—Gaston Stafford, for 44 years superintendent of the State Fair Grounds, died at his home in Raleigh last week.

—C. H. McBride and E. J. Yates of Washington, D. C., were drowned while in bathing at Wrightsville Beach last week.

—Contracts for Statesville's new hotel have been let, the total cost of the hotel and furnishing complete will be around $185,000.

—Jerry Aman, a middle-aged white man, is in jail at Kinston, on a charge of attempted criminal assault upon Mabel Smith, 14.

—Charles Hedrick, of Statesville, was sentenced to 30 days on the roads and fined $100 for dynamiting fish in the Catawba river.

—The North Carolina Press Association will hold its this year's convention at the Hotel Bedworth, Morehead City, on August 17, 18 and 19.

—Mrs. Sydney P. Cooper, of Henderson, was elected president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, at their convention held at Wrightsville Beach last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White and Miss Beulah Barwick of Ayden were painfully but not seriously hurt when a car full of young people went down a 12-foot embankment into a creek.

—Thomas E. Holding, Jr., druggist of Wake Forest, was acquitted of the charge of receiving goods stolen from interstate express shipments knowing them to have been stolen.

—Mrs. R. J. Reynolds, widow of the late R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, and J. Edward Johnston, of Davidson, N. C., were married at "Reynolds" the country estate of Mrs. Reynolds.

—The North Carolina Municipal Association met in Raleigh this week to consider steps to be taken by the cities to provide relief in the face of the invalidated Municipal Finance Act of 1921.

—Frank Yorks, Charles Skinner and Glider Craver, prominent young society men of Charlotte, were badly hurt in an automobile wreck on the Charlotte-Lancaster road, 26 miles south of Charlotte.

—Charles Huffman, highway engineer for the State of Delaware, has accepted appointment to the same position in North Carolina, and will come to this State within the next few days to begin his new duties.

—Miss H. M. Berry, secretary of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, will address good road meetings this week at Winton, Ahoskie and Murfreesboro, Hertford county, in the interest of a county road bond issue.

—The 23rd annual convention of the North Carolina Christian Endeavor Union, at Wilmington, was attended by over 600 delegates. Bert G. Jones, of Wilmington, was elected president of the State Union.

—Patrick Hall Frederick, of Wilmington, was literally blown to pieces at the Atlantic Coast Line freight sheds at that place when he attempted to transfer oxygen gas from its tank to a smaller tank used for holding acetylene gas.

—The office of Sheriff Howard of Wilson county, located in the heart of the business district of Wilson and across the street from the police station, was robbed of its stock of revolvers, while the Sheriff was attending an Odd Fellows banquet.

—Unable to discern anything new in the petition of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. for a re-hearing of the issue threshed out before the recent order on telephone rates in North Carolina, the Corporation Commission denied the petition to re-hear the case.

—Former Lieutenant Governor Elisha L. Daughtridge died at his home in Rocky Mount Sunday morning. The deceased was 59 years of age, and for two score years has been prominent in matters which made for the upbuilding and advancement of this State.

—This State made a good record in fire prevention in May. Fire losses were only $385,122, the lowest since October, and only about one-fourth of what they were in April, the figures for that month having been in round numbers a million and a quarter dollars.

—John T. McCleese and Nebraska Bennett, colored, were killed and Joe McCleese, father of the dead negro, and Homer Fasse, owner of a large timber development, were seriously injured when the boiler of a small saw mill operated by J. J. Dombrowsky, exploded at Roper.

—The South maintained its long lead in the illicit liquor business during the month of April, according to Prohibition Agent figures submitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and North Carolina with 43 officers at work, led the Southern Division with 432 stills destroyed.

—To consider ways and means of preserving and extending the friendly relations now existing between the races in North Carolina Governor Cameron Morrison has called a conference of 30 prominent North Carolina men and women to be held in the Yarrowborough Hotel in Raleigh, June 28.

