Dunbar High Will Run Whole Term Okmulgee, Okla., Sept. 30.—Once more the spirit of fair play asserted itself in Okmulgee, Okla., through the recent O. K. placed on the estimate of the Board of Education for the running of Dunbar High School which action sets at rest any thought of short terms and permits a raise of all salaries. The statement was made by a prominent member of said Excise Board, that if Dunbar needed more money before the term closes and the matter is brought before them that the needed amount will be transferred and the school permitted to go unhampered through the term. Principal W. H. Fort, when interviewed relative to this pleasing move on the part of his Board, stated that twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) has been given Dunbar High while seventy-two thousand ($72,000) dollars has been granted for the Colored schools of the county including the city schools. Supt. N. O. Hopkins, the efficient head of the county schools and who served for more than ten years as the head of the city schools, is able to look both ways in doing what he can for the schools of the county. As a member of the Excise Board he has spoken for a generous outlay for education. Principal Fort has a faculty of twenty-two teachers selected from the best schools of the country and hopes to do much toward lifting the standard. Plans are being laid by the Board of Education and Supt. H. S. Bruner for the erection, in the near future, of a building to be used as a Vocational High School. The carrying out of this plan will give Okmulgee one of the best equipped systems for the education of her Colored population in the state. We trust that the coming session of the legislature will so modify the law that this plan and the plans of other can be carried out.

Madam N. A. Franklin School of Beauty Culture of Houston, Texas, has recently awarded diplomas to sixty-three women of the race, who have completed the course as outlined and taught by this distinguished beauty culturist. In the number of graduates are many women from other states, as well as Texas, who have already embarked in business and are enjoying a lucrative patronage. Madame Franklin's system of beauty work offers the greatest opportunity to industrious women of the race who really want to enable themselves to make an independent living. When a lady finishes the course in beauty culture as prescribed by the Madame Franklin's School of Beauty Culture she is capable of going to any state, city or community and making good doing the work for either white Colored or white.

Madame Franklin's work is a blessing to the race, in that it affords opportunities to the great masses of our women with a limited education, as well as those with a higher education, to engage in a pleasing and profitable profession. It would be a splendid idea for every community to have a Franklin operator. The Madame is now organizing her fall and winter classes, and has a special proposition to offer those desiring to take up the work, provided they will write or call to see her at 805 Prairie Avenue, Houston, Texas, at once.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 30.—When Solomon Harper was called to the colors, via the selective service, he wouldn't read nor write, and was forced to sell his clothes to enable him to travel from this city to Rochester, where he had registered for the draft. Today Harper is registered again, but this time at Syracuse University, where he has been awarded a government scholarship. Harper now reads and writes—he has taught in the army—and prepared for Syracuse at New York Electrical School, as a vocational soldier. He was a first sergeant when he was invalided home after being gassed and wounded "over there."

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Miss Jane Hunter, founder and head of the Phyllis Wheatley Association, home for self-supporting Colored girls in Cleveland, was here recently en route South on a tour of Southern Colored schools. The Phyllis Wheatley Home at Cleveland is one of the largest achievements ever made by a Colored Woman. Starting with nothing, Miss Hunter now has a home for Colored girls valued at $5,000, modern, in all appointments, and accommodating 100 young self-supporting Colored girls, and with moral and religious environments. Miss Hunter's next visit will be to Tuskegee, and her last, en route back to Cleveland, will be Hampton Institute.

SOMETHING VERY LATE. A $500,000 OIL COMPANY.
For sometime the oil situation has been brewing in Travis County, to the extent that it has caused considerable excitement in the community eight (8) miles south-east of Austin.
A number of oil men in various parts of the United States have been prospecting in this vicinity and leased all the lands they possibly could lease.
In a community near an old Indian landmark, known as Pilot Knob, is the latest oil vicinity, of which Chas. D. Madison is the sole owner.
Various oil companies have been trying to lease this particular oil farm and have become so enthused over this land that they have offered the owner better than twenty ($20.00) dollars per acre and 8 per cent royalty for the lease of same. This offer, of an unusually price for oil lease aroused suspicion and Mr. Madison immediately notified his brothers of conditions.
W. G. Madison of Ames, Iowa; T. B. Madison, Dallas; H. G. and C. D. Madison of Austin, the Brothers held a conference recently and in said conference decided to employ an expert geologist to investigate this said farm. After spending several days collecting data and securing all information necessary the special geologist pronounced one of the greatest lakes of oil found in the Southland.
After receiving such information from this special geologist, who has located many and various wells in Oklahoma, and in other oil fields, the Madison brothers decided to and organized an oil company, known as the Capitol City Oil Company and refused to lease any part of this wonderful track of land to any oil companies other than the Capitol City Oil Company. Owned and controlled by the Colored Man. The said land is clear of incumbrance.
This is the largest Oil Company ever organized in Dallas and possibly the southland and Colored people will be given a fair chance to invest and reap the benefit of this wonderful discovery. General office and headquarters will be in Austin and a number of branch offices will be opened. AS SOON AS POSSIBLE WE WILL BEGIN THE DRILLING OF THE WELLS.
An eastern company (white) has already drilled a well in a few feet of our farm.
