

Death of Maj. Henry Williams and Mrs. Williams His Wife.

On Wednesday, the 13th inst., this community was painfully shocked to hear of the death of Maj. HENRY W. WILLIAMS, one of its highly esteemed and most useful citizens; his illness, pneumonia, carried him off in a week after the attack. On the day of his decease, his wife was attacked with the same disease, and being already feeble from long infirmity, and overcome by sorrow for the loss of her husband, she rapidly sank under it, and died on Friday evening, 25th. These two worthy persons, although children, have nevertheless left relatives and friends who will cherish their memories. Maj. WILLIAMS was distinguished for his honesty and purity of character, his public spirit and Christian virtues; he seemed to inherit the noble nature and many qualities that distinguished his ancestral relative, Colonel WILLIAMS, of King's Mountain memory. He was a true friend, a pure patriot and tried Christian, not without his business, fervent in spirit, serving God and his fellow-men in his day and generation. Mrs. WILLIAMS was a meek and humble Christian, and devoted to her domestic duties—the greatest ornament of woman. Both had long been members of the Baptist Church.

Financial Policy of Congress. Proposed benefit to bankers and capitalists and increased burdens on the people.

There is nothing so cunning as capital, it inspires its owners generally with a shrewdness to make money out of public calamities, national debts, high taxation, &c. It usually controls the great city journals, it usually controls the course of the minor journals in miter cities and country localities. Nothing exhibits more the cunning of capital than the high sounding and so called patriotic and debt and tax reducing funding bill which has passed the Senate of the United States, which will be loudly defended, of course. The bill proposes to fund a large portion of the public debt, on long time, at a lower rate of interest; and, so far, looks as if the welfare of the country had something to do with it. But this part of the bill is only the outside, seemingly the mere scaffolding that conceals the dagger that is to stab the tax payer, and common people of the United States deeper than ever.

The New York Herald, one of the strongest independent journals in the world, has demonstrated that the bill utterly disregards the interest of the tax payers, and of the people generally. We make room for the following extract from the Herald:

"As usual in bills of the kind, the most nefarious portion is smuggled into the very last section, which provides for an increase of four hundred million dollars to the bonded interest-bearing debt of our country and about forty-one million dollars per annum additional subsidy to the national banks.

Under its provisions national banking associations may absorb the 400 million dollars of greenbacks now outstanding, and by depositing them in the national Treasury to be encashed, receive in return therefor seven hundred and twenty million dollars in gold-bearing bonds and currency—four hundred millions of the former and three hundred and twenty millions of the latter, the one bringing four per cent gold from the people's Treasury, and the other whatever interest the rapacity of national bankers may please to extort—not less than eight per cent. on an average. In short, section nine of the Funding bill is worth, if it becomes a law, about $41,000,000 per annum to the national banks that will certainly organize under its ample provisions.

It is difficult to find language to properly characterize such a proposition. We are confident it will never pass the House. Instead of adding to the national banks, those already in existence should be legislated out. Let the section be reversed or struck out entirely."

If the Bank men are to gain forty millions annually by the bill, there is fearful danger of its passing the House, but we concur in the hope that the objectionable clause will be stricken out.

The Peabody Schools.—Third Quarter Closing.

These schools, which are such a benefit and blessing to the community, is about closing their third quarter. We do not see how we could do without these institutions for in Greenville all children go to school through the agency of the Peabody.

We are informed that a number of subscribers have not yet paid their third instalment, this is important for them to do, as the Board of Commissioners are obliged to have money—fidei, must have—or it cannot open the fourth quarter. Let delinquents bear this in mind and pay at once to Mr. RIELLY. The fourth instalment is also now due, and Mr. H. C. MARLEY is ready to receive the same. It is out of the question for the schools to be carried on unless the amounts subscribed are paid. Mr. RIELLY will call next week, so let all be prepared with the money.

The Board of Commissioners will meet on Thursday, 7th of April, at Mr. HOVEY'S store at 4, P. M., at which meeting the members are requested to attend.

A Valuable Present from a Friend residing in the Country.

