splendid support accorded my candidacy for coroner at the election Tuesday. The honor is highly appreciated and I will do my utmost to attend to the affairs of the office in the very best of manner at all times. ABBON LUCY.

ADJUST INSURANCE OF GOLDEN RULE FIRE LOSS

M. J. COEN DELIGHTED WITH TREATMENT OF ADJUSTERS STOCK VALUED AT $60,000.

Yesterday the adjusters of the insurance companies completed their work in connection with the fire that destroyed the Golden Rule store a few days ago. The work was done quickly and satisfactorily to all concerned. Manager M. J. Coen of the company was especially pleased with the results of yesterday's work of the insurance people. It was found that the stock in the store had a valuation slightly in excess of $60,000 and it was insured to 90 per cent of its value and the claim was allowed without question.

Mr. Coen is Pleased. "It was a pleasant and satisfactory adjustment," said Mr. Coen last evening.

"There was not a single suggestion of unpleasantness throughout the whole transaction. I am pleased beyond measure with the treatment my firm received at the hands of the adjusters."

"Our books were found uninjured in the big safe as soon as we could get to it where it had fallen in the basement and open it up. Our stock-keeping system has been carefully worked out and kept up to date and my original estimates of the amount on hand worked out almost to the dollar. We were highly complimented by the adjusters on the perfect condition of this record. Naturally that pleased me very much."

No Future Plans. "No, I can not give you an idea of my company's plans for the future. I have been too busy with the daily demands since the fire to give a thought to future plans. However, something will be decided in a short time."

"S. A. Cortz of the company arrived today from his home at Berkeley, Cal. I have treated him shamefully because of the necessity of spending every minute in the ruins. But he appreciates the situation and has excused me."

Cleaning Up. After the adjustment yesterday a score or more men were put to work in the Golden Rule's ruins moving out the debris and the cases of damaged goods, there being considerable stock found that was not completely destroyed.
