The Calendar of Losses.

From the Tribune. During the quarter ending last December, the losses in 110 considerable fires throughout the country are reckoned about $20,000,000, and those for the whole year double the year previous, and far exceeding many former years.

This is accounted for by extraordinary losses in certain fires, such as the burning of cotton, and Government and city warehouses, and one or two extensive factories. 75 fires occurred in New York State, with a loss of nearly $8,000,000. 25 houses were destroyed in a single fire at Lima, N. Y., and 100 in Belfast, Me. The severest loss of life during a fire occurred at Charleston, where a score of people were killed by falling walls of cotton burned there.

From the Times. The debate on the English Reform bill has brought out some expressions of opinion in regard to our form of government which are somewhat amusing. A portion of the speech of Mr. Lowe possesses this character. He is of those who, adopting the letter of Lord Macaulay, written in 1832, on receiving a copy of Jefferson's works, as their guide, assume at once the functions of a Judge and the profundity of a prophet.

Statistics of railroad disaster are still of prevailing interest, and full of grave suggestion. From September to January the number of accidents, involving loss of property and life—say at least an average of two deaths to each occurrence—were 73, of which 23 were outright collisions. In eight cases trains were precipitated; eight were explosions; in three, bridges broke down; in four, switches were injured; and in one or two instances the cars ran off freights.

Contrasted with this statement, the quarter gone by shows a less prominent record in the management of the rails. We count only twenty-three accidents, the worst of them two collisions on railroads near New York, and one case of bridge-breaking; the whole with a loss of between fifty and seventy lives. A phenomenal crisis, the separate cause of which is a train to be thrown off the track, was lately frustrated on the Shore-Line Road. We see that in eight months very nearly one hundred railroad accidents take place, more than one-fourth of the number collisions, and at least one-tenth explosions.

Here it is worth while making a general count of explosions. Out of 31 which occurred between September and January, 8 were on railroads, 1 on an iron mine, and 21 in various places. Of these 8 were iron gun powder, and 1 from nitroglycerine. Between January and May occurred 28, some of them of most terrific character, and nearly all explosions of mine boilers. By the explosion of the steamer Missoury and Miami, the steamer Carter, on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, more than 400 lives were lost. The new explosive essence known as nitroglycerine has already cost three accidents, and nearly 400 lives. By 23 explosions, in the last eight months, the loss of human life by 1000 persons have been killed. This dry statement is the index of most appalling catastrophes.

Steamboat accidents and losses have a similar painful variety. Out of 70 boats lost or destroyed, principally on the Western lakes, 13 had collided, 10 exploded, 7 were burned, and 2 lost through leakage. Five disasters took place on the Lakes, on seven or eight on the Mississippi; 12 steamboats and barges were lost by the St. Louis river; 8 in shops and at docks, and 300 lives were lost. In the succeeding quarter we reckon forty-two steamers lost, but these include such fearful disasters as the burnings and explosions of the steamers Missouri, Miami, Carter, and Lookwood, with an aggregate loss of about 500 lives. Altogether, 117 valuable steamers and their more precious freight of human life and wealth have been sunk or destroyed in eight months. As to the calendar seventy-five marine disasters, involving loss of property and life, in 123 months, with a loss of 259 lives, in the quarter ending December; and 48 wrecks between January and May, with about 170 lives lost, most of them in the steamers Constitution, Narcissus, and other vessels, and aggregate, for eight months, of 122 disasters, costing 429 lives.

Condition of Utah—The Radical Party on the Twin Relics of Barabism. We published yesterday some interesting correspondence concerning affairs in Utah Territory. A party who says that he has resided there for some time denies the accounts of frequent murders said to be committed by the Mormons. The stories of assassination which we published the other day attracted the attention also of General Sherman, who sent a cautionary despatch to Brigham Young on the subject. The Mormon leader answers by telegraph that there is no foundation for the reports, except that a soldier, not a Mormon, shot a man in the streets of Great Salt Lake City, and that a Mormon, whose wife had been seduced by a Gentile, shot the offender. Several citizens of Utah have also assured General Sherman that Brigham's statement is correct. We gave all these documents in yesterday's issue; but they do not prove that violence and an utter disregard of the rules of Christian society and the laws of the land do not exist in Utah.

Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company. Notice is hereby given to the stockholders of this company, that the option of receiving their Dividend in Stock or Cash, under the resolution of the Board of Directors, has expired on the 1st day of May 1866, and that such stockholders as do not demand their share of the same, will be deemed to have elected to receive their dividend in Stock on or before their day, which is the 1st day of June 1866.

mous profits which cotton culture promises has turned the whole available industry of the cotton region to its cultivation this year. It follows, therefore, that the Cotton States will require nearly all the grain and meat from the Middle and Western States, and hence next fall will probably see a vast commerce spring up between the West and South.

in Congress, while they deny the same right to representatives from the Southern States which have ratified, by the enactments of their Legislatures, the Constitutional abolition of the other twin relic of barbarism, slavery. The Southern States have given evidence of their conscientious adherence to the law by abandoning, freely and cheerfully, an institution which was as much a part of their system, from the time that they had existence as colonies of States, as the brain or the heart is part of the human system; but the Mormons of Utah Territory have made no concession. They are as audacious as ever in their adherence to polygamy. Whatever sins the South may have committed in the recent attempt to break up the Union, it is willing to make amends for. Bloodshed, desolation, ruined homes, intolerable taxation, and the thousand other evils that have befallen the South, have wiped away the stain of slavery and made penitential offerings for the crime of Rebellion; but polygamy, the other relic of barbarism which the Republican party pledged itself to wipe out, still boldly defies both the Christian code and the law of the land. It is certain that reports of murders and other fearful atrocities are common in Utah, and the radicals in Congress have no measure to propose, or they are not willing to introduce any measure, to suppress the evil which they denounced at the Philadelphia Convention. But the most curious feature in the conduct of the Republican party in connection with slavery are the facts recently developed by the operation of the Freedmen's Bureau. Slavery in a worse form than ever existed under the old institution has been introduced in the Southern States by the officials of this Bureau. These parties, many of them New England clergymen, who no doubt have been denouncing slavery from the pulpit for many years, are cultivating cotton plantations and exporting thousands of other upon them under a system of treatment more inhuman than was ever known in the days of Southern slavery, which we have abolished. What is the conclusion to be drawn from all this? That the radicals are a set of knaves and traitors, selfishness and avarice and fraud lie at the bottom of all their action. The people are beginning to see this, and a few more developments of the workings of the Freedmen's Bureau will convince them of the complete demoralization of the hypocritical traitors and the obstacles in the way of the reconstruction of the country.
