

Evening Telegraph PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON. (SUNDAY EXCEPTED.) AT THE EVENING TELEGRAPH BUILDING, NO. 108 S. THIRD STREET.

General Sheridan. Still the President hesitates to remove General Sheridan. And well he may. If all the indications of public sentiment are not fallacious, no act in the President's whole career would so thoroughly arouse the people as this.

His bold and truthful condemnation of Attorney-General Stanbery's "opinion" as "a broad macadamized road for fraud and perjury to travel on," was the death-blow to that infamous attempt to legislate for this country by the Attorney-General's opinions.

No pretense can be made that General Sheridan has not done his duty, and executed the law in accordance with its true spirit and intent. If he is removed it will be because he has done his duty, not because he has neglected it.

The Necessity of an Attempt to Suppress Gambling. Our sister city of New York has recently added to her useful societies one the avowed object of which is to suppress gambling.

The People Watching. The Grand Jury is now in session, and we shall soon see whether Mr. William B. Mann intends to do his duty in the cases of Bill McMullin, Councilman Barnes, etc.

Rebel Triumph in Kentucky. The Rebels carried Kentucky yesterday, as was expected. The proceedings, of course, are a farce. The masses of the true Union citizens of that State are disfranchised, and have no voice in its affairs.

A SPOONFUL.—It is stated that the President has asked Secretary Stanton to resign. We think it would be much more appropriate for the President to resign.

Organization. No such society could stand against the influence and the threats of the powerful band of gamblers—men who are possessed of wealth, which, as it is easily got, is readily spent, and who wield a political power which can only be overcome by the determined action of a body of influential citizens.

We mention this as the first method. The second, although powerful, is, we fear, beyond our reach. We refer to the legal prosecution of such as keep gambling houses. The difficulty of using this means does not consist in securing evidence.

From the report of the counsel, Mr. Nathan Nesbit, it appears that nineteen complaints have been made, chiefly against police officers, and that he had prepared the necessary affidavits upon which to have warrants issued.

The case is the same here as there. Of the dozens of cases before aldermen in which the defendants are held to answer, do we ever hear of one getting into court? It does not happen twice a year that a case is called for trial, and when it is called the accused gets off on some technical ground.

The Registration of Republican Voters. We observe that in most, and we presume the case is so in all, of the wards of the city, the registration of voters under the newly adopted rules of the Republican party is now going on.

Our understanding of the new rules is that they preclude all except regularly registered voters from participating in the primary meetings. The object is to confine voting at these meetings to the bona fide members of the party.

AN UNPOPULAR PRINCE.—Prince Charles of Romania cannot have enjoyed his Moldavian tour very much. At Jassy the boyars declined to offer him a suitable residence, so that he was obliged to put up with very plebeian lodgings in the house of the Prefect.

SOUTHERN EMIGRATION.—The Polish colony which, under General Tochnau's auspices, emigrated to this country and settled in Spotsylvania county, Va., is represented as being in a flourishing condition. The first year's labor, says the Fredericksburg Herald, has rendered them independent, so far as mere living is concerned.

A SPOONFUL.—It is stated that the President has asked Secretary Stanton to resign. We think it would be much more appropriate for the President to resign.

Secretary Stanton. We do not think that Mr. Stanton will go out of the Cabinet. The President cannot turn him out without the consent of the Senate, and Mr. Stanton has the good of the country too much at heart to voluntarily abandon his post.

CHOPS IN THE GOLDEN STATE.—We have received a copy of the San Francisco Market Review, for July 10, a handsome octavo commercial paper, published every "steamer day," by H. Channing Beals, Esq., from which we make the following extracts.

"In reviewing the past harvest year of California, we remark at the outset that the receipts of wheat at this port warrant us in stating that the crop of 1866 was fully double that of any in our history. From tables carefully kept by us for a series of years, we propose to furnish in this paper full and reliable statistics of the flour and grain product, receipts, exports, etc.

The United Kingdom and Eastern domestic ports have been our largest buyers of wheat and flour, with considerable shipments of barley to Australia, China, and New York; and of oats to Australia alone.

Prospect of Another Fight Between Ed. Seward and Dan. Fogery. CLEVELAND, Ohio, August 5.—Ed. Seward, the young pugilist who was defeated by Dan. Fogery on the 9th of July through a foul blow, but who was in a fair way of whipping his opponent but for the sudden stoppage of the fight, hearing that Fogery claims that he fairly whipped him, has challenged him (Fogery) to another battle, offering to bet $1000 to $500 that he (Seward) can defeat him.

COAL AND IRON IN EUROPE.—The imports of Prussian and English coal into Belgium appear to have considerably increased this year; thus the deliveries of English coal attained a total of 30,000 tons to April 30, as compared with 5600 tons in the corresponding period of 1866.

THE SULTAN IN ANOTHER SHOWER.—We do not remember reading of a fete day in England for years when it did not rain. Rain seems to be the normal condition of things in that unhappy Isle. Lately they have been feting the Sultan. It rained all day at the naval review, and the next week, when the volunteer review was given, it rained again, just as the boys in red began to move.

SARGAM IN MONTANA.—Some would-be wit in Montana, who wants to be severe on the Lieutenant-General, has posted the following notice in the streets of Virginia City:—"Wanted, 30,000 grasshoppers, to enter the service of the United States, under General Sherman."

COURT MARTIAL IN BUFFALO. Trial of Artillerymen for Parading with Fixed Bayonets Reported Punishment of Eighteen Months Imprisonment Allocated. BUFFALO, N. Y., August 5.—The court martial convened at Fort Porter for trying seventeen of the privates of Battery M, 4th Artillery, for parading with the bayonets fixed to their rifles, was concluded to-day. I learn that fifteen of the privates have been found guilty and sentenced to eighteen months at the Albany jail; the others are to receive a reprimand from the commanding officer.

CRIME IN FAIRFIELD, OHIO. CINCINNATI, August 5.—About five weeks ago, the little daughter of Joseph Kretzler, of Fairfield, Ohio, was—by an unknown party, then strangled to death, and the body left in the stable of the Artillery, of the same place. Last week a son of Mr. Johnson confessed that he was the perpetrator of the crime, but denied any intention of murdering the little creature. The citizens of Fairfield were about to lynch the culprit, when his friends gave bail and spirited him away.
