FRIDAY, JANUARY 30, 1885.

With the last number of Bradstreet's came the index of volume X. It is a valuable publication, and no commercial writer ought to be without it.

ELI PERKINS is getting nervous over the Kansas story-tellers. He is looking to his laurels with the utmost apprehension. Give the old man a chance, however, and he'll be in on time.

The negro cadets are said to be doing pretty well in their classes at West Point this year. If the two there now come out of the academy with two un-cropped ears it will be about the average of the auricular possession of West Point colored cadets.

Look at the map and see how small a gap there is between Dallas and Athens. It will not be creditable to let it remain another season when the chart shows us what a grand net work of connection it gives us. The winter will soon be passed and then Dallas must take the field.

The Laredo Times has gone into the "funny business." It gets off the following: "Will the coming man work?" asked the professor of the high class in political economy, and the straggle-eyed girl at the head, snapped spasmodically: "He will if I get him, sure!"

The papers of the state are unanimous in their recommendations of Mr. GEORGE B. LOVING for postmaster in Fort Worth. The HERALD gives him its hearty endorsement, and only regrets that it cannot serve him in a more substantial manner than by mere words.

The Galveston News thinks everything said in opposition to the $750,000 grab "unmeaning stuff." It seems the river and harbor committee of congress did not think so. When the citizens of Galveston are called upon to pay excessive rates, they will not regard that "unmeaning stuff."

It is said that LEW WALLACE read GRANT'S article on Shiloh in Constantinople, and immediately took steps to answer the same. From present indications that article will be just about the worst tattered parchment by the time it is passed through the critic mill that was ever projected into space.

What has become of the Irish BLAINE and LOGAN club of Dallas? If they intend to form an incorporation they should do so at once, before the legislature repeals the incorporation law. They might unite with the committee of one hundred in San Antonio and the deep water men of Galveston and form a state society.

The Galveston News is seemingly as much surprised that the appropriation of only $750,000 was a defeat of the schemes of that city as the woman was who was informed she was the mother of twins. She asked who that meant, and was told she had given birth to two children. "Why?" she said; "I didn't know it."

The Houston Journal thinks the members of the senate who voted against the deep water swindle will not thank the Dallas HERALD for publishing their names, as they will be stared at and ridiculed by posterity. The "posterity" who will ridicule these gentlemen will be of the character that called ELIJAH "old bald head."

The Houston Age says: Galveston is not able to pay her police and other expenses for December. The city council of that city is liberal in offering EADS $100,000 for every foot of water he gets on the bar. It is like the man on his death-bed bequeathing his oldest and well-beloved son $200,000 when he didn't have a cent in the world.

The BLAIR bill will not become a law in our day and generation. If it should, the advocates of tariff reduction may as well hang their harps on the willows, and the south prepare for another impetus of carpet-bagging. Education is a good thing and should be discreetly dealt with. Never let it be the central idea of a corruption fund.

The Houston people would do well to put the tramps to work in the bayou, cleaning out the stumps and mud. A tramp who has to work in water waist deep for two or three days to pay a vagrant's fine will not be caught in that locality again. He will probably tell others of his "horrible luck." That kind of diet would not fatten him.

Two or three country weekly papers are very coarse in their remarks about the HERALD. They probably want a notice of themselves. The HERALD cannot afford to notice billingsgate and blackguardism, coming from any source. It will treat these journals with the same courtesy a true gentleman would extend to the lowest negro he meets upon the street.

It is twenty-eight miles from Denton to Decatur. It will cost $9,000 a mile to build and equip the road, which would amount to $252,000. Gens. DODGE will build the road between those two points if Dallas will take bonds enough to realize from them $150,000. In the above computation of cost the right-of-way is not considered, but it is conceded that Denton and Decatur will secure this.

