The latest telegraphic dispatches say that the Passion Play will be put on the stage this winter in spite of opposition.

SOME of the navy yards are to shut down work on account of the small appropriation. Kittery and Philadelphia yards will close.

SILVER bars are still quoted at 108 1/2 per ounce in New York. San Francisco quotes copper at 17c, pig lead at 4 to 5 1/2c. London quotes bar silver at 50 4/16d.

DAKOTA urged a division of the Territory by Congress and the southern half asked to be admitted as a State. Both projects were squelched by the Democratic members.

The homeopaths are memorializing Congress to the effect that they are left out in the cold in the appointment of physicians to the army, and a bill will be prepared to prevent discrimination in that matter.

PRESIDENT-MAKING has not as yet cropped out very prominently in Congress. It is vain to hope that law-making will occupy the attention of members through a whole term even two years before a presidential campaign.

THE Army Appropriation bill will ask for an increase of the army to 40,000 men. The argument in its favor is that it costs more to transport troops from one part of the country to another, as is frequently necessary, than it would to maintain a sufficient number of troops at all points of danger to render transportation over great distances unnecessary.

VOODOOS of Indians, Browns of Georgia and Logan of Illinois, among the most prominent men in the Senate oppose the civil service reform bill which provides for competitive examinations of applicants for appointments to public positions, fixed term of office, etc. It will be noted that these evaders are from both parties and that they are acknowledged leaders in these parties.

Judge Pinyan has called a special session of the Yuma County District Court to convene on January 9th, at Yuma, for the purpose of trying the contested election cases. Should the session of the Supreme Court in Prescott not be finished at that date, the Yuma District Court will be adjourned to a later date.

LAND QUESTION SETTLED. Secretary Teller has decided that lands, within the limits of railroad grants, that had been pre-empted or homesteaded before the grant was made, are not a part of the grant and that when abandoned do not revert to the grant but are open to be entered upon as before. This will be glorious news to hundreds of our people who were located on lands prior to the Texas & Pacific and Atlantic & Pacific grants. Many have fine homes built up which they have occupied for years and the jeopardy in which they were placed by these grants was a most unsatisfactory and annoying condition of affairs. It is to be hoped that this matter is finally settled and that our people can go on with their improvements with sense of security.

THE Changes Which the Tariff Commission has Proposed. The report of the Tariff Commission is generally commended—not in all its details, but as a whole. They precede a schedule of new tariff rates upon imported articles by saying, among other things: "Early in its deliberations the Commission became convinced that a substantial reduction of tariff duties is demanded, not by a mere indiscriminate popular clamor, but by the best conservative opinion of the country, including that which has in former times been most strenuous for the preservation of our national industrial defenses." They go on to say that excessive duties "encourage the investment of capital in manufacturing enterprises by rash and unskilled speculators, to be followed by disast...

Francis of a stock-jobbing campaign in favor of the Tunisian loan. Thompson, a member for Constantine, Algeria, declared this an insult. The second of Guillard have been sent to Thompson.

The following extract from some of the great events in American history, prepared by Gen. R. W. Judson, of Orleansburg, N. Y., shows the true character of General Washington, in giving a reprint to Gen. Arnold, as per order: The verdict of the Court Martial in the case of Gen. Benedict Arnold is re-echoed. He was ordered to be reprimanded by the commander-in-chief and when brought before him Washington addressed him in the following delicate language: "Our profession is the chastest of all. Even the shadow of a fault tarnishes the lustre of our finest achievements. The least inadvertence may rob us of the public favor so hard to be acquired. I reprimand you for having forgotten that, in proportion as you had rendered yourself formidable to our enemies, you should have been guarded and temperate in your deportment toward our fellow citizens. Exhibit anew these noble qualities which have placed you on the list of our most valued commanders. I will furnish you, as far as may be in my power, with opportunities of regaining the esteem of our country."

Announcement by the Fish Commissioner. OFFICE OF FISH COMMISSIONERS, YUMA, A. T., Dec. 22, 1892. EDITOR SENTINEL:—Permit me to say that Prof. Baird writes me that the recent cold snap has frozen up his carp ponds and that they may not open till March. This will give all applicants for carp time to prepare their ponds and arrange to receive their supply. The carp will pass over the S. P. rail, road, on its way to California, and the fry must be received at some station on that route. It would be best for applicants in southeast Arizona to arrange with Fish Commissioner Richard Rule to receive and distribute the supply for that section. Commissioner Gosper, of Prescott, will do the same, or have it done, for the northern part of the Territory, and myself for the southwestern part. Territorial papers please copy. J. H. TAGGART, Business Manager Arizona Fish Commission.

