War Items.

A correspondent from Constantinople writes that a civil war of extermination is being carried on at Eske, Saghra. All the male christian native population have been sentenced to death by the Turkish General. This news has been brought by two American Missionaries, protected by Turkish friends. They lost everything. Every Bulgarian is accused of being either a spy or an open enemy. Karabaner is crowded with fugitives. There is only one well in the place, and there are 16,000 troops there. Wounded, sick, and fugitives are perishing from thirst.

The Turkish Pasha is being re-inforced by 70,000 men, at Varna, and the blockaded Turkish fleet has escaped.

On Sunday last a large crowd marched through Athens, Greece, shouting war!

Grand Duke Nicholas admits that his troops are somewhat demoralized, but will be re-inforced by 100,000 men within three weeks.

Cholera has broken out in the Russian camps.

In Russian Poland, all males from 18 to 45 years of age are being registered preparatory to calling out the remaining classes of the general levy.

The decisive battle of the campaign will be fought at Bogaz Pass and it is said to be the most cruel war in the history of the world.

The Turkish reports from Constantinople are, that the Russian loss in killed and wounded south of the Balkans, was 12,000.

The main body of Romanian army will not pass the Danube until re-inforced by Russian soldiers.

Turks are bombarding Kustendji; only two regiments hold the town.

The German government has seriously remonstrated against the Turkish atrocities and intimated to the Porte the absolute necessity for stricter discipline.

At Suker Kaleb fifty thousand people and one hundred and fifty thousand cattle are waiting to embark.

The Russians succeeded in stopping the exodus from the Tchamchira district and drove the people back with great cruelty. It is reported that all the men who participated in the insurrection are to be sent to Siberia and their women and children given to the Cossacks.

The English steamship, Jno. Bramall, sailed from New Haven, sometime Saturday night with a valuable cargo of ammunition for Turkey. No report of her sailing was made in order to keep the Russian authorities in ignorance.

High winds and heavy rains have swollen the river Danube to such an extent that it is impossible to throw bridges across, and the Russian troops are crossing on pontoons to the neighborhood of Turturkai.

The Eaton Gold and Silver Reduction Company.

Office—No. 20 Church St., N. Y.

GEN'L JOHN C. FREMONT, President. PROF. A. K. EATON, Vice President. W. W. HANLY, Secretary.

This Company is founded upon discoveries, inventions and improvements in the reduction and treatment of gold and silver and other ores, which have recently been perfected. It is intended that the business shall be conducted by works of its own capacity, for governing commercial reasons, will be near the City of New York, as well as by branch works in other districts, and the use of its patent rights to other reduction works in this and foreign countries. The discoveries and improvements upon which this Company is based have been made by Professor A. K. Eaton, one of the ablest chemists and metallurgists of the present day. They have been reached during a practical and personal experience in mining and kindred occupations extending over a period of more than thirty years.

Twenty-six years ago Mr. Eaton invented and patented the Amalgamator, which has since been used at all the Gold and Silver mines throughout the mining region. If the use of these plates were discontinued today, the yield of gold would probably be diminished one-half. In the same way his later discoveries are valuable and effective, and are making many new and valuable discoveries. The ores of nearly all the gold and silver mines are rendered more or less difficult by the presence, in combination with the ore, of various other elements which give a refractory character, and which involve great expense and time in working, and great loss of gold and silver.

It is not too much to say that the great mountain region West of Mississippi and Missouri is covered and populated only on account of the mines of gold and silver, and other metals. Over this whole country many of these refractory ores are left unworked, and many hundred thousands of ore left unused, because their working would be too difficult and expensive under the present modes of treatment. To all these ores Mr. Eaton's processes directly apply. They render their work comparatively easy, and the yield of gold and silver is increased in the same way. The immediate value of this method, and employment to many thousands of unemployed men. These processes increase the yield at present had, by from ten to forty per cent. The reports of the Consolidated Virginia and California mines for the year ending December 31, 1876, show that only 75% per centum of the gold and silver contained in the ore is obtained by their present working, and the combined yield of these two mines for the year was $30,000,000—thirty millions, sixty-two thousand, seven hundred and eighty-two dollars. By the Eaton process, this yield could have been increased by one or seven millions of dollars. The gold mine of Senator Thomas, in the famous Joplin valley, gave him only 50 per cent of what the ore contains. These mines are quoted because they are well known, and because the process is so simple, and so far could be used, under the present management, has been used to increase their production. Under Mr. Eaton's process, it is claimed that these mines can be treated and refined at one-third the cost, and one-fourth the time at present used. In reference to this latter process Prof. Forry, of New York, says: "I believe it to be an entirely new and very useful process. Theoretically, it is a chemical and chemical principle on which it is based are correct."

Large amounts of gold and silver ore are brought to this city for treatment and for shipment abroad, as also are large quantities of Base Bullion. The process of reduction is greatly facilitated by working together ores of different character, and the Base Bullion now sent abroad, can be retained for treatment at the works in New York, and the improved process. For the purpose of a general demonstration of these processes, the Company has granted a limited right to the Secretary of the State, that this enterprise in this way laid before the public. For this purpose a sufficient amount of stock will be sold at seven dollars per share, being more than is at present required; that Base Bullion can be treated and refined at one-third the cost, and one-fourth the time at present used. WATCHES!! JEWELRY!!

Romaine Gold, so extensively worn in Paris, was first discovered in 1870 by the celebrated French chemist M. De Laugel, who manufactured it into jewelry, and for 4 years sold it to the leading jewelers of Paris for solid gold. In 1874, when his secret became known, ten of the manufacturing jewelers established a stock company, with a capital of $10,000,000, for the purpose of manufacturing Romaine Gold jewelry and watches. With this immense capital, and the aid of improved machinery they are enabled to produce all the latest patterns of jewelry at less than one-tenth the cost of solid gold, and of a quality and color which makes it impossible even for experts to detect it from the genuine. We have secured the exclusive agency of the United States and Canada, for the sale of all goods manufactured from this metal, and in order to introduce them in the most speedy manner, have put up assorted sample lots as given below, which we will sell one-tenth the retail value until January 1st, 1878.