Our esteemed friend, Rev. C. B. STEWART, Pastor of Fairview Church, in this County, has very kindly sent us a Ham of Bacon, which is as pretty and round as any we ever saw; it is from one of his Chester Whites, slaughtered by him in the winter, and no doubt will prove acceptable to the palate. He will please accept our thanks.

Mr. STEWART still has a number of fine Chester White Pigs for sale, which he will dispose of at prices to suit the times; they are full bred, and those desiring this thrifty stock should secure one at once, before he commences to fatten them. This gentleman was one of the first who introduced the breed into Greenville County.

A Beautiful Store.

Mr. THOMAS BRUCE has moved into his store, the Lovehead building, which he has recently had fitted up. All the partitions have been removed and set back, and the whole fixed up in a style that is inviting and agreeable. Now it is one of the prettiest stores in town. His shelves are also well supplied with all kinds of Groceries.

Mr. BRUCE is prepared to entertain all of his friends who may call to look at his store or who wish to purchase.

Returned.

The Junior upon his return, finding that the Senior had furnished account of all the incidents worth recording, and also finding plenty of matters claiming his attention in the printing office, makes brief by saying that his visit to Charleston and Augusta was very pleasant and agreeable. He found the Charleston Hotel as well kept as ever, that it is in a most superior manner, and those connected with it as polite and hospitable as could be desired. Messrs. A. BURTRICK and W. S. MILLER, are safe hands to entrust one's self to, and will keep their hotel amongst the leading ones of the South. The Greenville and Columbia and South Carolina Railroad officials are also very kind and polite; and the comfortable chairs to recline on, on the latter, by those taking the night train are popular, as they travel all night and wake up in the morning refreshed and invigorated.

The merchants of Charleston are ever ready to deal with the up country, and they ask that Greenville and adjoining Counties continue their favors to them. Business was not very brisk, but every body was hopeful. Country dealers were a little tardy, expecting a still greater reduction in the price of goods.

Whilst in Charleston we took a severe cold, accompanied by extreme hoarseness, which prevented us from attending any of the City amusements or Sunday services, which we regretted.

Business was dull in Augusta. We stopped at W. C. HARRIS'S Globe Hotel, which is well kept.

The Depot is Full of Goods.

On a visit to the Depot of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad at this place yesterday, we found it almost crammed and jammed with Goods and freight, in the shape of boxes, barrels, hogheads, bundles, and in almost every conceivable form. Most of it was for our merchants here, but a good deal is marked to parties in Western North Carolina, Pickens County, and other places. Messrs. McKAY and McKAY are kept quite stirring, getting this meddled accumulation out of the way, in order to have room to turn around, and therefore keep the Draymen on the run. We hope this state of things will continue for some time.

The Anderson Intelligencer.—A New Dress.

It gives us pleasure to record the prosperity of our nearest neighbor, the Anderson Intelligencer, which came out last week printed with new type, and presenting an appearance that cannot fail to please all of its friends. The Intelligencer is one of our very best weekly exchanges, being edited with ability and printed with unexceptionable correctness. We not only wish the paper success, but invoke the choicest prosperity upon Mr. JAS. A. HORT personally. Subscription $2.50 a year.

Charleston Advertisers.

A number of cards from business men of the above City appear in our columns this week. They are all responsible and reliable men, and attention is asked to each and all of them. We annex a list.

The Sumter News.

This enterprising go-ahead paper, published at Sumter, S. C., by Messrs. DARR and ORTENZ—two practical printers—announces a new Original Story, from the pen of the talented author JOHN WYNNERBROOK KEVIN entitled The Mysterious Marriage, to be commenced on the 14th of April, which will be followed during the year by other Original Stories by the same distinguished writer.

Now is a good time to subscribe for the News. Terms $3.00 in advance—two copies $5.00. Address as above.

Death of an Aged Lady.

Mrs. HARRIET BAKER, wife of Mr. JOHN W. BAKER, residing in the lower part of this County, departed this life on Friday last, and was near seventy years of age. The event occurred very suddenly, although she had not been sick much, having complained but little. In the discharge of the various duties of life, she gained the esteem of those who knew her, and her numerous relatives and friends are consoled with the reflection of her useful and well-spent life.

Dissolution of Copartnerships.—Mr. STALL Goes Alone.