It is honorable to the Irish people to see their truest, ablest and best men, including the priesthood, denounce the diabolical attempts of a few desperate zealots to destroy life and property by the clandestine, murderous and cowardly use of dynamite. Among many such utterances, Mr. O'NEILL, the Irish member of congress, from Missouri, aptly and tersely says: "No true friend of Ireland can condone such a crime for a moment. Reckless bloodshed and wholesale murder are the very worst weapons that could be used to secure Ireland's freedom. If there is any one thing that will give our oppressors an excuse for their continued denial to right the wrongs of Ireland, it is the senseless policy of dynamite fools."

The St. Louis & Texas railway is managed by a master hand. The following extract from a letter to General Passenger Agent Shelden speaks for itself, and gives good promise for the immediate future: "Our line, as you know, is narrow gauge, but aside from this fact we think we offer equal facilities to any of the broad gauge, and that the people of Texas are indebted to us to a great extent for the 3 cent per mile tariff which is now in effect, there can be no doubt. We are making preparations to change our line to a standard gauge, and hope before long to be even better able to compete with the systems which now mainly control the business in Texas."

TOM OCHILTREE telegraphs MAYOR FULTON, of Galveston, that the river and harbor committee, in granting $750,000, is a victory all along the line. Of course it is. Galveston wanted $7,750,000 and got less than 10 per cent. of that amount. She wanted all the appropriations from congress without contributing one cent from her own treasury, or by her people. Now she comes forward and agrees to give $10,000 per foot to CAPT. EADS for every foot of water gained. This will make taxes very high in that city. Is there any "unmeaning stuff" in this? is a question asked of the News?

Who doubts the fact that by a road to Athens, Dallas would be vastly benefited? How? say some. Simply by having a line to Athens, which will then connect with lines to every portion of the east and north. It is not necessary to explain this to men of intelligence any more than it is to point out the benefits of securing independent connection by building the short road from Denton to Decatur. What we want is independent lines, and now we have the golden opportunity of reaching every quarter of the east and northwest by lines that are and must be independent and competitive.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat says that ST. JOHN ought to be called "SEAK JOHN." After reviewing the whole ground, the HERALD don't think so. Mr. Globe-Democrat, nor do the people. ST. JOHN'S idea of enforcing prohibition on those who do not desire it, is bad, but there is no necessity for applying ugly names to a man simply because he shuts the doors against Republican office holders. Fight ST. JOHN some other way. He is not by many degrees as corrupt as the Republican national committee who would have corrupted him.

The following anecdote was related of an applicant for office under Mr. JEFFERSON'S administration. He was applying for a foreign mission; couldn't go; then wanted territorial judgeship, but failed; sunk in his demands to a bureau; then clerkship, and finally to an old pair of breeches. The story is an old one, but the HERALD will wager that the EADS organ in Galveston won't republish the same.

It is a property worth unless located among a progressive people? Nothing ventured nothing made. The road from Denton to Decatur would span our highway to the Panhandle and the extension of the Frunk or a southern road eventuate in our early connection with a gulf port. Property roods rapidly in value in Dallas when roads were being built and we want those happy times again.

C. P. HUNTINGTON, of the Central Pacific, has been elected to the exchange in New York. It was required that his name should be posted for two weeks. It was so done, and he seems to have run the gauntlet. Now we shall see what we shall see. The New Yorkers don't seem to know what he wants; neither do we in Dallas.

A SHARP advance occurred yesterday in the Wall street share market, on increased demand and advance in prices of coal and other favorable reports. The improvement is the most decided of any day this year.

MR. STEPHENS, of Beaumont, in the house, moved to have the official court stenographer made an office, and to be paid by the county. It is a good bill, but will not be passed.

MR. SPRINGER has taken a spring. He has sprung on the Galveston appropriation, and fresh water may prevail over salt.

DALLAS AND HER OPPORTUNITIES. There are times when leadership is especially needed in all departments. In the conduct of war it is especially observable in great emergencies, and very often have the very men appeared just at the right time and place. So conspicuous has been this sudden development of the necessary human agency to work out great results that on constantly hears the expression the some hero or statesman was raised up by Providence for the great work.

