"The Heart of Humanity"

THE HEART OF HUMANITY, starring Dorothy Phillips and supported by Walt Whitman, William Stoval, Robert Anderson, Frank Braidwood, George Hackathorn, Gloria Joy, Margaret Mann and Pat O'Malley.

In a little Canadian village lives Nanette, the ward of Father Michael. She is engaged to John, son of the widow Patricia. John is one of four other brothers, all of whom adore the little girl. John returns from college, picking upon the way as a traveling companion, Oscar Strang; John and Nanette are overjoyed to be re-united, but their happiness is clouded by Strang, who is attracted to Nanette and makes love to her. Nanette, however remains true to John and repulses the attentions of Strang. Then comes the war. News of the opening hostilities comes on the wedding day of John and Nanette. John and four other sons enlist for service with the Canadian forces. One after another all but John are killed and misery comes into the home of the widow Patricia.

Then Nanette's child comes to soften the grief of the mother and the anxiety of the wife. Finally the fifth son of the widow enlists. John's letters home tell of the sufferings endured by French and Belgian children in the war and Nanette finally determines to go to their aid. She enlists in the Red Cross and is assigned to duty in a convent in France. She sees her husband, now an aviator, but soon afterward he is brought down inside the German lines and is made a prisoner.

In the meantime Oscar Strang becomes an officer in the German Army. In the advance on Paris, the Germans take the convent in which Nanette is on duty. Strang attacks her and terrible fight develops. She succeeds finally in escaping to another son, and saves the day.

Meanwhile, John escapes from the German prisoner camp and in the uniform of a German soldier whom he has killed, starts for the convent. Nanette, safe for the time being behind a barred door, stands in horror as Strang pounds on the door outside. She grasps a knife determined to plunge it into his bosom if the door yields.

John, after killing two German guards, reaches the room in which Strang is struggling to open the door. There is a fight, and he kills Strang. Then he forces the door open to find that his wife has stabbed herself. She does not die, however, and recovers after several weeks in a hospital. Nanette is persuaded to go back home, and there is a happy re-union. A story of love that passeth all understanding. A great romantic picture you will never forget. Bring your whole family to see it. Love can never lose its own. Love of the mother for her children binds the throne of God to his footstool upon the earth. Love, it is which triumphs over every evil and restores the world to tranquil peace. These and greater loves than these are centered in "The Heart of Humanity." This picture was shown to thousands at the Hippodrome. Every one should see this soul stirring drama.
