

MATTERS OVER THE RIVER.

IT'S A FACT.—Yes, we saw, with our own eyes, persons employed in cleaning our streets, and carting away the filth. A few of the main streets are the favored, but others, more remote, and needing the same purifying process, are still neglected.

IMPROVING THE SUBURBS.—We notice that streets are being extended through the suburbs, and the work of grading and paving the sidewalks will be commenced as soon as the weather permits.

THE ELECTION.—The approach of the municipal election seems to multiply candidates for the different city and ward offices. Among the candidates on the Republican side for City Marshal are James W. Ayres, John W. Campbell (present incumbent), and S. C. Sloan.

PROTECTION OF SHEEP.—A supplement to the law for the protection of sheep in this district has passed the House, which provides that all dogs upon which taxes are not assessed and paid, shall be killed and makes it the duty of tax collectors to see that it is done.

CELEBRATION OF THE TWENTY SECOND.—We see no preparation in progress for the celebration of Washington's Birthday Anniversary, if we except the lecture which the Rev. D. W. Hartine is to deliver in the Broadway M. E. Church.

ATTEMPT TO ROB.—Last night some person forcibly entered a dwelling house, at a late hour, on Taylor's avenue, below Fourth street, with the evident intent of robbing. The occupant of the premises happened to be up later than usual, and proceeded to ascertain the cause of the alarm, but the burglar hearing his approach, made a speedy retreat and escaped.

COLORED BAPTIST CHURCH.—The Baptist Church erected by a colored congregation on King's avenue, near the Woodbury railroad, is enclosed and rapidly approaching completion. English is held in it, although in an unfinished state, and quite an interest is manifested in its progress by sister congregations.

PATER PATRIÆ.

Anniversary of the Birth of Washington.—Celebration of the Event in this City.—The Civil and Military Gatherings.—General Suspension of Business.—The Parade of the Firemen.—Meeting of the Royal Legion, Etc.

To-morrow being an established holiday, by virtue of custom if not of law, there will be a very general suspension of business throughout our city; and the day will be celebrated with appropriate spirit by numbers of our military and civic societies.

The grand feature of the day's festivities will be the parade of the Fire Department, the occasion being the return from Washington of the old Hibernia Steam Fire Engine, which, during the war, was kept at the national capital for the protection of the Government property; and was effective in saving much of it from destruction by fire.

In all, about twenty-five companies, or about one-third of the entire Philadelphia Department, will be in line—making, perhaps, the grandest escort that has been tendered to a fire company in this city. Colonel Peter Fritz, of the Perseverance Hose, will be Chief Marshal.

The different divisions will form on the west side of Broad street, the 1st with its right resting on Reed street; 2d on Wharton street; 3d on Ellsworth street; 4th on Washington avenue; and 5th on Christian street. The line will move at 2 o'clock precisely, for firemen never reverse time, and proceed over the following route:—Countermarch down Broad to Reed, up Broad to Christian, down Christian to Twelfth, up Twelfth to Green, down Green to Second, down Second to Race, up Race to Fourth, down Fourth to Arch, up Arch to Tenth, down Tenth to Chesnut, down Chesnut to Third, down Third to Spruce, and there disband.

Next to the firemen, who have proven a loyal legion in themselves, comes the "Military Order of the Royal Legion," a national organization of Philadelphia birth, and chiefly officered by our own citizens. The Legion will celebrate the day at the Academy, in accordance with the following programme:

The doors of the Academy will be opened at 11 o'clock A. M. Companies of the Order and invited guests will enter the Academy from Broad street, and will assemble in the foyer at 11:30 A. M.

Military organizations will occupy the parquet. Officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps are respectfully requested to appear in uniform. The badge of the Reception Committee of military and naval guests will be red; that of the Reception Committee of civil guests, white; and that of the Reception Committee of military organizations, blue.

The celebration will be conducted in the following order:—Music will commence at 11:45 A. M. Prayers by the Reverend Matthew Simpson, D. D., Bishop of the M. E. Church, Pennsylvania, Music.

Orations by Major-General Joshua Lawrence Chamberlain, of Maine, late commanding 1st Division, 5th Corps, Army of the Potomac, Music.

Poem, by Lieutenant-Colonel Charles Graham Halpine, of New York, late Assistant Adjutant-General U. S. V., and Chief of Staff, Department of the South.

By order of the Commander, GEORGE CADWALLADER, M. O. L. U. S. In order to have all the arrangements in perfect harmony, the following committees have been designated to act:—

Of Arrangements—Major Samuel B. Wylie, Major Captain D. Keyser, Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel James Collins.

On Reception of the Chaplain, Orator, and Poet of the Day—Thomas Brigadier-General H. S. Sichel, Captain Thomas Mitchell, Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Robert P. Deckert, Lieutenant Thomas W. Nellis.