Friday's Locals. More wedding. Travel seems to be increasing. Duck hunting is now the favorite pastime. A circus in the north part of town floats the Mexican flag. Houses are still in demand though quite a number have been built. Messrs. Patton & Whittaker have built extensive additions to their shop. Mr. Edward, today showed us the finest sample of horse-shoeing that we have seen for some time. He is an adept at the business. The plastering of the M. E. Church is about finished and is a handsome job. The church will now be much more cheerful in the interior than formerly. The Texas school fund—which can never be disbursed—now amounts to the magnificent sum of $114,000,000, including lands worth $119,000,000—Tombstone Republican.

The result of my use of S. Jacobs Oil for rheumatism is: "I have been recommending it ever since," says the Mayor of Chicago, Hon. Carter H. Harrison, in the Chicago Times. "We were seized a few mornings ago by a terrible pain in the left shoulder and neck," says W. F. Cook, Esq., editor of the Cashjohannes (N. Y.) Courier. "Having been favorably impressed for some time with the virtue of an article recommended for all sudden pains, and especially rheumatism, we thoroughly rubbed the offending part, and in less time than we write it, relief came. The article in question is St. Jacobs Oil, and we are loud in its praise."

Shooting Match. A shooting match for chickens will take place back of the Capital Hotel on NEW YEAR'S DAY at ten o'clock A. M. Try your skill and get a chicken, every body.

WARRIED. HENRY-HINCKLIN—On Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's mother, Phoenix, A. T., by the Rev. T. D. Hedgpeth, Mr. W. G. Henry and Miss Laura E. Hincklin. No cards.

And Ye Twins Shall Be One Flesh. Not long since the editor of this paper received an invitation to be at the residence of Mrs. A. Hincklin on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. With the usual modesty of a newspaper man concerning other people's business the exact nature of the occasion was not inquired into, but a clean shirt was borrowed, boots blacked on tick, and all due preparations made to beat the place at the appointed time. Outside, the house looked dark and very quiet, but in the door a light and merry and a jovial crowd of people. Everybody looked well pleased for some reason. A minister was present. The handsome Miss Hincklin, the pride of the house, seemed to be absent. The constant sitting from the parlor to the adjoining rooms by the lady of the house and an occasional attractive little laugh, accompanied by an unmistakable smile, in an adjoining parlor, a white glove here and there, and such things made us suspicious that Cupid was about to consummate another of his plans—and so it was.

At 8:30 o'clock the door of the adjoining parlor opened and Mr. and Mrs. John Packer appeared, immediately followed by Mr. W. G. Henry and Miss Laura E. Hincklin. The party arranged themselves with Mr. Packer supporting Mr. Henry and Mrs. Packer supporting Miss Hincklin, when the Rev. Hedgpeth arose and with a beautiful service entwined the golden links of matrimony about their necks. Congratulations from all present immediately followed, and a half hour of conversation and jest, during which the Rev. Hedgpeth recited a couple of beautiful little poems appropriate to the occasion and highly instructive to the newly wedded couple. A little wedding procession was then formed which brought up in the dining room of the Phoenix Hotel, where a fine host, Salari, had prepared a bounteous wedding supper. The bride's cake was a very ornamental as well as useful addition to the repast, and of which each one seemed anxious to secure as much as possible, the single folks to dream over and the married people to eat. [The editor is married.] An abundance remained for distant friends. The gustatory services being ended the party returned to the residence of Mrs. Hincklin, and pleasure ruled the hour at the time of our departure.

The happy couple will take up their residence where Mrs. Hincklin now lives, Mrs. Hincklin departing in a few days for Tucson. The contracting parties are well known and will receive the congratulations of their many friends. The congratulations and well wishes of the HERALD are extended. May life be long and each day be as useless joyous than today.

There are yet a number of old accounts remaining unsettled with the HERALD that must be settled up. The new year soon begins when we wish to open a new set of books and to square up all unsettled business so far as the present management of the HERALD is concerned. More than that, newspapers can't thrive on cheek my more than any other business. Debt must be paid as they accrue and for that purpose we must urge those owing money to the office to be prompt. Don't wait, thinking that others will pay and your bill will not be used, or, worse than that, now, and we should be glad to find a few exceptions, real hard cash cases. Faith is a fine thing to have about the house, but when a fellow is compelled to make a regular diet of it, even if he be a newspaper man, the probabilities are that his chances in the next world will grow less with each successive dose.

[From Wednesday's Daily.] Ex-Gov. R. C. Powers is in town from his surveying camp down at Gila Bend.

Mr. Luke this morning showed us his handsome Christmas present, an ivory cane with heavy gold handle, presented by his wife.

