THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1895.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The constant goodness and forbearance Almighty God, which have been vouchsafed the American people during the past year, call for their sincere acknowledgments of devout gratitude. To this end, therefore, that we may, with thankful hearts, extol the loving care of our Heavenly Father, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 28th day of the present month of November, a day of thanksgiving and prayer to be kept and observed by all our people. On that day let us forego our usual occupation and, in our accustomed places of worship, join in rendering thanks to the giver of every good and perfect gift; for the bounteous returns that have rewarded our people in the fields and in the busy marts of trade; for the peace and order that have prevailed throughout the land; for our protection from pestilence and dire calamity, and for other blessings that have been showered upon us from open hands. And, with our thanksgiving, let us humbly beseech our Lord to so incline the hearts of our people unto Him that He will not forsake us as a nation, but will continue to exercise His mercy and protecting care, guiding us in our national prosperity and happiness, enduring us with rectitude and virtue, and keeping alive within us the patriotic love for free institutions which has been given us as our national heritage. And let us also, on the day of our thanksgiving, especially remember the poor and needy and by deeds of charity let us show sincerity in our gratitude.

GIVE THANKS FOR THIS.

The day of Thanksgiving is here again and we all naturally pause and consider what we have to be thankful for during the year past. If we enjoy good health, that is more than any thing else to be thankful for. This community is healthy; therefore, let us give thanks. If we are financially distressed, we have the democratic administration to thank for that. But, talking all things into consideration, we have several things to be thankful for in Granite county. While times have been bad during the year there is some satisfaction in the thought that they might have been worse. There has been but little suffering in our county as compared with other sections of the country on account of sickness or poverty, and this is something to be thankful for; the administration of Grover Cleveland has been denounced at the polls, and this should not be lost sight of when expressing our thanks. Yes, Philipsburg and Granite county probably have as much if not more than most communities to be thankful for during the year ending to-day.

The people have termed Grover Cleveland the man of destiny and the false prophet, but the people will take care that he does not get a third term.

We wonder if it is true that the people of South America have hesitated on declaring war against this country simply on account of a brotherly feeling.

Miles City has bought its water works and electric light system. It is hoped Philipsburg will eventually follow the example of the public-spirited and progressive people of Miles.

While Cleveland was sheriff of Erie county, New York, it is said he touched the button that sent two men into eternity. As president, he touches the button that sends hundreds to the grave.

MR. CLEVELAND'S TURKEY.

It will be a Rhode Island turkey that will adorn the Thanksgiving table of President Cleveland. The bird has been raised especially for this great occasion. It is the gift of Mr. Vose of Westerly, who for years has sent a Thanksgiving fowl to the White House. It has been in training for his event of its lifetime for months. To make a turkey appropriate for Mr. Cleveland's taste is a hard and peculiar task. In the first place, the fowl must be selected with great care. It must be pompous and vain and noisy, except just previous to election day. It must be a bird that dislikes exercise. The turkey language that it speaks must be conciliatory and solemn. It must say all things in an antique way and delight to be worshipped and bowed down before. A bird that is popular among his fellows is ineligible for the president's table. It must have eccentricities by the wholesale, and some of its foolish fellow turkeys must gobble about loving for the enemies it has made.

It must be fed on a diet of chestnuts and live in seclusion for thinking purposes. All this was carefully attended to, and the fowl that passed its life at the headquarters of the West-ern River within earshot of the gay summer scenes at Watch Hill is now ready for the president's carving knife. Rhode Island poultry men have a way of deftly painting a legend on the breast of a prize bird with cranberry juice, pricking it in with a heated needle. The Cleveland turkey has been decorated in this way, and on his breast there glitters the sentiment "Ignorance is bliss." Mr. Cleveland's turkey will be appropriate to the occasion and to the man.—New York Press.

RAID ON DUMMIES.

Charles Burns, a stranger in this section, reached town last Monday and engaged in the uncertain business of stealing the clothing of dummies in front of clothing houses. He succeeded in getting away with a fur coat from Weinstein's and sold it to a rancher for $5. This deal so encouraged him that he proceeded to the store of Gaumn & New, where a big fur overcoat adorned a dummy. The thief waited an opportunity and when he supposed no one was looking he grabbed the dummy and started off with dummy coat and all. Burns could not make much headway in his flight. Once he lost his balance and fell in the gutter with his burden, and the dummy landed on top. As he was getting in position again, Officer Wag-ner appeared on the scene and took the fellow in.

