If the prophet is right who says the European war will close September 7th, what will our politicians do who are counting upon the war's lasting until after election? Another Villa raid will be all that can save them.

The report comes that John Hurly's candidacy is growing more popular daily. Mr. Hurly is one of the able attorneys that would give the Seventeenth Judicial District a judge who would be a credit to the district and state.

We want to impress on the minds of the people of this section of the country that E. H. Cooney should receive the solid support of the republicans for the nomination for governor. He is an eastern Montana man and has the interest of eastern Montana at heart.

According to Judge Utter's statement he has discovered another kind of typhoid fever. We have always known there was the plain, ordinary typhoid fever, the walking typhoid fever, and now the judge says he had it and his must have been the dancing typhoid fever. Some awful germ.

John E. Edwards was the first candidate in the state to file for the nomination of U. S. senator from Montana and is deserving of the support of the voters of Phillips county. He is a man that if elected would have the interests of eastern Montana at heart and endeavor to pass laws that would be of a benefit to the agricultural section of the state.

JOHN E. EDWARDS
U. S. SENATOR

Last week the Enterprise published an article from John E. Edwards, who is a candidate for U. S. senator from Montana on the republican ticket at the August primaries. Mr. Edwards is one of the able men of the state, a lifelong republican and has served several terms in the law making body of the state. His record in the state is above reproach and would ably represent the people of this commonwealth if elected.

The people of this section of the country are indebted to Senator Edwards in many ways and now have a chance to show their appreciation. When Phillips county division fight was on almost two years ago John Edwards was one of the men who stood by Senator Clay in the fight against the wishes of his friends in the western part of the state, and county division went through. When a man stands by a certain locality in a tight it would show the proper spirit if the people of that locality would return the compliment. If there is a man in the state who is deserving of the support of the voters of Phillips county it is Mr. Edwards and we are confident that at the primaries he will receive a handsome vote.

SHERIDAN COUNTY FOR HURLY.

That Sheridan county, as well as Valley and Phillips counties, will roll up a big vote for John Hurly for judge of the Seventeenth District, is assured. Among the many favorable press reports of Mr. Hurly's candidacy is the following taken from the Culbertson Searchlight, one of the oldest Republican papers in northern Montana:

Attorney John Hurly of Glasgow, was in town yesterday. He is a candidate for judge in this district. He feels very confident of winning the nomination at the primaries and has his confidence on the large majorities he will get in Valley and Phillips counties. Mr. Hurly has been a successful attorney in Glasgow for the last ten or twelve years. He was the Republican candidate for judge four years ago, when the whole party went down to defeat through the Bull Moose wave which swept the national, state and county Republican out of office.

INABILITY TO INSTRUCT

A farmer who attended court in Malta a few months ago, reminded us of a peculiar turn Judge Utter gave to a suit appealed from the justice court. We have forgotten the parties who were in the case. Anyhow, the attorney for the plaintiff made his statement to the jury as to what the plaintiff intended to prove, and had hardly taken his seat when Judge Utter said, "Mr. —, I do not think your complaint states a cause of action." The jury was sent into the jury room while the question was argued. Finally the judge asked the opposing attorney what he thought of the complaint, who replied that he thought it was all right. This caught the judge and woke him up. He then, evidently being in a hurry to strike out for Glasgow, said he didn't know how to instruct the jury on a point of law law involved, and therefore dismissed the action.

Of course an editor is not supposed to know anything about law, but if such treatment of a man who had gone to considerable expense to get what he thought was coming to him is law, then let us shut up the courts for good. The large crowd of farmers present went away thinking that any judge who admits he don't know how to instruct a jury and therefore throws a case out of court isn't worth his salary.

ANSWER TO JUDGE UTTER'S STATEMENT

Judge Utter is peeved because the Enterprise, in the interest of the taxpayers, is showing how his methods of conducting court are costing the hundreds of dollars of taxes. Without meeting the issue, or questioning our statements, he talked about a political ring, clean politics, and Judge of Judges who drag their courts into politics.

