HUGHES AND FAIRBANKS. For President CHARLES E. HUGHES of New York For Vice President CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS of Indiana

WHERE HE STANDS I stand for Americanism which knows no ulterior purpose, for a patriotism which is single and complete, whether native or naturalized, of whatever race or creed.

Henry Morgenthau calls for a million and a half of dollars to re-elect Wilson. It isn't worth the money.

The U-553 submarine has safely returned to its home base in Germany and the submarine merchantman the "Deutschland," arrived yesterday morning at New London, Conn., on its second visit to this country.

Don't wait next Tuesday for some one to remind you that it is election day and that it is your duty as well as your privilege, to go to the polls early and cast your vote.

When you get into the election booth on November 7th, to mark your ballot for the men who will control the policies of this nation for the next four years, remember that it is essential that a Republican President shall have the support of a Republican House and Senate.

"Pansy" Baker To the newspaper fraternity at Washington, D. C., there is nothing startling in the Jersey City speech of Secretary of War Newton Baker, where-in he defamed the character of the Continentals who left their bloody footprints in the snow at Valley Forge.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.

his desk to receive his morning statement on the subject, he dismissed the matter as inconsequential. A vase of fresh cut flowers was on the desk. Burying his nose in the bouquet he murmured beautifully, "Boys, I just love flowers!"

Roll Call of the Cabinet Postmaster General Burleson is in the Middle West trying to explain why the postal service has been so rotten for the past three years. Secretary McAdoo is in the same states thimble-rigging the public with his "net balance" figures.

AN EDITOR'S TROUBLES

It is an old story, but one that needs repeating now and again. It is the age-long struggle of the newspaper publisher to get his head above the whirlpool of free advertising.

Nobody ever thinks of going to the coal dealer and asking him to send a little coal up to the church or lodge room to heat up the building for a meeting or entertainment.

But people often express surprise and resentment if the newspaper man asks remuneration for an advertising notice relative to aforesaid meeting or entertainment. If the coal dealer or ice cream man, or electric light company should voluntarily donate said coal, ice cream or lights, the recipient thereof would be exceedingly grateful, and would probably instruct the newspaper man to run a free notice telling the public all about the generosity of aforesaid coal dealer or electric light company.

The editor very gladly gives a certain amount of complimentary space to charitable and other organizations weekly. He gives this freely to the exact limit of space available. This complimentary service means work for the compositor and work for the makeup man. It is work absolutely without slightest hope of reward.

The newspaper men's space is just as much his stock in trade as the coal dealer's coal, the ice cream man's ice cream, the electric light company's electricity or the butcher's meats.

there is a lot of money tied up in type, presses and other equipment. Paper and ink, rent, heat, light, power and insurance must be paid out of the income derived from the newspaper man's stock in trade.—Bradford Opinion.

WHY ARE BOYS HUNGRY?

We all know that they are, that they ought to be, and that when they are not there is something the matter with them. And as man embraces woman, so does boy include girl in this general proposition.

Why bother about the why of it? The danger of under-nutrition? That is a matter of the past where food is plentiful. Parents have learned the wisdom of letting their children eat all they want of wholesome, simple food.

However, it has now been answered with the aid of a respiration calorimeter in a pathological laboratory. The basal requirements of boys in metabolism, we learn, are 25 per cent above those of the adult.

Every mother knows that bread, butter, milk and sugar supply the greater part of a child's nutritive requirements. She knows it, even though she has never heard of calories, and regards the respiration calorimeter with suspicion.

Why is Willie always hungry? Because he is always playing; because, thank heaven! he is healthy, and because he is growing so fast.

THE BEST CHRISTMAS PRESENT

That is what many write us, who make a gift of a Youth's Companion subscription to a friend or relative. Thousands can recall the first Christmas that The Companion came into the house, and how it was passed from one to another as a most precious thing, and the beauty of it was that every week it was looked for, and pounced upon and devoured, and everything else put aside for it.

The Companion Home Calendar goes to every new subscriber and to everyone who makes a gift subscription.

You can, if you wish, take advantage of The Companion's special arrangement with McCall's Magazine, and by sending $2.10 get both publications for 1917. This makes two Christmas Presents for the price of one.

THE COUNTRY MUST INSURE ITSELF AGAINST INCAPACITY.

In his vigorous speech at Philadelphia on Monday night Mr. Hughes made an observation that should keep his countrymen thinking soberly every day until election morning, the seventh of November.

"We cannot say now in what particular sort of mess we shall find things in March next."

Here is room for disquieting speculation. The Government is in feeble hands. It is never prepared to act. In emergencies it does not know what to do, or how to begin. It is the sport of circumstances. It waits for something to turn up with a guilty feeling of incapacity to deal with untoward events.

LIBERTY. God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it.—Daniel Webster. Be Helpful. "Tis cheap and easy to destroy. There is not a joyful boy or innocent girl buoyant with fine purposes of duty in all the street full of eager and rosy faces, but a cynic can kill and dishearten with a single word. Despondency comes readily enough to the most sanguine. Yes, this is easy, but to help the young soul add energy, inspire hope and blow the coals into a useful flame, to redeem defeat by new thought, by firm action, that is not easy, that is the work of divine men.—R. W. Emerson. Why He Resembled His Parents. A bachelor friend of the young couple was being entertained at dinner, and during the evening he was presented by the proud mother to her infant son. "Now, Fred, which of us do you think he is like?" she asked gayly, holding up the baby for inspection. The guest viewed the tiny mite for a moment as he replied, "Well, of course intelligence has not really dawned in his countenance yet, but he's wonderfully like both of you!"—Youth's Companion. Got One, Anyhow. The accused was a beautiful woman. Under the circumstances her examination was purely a matter of form; still legal formalities had to be observed. "I understand," said the detective, "that during the absence of your husband you shot a burglar?" "I did," the beautiful lady admitted. "What became of him?" "Why, the other burglar took him away." "Which other burglar?" "The one I shot at."—New York Times. Neck of a Giraffe. In spite of the length of the giraffe's neck there are only seven joints in it, as in that of a man.

DEMAND WAS NOT FOR AN EIGHT HOUR DAY. "It is said that the judgment of society has made the demand for the eight-hour day. This was not an eight-hour day, and the judgment of society had nothing to do with the proposition laid before congress and passed by congress. The proof of this is found in the bill itself, which proposes an investigation to find out whether Congress had any business to do the thing which it was asked to do, and which it did do."—Mr. Hughes in His Speech at Portland, Maine.
