Paper Conservation Not New.

The Chinese have an ancient custom, old when Europe was young, and based upon their respect for learning, observes Robert L. McElroy of the National Security league. They never allow paper which contains written symbols to litter the streets or fields.
Chinese mothers train their children to deposit all such scraps of paper in the picturesque little buildings which dot the temple gardens. "The wrath of heaven falls upon those who disregard this duty" is a lesson carried in each tiny Chinese heart.

Greatest of Great Minds.

Shakespeare is of no age, nor, may add, of any religion or party or profession. The body and substance of his works come out of the unfathomable depths of his own oceanic mind; his observation and reading supplied him with the drapery of his figures.—Coleridge.

Peculiar Form of Bread.

The Indians along the Columbia river make a kind of bread from a moss that grows on the spruce fir tree.
This moss is prepared by placing it in heaps, sprinkling it with water and permitting it to ferment. Then it is rolled into balls as big as a man's head, and these are baked in pits.