The farmers, merchants, bankers, laborers and others who pay the taxes which support the courts ask that the money they pay be not needlessly squandered. They ask that their court business be promptly dispatched by an impartial, non-partisan judge. They ask the right to criticize a judge or any other official elected to office by their votes, without having such official characterize them as members of political ring, or judge handlers. They ask to be given the names of the persons, the time, the place, the circumstances, the consideration offered, etc., con-

ABSENT VOTERS MAY VOTE BY MAIL.

(By T. F. Shea)

A voter absent from place of residence may vote in the following manner: Any voter expecting to be absent from his county on election day may make an application to be absent from his county for an official ballot or ballots. The application must be made on forms to be furnished by the county clerk. The application must be signed and sworn to by two witnesses who know the voter making application, and the voter making the application must pay or send to the county clerk the sum of forty cents.

When such application is received, properly filled out and signed, the clerk must send ballots to voter and also enclose return envelope upon which must be printed the official title and address of the clerk, and also an affidavit to be made by the voter and a certificate of the officer before whom the affidavit is made. The voter may make and subscribe the affidavit on the return envelope at any place in the state of Montana, and before any officer authorized to administer oaths. The voter must mark his ballot in the presence of such officer, but in such manner that the officer may not see the ballot. After marking the ballot or ballots the same must be properly folded in the presence of the officer, and each ballot must be folded separately and in such manner as to conceal the vote. The folded ballot must then be placed in the return envelope in the presence of the officer, without detaching the stub or stubs and the envelope securely sealed. The officer shall then sign the affidavit, set forth his official title, and affix his seal. The voter shall thereupon personally deliver or mail the envelope to the county clerk.

AN ADDRESS TO THE VOTERS OF MONTANA.

On Wednesday evening, July 12th, 1916, a mass meeting of voters of Cascade county met at Doswald hall in the city of Great Falls, and pursuant to a resolution unanimously adopted at that meeting, this address is issued to all of the voters of the state of Montana.

Hon. Edward H. Cooney is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of the state of Montana at the coming primary election. He has been a resident of the city of Great Falls for the past twenty-two years. We know him as a neighbor, a friend, as a business associate, and as a public citizen, and we recommend him to the voters of this state as a man who is big, broad minded, and who is eminently qualified in every way to be governor of the state of Montana.

We recommend him particularly for that position, because he is a representative citizen of Montana, having lived in this state from earliest infancy, and is truly a product of Montana soil. His experiences have all been Montana experiences; a self-made man, whose character has been moulded here in the Rocky Mountains, where have been produced so many rugged characters whose work has been the glory of our state. And lastly we recommend him because he is a plain man, common, unassuming, everyday man who keeps in touch with and understands the wants and needs of every class of society, and who has the plain, good, hard, practical common sense to enable him to deal with the problems that will confront him as governor of this state.

For these reasons and for many more we recommend the candidacy of Edward H. Cooney to the voters of Montana.

T. R. SAYS HUGHES IS O. K.

Col. Roosevelt, in a statement after the speech of Charles E. Hughes in New York a few days ago, has the following to say:

"It was an admirable speech and I wish to call attention to the following points: 'I am particularly pleased with the exposure of the folly and worse than folly of Mr. Wilson's Mexican policy and of the way in which policy has now brought humiliation to the United States and disaster to Mexico itself.'

"Moreover, I am very glad of the straightforward manner in which Mr. Hughes has shown the ridges with which Mr. Wilson has covered this nation by the manner in which he allowed foreign powers to gain the impression that, although he used the strongest words in diplomacy, they were not to be taken seriously.

