Guthrie's Geography improved.

THE subscription for this work on the original terms, of twelve dollars and the binding, will be closed this day—and on Monday the subscription will open at fourteen dollars, exclusive of the price of binding.

The new maps added to this edition are twenty one; among which are those of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode-Island, Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina, the Genial Government, South Carolina, and Georgia. These maps have never been given any former system of Geography, and, it is hoped, would alone be sufficient to entitle this work to a preference to any other edition of Guthrie.

N. B. The map of the United States, which is compiling by Mr. Samuel Lewis, from the respective state maps, will be far more complete than any one yet published, and be printed on two large sheets of paper, nearly the size of the late Mr. Murray's map.

FOR SALE,
Y. MATHEW CAREY, No. 118, Market-Street,

An Essay on Slavery, Designed to exhibit in a new point of view effects on morals, industry, and the peace of society. Some facts and calculations are offered to prove the labor of freemen to be much more productive than that of slaves; that countries are rich, powerful and happy, in proportion as the working people enjoy the fruits of their own labor; and hence the necessary conclusion; that very is impolitic as well as unjust.
PRICE 25 CENTS. dtf

Congress of the United States.
House of Representatives.

Wednesday, June 4.
The bill to authorize the President to receive on the part of the United States, cessions of land for erecting of light houses, passed a committee, but was rejected on a constitutional principle in the House, on the question of engrossment.

A motion was made by Mr. Boudinot, and agreed to, that a committee of both Houses be appointed to wait on the President, and request that he would recommend to the People of the United States, a Day of Prayer and Humiliation to Almighty God, for the Safety and Prosperity of the U. S. The resolution was directed to be communicated to the Senate for their concurrence, and a committee of three appointed to join a committee of the Senate to wait on the President of the United States with the same.

The bill to authorize the President to build ten vessels or galleys, if he should judge it necessary in the recess, was taken up, and after some debate passed, 47 to 32.

The bill to authorize the settlement of certain expenses of the Commissioners of Loans; and,

The bill, supplementary to the act, making more effectual provision for the defence of the frontiers of the United States, were passed. Adjourned.

In the House of Representatives of the United States.

Thursday, 5th June, 1794.

The House, according to the order of the day, resolved itself into a committee of the whole House on the report of the committee, to whom was referred the remonstrance of the People west of the Alleghany Mountain, relative to the Navigation of the river Mississippi, and after some time spent therein, Mr. Speaker resumed the chair, and Mr. Trumbull reported, that the committee had, according to order, had the same report under consideration, and come to a resolution thereupon, which he delivered in at the Clerk's table, where the same was twice read, and agreed to by the House, as followeth:

Resolved, That as it appears from the communications of the Executive, that the right of the United States to the free navigation of the Mississippi, is now the subject of negotiation with the Court of Spain, and as it the interest of the United States, and every part thereof, to come to an amicable adjustment of the right in that mode, rather than resort to any means constitutionally belonging to the Legislature, no farther proceeding should be had on the said remonstrance, during the present session of Congress.

JOHN BECKLEY, Clerk.