On Reception of Military and Naval Guests—Major-General George Cadwallader, Captain James Alden, U. S. N.; Brevet Brigadier-General Alfred T. A. Taylor, U. S. A.; Lieutenant-Commander F. C. Johnson, U. S. N.; Major-General W. S. Hancock, U. S. A.; Captain George T. Emmons, U. S. N.; Brevet Brigadier-General Charles E. La Motte, U. S. V.; Passed Assistant Surgeon E. L. De Bois, U. S. N.

On Reception of Civil Guests—Major-General Robert Patterson, Lieutenant-Colonel T. Ellwood Zell, Major Joseph W. Wistar, Colonel Charles M. Prevost, V. B. C., Brevet General Joshua T. Owen, Colonel W. H. Day, Brevet Brigadier-General Cecil Clay, Lieutenant James P. Perry.

On Reception of Military Organizations—Colonel Peter Lyle, Captain Nabro Frazier.

At most of the places of amusement there will be matinee performances, and the attractions offered are of unusual character.

In the evening the Philadelphia Lodge, I. O. O. F., will give their first grand ball at Musical Fund Hall; and at the Academy of Music the Athletic Base Ball Club will wind up the ball season gracefully with what promises to be a splendid carnival.

The James Page Library Company will celebrate the day at their hall, Grand avenue, east of Shackamaxon street, at 7 o'clock P. M. Washington's Farewell Address will be read by Thomas Greenback, Esq., and the oration will be delivered by John A. Marshall, Esq.

Postmaster Warborn gives notice that the Post Office will be closed at 12 o'clock, noon, and remain closed during the balance of the day. The carriers will make the 8 and 11 A. M. deliveries. The collectors will make the three morning and last evening collections.

Receptions will be open during the same hours as the Central Office.

The veterans of the war of 1812 will meet to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock, at the Supreme Court Room, to celebrate the day. A full attendance is desired.

PURSUIT AND ARREST OF THIEVES.—John Ferguson and William Wilson were arrested about 7 o'clock this morning, charged with entering the house of Samuel Calhoun, No. 1291 Olive street, with intent to steal. It seems that Calhoun left his house for the purpose of feeding his horses, and when he returned he observed the men going out of the alley; the gate was closed and the back door broken in. He went upstairs and found things scattered about "in most admired disorder." He returned to the street and followed the men to a beer saloon. At this place he "checked" Wilson, and found six or eight dollars on his person. Ferguson was arrested shortly afterwards. While they were in the house the thieves tried to destroy some deeds and a receipt-book; they also appropriated an envelope containing a twenty-dollar gold-piece, and the gold-plate has been found by Calhoun to his mother in an envelope, and had not yet been taken therefrom. They tore open the envelope, and threw away one piece of it, retaining the part that contained the money. When arrested they had a screw-driver and pocket-knife concealed on their persons. Alderman Massey committed them in default of $15000 bail.

AN IMPOSTOR.—A lady of prepossessing appearance, respectfully dressed in deep mourning, is now calling at stores and banking houses soliciting alms. She states that her husband lost an arm in defense of his country, and has placed in the hands of the hands of an agent for collection, and that she has one child seven years of age, and that they are in very destitute circumstances. She gave as her name Mrs. Mary Ford, No. 1117 Carpenter street. No such person resides there. A few days below lives Mrs. Mary Ford and two children. Mr. Ford was in the army, but returned without the loss of an arm. Mrs. Ford stated that many have been deceived by this impostor. Two years ago she procured a large lot of hardware, and a contractor, after waiting until his patience was exhausted, he went in search of his haversacks and the lady who received them, and could find neither. Since that time a number of persons have called, with clothing and food for the relief of this pretended sufferer, greatly to the embarrassment of Mrs. Ford. She is about twenty-five years of age, with black eyes and black hair, and of medium height.

BEARING THE LION IN HIS DEN.—Two men, named John Cueler and Charles Harris, hailing from Baltimore, got into the house of Policeman Jones, No. 1424 Chestnut street, for the purpose of robbing him. They first tried to open the back gate, and subsequently crawled through the cellar window. The family were out at the time, and the house was thoroughly ransacked. They were taken by some boys, who started an alarm, when they ran out the back way. Pursuit was made, and they were overhauled by Officers Graf and Richards. A "jimmy" was in possession of one of the party when arrested. They confessed to obtaining $12 in the house, but when pursued by the boys they threw it away in order to be clear of any evidence implicating them. Alderman Massey committed them in default of $1200 bail.

