M. Boyer, the miner who was so frightfully mutilated by the accidental explosion of giant powder in the Combination mine last week Wednesday, is now resting easily with chances favorable to his recovery, though it was found necessary to amputate his left arm and remove one of his eyes.

If you are a business man you will want an advertisement in the next issue of The Mail. During the month of December The Mail will contain twelve pages, and all the news of any interest to any resident of Granite county. Live business men advertise in a live paper. The Mail is your medium.

John L. Thompson was in town last week purchasing a supply of provisions and mining implements, and on Saturday he started out with a big wagon load for his property, which is located on the ridge between the two Willow creeks, in the vicinity of the Bonanza gold mine. Mr. Thompson proposes to prosecute work on his property all winter, and twelve or fifteen men will be employed.

A letter from Mrs. P. C. Robertson, who is now in Douglas Island, Alaska, to a friend in Phillipsburg reports the safe arrival there of herself and her husband. Mr. Robertson went to work for the DeWitt Mining company the next day after he reached the island, and up to the time when the letter was written the Robertson family had evidently not heard of the supposed drowning in Seattle of Mr. Robertson, as no reference to that report was contained therein. So it is now decided that the report in the Seattle papers was a mistake and that such is the case is agreeable news to the many friends of Mr. Robertson and his family in this place.

DEATH OF MRS. DEAN.

Mrs. H. S. Dean, the beloved wife of H. S. Dean, of Granite, died in Helena last Saturday after undergoing a painful surgical operation for the removal of a tumor. Mrs. Dean left here a few days ago and aside from the tumor trouble she was in excellent health and no one imagined her life in danger. The remains were brought here last Tuesday from Helena and were laid at rest in the Phillipsburg cemetery. Deceased was a sister to Edward and Frank Kent of this place. The Mail with many friends extends heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband and relatives of the deceased.

The surgical operation was successfully performed six days before her death, and up to Friday night she was getting on nicely and seemed to be recovering rapidly. Then a relapse set in and for the first time during her confinement the doctors became uneasy about her recovery. Her husband and other relatives were at once telegraphed for and Mr. Dean reached Helena the following day, about three hours after his wife had died.

The news of her death was a terrible shock to Mr. Dean and other relatives, as the operation was considered so simple and the lady was in such excellent health that she insisted on going alone to Helena, except being accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Gildersleeve, who also went for medical treatment. Up to a few hours preceding her death Mrs. Dean maintained her cheerful disposition and insisted that she was not dangerously sick; but death came suddenly and without pain.

Mrs. Dean was born in Madison county, New York, October 9, 1858, and was married to H. S. Dean three years ago. The relatives that survive to mourn her loss, consist of two sisters and one brother in New York, one brother in Dakota, Edward Kent, of Granite, and Frank M. Kent of this city, from whose residence the funeral occurred yesterday.

AN ENJOYABLE PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Brown entertained a few friends at their pleasant home on Broadway last Monday evening, the occasion being Mr. Brown's birthday. Cards and various other games, in conjunction with dancing and music, afforded the principal entertainment of the evening. Refreshments were served at an opportune hour, and every one of the large number of guests present thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and when dancing had ceased in the small hours of morn and the party broke up, all felt that they would never forget Mr. Brown's birthday—so carefully was every detail of the evening's entertainment cared for by the host and hostess.

Among those present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Angus McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Huff, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durand, Mr. and Mrs. James Sorenson, Mrs. Will Yenter, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. J. H. Cole, Mrs. S. B. Titus, Miss Alice Weinstein, Mrs. H. N. Dunbar, E. I. Holland, Victor Weinstein and M. H. Bryan.

Prof. Westphal and daughter, Bessie, and E. B. Hyde furnished excellent music for the party.

HE WENT GUNNING.

Charles McDiarmid created a sensation in the corner saloon Monday night by entering the place through a back door and leveling a Winchester rifle on the faro dealer, who made his escape out the front door before the gun was discharged, and every other occupant of the place followed him out as hastily as they could scramble to a door. After clearing the saloon McDiarmid went into the street and fired a shot into the air, after which he was arrested and placed in the county jail.

It seems that early in the evening McDiarmid had been playing at faro bank and he and the dealer had some disagreement, which resulted in McDiarmid being knocked down and given a pair of black eyes, after which he went to his cabin and got his rifle and returned to the saloon with the above result.

After sobering up in jail McDiarmid said he had no recollection of what happened in the saloon. He was given hearing in Justice Miller's court yesterday and sentenced to ninety days in the county jail for exhibiting a deadly weapon.

Bill Gay, the murderer of Wm. Macke, is sentenced to hang in Helena on December 8th, the same date upon which Murderer Biggerstaff is doomed to die on the gallows in that city. The trial of Bill Gay was one of the most sensational murder cases tried in the state for many years. In 1893 Bill Gay and Edward Gross, while being pursued by deputy marshals who wanted to arrest them for hog stealing, shot and killed two of the deputies. Both the outlaws escaped and Gay was captured in California last spring. Gross is still at large. The trial of Gay occupied the time of the court for eight days, and the jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree.

Com. Peoples came over from Anaconda Saturday and proceeded to Granite to look after his real estate and personal effects there. On arrival he found that most of his furniture had been stolen from his houses and beyond recovery.

Quite a number of Granite people attended the funeral of Mrs. H. S. Dean here yesterday.