The Gila Bend Mormon colony passed through town this morning en route to Mesa City.

Mr. P. Miner is putting down a sidewalk in front of his fine building occupied by M. Asher & Co.

Rev. McLean, the new pastor of the M. E. Church, South, arrived by this morning's coach from Alabama.

Messrs. Balz & Rodondo will occupy the building as a butcher shop which J. H. McNeil lately used as a harness shop.

The report was on the street this morning that Mr. Philes had sold a mine for $150,000, which we are authoritatively informed is a myth.

STANARD BROSCHURE—On Tuesday evening, December 26, 1892, by Justice Richards, in Phoenix, Mr. Chas. Sankard and Miss Minnie Bechum.

Messrs. Patton & Whittaker began the erection this morning of an extensive slaughter house and corral attached for the new butcher firm of Balz and Rodondo.

Mr. Dorsey, an eminent attorney of San Francisco, arrived from the railroad yesterday and proceeds to Prescott today to attend the session of the Supreme Court.

A large concourse of people attended the funeral of Mr. Steven Z. Pierce yesterday afternoon. The services were the simple and beautiful ceremonies of the Masonic order.

The Masonic Lodge and Royal Arch Chapter will hold joint installation this evening. Owing to the recent death of Bro. Pierce the ceremonies will not be public as anticipated.

Our well known photographer, C. W. Cotton, of the firm of Rothrock & Cotton, was married Christmas evening to Mrs. K. Davis. Justice of the Peace Rothrock did the legal knotting for them.

Mr. Webb, of Gila Bend, informs us that the Mormon colony in that section has folded its tents and set out for some other location. The difficultly seemed to that the families generally were unable to meet the payments required on the land.

Mr. Stroud's new addition to his building for the purpose of accommodating the music-land minstrel entertainment given nightly at his place was begun yesterday. The addition will be some fifty feet in length, and the breadth of the old building.

And yet Cupid's quiver seems unexhausted. One more couple succumbed to the keen missiles of his bow and yielded up the ghost of single blessedness yesterday evening.

Judge R. Hards performed the office of high priest on the occasion and Mr. Chas. Sankard and Miss Minnie Bechum furnished the converts. One by one the sparrows fall.

We are in receipt, today, of the Arizona Illustrated Quarterly, a handsome magazine printed at Tucson and published by the Phoenix Herald. We failed to get it inscribed on it either the editor's or proprietor's name. It covers a wide range of subjects and the present number is especially rich in Arizona statistics and history outside of mining business which it eschews entirely. We hope it abundant success.

Mr. W. L. Hastings, owner of the Golden Ida and other mines in Wilford district made the HERALD office a pleasant call this morning and reports considerable work by way of development being done in his locality. The Union he reports down 150 feet, and the vein widened from 16 inches at the top to 4 feet at the bottom, and good ore.

In our notice last week of the handsome new counter put in at Peter Brix's music hall, we should have stated that Messrs. Patton & Whittaker were the designers and builders, the design being drawn by Mr. Whitaker of that firm. Mr. L. W. Byers and Mr. Holderby did the neat joining work.

[From Thursday's Daily.] The new year approaches. The snow-off season is at hand. Free entertainments all along the row this week.

The cold wind of this morning ceased at noon.

Mr. Minor is having the dressing-rooms in his hall handsomely painted.

Mr. Shriver is having a handsome job of painting done on his new house.

Capt. Hancock has gone up the river on a survey for the new canal company.

A cold wind makes the sunshine rather weak in its warming qualities today.

Old time is whetting his scythe preparatory to cropping one more flower from the field.

Mr. Kales is having a broad veranda put around his handsome residence, which will add much to his appearance and comfort.

The $31,000 check man, Wallace, was captured on Sunday at Tempe, and yesterday waived examination and asked for time to produce witnesses.

Mr. Stroud's addition to his hall is to be especially fitted for theatrical purposes. The orchestra will be sunk beneath the level of the floor in order that the musicians may not obscure the view.

The Masonic installation ceremonies passed off very pleasantly last evening, a considerable number being present. A handsome and useful collation spread by mine host, Ganz, ended the services of the evening.

Mr. J. T. Priest, of Tempe, made us a pleasant business call this morning and, by the way, set a good example that should be followed, viz: payed up his dues at the HERALD office and prepared to begin the new year with a clean score.

Salmi Morse is again endeavoring to have his "Passion Play" put upon the boards in New York. For two years he urged the matter in San Francisco, and this is the second season in New York. It is said that he has spent $150,000 on it.