TRIED TO LOOK LIKE, BUT NOT ACT, THE GENTLEMAN.—Richard Moore, desiring to make a respectable appearance without lessening the contents of his pocket-book thereby, went to the well-known establishment of Mr. Lazarus, No. 101 N. Second street, and had himself fitted out in splendid style with new coat, pants, vest, and overcoat. Surveying himself in the looking-glass, he so admired his personal appearance, and was in such a happy mood, that he forgot to pay for the goods he had run out of the store into the street, in his haste forgetting to pay for said clothing. Mr. Lazarus was in the back part of the store at the time, trying up Richard's old clothes. He ran after him, however, and had him arrested by Officer McNamee, who took him before Alderman Goddard, who committed him this morning in default of $800 bail.

A ROW AFTER A BALL.—John Woodward was charged last evening with the larceny of $23 from a man named Fleet. It appears that Fleet came over from West Philadelphia to attend a ball. Feeling like keeping the thing warm for safe keeping, this coat was subsequently sent to Fleet's wife, and she states that $23 was abstracted from the pocket of the same. Alderman Massey committed one of the party, but the other escaped.

IMPORTANT CHANGE.—The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States have determined to declare their dividends in the future annually in cash. This is one of the most progressive and successful life companies in the country, and the new feature they have recently introduced must add to the high reputation they have already established. We invite attention to the advertisement of the General Agents, Messrs. Betts & Reeves, to be found in another column.

BEECHER.—Although the rush for seats to hear the Rev. H. W. Beecher this evening has been great, yet a few of the best in the house still remain for sale at the Continental Book Store.

LECTURE OF GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN, Esq.—A very large audience was in attendance at the Academy of Music last evening, drawn together by the name of this great genius. Mr. Train opened by announcing that he was not one of those popular orators whom he styled University orators, who came badly prepared with a set speech. He always spoke at random, not being in the habit of having his lectures in manuscript. He then proceeded to relate his recent experience at Washington, where he had been in intimate relations with the President and the heads of the department, and many of the leading men of the country. He read the following dispatch, which was received with great applause:—

The Senate have refused to pass the Freedmen's Bureau bill over the veto of the President's veto. Upon that point the Senate and the President are at issue, and I have no doubt that the Senate will stand firm.

Mr. Train then commenced to discuss the subject announced as the basis of his remarks, a mere allusion to which is all our space will admit of at this time. Alluding to the grades he had undergone for his individuality, he said that had three years since he had fought for it, and had had been the struggle; but he had fought in England as well as in this country for free speech, and now he returned to the United States, not to join the Fenian Brotherhood. (Laughter and applause.) He believed that the only platform we should stand on was that which snuffed antagonism to English tyranny.

We want no war, and a country entirely free, which we will call America. Yes, a country where we will not be taxed, as in the early days of our nation's history. (Applause.) We have suffered by having our commerce destroyed on the Atlantic coast, and we have not been able to stand out as a nation, and manfully claim and maintain our rights. (Applause.) We want no war, but desire to remain neutral as England did during our recent struggle. We must not hope for a day of peace. We only have to take our ships, and put our hands on the Parrot guns, and other implements of war, and we can maintain our rights. (Laughter and applause.) The speaker rejoiced in the prospect of soon having a united country, for the plans proposed by President Johnson will, if carried out, unite the North and South in the strictest bonds of friendship.

Mr. Train then alluded to the Fenian Brotherhood, and said that he had never seen a platform stand on until he had got the Brotherhood. (Applause.) He desired here to introduce a resolution, to the effect that they would never wear any other than domestic fabrics until Ireland should be free.

He also alluded to the repeated efforts made by England to force America, but in all these she had been frustrated, and he would have England understand that Ireland would soon throw off her yoke, and like America, proclaim her freedom.

Mr. Train concluded his remarks by a brilliant episode in reference to the Pacific Railroad, and a new plan of building it by a financial system similar to that of the Credit Mobilier, of Paris, which he claimed emanated from his own brain. The amusing passages were received with great applause, and the lecture was universally pronounced a complete success.

AWAITING OWNERSHIP.—Seven overcoats, supposed to be stolen from hotels by the following thieves, were in the hands of the police, as mentioned in yesterday's Telegraph, are at the Twenty-fourth Ward Station House, awaiting owners. These coats were obtained at different pawnbrokers' offices by the police, through pawn tickets found on the person of Dunwoody when arrested.

A PUZZLE.—What is it that can earth to fly? Our solvers, can't they best for it? What makes all so foolishly say? With Boney's behavior? What a money-bag more fair than his own baby's dress? What can be beauty and in wear? Can with the famed clothing? Of noble Tower salt compete? Why the answer's—Nothing!

We have the largest and best stock of CLOTHING in Philadelphia, all FRESH, FASHIONABLE, and GOOD, which are being sold at prices guaranteed to be lower than the lowest elsewhere, for either SOUND or DAMAGED GOODS.

TOWER HALL, No. 513 MARKET STREET, BENNETT & CO.

