to his friend recently. "It's a lie," returned the latter. "He asked me to put a junk lead on such an occasion as usual I took my subject, 'What Steps are to be Taken Next? And we did talk. We got back to our stopping place at about 5:00 and we spent our second night in Wharton. Money morning I was called early and had to get busy as I was behind on my work at 8 o'clock I was called on by Mr. J. P. Boone in his Willys Six for the purpose of motoring about the town, but the old man had to refuse to my regret, because we were already behind with our work. Breakfast over, we got down to business and for three long hours we used some pen and paper at 11 o'clock, I packed my baggage for the West Bound S. P., going toward the setting sun. I am glad to speak for some of the business places and some of the farmers of this community. The town of Wharton with a colored population of nearly 1,000 and we must say that the half voting strength of the town is colored, the people with few exceptions own their homes, they have three grocery stores, a millinery, three restaurants and a blacksmith shop, a drug store, a dental office, two tailor shops, a real estate office, a sanitarium, six churches and a big school which employs six teachers. The colored people through with our work, we have helped carried a $10,000.00 school bond and are to get $25,000.00 for a new building.

THE FREEDMAN AID SOCIETY AND THE SUPPRESSION OF LYNCHING.

Annual Meeting, January 14, 1919. It was presented to leading members of the Senate and House of Representatives in Washington during the closing days of the recent Congress by a committee of the Board consisting of Bishops W. A. Quayle of St. Louis; F. D. Lee, Atlanta, Ga.; W. P. Thirkield, New Orleans, La.; Lawyers C. L. Swain and Lewis N. Gatch of Cincinnati, Ohio; Revs. John H. Boag, D. and F. J. Macvesty, D. The presentation of the memorial in the last Congress will be renewed in the next, when an attempt is to be vigorously made to have a federal law enacted.

It is felt that President Wilson will approve of such a bill in view of his pronouncement in condemnation of lynching issued during the war. Leading Southern men in admitted and editorial chair have admitted that the only recourse toward effectually stopping mob violence is to make such a federal offense punishable by a federal statute. They have the support of this measure by a Board representing so great an influence as the Methodist Episcopal church is worthy of note as one of the strongest influences yet brought into action.

The line with movements in Tennessee, Texas and other states to put own this curse upon democratic America. If America is to exercise world influence never before known in world politics, it must be free of all stain from which it proposes to free others.

Columbia, S. C., April 17.—The executive board of the Baptist State convention of South Carolina, representing a membership of 266,000 in a recent meeting formed a $10,000 corporation to operate a weekly newspaper in the interest of the church work. The state Baptists will also raise $50,000 for education.

St. James A. M. E. church began its rally on April 7th closing out on Sunday night, April 14th. The pastor and visitor responded well. Collection each night ran from $1.00 to $5.10. Sunday, each member paid from $1.00 to $10.00. We had visitors from Palestine and other towns and the co-operation of Jacksonville, making the rally a success. Total amount raised $170.13 to the pastor and churches of the city we extend hearty thanks to all. Yours in Christ, REB. B. L. SIMPSON, Pastor.

RECORD BREAKING CHURCH RALLY AT GALVESTON.

Galveston, Texas, April 15, 1919. Last Sunday at the Avenue L Baptist church, Galveston, Texas, Rev. H. M. Williams, pastor, saw the culmination of a financial drive which smashed the records of church financing for many miles. The rally, drive had been on for five or six weeks, only, and closed on Sunday night amid great enthusiasm from both members and friends. At the conclusion of reports there lay upon the table in cold cash the round sum of $2,681.31.

SOME POPULAR MISCONCEPTIONS CONCERNING TUBERCULOSIS.

That it is hereditary. This is absolutely untrue. That grown people are susceptible to it. Grown people break down with tuberculosis, but rarely "take" the germ is implanted in childhood. That a person who has tuberculosis should be shunned or avoided. Tuberculosis is different from some other contagious diseases in that one who has it, if careful, need not be a danger to others. That it cannot be cured. Thousands on thousands of people are living and working today because of having taken the "cure" who otherwise would have been helpless or dead. That medicine will cure it. Fresh air, good food, rest and optimism are the only medicines that should be used except on a physician's prescription. "Patent" medicines are dangerous. That one with tuberculosis should go West and Rough It. Following this advice in thousands have died. That no one will help or advise the tuberculous. Call on your County or City Health Officer, Local Anti-Tuberculosis Society, or write to the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Carlsbad, Texas, and you will be given authoritative advice.

FORCED TO TELL.

"You seem to hate work." "I hate it yet," replied Plodding Pete. "But I'm going to keep at it. If you get in the habit of loafing now some member of the I. W. W. is liable to step up any minute and call you brother."—Washington, Star.

Where Pat Was. In a small village in Ireland the mother of a soldier met the village priest, who asked her if she had had bad news. "Sure, I have," she said. "Pat has been killed." "Oh, I am very sorry," said the priest. "Did you receive word from the War Office?" "No," she said, "I received word from himself." The priest looked perplexed, and said, "But how is that?" "Sure," she said, "there is the letter; read it for yourself." The letter said, "Death Mother—I am now in the Holy Land."—The Arologist.

He Won. A party of gentlemen at a hotel were telling stories one night recently of famous shots and how many quails, partridges, ducks and other birds had been killed at a single discharge. After listening to what seemed a willful exaggeration by different narrators, a stranger who was present volunteered his experience of his only use of the fatal double-barreled gun as follows: "I went into the field one day to try gunning. The only game discovered was an immense flock of blackbirds. I should say there were 10,000 in the flock. Slowly I crawled up to them, and when not more than four rods away the birds rose in a solid mass. I fired both barrels, and how many do you think I killed?" Different guesses were made by the party, ranging from twenty to a hundred. "Not one," said the stranger, "but I went out with my brother to look for the results, and picked up four bushels of legs. I had shot a little under." This was the last story told.

Fired for Swindling. "I hear the grocer fired you for swindling him," remarked John Mc-