This truth is no less perceptible in peace than in war, nor in the financial world than in any other department of human action. In towns that are changing into large and extensive marts sometimes there arises a man in the exchange who will boldly take the lead in public affairs, and by his own genius and energy beat down all opposition and surpass all competition. Without reflecting upon any man or set of men, it appears by the HERALD that such a captain would be hailed with intense delight here in Dallas just at the present time. The necessity for action is not mitigated by reason of the stringency of the times. On the contrary, it is the more imperatively called for. The hints dropped in the DODGE interview a few days since, the prospective news of Sabine Pass as a prospective harbor, the strong probability of the St. Louis & Texas narrow gauge being changed to standard, and giving an outlet into the piney-leaf region of south and east Texas, all are circumstances demanding the prompt attention. Let us lose none of the opportunities. Let the short line between Denton and Decatur be set on foot at once, and a general interest manifested by the people at this particular juncture.

It should not be necessary to hold up to public remembrance the notable instances of great cities being built up by intelligent zeal and well directed efforts, Chicago and Kansas City are ever before us. The people of those grand metropolitan successes were aroused and led by a few bold spirits who braved the danger of present bankruptcy to attain the goal of future eminence. Let us have some of this electric motive power in Dallas. Let property owners unite with the mass of business men, and liberally, and in these enterprises which can but result in the greatest benefit to both city and county. Now is the time for the initiation of projects that will, in their realization advance Dallas not only to the first place of importance in Texas but in the south. The HERALD would like to see our thinking men bestir themselves and our men of business drop for a season every consideration save that of the public weal. And it further asserts that never was so opportune a time for a man of brain and will power to immortalize him and glorify Dallas. Who will be the coming man?

NOTHING FOR DEPOSITORS IN THE BROKEN GALVESTON BANK. A History of the Fraudulent Financing that Heads Melodramatically Speculation in Futures and its Bitter Results.

GALVESTON, Jan. 29.—An investigation probes deeper and deeper into the financial affairs of the broken firm of Wolsten, Wells & Vidor, the more hopeless becomes the prospect of its creditors ever realizing a cent. There will be no assignment, simply from the fact that the firm has nothing to assign. The statement made in a dispatch last night, that Wolsten and Vidor, the surviving members of the firm had transferred assets aggregating $3,000,000 to a class of a few preferred creditors is erroneous. Mr. Vidor, in conversation with the associated press correspondent to-day, stated that all had gone in the crash, and that to his knowledge none was contemplated. Touching the affairs of the firm, who were and who were not its creditors, he declined to speak.

Mr. Wolsten, in conversation with a friend, said he was irrevocably ruined and did not possess a dollar in the world, that all had gone in the crash. Creditors of the firm are arriving from the interior on every train to see what can be recovered from the wreck, only to meet disappointment and a statement of discreditable failure. The failure of this firm, and the Island City Savings bank has been the most disastrous in the history of the city of Galveston, and a class that can fly aloft to stand the losses.

Wolsten, Wells & Vidor was universally regarded as one of the staunchest and conservative in their methods of business. Their credit, until a few months ago, was almost unimpaired. They were in the habit of consigning their cotton to them unconditionally, and no house in their line had a better reputation for prompt and honorable dealing in cotton futures. At first their operations were cautious, but they became more reckless, and when the market was with a seeming disregard of consequences, using the money of their consignors, cotton, which they drew upon them cashing a statement with the depositors' money in the Island City Savings bank, and their liabilities reached $3,000,000. Instead of a strict adherence to their legitimate line of business, they were still busily engaged in speculative trading, and a list of the creditors, but it is doubtful if it will be made public.

NAVY NEWS. NAVAHO, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Last Saturday in the Lessons Creek neighborhood near Courtney, Mr. B. T. Butler was drowned. His remains were recovered on Sunday and will be buried in Illinois, Kentucky, where his father lives. He left a wife and four children. He was 45 years old.

M. J. B. Farris lost his youngest child yesterday afternoon, a son, 4 months old. It is the fourth child, all boys, he has lost in the last few years.

J. H. Baker has been sick some time, and his condition to-day is unfavorable.

Next Sunday the Baptist church will elect their minister for the year.

