The HERALD is running with a fine new head.

Yavapai thinks she will have 3,500 voters this fall.

The Courier has virtually given up the contest against her.

More work and a little more gab might be the result.

Some of the elements of the contest were won Monday.

Prices now $3.55 plus 8 per cent are too high; it means $36.80, on every thousand a man is assessed for.

Remember that your registration must be renewed or you cannot vote at the next election.

The Independent comes out for Oury, since Oury's arrival in Tombstone. How strangely some things occur simultaneously.

Cochise has 2,700 registered voters so far. Yavapai has 2,160. Neck and neck, with the chances in favor of Cochise.

Only five more days in which you can get your name on the Great Register. After that time it will be too late for the coming election.

It seems that the U. S. grand jury now in session in Tucson is unearthing a wretched state of affairs at San Carlos under Indian Agent Tiffany.

Oury's reception at Williams was one of those "magnificent" affairs we sometimes read about. Just 38 persons present out of a voting population of some 236.

As our people travel over the roads they look in vain for bridges and evidences of work done by the County and to see where the road fund has gone.

Perhaps three-fourths of our business men in the county have contributed from $5 to $100 for road repairs and bridge building within the past two or three years, and at the same time were paying a tax to have county roads built.

A boy assassin for President Arthur has been found. He lives in New York and asked for a permit from the police department to carry a pistol to shoot Arthur. He was taken into custody for examination as to his mental condition.

Remember that you must register before you can vote.

A shooting scrape over a claim in the Huachuca took place a day or two since, in which all three of the participants were wounded, but no one killed. The names of the shooters are Foster, Cregan, and Hammersly.

Arizona is just one tenth of the appropriation for the survey of public lands which Oury claimed he had procured. Is it not remarkable that if Mr. Oury got that appropriation put through that he don't know what the sum is within $90,000?

That Mr. Kelly will make a clean sweep there is no doubt. That he is entirely competent for the office of Sheriff there is no doubt. That he will faithfully discharge the duties of that office, without fear or favor, there is no doubt.

When a county is paying tax at the rate of $3.54 on the $100 and has no roads to speak of, no bridges that belong to the county except by gift, in debt for what work has been done, no county buildings paid for or to be paid for, never so great an assessed valuation of property as we have today, and a party in power pledged to increase the rate of taxation, it strikes us that there is occasion for a thorough, sweeping change in that county.

The Mineral Belt railroad to Globe is thought to be a foregone conclusion. The bonds are being readily placed in New York, and the president of the company is expected to arrive soon to take preliminary steps towards its construction. Of our railroad matters, various suggestions have been made within the past two weeks, but of course nothing can be done without some concerted action among our citizens.

The heretofore incurable and fatal disease, diabetes, has been overcome by medical science, when in the form known as saccharine diabetes. A disease called glucosuria, which results from the same cause as diabetes, was artificially produced in animals and it was found that the remedy readily suppressed it, and when the same remedy was applied in case of diabetes, that was also suppressed in a few weeks. The remedy is bromide of potassium, but, like all remedies, must be taken under the direction of a skilled physician.

Mr. Oury is crying out that the Republicans of the Territory are stealing Democratic thunder and going against the record of the party without sincerity and to catch votes when it advocates the coinage of silver. Mr. Oury seems to overlook the important fact that the Republican party is not a party that would "vote the ticket if the devil were on it." The Republican party is the party of the people and works for the best interests of the people of every section of the Union.

When officers are applied for to the employment of force against Indians, they should thoroughly satisfy themselves of the necessity for the application, and of the legality of compliance therewith, in order that they may not, through the inexperience of others, or through their own hastiness, allow the troops under them to become the instruments of oppression.

There must be no division of responsibility in this matter; each officer will be held in strict accountability that his actions have been fully authorized by law and justice, and that Indians evincing a desire to enter upon a career of peace shall have no cause for complaint through haste or injudicious acts of the military.

Drinks seem to be somewhat scarce, if the absence of "bums" is any indication.

Friday's News.

District Court is in session today.

CALIFORNIA is shipping sheep to Texas at the rate of not less than a hundred carloads per week.

Ex-Gov. Safford and lady are expected to arrive in Tucson from New York in a few days.

Of the many miles of road in this county the question is asked, how many have received the attention of the county?

It was once the custom to pray: "Oh, that mine enemy would write a book!" but now days it runs: "Oh, that mine enemy would become an office seeker!"

We learn through private sources that A. Frank has been reinstated on the Territorial Prison Commission, and that Alexander has been removed.

The Colorado Coal and Iron Company are about to construct a ditch which will be thirty feet wide and carry five feet of water for a distance of seventy-five miles.

The Hon. Clark Churchill, of Prescott, arrived yesterday on his return from Yuma, and goes out tomorrow on his return home. He reports Yuma booming for Porter.

The Farmer's Convention lately convened in Stockton, California, nominated only Railroad Commissioners, members of the State Board of Equalization, Controller and Justices of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Kirkland, the present Recorder, is one of those staunch Republicans who never flinch in the face of the foe. That a large majority of the people of this county will vote for him is a foregone conclusion.