"Mr. Hughes also speaks in characteristically straightforward fashion of the outrages committed on mountains plains and all men, whether citizens of our land, who had in any shape or way abetted or condoned these actions can understand that Mr. Hughes, if president, will protect these domestic ammunition interests and punish offenders against them with the fearlessness and thoroughness that he showed in dealing with the powers of evil at Albany."

ABSENT VOTERS MAY VOTE BY MAIL.

(By T. F. Shea)

A voter absent from place of residence may vote in the following manner: Any voter expecting to be absent from his county on election day may make an application to be absent from his county for an official ballot or ballots. The application must be made on forms to be furnished by the county clerk. The application must be signed and sworn to by two witnesses who know the voter making application, and the voter making the application must pay or send to the county clerk the sum of forty cents.

When such application is received, properly filled out and signed, the clerk must send ballots to voter and also enclose return envelope upon which must be printed the official title and address of the clerk, and also an affidavit to be made by the voter and a certificate of the officer before whom the affidavit is made. The voter may make and subscribe the affidavit on the return envelope at any place in the state of Montana, and before any officer authorized to administer oaths. The voter must mark his ballot in the presence of such officer, but in such manner that the officer may not see the ballot. After marking the ballot or ballots the same must be properly folded in the presence of the officer, and each ballot must be folded separately and in such manner as to conceal the vote. The folded ballot must then be placed in the return envelope in the presence of the officer, without detaching the stub or stubs and the envelope securely sealed. The officer shall then sign the affidavit, set forth his official title, and affix his seal. The voter shall thereupon personally deliver or mail the envelope to the county clerk.

The foregoing applies to a voter who expects to be absent from the county on election day and who applies for a ballot or ballots before the same have been printed. But after the official ballots have been printed, a voter expecting to be absent on election day, may in the manner above provided vote before he leaves the county, either before the county clerk or some officer authorized to administer oaths.

A voter, even after voting in the manner above provided for absent voters, may, if in his precinct on election day, vote in person, provided his absent ballot has not already been deposited in the ballot box. If after voting in the manner prescribed for absent voters, the voter appears in person at his precinct on election day, and before his absent ballot or ballots have been deposited in the ballot box, the voter may require the envelope to be opened in his presence and the ballot deposited in the ballot box; or as hereinbefore stated, he may vote in person if his absent ballots have not been deposited in the ballot box. Even after voting in the manner provided for absent voters, if for any reason the absent ballot has been rejected, in that event the elector may vote in person.

The law relative to absent voters provides a severe penalty for any false affidavit or certificate, either upon the part of the voter or the officer before whom the affidavits are made.

The law further provides that if after voting as an absent voter, the elector does not leave the county, or returns thereto, on or before election day and intending to go to the polls, such elector must appear in person at the voting place in his precinct, and if he does not do so, the elector is subject to a penalty.

The criticism of Senator Walsh against Charles E. Hughes for leaving the U. S. Supreme Court bench to become the candidate for president on the republican ticket, rather than his punch when almost in the same breath Senator Walsh admitted to voted for Judge Parker, who left the bench in 1904 to become a candidate on the democratic ticket.

HARPIST BRINGING A GOLDEN HARP

Elizabeth de Barrie Gill, distinguished harpist, is the "one lady concert" offering of the Chautauqua. It is the brilliance and charm of her artistry on this instrument, Mrs. Gill is a contralto soloist and sings beautifully to her own accompaniment, giving preference to those folk songs and home ballads that find such appeal on the harp. She is also a delightful entertainer of pleasing versatility. Her selections of character impersonation and readings are chosen with the single purpose of pleasing. She has chosen wisely.

Next Monday evening the Chautauqua boosters will leave for DeWinstling little city.

Tickets are going fast for the big Chautauqua here next week. It is estimated that the guarantee put up by the twenty-two Malta business men has more than been made good and the affair will leave a little Malta money at home.

Sixteen cars of Chautauqua boosters leave for Saco tonight and indications are they will take that little city by storm and dispose of a goodly number of season tickets to the big Malta Chautauqua.