The Hebrew cemetery has adopted the measure to build a synagogue soon.

The telephone line from here to Anderson was broken by the late freeze, but has been repaired.

The financial failure in Galveston had only a slight effect here.

Next month many citizens here will vote in the great election in New Orleans. So far, only a few have gone.

Business is dull, but everybody is hopeful.

Weather cloudy and cool.

Very little farm work done in consequence of the cold and wet weather.

Mrs. Belle Malson, nee Hicklin, died this morning at Healing Springs, West Virginia, and was buried at Covington. Her remains are now in transit to Austin, Texas, where they will be reburied on Friday, the 30th of January.

A Meritorious Mexican Matron. SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—A memorial was introduced in the Texas senate to-day for the relief of Mrs. Candelaria Villanueva, of this city. She is Mexican, as her name implies, over 50 years of age, and in great want, showing yet, however, the remnants of a once splendid life. She asks for relief at the hands of the state, because through all the years of war for Texas independence she was true to the cause, spent her means like water in assisting Texas soldiers, and on more than one occasion suffered great hardships and indignities for them. She was James Bowie's nurse when he lay sick and died in the southwestern room of the Alamo, tended him faithfully, and last on her bosom. She attended the grand ball before the storming of the Alamo, and heard Santa Anna's historic remark, "The Texans shall be shown no quarter." She is the woman who reported the declaration to David Crockett, and to this fact, as much as any other, she is indebted for her life. She is a devoted wife, and a mother of five children, and she has not lived a day in ease, and die in this, the city she did so much to defend.

THE BUSINESS BUDGET.

STOCKS GO BOUNDING UPWARD.

Because Dealers Raised the Price of Coal, and Freight Rates Were Advanced, and the Senate Made a Favorable Railroad Report.

Tone of the Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Governments generally firm. Sales $200,000; 4's reported at $1.22.

Railways firm. State securities dull.

The stock market was more active to-day than for any previous day for a week, and dealing throughout was attended with much spirit.

There were a few slight reactions at intervals, and a decline took place of 1/2 per cent. on Northern Pacific, but the general course of prices was upward, and an advance of 1/2 to 1 per cent. was established.

Anthracite coal stock was the most prominent feature of speculation throughout the day and the second greatest improvement.

Of these, Lackawanna attracted the most attention, prices in Pennsylvania coal companies of 5 to 10 cents per ton, and also from the prospect that this action would be followed by other companies.

The most advanced advance was in Manhattan consolidated, which rose 2 to 70. The general market was firm, but did not move up much until the close of business, when the demand for stock was widely distributed.

There was a rise of 1/2 to 1 1/2 per cent. on Delawares & Hudson advanced 1/2 to 3/4; Erie 1/2 to 3/4; Northern Pacific, 1/2 to 3/4; Lake Shore, 1/2 to 3/4; Missouri Pacific, 1/2 to 3/4; Western Union, 1/2 to 3/4; Louisville & Nashville, 1/2 to 3/4; Burlington & Quincy, 1/2 to 3/4.

The market was either at or within 1/2 to 1 per cent. of the best figures of the day. Northern Pacific, preferred, recovered from 33 1/2 to 37 1/2. Compared with last night's closing prices are 1/2 to 3/4 per cent. higher.

Oregon Improvement declined 1/2 to 2; Oregon Navigation 1/2 to 3/4; fall of 1/2 to 3/4, and returned to 41. C. P. Huntington, of the Central Pacific, was elected to-day a member of the New York stock exchange. Transactions, $12,000 shares.

Failures. AT BURNETT, TEXAS. BURNETT, Jan. 29.—Jones & Hicks, who were attached yesterday by Dodd, Brown & Co. and Tennant & Walker, of St. Louis, made an assignment to-day for the benefit of the rest of their creditors. Liabilities $15,000; nominal assets $17,000.

The stock of groceries of Herndon & Co., which was attached some time ago by William Lewis & Co. of Galveston, was sold to-day to Leon Lewis of this city for $500.