The rumor now comes that within the next two years the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe people will continue their road through Arizona to the Gila Mountains. Our Valley will, no doubt, have the pleasure of its acquaintance at no distant day; but, should we wait for others to do something for us, it may be a something which we might not care to have done.

The Courier publishes the following: "WANTED—Two thousand Democratic majority for Oury and Hoyt!" There is not the least doubt but that two thousand Democratic majority will continue to be wanted for a long time. But is not the Courier a little off. Up to a few days ago it has been claiming that the Democrats have a majority.

The following orders promulgated by General Crook touch the point of our Indian difficulties and we imagine do much to restore peace and quiet among the Indians.

WHITNEY BARRACKS, PRESCOTT, ARIZONA, October 5, 1882. The Commanding General, after making a thorough and exhaustive examination among the Indians of the eastern and southern part of this Territory, regrets to say that he finds among them a general feeling of distrust, and want of confidence in the whites—especially the soldiers; and also that much dissatisfaction, dangerous to the peace of the country, exists among them.

Officers and soldiers serving in this Department are reminded that one of the fundamental principles of the military character, is justice to all—Indians as well as white men—and that a disregard of this principle is likely to bring about hostilities, and cause the death of very persons whom they are sent here to protect.

In all their dealings with the Indians officers must be careful not only to observe the strictest fidelity, but to make no promises not in their power to carry out; all grievances, arising within their jurisdiction, should be redressed, so that an accumulation of them may not cause an outbreak. Grievances, however petty, if permitted to accumulate, will be like embers that smoulder and eventually break into flame.

When officers are applied for to the employment of force against Indians, they should thoroughly satisfy themselves of the necessity for the application, and of the legality of compliance therewith, in order that they may not, through the inexperience of others, or through their own hastiness, allow the troops under them to become the instruments of oppression.

There must be no division of responsibility in this matter; each officer will be held in strict accountability that his actions have been fully authorized by law and justice, and that Indians evincing a desire to enter upon a career of peace shall have no cause for complaint through haste or injudicious acts of the military.

By order of BRIGADIER GENERAL CHOOK: J. P. MARTIN, Assistant Adjutant General.

An old saying, "Sow your wheat in the dust and your granaries will bust," ought to prove true this season, for the dust was so thick 'til the fall, that when the plough boy shouted, "whoa, darn your old picture, git up, darn," the words stuck in the dust, and every time the boy came around echoed their dreary sounds in his sinful little ears.

VULTURE LETTER.

EDITOR HERALD:—The weather is cooling. Spuds are scarce in this market. Eggs are very rare, and chickens on the strike.

Mrs. Hoges holds forth at the Drew Hotel since the first of the month; we wish her success. Mr. Brodie's wife and children arrived last week all in good health, and the old man looks as happy as a clam.

Our stores are full of new goods, trade is looking up, and Brother Samter is happy. There is some talk of adding forty stamps more to the mill. We think that they can run 120 stamps in this place for the next hundred years.

No doubt this will be a lively camp when this generation is gathered to its fathers. We have a new superintendent here in the person of D. T. Hughes, Esq., of San Francisco. He has charge of the mine and mill, and he is a sharper, a regular "Argus"; he is quick and practical in mine and mill. He has been well known in California for thirty years. Last year he was employed by the Government of Brazil as a geologist, botanist and chemist; he is a straight-forward man of wide knowledge of minerals, milling, smelting, etc., and the C. A. M. Co. have been very fortunate in employing a man of Mr. Hughes' ability as their general superintendent.

The Gold King mine at Gila Bend is a grand success; some ore came by express last night and it is fine, full of free gold and wires of gold struck all through the rock. W. H. Davis and Steinger, the owners of the mine, feel way up over their luck, and we heartily congratulate them on their good outlook. Go on, boys, "God helps those who help themselves."

Mr. Redick is building an addition to his house on Green Point. Another story is just on and a double roof, also an ell with porch in front and a bay window. When completed, it will be one of the most comfortable in our city.

A man came to our office last night about three sheets in the wind and a good sized brick in his hat. He told us that he was broke, that he had been robbed of a check of $77 by a fellow by the name of Alex. Manfri and asked me to wire for him at once to Tip Top not to dispose of that check, that he was in need of the money. In two or three hours after we went down to one of the saloons and our man was there asleep, and some of the boys had him spotted and striped all over his face with red paper, and then some one woke him up and took him to the looking glass to see himself and he made up his mind that some one had been giving him a terrible thrashing, that he was bloody all over and that his physiognomy was badly disfigured. At the looks of himself he fainted—granted—blinded like a two-year-old calf and wanted to know who was the wild, mean cussed Arab that had given him such a whaling. "I was in the Mexican war; fought Indians from the Missouri to the Pacific; went through the war of the Comstock and Pioche and never had myself disfigured in this way before." The poor fellow was the worst distracted person we ever saw, and we had to bathe him and wash him with soft soap, etc. He believes to this day that he is not the same individual as before.

