DR. C. SCHULTZ, City: I desire to make the following statement relative to my case in the hope that other unfortunate sufferers like myself may be equally benefited. I had been suffering for about three years from seminal weakness, lost manhood and nervous prostration, causing melancholy and loss of sleep. My body was covered with ulcers and my forehead being swollen just over the eyebrows so badly as to have the appearance of growing horns. I was unable to obtain more than one hour's uninterrupted sleep at one time, the terrible itching and mental suffering caused by my disease making it impossible for me to sleep or rest. When my disease first appeared I consulted local physicians without relief. I then attempted to cure myself by using patent medicines, but again failing I consulted and was treated by several American specialists, who also failed to cure me. I was despaired of ever being cured, but a friend of mine recommended you. I decided to try you once more and so put myself under your care with the result that after only two weeks' treatment I feel like a new man and am able to return to my work. I take pleasure in certifying to this statement before a notary public and will recommend you personally to all my friends and acquaintances.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 10th day of November, 1892. J. G. CAMPBELL, Notary Public.

FOR FREE COINAGE

A Very Enthusiastic Meeting in Helena Last Week.

THEY WILL ALL PULL TOGETHER

All the Important Mining Interests in the State Represented—Some Rousing Resolutions Passed—List of Representatives to Go to Chicago—Unanimous for Free Coinage—Etc.

The silver convention held in Helena on July 6th was in every way a success. There were about 200 delegates present, and there was no party or factional feeling introduced to mar the unanimity of action. Nearly all the large mine owners were present or had representatives there, and the meeting was a highly satisfactory one.

The following resolutions were read and adopted as reported by the committee:

Resolved, That when the fathers of the republic ordained in the first articles of the constitution of the United States that "no state shall make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts," they declared by an implication that stipulantly cannot fail to see, or greed deny, that both metals in the relations that then existed, should forever be the coinage and the money metals of the republic.

That, representing a silver producing state, having full knowledge of the premises, we declare it to be our deliberate conviction that in view of the unrequited labors of prospectors, the work expended upon the development of unprobable mines, the losses on unproductive plants, and all the factors that enter into the ultimate cost of the silver product of the west, every ounce of silver taken from the earth and prepared for the mint represents its full coinage value, and a ratio to gold of 16 to 1.

That the continuance of the world calls for the use of silver and gold as money, not only for the purpose of affording the necessary volume of currency, but equally that each may correct the occasional aberration of the other, and so afford the best possible approximation to stability in the standard by which values are measured and debts are contracted and paid.

That the considerations in support of the free coinage of silver and the full use as a money metal are not sectional but universal, reaching to every corner of the civilized world and to every class of the brotherhood of man. That we submit to the judgment of the world the demonstration of a comprehensive induction of facts and figures that the non-use of silver as a money metal cheapens the value in the market of every product of human labor.

That we denounce as a wrong that stops little short of robbery the contraction by legislation in the interests of creditors of the volume of money of ultimate payment.

That as the history of the depreciation of silver is a history of adverse legislation without which its parity to gold would have been maintained without doubt or difficulty, we demand that congress shall be the first to reduce its steps and repeal the measures it has enacted to the detriment of that metal as an act of justice to one of our most important products and in recognition of transcending industrial and economic considerations.

That we appeal to the laboring classes of the union, without regard to the section, to give their support to the policy of free coinage, in the profound belief that a single gold standard implies the loss of employment to hundreds of thousands and a reduction of wages to all.

That we declare it to be our sincere belief that enactment by congress of a measure providing for the free coinage of silver would of its own efficiency restore that metal to its full coinage value, do justice between debtor and creditor, relieve the stringency that depresses all classes of business, widen the avenues of employment to labor and usher in an unexampled era of prosperity, content and happiness.

THE TOWN BOARD MEET

THEY DECIDE TO QUARANTINE AGAINST ANACONDA.

Two Meetings Held During the Past Week—Considerable Routine Business of a General Character Transacted—To Quarantine the Town.

The regular meeting of the board of aldermen was held last Thursday night. Present—Mayor Allison; Aldermen Heine, Williams, Taylor, Morse and Bryan.