Railroad News. A BREAK REPAIRED. HOUSTON, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Travel has been renewed between here and New Orleans; that is, the Neches river break has been repaired, and trains are on time.

REDUCING FORCES. HOUSTON, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The railroads here are reducing their forces every day.

Burnett's Quarry Interests. BURNETT, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Capt. Smith, civil engineer of the Austin & Northwestern railroad, is in the city for the purpose of making a preliminary survey from the granite quarry to the granite quarry. A special train is expected to arrive here Sunday, bringing a delegation of senators and a committee of the capitol syndicate for the purpose of visiting the granite quarries.

A Broken Cable. NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The manager of the Direct Cable company says: "Our cable is broken 300 miles east of Nova Scotia. It will be repaired immediately. It is expected to be in working order next week. We have made arrangements for business with another cable."

THE CRIMINAL CALENDAR. HILLSBORO, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—This morning a negro man who was left here by Seils Bros', circus last fall, had a difficulty with Mr. Robert Foote, who superintends the Hillsboro hotel. The negro assaulted Foote then with a large pocket knife, and as Foote was unarmed, he retired. The negro told him he would go to Fresno, Texas, get his pistol and two partners and come back and kill him. In the mean time Foote prepared himself with a Colt's pistol, and when he saw the negro returning with his two partners, he advanced and opened fire on them. He shot three times, two of the shots striking the negro who brought on the difficulty, and killed him instantly. The other two negroes ran at the first shot, and cannot be found. He was a tenant on Humble's land, and the dispute arose concerning his right to cut timber. The neighborhood is much excited.

Almost a Jail Break. SAN ANGELO, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Tom Jones, who was jailed here a few weeks since for alleged horse-stealing, in the company, and two negroes named Charles Mills and Charles Golden, came very near making their escape last night by sawing the bars of the cell with a saw made from a piece of steel taken from the sole of one of their boots. Their plans were acknowledged this morning, and they say, had they gotten out they intended stealing a horse, and skipping the country.

He is Thought to be a Bad Crook. ANGLETON, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—A burglar, giving his name as Van Marry, was captured in the city at a late hour last night, and was to-day taken to Colorado City, where he is wanted for robbing the commercial establishment.

Murry is apparently an eastern criminal, and is supposed to be a member of a gang that has been operating in the towns along the Texas & Pacific railroad and into Mexico. He is wanted at several points.

Mysterious Case of Poison at Houston. HOUSTON, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—This morning breakfast, James A. Sweetney, a well known citizen and a fine painter, drank coffee, which he spoke of as being very bitter. He got up from the table, walked to his place of business, and in ten minutes was a corpse. His sister was with him at the time. Seven minutes after his first sensation of pain he was dead. Having been known by every one, and being in perfect health, the announcement created much excitement on the street. He had been here eleven years at the head of his line of business—painting. Three theories exist: Accidental poisoning, suicide, or poisoning at the hands of unknown parties. An autopsy is being held, which will be completed to-morrow.

The Fire Record. ROASTED HORSE FLESH. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—A fire in the livery stables of Charles E. Smith completely destroyed the building, and thirty-nine horses were burned to death at HONOLULU, N. Y.

RONDOUT, Jan. 29.—In fire last night the principal losers were: Sampson opera-house; insured for $30,000; and Thomas Burke, $1,000.

E. Sherer, $7,000 on hotel. The fire started in the Sampson opera-house and communicated to E. Sherer's hotel adjoining.

Minor losses will run the total up to $50,000.

A BANK BURNS. RIFON, Wis., Jan. 29.—A fire in the Ripon national bank last night resulted in the destruction of the bank building, two adjoining stores and several offices. Loss, $18,000. Partially insured.

A MINE GONED. CINCINNATI, Jan. 29.—The Times-Star New Straitsville, Ohio, special says: A mine at Plumber Hill was fired this morning. There is no hope of extinguishing the fire. The mine is valued at $200,000. Additional guards were brought here yesterday, which is supposed to be the cause of this incendiary.

