

That Fight.

It is undoubtedly true that on the occurrence of a street fight, where such things are not of frequent occurrence, nine persons in ten within hearing distance, if not imperatively engaged, will be attracted to it and will almost certainly have their sympathies more or less interested for one of the parties. And as the affair becomes one of greater magnitude it commands more attention. During the past week an affair of this kind has transpired which is one of great importance, if we judge of it by the interest taken throughout the country. We shall assume that all our readers have in some way heard rumors of the great fight that was to be had between Morrissey and Heenan, and some have found in the details of the disgusting, shameful affair. We further assume that those who are not thus posted and have an itching desire to know "what has caused this great commotion," and the result—that is, we fear our readers are not much better than people in general—we wish we could do ourselves and them a better compliment. If, however, we must gratify this depraved appetite we will do it with great brevity.

The combatants met on a barren island in Lake Erie on the 20th inst., together with as great a crowd of villainy as ever congregated, and fought eleven rounds. It was generally expected that Morrissey would gain an easy victory over Heenan; but not so. He was about as thoroughly punished as he could be and live. Heenan showing himself the better man in every respect except endurance. Morrissey was pounded to a jelly, while Heenan was comparatively uninjured. Both, however, were exhausted to the last degree and Heenan was finally unable to come to the scratch, and his opponent was declared victor.

We should have been a trifle better satisfied if both had been put beyond fighting again, but shall not mourn over the result. Morrissey it is understood has found some of his ferocity pounded out of him, and has decided to retire from the ring. What human nature Heenan had, we fear is not improved, as it is understood that he is eager for another encounter.

—It is gratifying that public sentiment and police vigilance are such that affairs of this kind cannot conveniently transpire on this part of our territory, while it is humiliating that there is such abundant evidence of a prevailing morbid appetite which can be feasted by such narratives as the daily papers think it necessary to serve up. A bare glimpse of the monster might excite a wholesome disgust, but to familiarize the public mind with such exhibitions can but be demoralizing in the extreme. If such brutal specimens of humanity will indulge in this manner let them be driven into solitude, and let no well wisher of society help to bring their exploits into notice. But so long as prize fighters are lionized by the press, that kind of royal beast will flourish, and humanity will continue to be degraded in the this way.

THE MISSIONARY CONVENTION AT MIDDLEBURY.—It is earnestly hoped that all the churches in the vicinity will be deeply interested in this convention and largely represented. Rev. Dr. Treat, Rev. Messrs. Pettengill and Warren, Secretaries. Rev. Messrs. Thompson, of Syria, and Parsons, of Armenia, have engaged to be present. The meeting will begin with a Sermon on Monday evening, Nov. 1st, and continue through the Tuesday and Wednesday following.

The Rutland and Burlington Railroad promises return checks free to those who may come in the cars. Hospitality may be secured at the store of Dea. Jason Davenport.

News of the Week.
The papers of the last week record the decease of three men who were wild known and highly esteemed, and who died at nearly the same time.—Father Sawyer, the centenarian preacher, Prof. Cleveland, of Bowdoin College, and Judge William Jay, son of the distinguished John Jay.

A severe storm recently visited Prince Edwards Island and vicinity and caused great loss of life and property among the Fishing Fleet.
The brig Isle de Cuba, which fitted at N. Y., for the African coast, was, during the week, brought to Boston. The Captain proposed to the crew to go into the slave trade which they refused to do, whereupon he advised the mate to take the brig back, which he did.

The news from Europe is not important. Cotton and Breadstuffs are dull. The aspect of the Atlantic Telegraph is more favorable. Greater ease in the money market is anticipated. Morphy played eight blindfolded games simultaneously, with the best players in Paris, and beat them all.

Fuller returns of the recent elections are still more favorable to the opposition than at first stated. The Administration gets from the Pennsylvania election but two reliable supporters.
Ohio.—The Republican majority for the State ticket is about 16,000 votes. The Congressional delegation will be composed of fifteen Republicans and six Democrats—a Republican gain of three representatives.