Enjoy all the things of life, and keep St. Jacobs Oil convenient in case of rheumatism. Such would seem to be the view of Mr. R. Roberts' business manager of the Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel, who says: "I believe St. Jacobs Oil to be the very best remedy known to mankind."

Prof. G. A. Treadwell yesterday evening showed us an Irish potato, one of the "rule old shock" direct from the Emerald Isle. It was a fine looking specimen of about one and a half pounds weight. He proposes to have the variety cultivated, probably at F. L. Brill's ranch on the Hassayampa.

Mr. D. H. Recarts, so well known here as an accomplished clerk at the establishment of W. B. Hooper & Co., will leave on Saturday morning to occupy a position in their house at Hermosillo. Mr. Recart's linguistic accomplishments command for him most remunerative positions and his social qualities make him a desirable member of the young people of the town, where his absence will be regretted.

A certain physician, not a thousand miles from Phoenix, he thought himself to win glory and a good dinner by hunting ducks, and, accordingly, borrowing a fine gun from a friend, he went into the marshes. He fired two shots and got no ducks when it occurred to him to load. How to remove the dead cartridges and insert new ones was a case beyond surgical skill. Seven miles from home, no game, lots of cartridges, a fine gun, and plenty of ducks in all directions, were the points of the situation; but that gun, that d-d-disagreeable gun! The gentleman walked home and went to bed without his supper.

The last drink, the last cigar, the last "chaw," the last swear, etc., etc., will be taken and given in the next few days about as often as circumstances will permit and then, next week, things will go on just as they have in the past. Any excuse is better than none at all.

H. S. Hoblitzell, special agent of the Pacific Department, Hartford Fire Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., is registered at the Phoenix Hotel in this city. Mr. Hoblitzell has visited nearly every important town and mining camp in the Territory in the interest of his company, improvising risk and creating new agencies. He goes hence to Prescott. Expects to return this way and go inside about the middle of January.

A meeting of young men was held at the Gazette office on last evening for the purpose of arranging for a party to be held at Minor's Hall and to examine into the safety of the hall. By their invitation a number of the carpenters visited the hall with them and, after thorough examination, pronounced it perfectly safe. A party was then arranged for the evening of the 12th proximo. Mr. Minor will go to an expense of nearly $200 to furnish the hall with stage, chandeliers, etc.

Tucson authorities arrest drunks who appear on the streets.

The Supreme Court of the Territory convenes in Prescott on Tuesday next.

There are ninety-nine prisoners confined in the penitentiary at Yuma.

Sergeant Rufus Sombry of troop E, 6th Cavalry, committed suicide at Ft. Lowell, near Tucson, on Tuesday. He had been a lieutenant in the 8th Cavalry and bravet captain, but was reduced to the ranks for dissipated conduct.

The Tombstone papers report the absence of Henry C. Kiesel, Treasurer of the city, under suspicious circumstances. As yet nothing has been found wrong with his accounts.

Judge Hoover is expected to arrive in Tombstone today and will open court to-morrow.

Tucson people growl because the stockholders of the theatre hold all the good seats whether they occupy them or not.

The Tombstone Uranium Company is successfully using manganese as a flux.

News from Arizona has a brighter future before it than Phoenix. Its permanency and prosperity is assured.—Tombstone Independent.

The Cincinnati Enquirer gives the details of a most bloody encounter between a teacher and two of his pupils who set about "licking" him as is the British custom in some out-of-the-way places. While two of the "big boys" were choking and pounding his face fearfully he drew a knife and fatally stabbed both of them.

The news comes to us that the owners of the Atlanta mine, at Bisbee, have succeeded in passing their application for a patent at Washington and have paid the requisite sum for their land, so their patent is now secured. The owners intend very shortly to thoroughly explore their valuable property, and a shaft is to be commenced.

The Sentinel reports the machinery en route for the Clip mill to be erected on the Colorado at Clip landing. The mill will be of ten-stamp capacity.

The cattlemen of southwestern New Mexico and southeastern Arizona have formed a Protective Association for the purpose of protecting themselves from the rustlers and exterminating them.

The Citizen has compiled a most interesting table of the sizes of counties in the Territory from the Surveyor General's records. Some of the counties embrace a greater area than some of the eastern states and as such wealth, though undeveloped. The table shows the following distances:

Yavapai, N to S about 200 miles; E to W, 145.

Mohave, N to S about 190 miles; E to W in Northern part, 40; E to W in Central and Southern part, 60 or 70.

Yuma, N to S about 140 miles; E to W, 70.

Apache, N to S about 225 miles; E to W, 95.

Maricopa, N to S west part about 100 miles; N to S east part, 35 to 50 miles; E to W North part, 100; E to W South part, 85.