THE BURNING MINE. NEW STRAITSVILLE, Ohio, Jan. 29.—Mine No. 5, better known as the Plumber Hill mine, was fired this morning. The mine is valued at $200,000, and there is little hope of extinguishing the fire. It is also intimated that it was in the plan to fire mine No. 35, which is expected to be done to-night. Large numbers of miners are going to work, which, it is supposed, has crossed the lawless element to the deed of last night. The joint legislative committee to investigate the cause of the strike in Hocking Valley has left for a trip to the mines, and it is thought the firing of the mine will have a tendency to prejudice the cause of the miners.

HOUSTON, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—A small fire this morning destroyed the residence of George Davis. Loss, $1,200. Incendiarism is suspected.

A DAY'S NEWS FROM WACO. THE CITY IN NEED OF "SUGAR."

Several Notes Overdue and no Cash With Which to Liquidate—Looking to the Bond Issue for Relief—Mr. Brooks Dead.

WACO, Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Prosperous as Waco is, the city government is nearly always in a strait for money. The mayor had the council together to discuss ways and means to meet several notes, no over due, held by creditors of the city. There is no money on hand, and it will be necessary to borrow from city banks at the rate of 1 per cent. a month until a small batch of bonds can be negotiated and sold. These to the amount of $20,000 are now being engraved. Taxes will not come in until April, and altogether the city government finds it self pretty hard up. It is contended, however, by the municipal authorities, that this state of affairs need not last long, and that in a few months, by the issuance of bonds, based on the $5,000,000 taxable values here, Waco's paper can be made to sell at par.

Mrs. Josephine Brooks, wife of Mr. J. Brooks, a lady prominent in social circles here, died this morning of pneumonia. This disease is alarmingly prevalent and fatal here, superinduced by the wet and severe weather that has prevailed for some time.

Ladies approve of your smoking "Little Joker."

The Fairfield Recorder says: "If Galveston should send deep water in her bay that wharf company will be one of the biggest paying monopolies in the land. The interior merchants, however, who have shipments made that way will have to grin and bear it, until the wharf company dies of old age and limitation." It is that very company that has driven from Galveston trade which of itself would have made deep-water. Should it continue in existence the people of Texas will pay again more to the company in excessive tolls than it would receive to make deep water at a half dozen Texas ports.—Austin Statesman.

THE BEST

Hair restorative in the world is HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. It cures all diseases of the scalp, and stimulates the hair glands to healthy action. It stops the falling of the hair; prevents its turning gray; cures baldness, and restores youthful color and freshness of appearance to heads already white with age. The following are a few illustrations of what can be done by

HALL'S Vegetables Sicilian HAIR RENEWER:

Mrs. Rebecca, 244 Franklin Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I was attacked by hair-falling out so rapidly that I soon became quite bald. I used HALL'S Hair Restorer, and my hair grew again, and I was brought back to my natural color, and I was a girl."

Mr. Keeling, an old farmer, near Fresno, Cal., had severely bald hair, and what little there was of it had become nearly white. One bottle of HALL'S Hair Restorer gave him a thick, healthy head of hair, as brown and fresh as he ever had.

Mrs. A. T. Wall, Greenfield, Chester, Vt., writes: "I have found the greatest benefit from the use of HALL'S Hair Restorer. It has restored my hair, which was rapidly falling out, and returned its natural color to faded and gray hair."

Mrs. E. E. Elliott, Glenville, W. Va., writes: "The bottle of HALL'S Hair Restorer restored my hair to its natural, youthful color."

No injurious substances enter into the composition of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER, and it is not a dye. Its vegetable ingredients render it the highest degree beneficial to the scalp as a preventive of disease. Its effects are natural and lasting, and it does not make the hair dry and brassy, like the so-called restoratives compounded with alcohol.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS

Is, in four respects, superior to all others. 1st—It will produce a rich, natural color, brown or black, as desired. 2d—The color so produced is permanent, cannot be washed out, and will not fade, fading in which it comes in contact. 3d—It is a single preparation, and more convenient of application than any other hair or whisker dye. 4th—It contains no deleterious ingredients, as do many preparations offered for like use.