The Cincinnati Gazette has returns from seventy one counties in Ohio, and the Republican majority for the State ticket is 18,645. When the returns come in from the other counties, the Republican Majority will be at least twenty two thousand, which is an immense gain from last year. Ohio has done nobly.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. Returns from all the counties in Iowa but nine, are received. In the 1st Congressional district Hon. Samuel R. Curtis, Repub., has 1421 majority, in the 2d district, as far as heard from W. Vandever, Repub., has 8354 majority.
The Dubuque Times claims the election of the Republican State ticket by 5000 majority.

ARRESTS OF BURGLARS.—Considerable stir has been made in Essex, by the discovery and arrest of two men, who have committed various burglaries in that town during the summer. One, Samuel Mansfield by name, was arrested in Essex on Saturday, and upon searching, more or less stolen property was found upon his premises. The other named Henry Depau a young Frenchman, was caught in the swamp near the "French Village" in this place on Monday and is now in jail in default of $500 bail. He confesses that he broke into and robbed the store of Mr. T. Rhodes, and has indicated where a portion of the stolen property was concealed. Free Press.

ACCIDENT.—Dana Bailey, Esq. of Townshend, was fatally injured on Monday of last week. He was drawing corn from the field to the barn, when he fell from the load, so badly injuring his spine that he died the following Saturday evening. Woodstock Age.

On the night of the 7th inst; at West Randolph, a house and barn belonging to J. P. Kidder & J. W. Mann were entirely consumed by fire. Loss about $600.—In Plymouth on the 8th inst. a house occupied by Thomas Barker was entirely destroyed. 15000 lbs. of cheese, 200 lbs. of butter, and much other produce was destroyed. The loss is estimated at $1500.—insurance $175.

TWO PAIRS of shoes were lately made by a shoe manufacturer in Lynn, to fill an order for a Southern plantation. They are intended for a slave, who is a negro driver or overseer, and measure nineteen and a half inches in length, with a corresponding width. We presume these shoes were made at so much a foot.

AN IMPORTANT VERDICT. In the Philadelphia Court of Quarter Sessions, on Monday last, a man named William Nixon was pronounced guilty of manslaughter, for having left his horse and cart standing unattended, in a public street, by which negligence a child was killed.

A sad accident occurred at Northfield on Wednesday evening of last week. During the firing of a salute to the Fusiliers of Boston, a cannon burst, by which Mr. James Lewis lost an arm, his nose, and one eye, and two other persons were severely injured.

THE RELIGIOUS INTEREST IN BOSTON.—There seems to be an increased religious interest in this city, at the present time, instead of the reaction which many persons anticipated. The attendance at the Old South Chapel each week-day morning is much larger than it has been, and the hall is now generally filled. The custom of presenting notes, asking the prayers of God's people for unconverted persons has been renewed. The number who have desired to speak at these meetings has been so large that the committee have been obliged to enforce the three-minute rule more strictly. The Business Men's meeting in the same place, at 12 o'clock, has increased considerably, in numbers and in interest. The meeting in North Street, under the care of Father Mason, has been held, without any interruption, for two hundred and fifteen days. Some very marked cases of conversion have occurred within a short time. The meeting is held from 11 o'clock, A. M., to 1 P. M. The young men's meetings at Park Street, and at the Christian Association Rooms, are largely attended.

The middle aged lady who has not lost all her taste for dress—the maiden lady who has not lost all her hope of captivating some heart and the young miss just stepping on to the stage of life to play her part of the matrimonial drama, after being so tastily adorned at Clay's Emporium of Fashion, will find at the next door on the same floor Helton will put on the finishing touch, in the line of rich ornaments.

DIXON'S GREAT SHOW, drew a great crowd at Union Hall, on Tuesday evening of last week, and we believe gave good satisfaction. His moving Panorama of Dr. Kane's Expedition of the Arctic Regions was a fine work of art, and almost produced a shudder at the dreariness that everywhere seemed to surround the explorators. The historical painting of a fight from Concord to Boston was a very exciting work of art, and had a tendency to stir New England blood. Master Maynard is a fine singer.

