

NEWS SUMMARY.

Domestic Affairs.—Gold closed yesterday at 134. The State Temperance Convention adjourned sine die yesterday. Two men were frozen to death on the prairie in Iowa yesterday morning. Lot 10, one of the first settlers of Augusta, Maine, died last evening, aged 85. Baltimore is preparing liberally for the reception of ex-President Andrew Johnson. Both the Republican and Democratic members of the House of Representatives will assemble in caucus on the 21st prox. The City Councils of Washington hold a special meeting to-day to take action in reference to the coming inauguration. James McLean, a respectable farmer of Bullyville, Orange Co., N. Y., committed suicide, by hanging, on Saturday last. Members of the House of Representatives of the Forty-first Congress are earnestly requested to be in Washington on Monday next. The coroner's jury in the case of William H. Bell, killed in Southwick, Mass., on Sunday, by a policeman, has returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. The Grand Jury of the District of Columbia has found guilty of conspiracy fifteen persons for illegally registering their names at the last municipal election in Washington. The Comptroller of the Currency has appointed Special Agent H. Callender to examine and report on the facts connected with the alleged defalcation in the Fourth National Bank of this city. The improvement of the navigation of the Tennessee was argued in a convention at Chattanooga, Tenn., yesterday. Delegates were present from Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Alabama, Ohio, Virginia, and Georgia. Governor Bullock, of Georgia, presided. There is no doubt that the civil tenure law will be either radically modified or absolutely repealed. The sentiment in favor of its repeal has become so strong within the last week as to be almost irresistible. There is a disposition in the Senate to amend the law, so that Congress, when it will undoubtedly pass. Many who were first adverse to changing the law now see the necessity of abandoning it. The confidence in Grant is so universal, and the desire not to embarrass him in any way, that nothing can prevent the removal of this great obstacle from the statute book. Passed simply to check Andrew Johnson, there is no necessity for its retention during the administration of General Grant. The remains of Captain Henry Wirz were exhumed from the Washington Arsenal ground yesterday afternoon, by order of the President, and delivered to Lewis Schade, who, it will be remembered, was the man who shot the body taken to the undertaking establishment of Augustus Borgdort, where they were encased in a handsome walnut coffin, and will remain there until tomorrow, when they will be taken to the home of the wife, who will not probably be interred for a day or two. Wirz's body, after the execution, was placed in a pine coffin, similar to those used in the army, and was evidently buried minus the head. When the remains were taken to the undertaking establishment, the head was missing, and there was nothing to indicate that it had been placed there, with the exception of some hair which was found around with thread. There was flesh upon the head, and the right arm was entirely gone, all the rest being merely a mass of crumbling bones.