The minutes of the meetings of June 22 and June 27 were read and approved. The usual number of bills were read and on report of the finance committee warrants were ordered drawn.

The official bond of W. E. Moore as city attorney was read and referred to the judiciary committee. The committee reported favorably and the bond was accepted.

The monthly report of the treasurer was read and referred to the finance committee.

Alderman Morse reported that the hump on Sansone street would have to be taken out before sidewalks could be laid on that street.

Ald. Bryan said that he thought it would be too great an amount to be expended during the present depression, and thought that the sidewalk could be dispensed with for a time until the people were better able to pay for it, and moved that sixty days further extension of time be given the property owners on Sansone and Granite streets in which to lay it. Seconded by Ald. Morse and carried.

The street and alley committee were authorized to have a flume put in on Sansone street from Broadway to Kearney street, the same size as the flume crossing Broadway.

The following resolution was read and on motion of Ald. Bryan adopted:

Be it resolved by the board of aldermen of the town of Phillipsburg that all meetings of the board be held in the Ink-kamp building, Broadway, second ward of said town.

The judiciary committee was instructed to look over the town ordinances and note those that have not been passed in conformity with law.

Ald. Bryan moved that a committee of three be appointed to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of the late ex-alderman Wm. Weinstein. Carried. Ald. Bryan, Ringeling and Williams appointed.

Adjourned.

A special meeting of the board of aldermen was held Monday evening. Present—Mayor Allison; Aldermen Ringeling, Bryan, Heine, Taylor, Morse, and Williams.

The mayor stated that the purpose of the meeting was to secure a pest house and prevent smallpox from getting a foothold here.

Ald. Heine stated that the town had no place to take patients sick with that disease, should be unfortunate enough to have any. He said that a separate place should be had to quarantine persons coming from Anaconda and other infected places; that the same place should not be used as a pest house, for the reason that a person who should be quarantined might not have the disease and it would be putting his right into the danger to place him in a pest house. He suggested that assistance would undoubtedly be lent by the board of county commissioners in the matter.

Ald. Bryan moved that the board of health be empowered to make arrangements and confer with the board of county commissioners with the object of getting a pest house and a quarantine house. Seconded by Ald. Taylor and carried.

Ald. Heine stated that he thought all baggage and mail matter should be thoroughly fumigated before distributing it about town.

The board of health was instructed to do anything they deemed necessary to keep the dread disease out of town.

The question of drying the hose was brought up by Ald. Heine and an all around discussion took place.

Ald. Bryan moved that the fire committee see what could be done toward the erecting of some kind of a tower to dry it in, so that the water would not rot it, and ascertain its cost. Carried.

A SCHEMING WIDOW

How She Caught Gudgeons In Her Matrimonial Net.

SEE ADVERTISED FOR A HUSBAND

Sundry Western Suitors Sent Money to Pay Her Railroad Fare, But the Widow That They Longed For Never Came—One "Sucker" Tries to Get His Money Back—Fat and Fort.

An Albany widow's wiles have somewhat undone several western men, employed the postoffice detectives, interested a few parties and in the end amused many more. She is at least 45 years old, fat and slovenly, but in "exchanging photos" this wily widow always sent that of a Miss Wiltzie of Hudson, N. Y., who is 20 years old and pretty. The widow got a lot of Miss Wiltzie's portraits from a photographer the young lady had patronized, and now she will have to explain according to law.

The first complaint received by United States Marshal O'Neill was from N. B. Caswell of Marine City, Mich., who had sent the widow $20. Her plan was to advertise in western papers for correspondence with a "suitable gentleman," and when he was sufficiently engaged to ask for money enough to outfit and go to him. The money often came, but the widow never went. Soon after this letter arrived from Morris Elk of Hallock, Minn.:

Dear Sir—I would like if you could help that I could get my money back. I was looked rivers swindled from me I can prove it that she got the money by this postmaster, and I think that you can find it out in that postoffice in Albany that she got it for sure I will send you one of the letters that she wrote to me to be sure I think I got 10 or 12 of her letters here I am sure it must be the same number on the letters that you have and if you should need me I can come any time you want me now I don't know any other marshal in hallock only one he is my brother-in-law his name is Bernard Hints and over co sheriff name is Oscar Younger they are both in hallock I will allow you some of the money what she got from me if you can get it now try and do the best you can for me I would be very thankful if you could do that for me for I need my money I don't like to be swindled out of it.