The firm of STENHOUSE & TERRY having been dissolved, our friend, Mr. THOMAS H. STALL, will continue merchandising at the old stand, on his own account. His numerous friends and neighbors will be rejoiced to know that they are not to lose him, and that his genial countenance will still enliven them, and we congratulate them.

Mr. STALL left yesterday morning on a visit to Charleston for the purpose of purchasing his Spring Stock, and when he returns will come prepared to sell goods at proper prices. His integrity of character is well known.

CHERRY.—Our efficient and worthy Jeweler, Mr. B. WHELAN, has been sick for several days past. We hope he will soon be up again. Monday presented the appearance of a lady, from the crowd of tax-payers calling to see Mr. ROSSBOROUGH, the County Treasurer, whose office continues to be crowded from early morning till night.

Trade seems to be reviving a little in the City. Everybody is rushing to BEATTIE'S, to look at the goods bought at prices with gold at $1.12.

Call on BEATTIE'S, if you want Goods low down. Tuesday was a beautiful spring-like day; to-day it is cloudy and rainy. For several nights the street lamps have been without gas.

An exhilarating and healthful beverage is Dr. TUTT'S Golden Eagle Bitters. 43-5 If you want a good appetite and healthy digestion use Dr. TUTT'S Golden Eagle Bitters. 43-5 If you are weak and nervous take Dr. TUTT'S Golden Eagle Bitters. 43-5

The delegates from the different States Unions of working women throughout the United States, who recently met in convention in New York City, for the purpose of establishing a Central Union, have adopted a constitution, and resolved to obtain a charter from the National Labor Union. The constitution sets forth that the objects of the association are to enable labor and the laboring women; to promote their interests and protect their rights; to maintain a fair rate of wages; to encourage good working men and to employ every means which may tend to the elevation of working women in the social scale of life; irrespective of color, creed or nationality; to further, and to aid the principles of operation, and to use all possible means to bring all trades into successful operation upon this plan; to use all means, consistent with honor and integrity, to correct the abuse of unfair, women labor, and that will insure to their just rights and principles as working women. At the mass meeting held on the evening of March 10th, a large number of working women were present. One of the speakers, Mrs. E. A. LANG of Massachusetts, asserted that in the New England States there were to be found children under twelve years of age, working in factories for eleven and twelve hours a day. The speaker compared this state of affairs with the condition of the working people in England, where by law manufacturers were prohibited from employing women for more than eight, and children for more than five hours a day.

A COLORED MEDICAL GRADUATE.—Among the graduates at the annual commencement of the New York Medical College for Women, on Wednesday, was Susan M. Smith, a colored woman. She delivered the valedictory address.

Prince Napoleon has been acquitted for the homicide of Noir, but is held in custody on a civil suit of 100,000 francs damages. Liberia is prosecuting an active warfare against the neighboring natives.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To parties in want of Doors, Sashes and Blinds, we refer to the advertisement of E. P. Toole, the large manufacturer of these goods in Charleston. Price list furnished on application. 2-11

Yield of cotton fully increased 100 per cent by the use of Phoenix Guano. Newman, Ga., December 20, 1869. Messrs. Wilson, Gibbs & Co. Your favor of the 1st instant, asking the result of the use of the Phoenix Guano I bought of you last spring, was duly received. I state now, as on a former occasion, that the yield of cotton (I have not applied it to anything else) was fully one hundred per cent better on the land where it was used than where it was not used on land of the same quality, and I think this to be a safe calculation generally, where the Guano is properly applied.

Respectfully, B. H. WRIGHT. Dr. TUTT'S Golden Eagle Bitters is the best tonic ever invented. 43-5

A WRONG IMPRESSION CORRECTED.—Many persons believe that there is no value in anything that does not come from "the North." How humiliating! However this impression is being gradually corrected. It is now admitted that no remedial Agent has ever been discovered, North or South, that possesses, in so eminent a degree, the power of eradicating from the system all foul and noxious humors, as DR. TUTT'S SERRAVALLO AND QUEEN'S DELIGHT. The secret is, it assists nature to do this through its own channels. It is composed of vegetable substances alone, and is entirely free from any Southern soil. It is the BLOOD PURIFIER OF THE AGE. 43-5

ADVERTISING will not sell worthless medicines long, as many persons have doubtless discovered; but a medicine that recommends itself, as SIMMONS' Liver Regulator does on trial, only requires to be kept before the public to insure success. W. A. REID & CO., Proprietors Mason (Ga) Daily Telegraph.