Foreign Affairs.—Havana, Feb. 24.—The naval expedition to La Guanama was completely successful. The fortifications erected there by the insurgents were first bombarded by the fleet; the troops landed, and the works carried by assault. The rebels withdrew and retreated into the country. A permanent settlement was left in the town. On Sunday two battalions of troops marched from La Guanama to the relief of Puerto Principe. Captain-General Dulce yesterday addressed the sergeants and corporals of the volunteer forces, exhorting them to maintain order and obedience, and discontinuance all dangerous agitation. A large number of rebel prisoners have been brought to this city, and more are expected. Sugar manufacturers demand relief from burdens of taxation and protection for their products, which they complain have decreased one-third. Cane grinding has commenced on a few plantations in Sautiago District, but it is not expected that more than a half crop can be realized this season. American provisions are wanted on the plantations in the provinces of Neuvas, Gibraltar, and Mazatlan, where cane grinding has not commenced. The Captain-General has issued a proclamation imposing additional export and import duties, a list of which was given in a previous despatch. London, Feb. 24.—In the House of Commons last evening, Solicitor-General Coleridge introduced a bill for the relief of the provinces of Peru and Turkey have been suspended until the arrival of the Persian Ambassador, who is on his way to this city. Contested Election Case.—This case was resumed yesterday afternoon before the Examiners, Messrs. Messick and Batters, the testimony being directed to the Seventh division of the Third ward. Mrs. Ellen McKeehan testified that at this election she voted with her, at No. 4 Crance's court, in the Second ward; he had lived with her since the preceding Christmas; he used to live at No. 735 Leaning street. (He was assessed at the latter number, and on the voters' list.) John A. Evans testified that he left No. 812 South Ninth street five years before this election, and voted in the Second ward; did not vote in this division; no other person of the same name had lived there. (He was assessed at No. 812 South Ninth street, and on the voters' list.) John Conway, No. 5 Read's avenue, testified that Patrick McGowan left there about the beginning of July last; had not seen him since. McGowan was assessed there, and on the voters' list. Did not know where he had moved to. Peter Lappen, No. 868 Stewart street, testified that James Lappen left there about the beginning of this election, and went to the Fifth ward. (James Lappen was assessed there, and on the voters' list.) Richard Murphy, No. 813 Carpenter street, testified that he had not seen James Lappen since August last, and did not vote in this division. (He was assessed at the latter number, and on the voters' list.) George McGire testified that on the 4th of October last he moved to No. 715 Exchange street into the Fourth ward; voted in this division. (He was assessed there and on the voters' list.) Edward Devine, No. 715 Hubbell street, testified that he voted the Republican ticket except for District Attorney and Probationary of the Court of Common Pleas; Lawrence Clark boarded at that time with the witness, but did not know whether he had been naturalized; he was subpoenaed to attend the hearing on the 21st prox. (Clark was on the extra assessment list and on the voters' list.) Owen Holmes, No. 725 Stewart street, testified that he did not vote in this division. (He was assessed there and on the voters' list.) Mr. R. Tallman testified that on South Eighth street, the highest number between Catharine and Christian is No. 830, (below Christian street is 900.) On the extra assessment list, No. 825 was placed. On No. 802 South Eighth street, and was on the list of voters twice; at same number was Terrence Riley, also on the voters' list; at No. 842 South Eighth street, was Thomas O'Neill, and on the list of voters twice. Timothy Burns, No. 701 Christian street, testified that he did not vote nor have himself put on the extra assessment list (he was on that list and marked as voted, but he was not on the list of voters); no James Stiles lived at his house at that time; did not know him; William H. Myers left witness' on the 3d of August (both were assessed there on the voters' list); Myers moved into Seventh street, above Catharine; Stiles lived there before witness; there are no houses on the east side of Seventh, between Catharine and Fitzwater streets. Michael Mulholland testified that in October last he lived at No. 530 Fallon street; came to this country from Ireland in April, 1852; did not declare his intentions to become a citizen; got but one paper, and that last fall; is about 60 years old. (The naturalization paper given him was a minor's paper, issued out of the Supreme Court.) (He was assessed and on the voters' list twice.) Witness resumed—Peter Mulholland, his son, got his papers the same day; he will be 22 years old in June next; his naturalization papers were in good condition on his intentions. (His name was added to the assessment list in pencil, and was on the voters' list.) George Neumann, No. 804 S. Ninth street, testified that he voted the Republican ticket (was on the regular and extra assessment and on the voters' list twice); no other George Neumann lived there; only voted once. Several other persons testified to having voted the Republican ticket.

THE WEALTH OF THE COUNTRY.

Remarks of Judge Kelley in the House of Representatives. On Tuesday last, in the debate on a question involving the consideration of Special Commissioner Wells' report on the revenue of the country, Judge Kelley said:—

I do not care what the Special Commissioner's report is; it is his business to collect, to report, and to advise. I have been an officer of the Government he may have done or written some good things. Heaven knows he ought to have done some good to mitigate the great evil he has done in his report. What is his justification? He says that in 1864, throwing off 26 1/2, the ratio of increase of wealth in the decade preceding 1860, he told the country that our wealth in 1870 would be $22,000,000,000, thus putting his estimate $8,000,000,000 within the limits which experience would have justified; but when in his late official report he comes to tell Congress what our wealth amounts to, how much we have in excess of that which he predicted, he reduces it to $20,000,000,000, and he thereby demonstrates that relatively with France and England we have a great excess of currency which we ought to reduce by contraction. Not only so, but he has estimated that our wealth is so false, in the body of his report, he appends to the report a long letter, with a large edition of which he had heralded the coming of his report. Now, Mr. Wells right when he told us that our wealth was $22,000,000,000, when he insists on Congress legislating on the delicate question of currency on the basis of $20,000,000,000? It is a falsification of figures, a falsification of facts, in one case or the other. In 1860, the ratio of increase of our wealth, which had been $7,135,750,000 in 1850, had become $16,154,616,000 in 1860, an increase in the decade of 126 1/2 per cent., he said:—"Supposing now the war is close at hand, or before the close of 1860, the ratio of increase of the wealth of the old Union; supposing also the wealth of the loyal States to have increased since 1860 at the decennial ratio of one hundred per cent. (an under-estimate, under an over-estimate, and the valuation of the loyal States at that period to be $1,000,000,000 less than in 1860, then the repudiated nation will start anew on its era of peace with a capital of $20,000,000,000, and an annual increase of wealth which certainly will be estimated at less than $2,650,000,000, adopting the ratio of increase at one hundred per cent. for every ten years instead of one hundred and twenty-six and forty-five hundredths per cent., the ratio of increase from 1850 to 1860, it amounts to $170,000,000 in 1860, is not the income of the nation out of which the population are to pay for their subsistence and their luxuries, but the profit over and above our expenses as a nation, or, in other words, it is the surplus of the national production of labor, machinery, and commerce—which is to be annually applied to the permanent improvement of the country, and to be made the instrument of carrying more wealth. So much then for the resources of the country at the close of the war, or at the close of the year 1865. Let us now cautiously prospect the resources of the future, basing our estimates on the teachings of the present and the past. The increase of our wealth, by assuming the decennial increase of wealth to be but one hundred per cent., or more than one-fifth less than it had been in the previous decade, he showed that our wealth would be $17,000,000,000 in 1860. Had he based his calculation on the decennial ratio of the last decade it would have brought us to over forty thousand millions, but, making due allowance for the waste of the war, it amounts to $10,000,000,000. All his financial arguments are therefore deduced from what he knew to be a false assumption. The increase of the anthracite coal trade, Mr. Wells shows you will liberally give, has been about eight per cent. in three years, while from the bituminous regions of the West and South the development of all other coal has been from five to seven hundred, and in some districts a thousand per cent. in those three years. Yet in a single parenthesis he buries that magnificent fact bearing upon the pig-iron and every other iron question, and upon our lumber forests which were being cut and sold at a profit of one hundred per cent. on the consumption of coal. Listen to his artful statement:—"The recent increase in the production of anthracite coal, which may be taken as a measure of the product of coal, is reported as follows:—