MACHINE PERFECTED.—In all the wide range of human inventions the genius of man has never been more usefully called into operation than in the invention of the Sewing Machine. A few days below simple Sewing Machine. Applying these essential qualities of a good Sewing Machine to the Florence, sold at No. 520 Chestnut street, we consider that its projector has done a noble work for it, in the highest degree, simplicity with durability, and the further quality of doing a greater range of work than any other Sewing Machine can be easily understood by all besides embodying all the advantages of other machines the Florence possesses many improvements over any and all of them—such as making a stitch of any size, and adjusting tension adapted to all kinds of work, never missing to give the amount of tension required, and the exactness of the work, the peculiar method of raising up the slack thread, the excellent and exclusive feature of adjusting the length of the stitch, and the direction of the same, and the facility of adjusting the same, enables the operator, by simply turning a thumb-screw, to have the work run either to the right or left, to have any kind of fabric, and to have it sewed without turning the fabric. A careful examination of the construction and working of the Florence Machine will convince any one of its superiority, and we make no apology for recommending it as a gift that will be most acceptable to the wife, daughter, and friend, to buy a Florence Sewing Machine, as it is the best that can be had, and will last a lifetime. Every machine sold is warranted to give satisfaction, and instructions given without charge. Call early to secure prompt delivery, as the Company are now behind their orders.

A BUSY SCENE.—One of the most refreshing indications of a revival in business that we have seen this year we witnessed yesterday at the popular dry goods store of Messrs. G. S. Ward & Co., north-west corner of Eighth and Market streets. Their nice and well-lighted show-rooms were literally crammed with customers, principally ladies, throughout the day. The assortment of goods was so large, and they offer a magnificent assortment, embracing everything that is comprehended under the name of dry goods, that we believe it to be the largest and most complete that any store in the city can offer. The way of cutting fabrics, Messrs. Strawbridge & Co.'s is the place to go to. We believe it to be impossible to buy goods of this class at more reasonable rates than this house affords, anywhere else in the United States.

THE CITY IN CAPTURES ABOUT BEECHER.—We have already heard of a number of cases in which the names of Beecher and his associates were mentioned, but we have not yet heard of any case in which they were actually named. It is reported that a man named Beecher was arrested last evening, and committed to the City Prison. It is also reported that a woman named Beecher was arrested last evening, and committed to the City Prison. It is also reported that a man named Beecher was arrested last evening, and committed to the City Prison.

G. W. FITCHER.—This gentleman's establishment, at No. 808 Chestnut street, is full of rare and attractive goods, calculated to reduce the cash from the pockets of the many of our citizens. He has a very short time, but it is a business upon the simple principle of disposing of the best quality of goods at moderate prices. What these things are, and how they are to be obtained, will be found in his show-cases. Persons in need of articles of this character cannot do better than to go to Fitcher's.

GREAT ADVANTAGES are offered to the citizens of Philadelphia by the opening of the Market Street Tea House, by the name of Tea and Coffee, on the corner of the Market Street and Arch Street. The house is conveniently located in the central part of the city, opposite the principal market, and conducted by Messrs. B. B. Bond and J. W. Bond, whose experience enables them to offer the best goods in the market, which they accept the lowest market price. We solicit for them the liberal patronage of our readers.

A WORD ABOUT THE CASTLE DISEASE.—Great excitement is now prevailing on account of the many rumors respecting this disease, both in this city and in New York. On account of the above rumors, Col. Joseph Stuppacher, of the Orleans Troops, No. 231 (Chesnut street), was most respectfully informed by friends, that all rumors were in his opinion, and that the stamp of the Col. can be seen. Regular officers from 10 o'clock P. M. up to 11 P. M. Private messes, rooms for parties, were admitted to the castle, and the Col. called a call.

THE BRAYO WIT.—A man sold the only reason why his wife was not blown away in a late storm was because there was such a heavy mortgage on it. We never knew a house to be blown away that had a heavy mortgage on it. Coal from 1 to 2 yards of W. W. Aler 1 to 657 North Fifth street, below Grand avenue, the very best varieties of anthracite coal here to be had at the lowest rates. Orders may be left at the Branch Office, Sixth and Spruce Streets.

"A SLIGHT COLD." COUGH.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a cough or "slight cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, is neglected, soon attacks the lungs, "Bronchitis Bronchitis" gives sure and almost immediate relief. "The Trochoc" has proved their efficacy by a test of many years, and have received testimonials from eminent men who have used them.

CHEAP OFFER OF Winter Stock at reduced prices. W. W. Aler & Co., "one price," under the Continental Hotel.

SALE OF PAINTINGS.—Parties wishing to contribute to the sale of Old Paintings, to be held at 10 o'clock at G. W. No. 329 Chestnut street on Saturday next, will be glad to receive their paintings by sale on Saturday next, 10 o'clock.