Mr. Elk was induced to make the needed affidavit, and the officials found Emma J. Waters, alias Jessie E. Rivers, alias Emma J. Wise, at 12 South Lansing place, Albany, and in default of $1,000 bail she now boards at the expense of the United States, her offense being that of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. The penalty is $500 fine or 18 months' imprisonment, or both. In her trunk the officers found 115 letters, and the daily mail when arrested amounted to eight or ten letters. One of her victims was Justice of the Peace McCully of Yankton, who sent her $70.

Her own letters always began in a very modest and conventional way and then gradually led up to the most ardent love. Justice McCully having confessed that he was too old for her she wrote:

Don't give me up, my darling. Mr. Grover Cleveland, a man of 50, married a young girl in my teens almost, and I am nearly an old maid. My picture makes me look too young.

At latest accounts letters to her were still coming in, and the postal authorities think she must have received over $5,000 in a few weeks. But what has she done with it? Her whole showed extreme poverty in every detail, and she has, so far as known, lived quietly. She is a shrewd one—shrewd enough to hold the peace when arrested and conceal her identity—and if she has stuck the money away she will have something to "furnish a house with" when her 15 months are out. She knew the weak points of her admirers too. Here is a sample of her letters to Mr. Caswell:

MY OWN DEAR AND TRUE FRIEND, for indeed such I know you are to me—I received your dear, good letter and picture, and I thank you very much. What a nice letter you can write, and I love to read them! Never mentioning my name again about your writing or spelling, for it pleases and suits me. I have been at and studied your picture so much that I am deeply in love with it. Oh, my darling, I just wish I could see you today. I will be true and faithful to you and love you while I live. I will be content with you and your little house, no matter how small it may be. You shall never know an hour's pain or sorrow. I am no idler, and I shall want to add my little mite to the nest as well as you, my dear. With love and fondest regards, your little girl friend.

Are good and smart women scarce where these gentlemen live? It would seem so, for "Emma" appears to have swept the west for a few weeks with a sort of cyclone of simulated love and drawn checks from many a trusting one.

Moral—Beware of matrimonial advertisements! Beware—but, on second thought, it's no use. "There's a new sucker born every minute."

In the District Court.

During the past week Judge Brantly, of the district court, has disposed of and set for hearing the following cases:

State vs. Charles Boyd and Gus Landstad. The trial of this case comes up to-day if a jury can be obtained. Considerable difficulty has been encountered so far in finding men who have not formed some opinion or other about the case.

Judge Brantly has issued an order restraining M. and J. Kaiser from acting as officers in the Phillipsburg water company on account of their connection with the new one. It also restrains them from interfering with the pipes of that company, but does not prevent them from making connections to the new water works, of pipes belonging to individuals.

McDonald & Morrison vs. James Deese.

A. A. McDonald et al vs. Phillipsburg Water company. Defendants allowed until July 15 to file objections to receiver's report.

Steven Severson vs. Bi-Metallic Extension Mining company; demurrer set for July 15.

John Mitchell vs. Granite Miners' Union; trial set for July 17.

Frank Durand vs. Boyd Bros.; demurrer set for July 15.

John M. Gamble vs. George Coulter; demurrer set for July 15.

James A. Smith vs. Hope mining company; motion for continuance.

Ogden Short Line and Utah Northern railroad vs. McKeehey mining company; default of defendant entered and judgment for amount in summons and costs of suit ordered.

State vs. Frank Burton; defendant found guilty of burglary.

John F. Hervey vs. Henrietta Schneppel et al; set for July 21.

James A. Smith et al vs. Hope mining company; set for July 22.