Democratic Club No. 44 met in their rooms at No. 444 Carnicerio street. Mr. Debil in the chair, and a good deal of uneasiness was felt among "the brethren" in regard to the safety of some of their candidates. The chairman stated that he had letters from different points in the county and Territory, and that the b-r Republicans are gaining ground every day—some of the offices are conceded to the Republicans. "I see," said he, "that Judge Porter is as good as elected already; he has taken all over the Territory like hot cakes at a bash house. He is well received everywhere and to me he is just as well as elected. He is no slouch! No milk and water about him! And, boys, we have to concede that he is a better, stronger, brighter, wiser, and abler man than we thought he was! And here is the County Recorder, Frank is a good, honest, jolly boy; you all know that. We can't scrape up anything against him, only that he is fond of the fair sex; and as the shell of a Democrat is as hard as a turtle's, we can't blame him for that; we are all weak at that point." One said that he was a Republican, and the Chairman said: "Yes, it's sin; but that is Frank, and you will find out that everybody will vote for him. Again, there is Kelly. Gosh! I am plagued, we have to acknowledge that he is a good, honest man up and down, and I think by all the signs that he will have the majority of votes in this county, you will see. And I tell you, gentlemen of Club No. 41, that things don't look so good as they did in the good old times before the railroads; good 'ol times" and he sighed from the remote left corner of his heart "Yes, honestly it looks very blue and gloomy. By St. Jacob's! Oh! everything is against us! Look at Maine—gone Republican. That man Blaine is the cause of it. They can call him knifed; he is a king in himself—great man he is, no doubt. Also look at the terrible straits they make us out on favorite beverage, the old stand-by of our party, bourbon, commonly called whisky. All through the United States, the Canada, and every land, they are after it. I think sometimes," said he, with tears in his eyes, "that our days are numbered, and that soon, yes, very soon, our dear old party shall be no more." Just at that moment fellow shrieked out: "Treason! treason!" and the whole club was in a turmoil for a few minutes. When order was restored, the Chairman continued with a trembling voice and said: "Treason or no treason, I don't lose my faith in the strength and endurance of our beloved old party so long as we can procure our whisky; but when that heavenly stimulant, the bone, and marrow, and brain of us all is taken away, we are gone, dead, everlasting banished for all eternity, and that's what's the matter with Hunsnah!" and he came down on the table with his double-headed fist until the candle tumbled out of its resting place in astonishment, and we were all left in the dark until a fat boy came back from Liegett's with a match to light up with again, and the Chairman sat down, but not on the chair, because some fellow had taken it in the heat of the speech and the Chairman, poor fellow, fell flat on the floor and I could hear him groan in the dark, but I thought that he was suffering from the loss of wind after his great effort. Mr. Duro and Mr. Pisco picked him up after we got some light, and Vito Bello as dasher of rum was Vito's face. Mr. Patricia Aspero said that "Gentlemen of this club, I reckon our honorable Chairman thought he was right, but he was draped on the floor. He seems to be a little off to-night in trying to bring in and scatter discouragement among the faithful of this honorable Club No. 41! If the Chairman is a little weak in the back on the success of our party in the next election, I don't like it at all, at all, at all, we have to keep up our pride, you know. Our Chairman has too many weak points about him. I don't like it. I remember well the old man Tweed of New York. In his glory he had no weak points about him. He was the high Cheemuck. As a Chairman, he was always full and round. He was the right man for the job. The Chairman moved uneasily in his seat and said: "But he was busted and died of a broken heart." "Yes, yes, my man, but he died a good true Democrat to the last stripe on his coat. He never flinched in his faith; there was a true Democrat for you, and we aren't a bit afraid of this prohibitory brew they fuss about. Our bourbon in this Territory shall never run dry, for you can't pack enough farmers and soil tillers into this country to outvote us, the good and faithful old Haysampers, Californians, and Piochees, to save your souls. I like to see a man trying to light his pipe against a hitching post." At this point the candle was all gone, and in the dark, the speaker rapped and said: "Hurray for Frank Kirkland!" and the meeting adjourned. TOM CORWIN.

Frank James.

A Western Associated press representative had an interview with Frank James this morning as he was being transferred by train from Independence to Kansas City. On board the train were Attorney Wallace, Marshal Murphy, Sheriff Timberlake, and a number of representatives.

Along the route James was frequently recognized by old confederates of his guerrilla band. He is five feet nine inches high, spare but sinewy, light blue eyes, small blond mustache, hair a shade darker, complexion sallow. His manner is quiet and language ordinary. His dress is unobtrusive.

He said he thought the Governor had not promised immunity, but he had at last nerved himself to the long contemplated act and had surrendered. He believed if tried on any single charge alone he would be convicted, and hopes if convicted the governor will intercede. He desires to lead a quiet life with his family, but he will not admit to any April 1881, upon a rented farm at Nashville, Tennessee, in the rebel states, where he has been since April 1881. He read in the New York Herald of the shooting of Jesse the day after it occurred and since has been east of the Alleghanies and in Kentucky. For the past year he has been much maligned. He has never wrote a line threatening to avenge Jesse's death. He remarked of the good, honest, jolly boy; you all know that. We can't scrape up anything against him, only that he is fond of the fair sex; and as the shell of a Democrat is as hard as a turtle's, we can't blame him for that; we are all weak at that point."