GOT THE CONTRACT.

W. T. Allison received the contract for furnishing the new school house with seats, recitation benches, etc., at a meeting of the board last Saturday night. Mr. Allison acted as agent for the Minneapolis School Furniture company and received the contract in close competition with several eastern firms, being several cents cheaper per seat than the others. David Pizer, acting for Weber & Co., of Portland, Ore., and F. D. Searight, of a Cleveland house, were pretty close competitors. The seats will be ordered immediately, and when the best of the old seats are overhauled and varnished up they will be placed in the new building, which, it is expected, will be completed about the middle of December.

CLEAR FROM DEMERARA.

The Mail has received from J. D. Hartwell, who is now in South America, a copy of the Mining Gazette, of Georgetown, Demerara, British Guiana, bearing date of October 24th, and which shows the gold output in that district to have been 1,372 ounces in five days. Jack says to not let this output induce anyone to go to that country, as it is a very tough place for an American.

An editorial in the same paper, which relates to the boundary line question, attacks the Monroe doctrine in the following language: "Since the time when Spain flaunted her flag on the main and twisted the thumbs of the wild heretics who thought to share her plunder, there has, perhaps, no more arrogant pretension ever been advanced by a civilized power than that contained in what is known in international politics as the Monroe doctrine. That this most preposterous claim on the part of the United States of America to what is practically the Sovereignty of the whole hemisphere finds ardent supporters among the political adventurers and blackguard journalists who stink so loudly in the nostrils of true Americans is not to be wondered at. The great American war eagle is now on the stretch because Lord Salisbury is making an attempt to arrive at some final settlement of the boundary line between the United States and Venezuela. The truth appears to be that the acquisition of one or two modern war ships has inflated the pride of the Yankee Chauvinist that he will give his ruler no peace until his new toys are broken. Few things more deplorable could happen than a war between two great nations of kindred blood; but America cannot have forgotten that there is a point beyond which the closest alliance cannot bear the strain and that when this has been passed not even the ties of brotherhood can ensure peace."

PASTE THIS IN YOUR HAT.

It may not be generally known that by a recent decision of Attorney General Haskell the game law which governed in 1899 is still in force against the provision of the new code and its amendments. Under the old law which is still in force it is therefore lawful to kill the following game at the time specified:

White-tailed deer, black-tailed deer, mule deer, mountain sheep, Rocky mountain goat and antelope, Aug. 15 to Dec. 15. Unlawful to hunt or chase with dogs.

Grouse, prairie chickens, pheasants, fox hen, partridges, snipe, Aug. 15 to Nov. 15.

Geese, ducks, brant and swan, Sept. 1 to Jan. 1.

Fish can only be taken with hook and line at any time except the months of May and June. Owners of private pond can take fish at any time.

Unlawful to catch at any time for market or for sale any speckled or mountain trout.

Marion or fisher, Oct. 1 to April 1.

Unlawful to kill buffalo, bison, quail or Chinese pheasants for ten years from March 1, 1893.

Unlawful to kill moose, elk, otter or beaver for six years from March 1, 1893.

Bear, mountain lions and panthers can be hunted at any time.

Unlawful to kill in any manner any robin or yellowhammer, oriole, mocking-bird, cedar bird, or any other of the small birds known as singing birds.

Notice for Bids.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the clerk of the city of Philipsburg, up to 8 o'clock p. m., Monday, Dec. 2, 1895, for the construction of a sixty-foot hose drying tower. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city clerk. The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

JOHN A. SPENCER, Clerk.

JULIUS HANSON, Ass't. Clerk.

Nearly every family in the United States keep a bottle of whisky in the house. This applies as well to Iowa, Kansas and Vermont as to states where its sale is not prohibited. Some keep it as a beverage, some as a tonic, some as a medicine. In either case it is important that it should be old and pure. I. W. Harper's Nelson County, Ky., Whisky has been examined by the leading chemists throughout the country and its purity has in every case been highly commended. Sold by M. E. Doe & Co., Druggists, Philipsburg, Montana.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy she concluded to try it. She found that it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by M. E. Doe & Co.