Schmid & Hubert vs. Philmore Girard et al; demurrer withdrawn, defendant allowed ten days in which to answer.

Thomas Jameson vs. Michael Moore; defendant allowed until July 22 to answer.

State vs. Patrick Murphy; defendant plead not guilty. Bondsman released. Defendant given in custody of the sheriff.

State vs. H. H. Roberts; defendant plead not guilty; trial set for July 13.

N. H. Connolly vs. Mike and Henry Maltoy; defendants allowed ten days to answer.

J. P. Cummings, E. C. Harrington, Angus Matheson, W. C. Littlejohn, John Foy, Matt Winkman, and J. P. Fallon have declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States.

J. A. Johnson, Max Mohr, John Silven, John Matheson, Wm. Willis, Robert Fox, Lawrence Honok and E. B. Bailey have taken out their final papers of citizenship.

THE FIRST NATIONAL

AN ESTIMATE OF ITS ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

Over $194,000 in Securities and $124,000 in Deposits—The Examiner's Report Finished—Receiver Appointed During This Week.

The condition of the First National bank is something that interests everybody in the district, no matter whether they have money deposited there or not. The closing of the bank affects everybody, and there is hardly anyone but what would like to see the affairs of that institution straightened up and have it resume business as soon as possible.

True, the national representative has been industriously employed during the past few days in endeavoring to get some reliable information for the benefit of its readers, and we think we are able to give a pretty correct statement of the condition of affairs.

Bank Examiner Wilson has completed his work and has transmitted his report to the government in Washington. A receiver has been appointed in the person of Mr. Luke, of Helena, and it is expected that he will begin his duties in a day or two, as his commission is expected to arrive from the national capital by that time.

The following figures were given to THE MAIL by one of the directors in the bank, who says that they are correct in round numbers. The assets of the institution are $194,000 and the liabilities $124,000, which leaves an excess of $68,000 over the liabilities of the concern. Then the stockholders are individually responsible for $50,000, the amount of the capital stock. With this sum added to the assets $192,000, it gives $242,000 to pay an indebtedness of $124,000, providing all the paper is good, and it is a pretty well assured fact that it is nearly all good, as banks in this part of the country have never been noted for letting anything go without pretty good security.

We are informed from the same source that every effort is being made now to pay off the depositors with the idea in view of resuming business.

It has been rumored around town that the firm of Freyshlag, Huffman & Co. owed the bank $66,000, but the truth of the matter is that the sum is only about $3,000.

It will be seen by the above figures that the institution is not in such a bad condition after all. The only point is that it may require some time in which to realize on the securities, in which event a dividend will be declared among the depositors as soon as possible, and as the remainder is collected it will be turned over in the same manner until all are paid in full. This will be the case unless money is raised by the stockholders and a settlement is effected without waiting for the realization on the paper. The stockholders claim positively that every dollar owed to the depositors will be paid in full, no matter what the outcome is.

A RUMSEY CLEANUP.

Three Robbers Make a Raid on Two Saloons and Secure Some Booty.

At a late hour last Thursday night three men, two of whom were masked, entered the town of Rumsey and relieved some of its residents of what cash and valuables they had on hand. The men first entered McIntyre's saloon, tied Mr. McIntyre in a chair, and then went through the premises, getting some $70 and a gold watch. They then went to the saloon of Mike Rodda, knocked for admittance and when the door was opened began firing their pistols to frighten those who happened to be within. There were several seated about the place at the time and the robbers proceeded to "go through" them, which they did, getting some $80 and two gold watches and chains. They then took their departure, and when outside, seeing a saddle horse belonging to Jim Dumigan, took the animal with them, but undoubtedly were afraid to keep him, as the horse returned to Rumsey some days later. Nothing is known of the robbers or their whereabouts, with the exception of the one who was not masked, he being a man about 5 feet 8 inches high, weight about 160 pounds, very dark hair and dark mustache streaked with gray. The night was black as coal and one that was just suited for such a holdup.

A slight earthquake shock was plainly felt Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock. It was not sufficient to do any damage, but a great many people realized that Mother Earth was quaking.