And then proceeds to give the figures, showing an increase of 8 per cent., in 1868, 1867, and 1868. Gentlemen from Iowa, has not the coal trade in those three years become one of the most important matters of traffic over your railroads; and have not the smoke and cinders of the wood consumed in your locomotives disappeared because your iron coal is the fuel used on your roads? Gentlemen from Southern Indiana, has the development of your coal-fields been but eight per cent. in three years? Gentlemen from Illinois—and I see before me one in whose district I am sure you will be elected in 1870—did you not in 1866, and in which I know there are some things like a dozen shafts delivering coal to surrounding districts, and making freight for every railroad traversing the section—has the increase here been only eight per cent. in three years, and is the production of anthracite the measure of the production of all American coal? The Commissioner of Revenue knew when he penned that paragraph that the anthracite coal field in Iowa within the limits of a few counties of Pennsylvania, and that the railroads and canals for its amplest development had been constructed before 1866, and that the other coal fields are almost co-extensive with the country. Why, then, did he invent a false statement in his report? It was that he saw fit to urge in a parenthesis this, perhaps most important, fact in the current history of our national progress.

Pennsylvania in the Cabinet. Washington, Feb. 24.—General Grant told Mr. Moorehead to-day that he had selected a Cabinet officer from Pennsylvania, but he declined to give his name. He said that the person selected is not aware of the fact. The Public Printing. The Senate has passed the joint resolution authorizing the Committee on Public Printing to conclude a satisfactory contract with Rives & Baily for reporting and publishing the debates for the next two years.

From St. Louis. St. Louis, Feb. 24.—At a late hour last night the following challenge was sent to Gallagher, the winner of the prize last yesterday:— "I challenge you to a fair, stand-up fight, according to the rules of the London prize ring, in one week from to-day, for $1100 a side. $250 are left by this day at Isaac Campbell's saloon, corner of Fifth and Green streets, as a deposit on the match, and I hope Mr. Gallagher or his friends will have gone enough to cover it." (Signed) THOMAS ALLEN. The tobacco factory of John W. Way & Co., in Alton, Illinois, was burned last night, and the adjoining block seriously injured. The loss is not known.

Brownlow in Earnest. Governor Brownlow issues the following as his last proclamation:— "Whereas, by where now 1600 State Guards at Nashville, armed and equipped, under the command of General Joseph A. Cooper; and whereas, these troops are intended to preserve the peace and enforce the laws in counties heretofore partially in rebellion. Now, therefore, I, William G. Brownlow, Governor of Tennessee, do hereby proclaim martial law in and over the following counties, to-wit:—Overton, Jackson, Maury, Giles, Marshall, Lawrence, Gibson, Madison, and Haywood. And I further direct that General Cooper distribute these troops at once, and compute them in service until we have unmistakable evidence of the purpose of all parties to keep the peace. It is further ordered in this proclamation that the general in command shall enforce the most rigid discipline among the troops, requiring them, in every particular, to conform to strict military discipline, showing no quarter to either officers or privates who shall be found guilty of habitual drunkenness. And whereas, I have caused the great seal of the State to be attached hereto, this 20th day of February, 1869, and I order that the same be inserted three times in each of the newspapers entitled to publish local advertisements. Witness my hand and the seal of the State, at Nashville, this 20th day of February, 1869. Governor of Tennessee.
