 1. This work will be comprised in two volumes.
 2. Subscribers pay for the present volume on delivery, six dollars, and the price of binding, (56 cents for boards.)
 3. They may receive the succeeding volume in twenty-four weekly numbers, at a quarter dollar each, or else, when finished, at the same price as the first.
 4. The subscription will be raised on the first day of June 1794, to fourteen dollars, exclusive of binding.
 5. Should any copies remain for sale after the completion of the work, they will be sold at sixteen dollars, and the price of binding.
 6. The names of the subscribers will be published as patrons of American literature, arts, and sciences.
 It is wholly unnecessary to expatiate on the advantage, to American readers, that this edition possesses, over every imported edition of any system of Geography extant. The addition of maps of the several states, procured at a very great expense, and from the best materials that are attainable, speaks such full conviction on this subject, that it would be disrespectful to the reader's understanding to suppose it requisite to enter into a detail of arguments to prove its superiority. In no similar work have such maps been ever introduced.

The amendments and additions which are made in this work, are innumerable, and occur in every page. The public are referred to the preface for a slight sketch of a few of them.
 The publisher takes the present opportunity of returning his most sincere thanks to those respectable characters who have favored him with documents for improving the maps of several of the states. He requests a continuance of their kindness; and hopes that such public spirited citizens, as are possessed of similar documents, will favor him with their assistance in perfecting his undertaking.
 The extraordinary encouragement with which he has been favored, has excited in his breast the warmest sentiments of gratitude—sentiments which time will not efface. He pledges himself to the citizens of the United States, to spare neither pains nor expense to render the present edition of Guthrie's Geography improved, deserving of their patronage.

JUST PUBLISHED,
 BY THOMAS DOBSON,
 Bookseller, at the Stone House in Second Street,
 Philadelphia,
VOLUME XI OF ENCYCLOPÆDIA,
 OR A
Dictionary of Arts, Sciences, and Miscellaneous Literature,
 ON a plan entirely new; by which the different sciences and arts are digested into the form of distinct treatises or systems. This volume contains the articles, medals, medicine, metallurgy, metaphysics, methodists, Mexico, microscope, midwifery, and a great variety of biographical and miscellaneous articles, illustrated with nineteen copperplates.
 The tables of logarithms, &c. which were deficient in the tenth volume, are subjoined to this.
 Eleven volumes of this work are now published, and the XIIth is in some forwardness.
 On the first of September, 1792, the price of subscription was increased TEN dollars on all sets not taken before that time. The subscription is still open on these terms, and if any copies remain by the first of July next, the price will be raised TEN dollars more, on any copies which may be subscribed for after that period.
 As many of the subscribers have taken only two, three or four, &c. volumes, they are earnestly requested to take up and pay for the remaining volumes, as it becomes difficult to complete the sets, and the publisher does not hold himself bound to make up any sets after the first day of July next.

ESSENCE
For the Tooth-Ache,
 Prepared and sold by DR. LEE, Golden-Square, London.
 THE public is offered one of the most efficacious and safe medicines, that ever appeared, for that most excruciating pain, the Tooth-Ache—the numerous instances of its happy effects, in relieving the afflicted, have now brought it into universal estimation; it not only relieves the tooth-ache, but is of the utmost service in curing the SCURVY in the Gums, in preventing the disagreeable smell that is produced from unbound teeth, & will occasion a sweet breath; it like wise prevents the teeth from decaying, and will be found a general preserver of the TEETH and GUMS
 Sold in Philadelphia only at

The Public are cautioned to beware of counterfeit Five Dollar Bills of the Bank of the United States, and Twenty Dollar Bills of the Bank of North America, several of which have appeared in circulation within a few days past; they are a good general imitation of the genuine Bills, but may be distinguished by the following
M A R K S.

Five Dollar Bills of the Bank of the United States.
ALL that have appeared have the letter F. for their Alphabetical Mark.
 The Texture of the Paper is thicker and whiter and it takes the ink more freely than the genuine paper.
 The O. in the word Company is smaller than the M. and other letters of that word, so that a line extended from the top of the O, to touch the top of the M. would extend considerably above the range of the whole word.
 In the word United the letters are narrower and closer together than the rest of the bill.
 The i and f in the word promise are not parallel, the f inclining much more forward than the i.
 The engraving is badly executed, the strokes of all the letters are stronger and the device in the margin particularly is much coarser, and appears darker than in the true bills. Some of the counterfeits bear date in 1791—Whereas the Bank was not in operation till December, and no five dollar bills were issued in that year.
Twenty Dollar Bills of the Bank of North America.

ALL that have appeared have the letter B. for their alphabetical mark.
 They are printed on a paper nearly similar to that of the counterfeit Five Dollar Notes above described; the engraving is better executed, and they approach nearer to the appearance of the genuine bills.
 The fine ruled lines through the word Twenty, in the body of the bill, are in number thirteen in the genuine bills, and but twelve in the counterfeits.
 The word Company is much like the same word in the Five Dollar Bills as described above, the o being less than the m, and the i's following.
 There is no stroke to the t in the word North whereas in the genuine bills the stroke is well defined.

The letters ent in the word Twenty, to the left hand at the bottom, do not come down to the line, but are so cut as to give an irregular appearance to the word, the Tw and the y going below them.
 The signature J. Nixon, has the appearance of being written with lamb-black and oil, and differs from other inks used in printing the bills and the cashier's signature.
 It is supposed the forgeries were committed in some of the Southern States, as all the counterfeits that have appeared, have come from thence, and two persons have been apprehended in Virginia, on suspicion of being the author of them.
 The reward of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS will be paid to any Person or Persons who shall discover and prosecute to conviction the several offenders of the following descriptions or any of them, viz.
 The person or persons, who manufactured the paper on which the Bills are printed.
 The person or persons, who engraved the plates.
 The printer or printers, of the bills.
 Every person who has acted as a principal in any other way, in the counterfeiting and uttering the said bills.
 Philadelphia, March 28. 1794

Other counterfeit bills of the Bank of the United States have appeared in circulation.
 The denomination is of TWENTY DOLLARS, and the alphabetical mark is the letter B.
 They may be distinguished from the genuine by the following MARKS:
 The paper of the counterfeits is of a more tender texture and glossy surface than the genuine, and there is no water mark in them.
 The letter C. in the word Cashier, in the true bills is strongly marked, whereas in the counterfeits, the whole letter is a fine hair stroke, evidently in an unfinished state. The letter d in the word demand, is badly formed and the whole word ill done, and there is no comma at the end of it, as there is in the genuine bills.
 The marginal device, is much darker in the false, than in the genuine bills owing to the shade strokes being coarser, much nearer together, and consequently much more numerous. This difference strikes the eye at first view.
 The same reward of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, will be paid for apprehending, & prosecuting to conviction the several above described offenders in respect to this, as to the last described bills.
THOMAS WILLING, President of the Bank United States.
JOHN NIXON, President of the Bank of North America.
 By order of the Committees of the Respective Boards.