The further we advance in knowledge, the more simply shall we discover in those primary roots of all evils, the apparently endless, and multifarious operations of nature. To abuse them brings disease and its tribulations. To aid in conquering disease, to benefit mankind, and therefore the greater the merit, the most efficient auxiliary of this class, is the "OLD CAROLINA BITTERS."

Edgely County, S. C., August 3, 1869. Dyspeptics should use Dr. TUTT'S Golden Eagle Bitters. 43-5

DIED, at his residence, near the City of Greenville, on the 8th of February, 1870, Dr. THOMAS GAILLARD CROFT, in the 58th year of his age. He attended the medical lectures at Lexington, Ky., and subsequently graduated at the Charleston Medical College, but he never practiced medicine, his means being ample, and the active duties of his large planting interest were sufficient to give him constant occupation. Dr. CROFT was very fond of reading, had a cultivated, literary taste, and a good memory, which, with his courtly manners, fine colloquial powers, and friendly and social disposition, made him a popular and interesting companion to his numerous friends. Dr. CROFT married in early life Miss RIZA D'OYLE, whose parents were also emigrants from Charleston, and became residents of Greenville. Mrs. CROFT, with four children, three sons and a daughter, survive him, and he is survived by the fond and best of husbands, the most affectionate and devoted of fathers.

And thus our friend, after having well performed the duties of life, met death with philosophical calmness and Christian resignation. "After life's fitful fever, he sleeps well," and however mournful and grievous to his immediate family, in view of the calamitous events brought home to all of us by the late war, his friends and contemporaries who survive him, may well envy their departed friend the dreamless sleep of the quiet grave.

And he is at last, At rest, the world's afflict, After the restless fever, and the pain, After the dreariness, the sobbing pain, The wayward struggles which have proved In vain, After our little are past, 'Will give us rest at last.' S. A. T. Pebble Hill, Edgely Dist., S. C.

General Receipts in Payments.—Having been in New York when Stewart and Andin, the principal dry goods merchants, were cutting and clearing in the way of prices, we took advantage of it and bought goods below cost. We had intended to get the goods in and about Greenville for the benefit of the great reduction. We are now opening the cheapest lot of goods brought to this place since the war. To satisfy ourselves, call at Store No. 3, corner of Main and Broad Streets, 3 doors north Coach Factory, Greenville, S. C. WHITMIRE & FERGUSON. 2

The Season and its Dangers.

The human body is chiefly composed of its soft parts, and is therefore especially liable to the condition of the atmosphere as the most delicate electrometer, or the quickestiver in a barometer tube, the skin, the nerves, the lungs, and the excretory organs are especially liable to be affected by these variations, and the best defence against their disastrous tendency is to keep the digestive machinery, which feeds and nourishes the whole system, in good working order.

If the stomach is weak or disordered, neither the blood nor the bile can be in a healthy state, and upon the state of the liver, the most important fluids for the offices assigned to them by nature, and the regularity of their flow, health in a great measure depends.

The stomach is heated with chilling vapors, as it often is at this season of the year, the digestion should be an object of peculiar care. If it is weak and languid, the whole physical structure is enervated. If it is vigorous, the entire organization will be strong to resist the untoward and depressing influence of a damp and vitiated atmosphere.

A pure and powerful tonic is therefore especially needed as a safeguard against the diseases most common in the spring, and HOS-TETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS being the most wholesome and potent medicine of the class at present known, is a course of its use is particularly advisable at this period of the year. The stomach will thereby be toned and strengthened, the liver and bowels regulated, the nervous system braced up, and nature put in a state of active defence against the miasma which superinduces intermittent and remittent fevers, rheumatism, nervous debility, headache, hypochondria, and other complaints which are apt to assail the untuned and unfortified organization. The body is strengthened without exciting the brain, and consequently without any other other complications, its reviving and renovating operation.