—The Rowan county jury trying Dr. J. W. Peacock at Lexington, charged with the murder of Chief of Police J. E. Taylor, at Thomasville, April 16, brought in a verdict of "not guilty." The jury accepted the testimony of elientists who said that the physician on trial was insane when he did the brutal deed.

—Jailer J. L. Spivey, of Whiteville, is in an unusual predicament through having in his keeping a man who is charged with bigamy and whose second wife is

Mr. Spivey's own daughter. The man in question is W. C. Dixon, and since the arrival of wife No. 1 last week, he has been held in default of a $1,000 bond. Five million dollars appropriated by the General Assembly for a building fund for schools, to be loaned at 5 per cent interest to any county that needs it, will be distributed on a population percentage basis, according to regulations formulated by Dr. E. C. Brooks, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

—Mrs. Ethel B. Taylor, widow of Chief of Police J. E. Taylor, who was shot and killed in Thomasville by Dr. J. W. Peacock, has instituted suit against the physician for $40,000 as damages.

—High Point entertained this week the 16th annual session of the Grand Chapter of North Carolina Order of the Eastern Star.

—Mrs. Clarence Johnson, director of the child welfare work of the State Board of Public Welfare, will in all probability succeed Roland F. Beasley as Commissioner of Public Welfare in North Carolina. Governor Cameron Morrison has recommended to the members of the board that Mrs. Johnson be elected to fill the vacancy.

—Immediate construction of 482 miles of roads in North Carolina, costing over $7,000,000 has been ordered by the State Highway Commission, and much of the road will be completed and put into service before the end of the summer. Every district, and almost every county in the State is included in the list of projects approved for immediate construction.

—The consensus of opinion among North Carolina Club women who attended the meeting of the State Federation at Wrightsville appears to be that Mrs. Charles C. Hook, of Charlotte, the retiring president of the Federation, is of distinctly legislative timber and should be put forward as a candidate for the next General Assembly by the women of Mecklenburg County.

—James and Mitchell Sharpe, twin brothers, formerly engaged as rescue workers, and Alonzo Burleson, a jitney driver, submitted in Halifax court to charges of kidnapping two Roanoke Rapids girls and were given terms in the State penitentiary. James Sharpe and Burleson drew sentences of 15 and 10 years respectively, while Mitchell Sharpe, who was held for prostitution, was given one year in the State prison.

TOO MUCH OF A GOOD THING IS TOO MUCH

REV. E. F. SAWYER.

REV. E. F. SAWYER of Elizabeth City is probably the most accommodating and the poorest paid preacher in northeastern North Carolina and he is not boasting the fact, but he does protest when he obligingly marries a couple, gives them a feast, takes a check from the groom and then has to pay protest fees on the check. That's what happened to him the other day. The Rev. Sawyer was called from the office of the Elizabeth City Iron Works & Supply Co. where he is employed as chaplain or bookkeeper or something, asked to go to his home and marry an out-of-town couple. He left his work, trudged home and performed the solemn ceremony. It was near the dinner hour and the good man of God invited the bride and groom to take dinner with him. They did. The grateful groom then tendered his host a check on an out-of-town bank as a fee and an expression of his gratitude. A few days later Mr. Sawyer received notice from the First Citizens National Bank that the check had been protested and he was called on to pay the protest fees. The camel's back is broken. c-Je17-4t Fisheries Commissioner.

"How We Cleared Our Summer Home of Rats," by Mrs. Perry.

"When we opened our seaside home last May, it was alive with rats. They'd gnawed all the upholstery. We cleaned them out in a week with RAT-SNAP. I prefer this rat killer because it comes in cake form, no mixing. Saves dirtying hands and plates." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25.

Sold and guaranteed by Culpepper Hardware Store, City Drug Store, G. W. Triddy, John C. Bond, Edenton; W. A. Leggett, Edenton; Sawyer's General Store, Camden.
