

AMUSEMENTS. THE OPERA LAST EVENING.—The repetition of Richberg's charming Doctor of Alcantara attracted a highly appreciative audience to the Academy of Music last evening, and the opera passed off with even more relief and success than on the previous occasion of its performance.

On the previous occasion of its performance the fine array in the first act, which Miss Richberg's splendid execution made so prominent features in the opera, were all bolstered up, and were each repeated with that unaffected grace and good nature so characteristic of Miss Richberg.

The gem for the contrast in the same act—"Turn Where I May"—was also rapturously and most deservedly encored. Miss Harlow's rendition of it is a positive delight to listen to. She is certainly a great acquisition to the talented troupe, for her voice is one of rare beauty, and her style is at once finished and effective. Mr. Seguin's "Doctor" is irresistibly comic, although extremely natural, and last night his scenes with Miss Richberg and Mr. Wylie were unimpaired in humor. One great advantage of the Richberg troupe is that all the members of it act well, and that, in a measure, the secret of their success in such operas as The Doctor of Alcantara, The Daughter of the Regiment, etc.

No theatrical company in the city could have acted out the libretto of the Doctor of Alcantara with the Richberg troupe, and when the vocal abilities of Miss Richberg, Miss Harlow, Mr. Seguin, Mr. Wylie, and Mr. Wylie, and the rest of the troupe are taken into account, the success of the opera is not to be wondered at. As for the opera itself, it is unquestionably one of the best—if not the best—comic operas, English or Italian, on the stage at the present time, and it is a pity that we see nothing good that is American, to the contrary notwithstanding.

All that wanting is to have it sung in Italian, so that no one could appreciate the rich humor of the side-swinging comicalities in it, and the "Doctor" is "drawn," The "insolent world" would in that case be "convulsed" to its very center, perhaps—and producing a "double effect" of "sensational" and "resisters of imitation," you would have an opportunity of encouraging "imitation" and showing that there can be at the same time, which they cannot dare not do, at the bar-barous English Opera. More's the pity.

The new company of art, however, do not, it will be seen, present this evening at the repetition of the Doctor of Alcantara, which will be sung for the last time on the occasion. No troupe we have had here ever performed as well as this, and the last opportunity of hearing it is not to be missed. It is a pity that we who enjoy good music artistically and effectively sung.

ITALIAN OPERA.—We gave yesterday a glance at the extensive repertoire of favorite Italian operas to be given in this city next month by the Bergamini-Romani-Pochi troupe. To-day we present a complete list of the leading artists of the company:

Prime Donne Soprani—Signora Carmen Poch, Signora Antonietta Romani, Miss M. A. Hanck, Miss Clara Louise Keaton, Signora Antonietta Romani, Miss Fannie Natali-Vesta, Mademoiselle Stella Bonheur, Miss Fanny Brickton.

Tenors—Signors Mazouzi, Barayati, Tena, Bernardi, Baroni—Signors Bellini and Lelio for all comers. Bass—Signors Anzoulet, Fossati, and Dabrucci. Buffo—The celebrated Giorgio Romani.

Conductors—Her Excellency, Signor A. Torriani, and Max Maretzek. No singing and complete Company has ever been brought to Philadelphia, and we trust the citizens will be well satisfied.

The CHRISTMAS was crowded again last night. Mr. John E. Owens has already established himself as a great favorite with our critical play-goers. His performances are delightful reminders of old time genuineness of acting. To-night, Owens repeats his great assumption of the part of "John Plummer" and Miss Josie Orton gives her simple and touching rendition of "Dot." Mr. Owens already feels "at home" in our city.

THE WALNUT.—In answer to a general request, Mr. John Brougham appears to-night as "Dr. Savage" in his beautiful new comedy of Playing with Fire, supported by Miss Annie Graham, Mrs. Walcott, Mrs. Chapman, Miss Walcott, Fawcett, Chapman, and all the company favorites.

AT THE AMERICAN THEATRE OF NEW YORK is having a great run. The house is crowded nightly. We observe that this theatre has running around the streets a curious moonish-looking sort of a vehicle, that appears to have been the favorite carriage of the Sultan's "principal wife" at Constantinople. This huge cart is covered all over with red and blue, and is "the gold" what is done at "the American." Is this part of the Pilgrim's Progress?

AT THE ARCH, the "Phonians" continue to delight large audiences with their capricious burlesque called Nary-Brogue, which they give to-night, with other good things. Helias, at the Assembly Buildings, does his great blossoming and fru-bearing orange tree" trick again to-night. He will also introduce his comical band of black heads better known as the "Old Original Jacob's Wood." Miss Richberg, and the other wonderful, droll, funny, and ridiculous things.

CAROLUS & DIXIE have a surprising success with their novelty called the Specter's Frolic. It is a capital burlesque, full of jokes and local hits. It is to be seen this evening at the "Family Theatre" in Eleventh street, above Chestnut.

VALERIE'S WINTER GARDEN, in Vine street, below Fifth, is a pleasant place to spend an evening. The music is by the very best masters, and is executed in admirable style by a large and efficient orchestra.

IMPORTANT CORRESPONDENCE. Government Bonds and Securities—Effect of the Election upon their Value—Opinion of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens.

The following correspondence explains itself:—LANCASTER, Sept. 18.—Hon. Thaddeus Stevens—Dear Sir:—As the question has frequently been asked of me—What effect the President's policy of reconstruction would have upon our national securities, I would like to have your views upon the matter. I am of opinion that its effect would be very injurious.

The President contends that the body of men acting as a Congress has no Constitutional powers, and can do no valid acts in the absence of the elected States. The Congress that authorized the war debt and laid the internal duties to pay it were composed of precisely the same number of Representatives from the same States as the present. If it should be decided that those Congresses had no Constitutional existence, then the 7-20s, 10-40s, 7-30s, and the legal-tender greenbacks will have been issued without authority, and will be worthless.

Whether they would ever be redeemed would depend on what the President would consider a Constitutional Congress, after the admission of the Rebel Representatives, when the condition of the debts of both belligerents would be considered. Yours, truly, THADDEUS STEVENS.

Decision Concerning the Stamp Act. The Mobile papers publish the following decision:—"OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, WASHINGTON, September 11, 1866.—Sir:—In reply to your letter of the 5th instant, in which you request that stamps on duplicate, triplicate, etc., all require stamps as originals, but mere copies are exempt. If notes are given for the consideration of a lease, they must be stamped as well as the lease. Very respectfully, A. ROLLINS, Commissioner. Messrs. Citherrall & Jones, Mobile, Ala."