—ADELLE and J. E. HOMER sang to a full house in Union Hall, on Monday evening. Their performances were received with a good degree of applause. They are favorites everywhere.

MEDITATIONS.—As the North wind comes booming along over the hill-tops of our native State, and the leaves all seared and yellow come dropping to the ground, all animated nature seems to shrug their shoulders and scamper away to some snug hiding place away from the severe blasts that will soon be upon us. Most of the wide-awake, sprightly, knowing animals prepare for this season, by selecting a cosy little abode for the winter, and there on long winter evenings they crack their nuts and who knows but their jokes too. This may be called "rural felicity." Now about these days, or a little later, young men begin to be impressed with the need of a comfortable home, and the first thing they think of, is where shall I find a suitable companion to make that home happy—and how shall I obtain one when found? We will tell you! It is said that Helton the Jeweller has just bought the largest and best stock of Jewelry and Fancy Goods ever brought into this town. Some old sur bachelor, or green one, might ask what that had to do with getting a wife—ah me! Young man, did you ever buy one of those beautiful Breast Pins, and approach near enough your beloved to attach it to a portion of her garment, just above the heart, and observe the effect, or place upon one of her fingers one of those splendid gold rings—yes, you, none of the German iron rings washed with poor brass! Try it old bachelor! Try it young man! And in a short time after that, convince the most timid maiden that you have a visible subsistence for two, and depend upon it she is yours.

—A Distressing Cough causes the friends of the sufferer as much pain as the sufferer himself. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry will certainly cure coughs, cold, arrest consumption, and that speedily. When did it ever fail? N.B. We observe that the Comet has gone out, and so has most of Clay's Dress Goods, but he has more coming.

Pastors, members and attendants of all the churches in the vicinity are affectionately invited to be present, and those who may come from adjoining towns will be hospitably entertained. J. T. H.

Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.
Where the above preparation is known, it is well established as an infallible Remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, and every form of Pulmonary Complaint, that it were a work of supererogation to speak of its merits.
Discovered by a well known physician more than twenty years since, it has by the wonderful cures it has effected been constantly appreciating in public favor, until its use and its reputation are alike universal, and it is now known and cherished by all (and their "name is legion") who have been restored to health by its use as the Great Remedy for all the diseases which it professes to cure.
Sir James Clark, physician to Queen Victoria, has given it as his opinion that "CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED!"
The whole history of this Medicine fully confirms the opinion of that eminent man. Thousands can testify, and have testified, that when all other remedies had failed, this has completely cured; that when the sufferer had well nigh despaired, this has afforded immediate relief; that when the physician had pronounced the disease incurable, this has removed it entirely.
The virtues of this Balsam are alike applicable to cure a slight Cold or a Confirmed Consumption, and its power as a safe, certain, speedy, pleasant and effectual Remedy cannot be equalled.

DIED.
In this village, on the 23d of October, of Lung Fever, CHARLES TINSLEY, aged 25 years.
In this village on the 18th inst. Mr. SAMUEL POORE, formerly of Addison, aged 75 years.
Within this solar realm of leafless trees, The sunset vein inhaled the dreary air, Like some first Harrier in his hour of ease, When all the trees ere lying brown and bare.
He had known sorrow. He waked with her, Off-sprung and broke with her the sabbath crust, And in the dead leaves still he heard the stir Of her black mantle trailing in the dust.
At last the threat was snapped; his head was bowed, Life dropped the staff through his hands severed: And loving neighbors smoothed his careful shroud.
While Death's not Winter, closed the Autumn Scene." 16

D. H. Lake of Castleton, presented a Horse Power, (Grey's Patent,) which the Awarding Committee recommend, as being a very perfect Machine—well adapted to supply the wants of the Farmer and others, who want a cheap and thorough made Machine. One horse, with this Power being amply sufficient for threshing or mowing fire-wood.
