

DR. SCHENCK

says there are only two things necessary to be done to cure consumption.

The first is to prevent the patient from taking cold.

The second is to get up a proper tone for the stomach.

His Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, when used in accordance with directions, will bring about a healthy condition of the lungs and stomach, which is the first grand requisite. This done, the only thing to be observed is the avoidance of taking cold. But this, unfortunately, many persons will not do. They expose themselves to the raw winds of our variable climate, and thereby defeat all the good accomplished by the medicines named above. To prevent these bad results, Dr. Schenck advises his patients to go to Florida in the winter season, as the climate there is more equable. When this is impossible, the next best and only safe thing that the patient can do is to stay in the house all winter, keeping the temperature of the apartment at about 70 degrees Fahrenheit. If patients will not follow this simple advice, they cannot reasonably hope for a cure. Exposing themselves to the rasping winds of the Middle States in the winter season, they take fresh colds, and these repeated assaults upon an already debilitated system at length reduce it so low as to place it beyond the reach of any medicine.

Now Dr. Schenck's medicines are a sure cure if they are taken properly. They purify and invigorate the system. They nourish, while they remove all deleterious matter. They restore lost appetite and create a desire for that kind of food without which a patient cannot hope to be restored to health.

But of what avail are their restorative effects if they are time and again neutralized by exposure? Let no consumptive patient forget that it is the little colds in the beginning that produce the great ones that ultimately destroy.

Hundreds of the very worst cases of consumption have been cured by the use of Dr. Schenck's medicines, and the tens of thousands who are either in the incipient stages of this terrible disease, or whose cases are confirmed ones, may be benefited in the same manner if they could be prevailed upon to use them as directed.

Hundreds of consumptives who have been cured by their use have had a return of the disease simply because they forgot the injunction—avoid taking cold. They think they must have fresh air. Physicians recommend it, and they obey. The result generally is—death, or a terrible lingering more to be dreaded than death itself.

Once cured, it is possible to stay cured, if Dr. Schenck's directions are observed; but if they are not, the condition of the patients is worse than before. They must have exercise, but let them have it in their apartments. Let them keep warm. Let them exercise as much as their strength will permit in their own homes every day. Get the blood into healthy circulation. Keep up the spirits. Call in pleasant company—such as wear pleasant faces. If long-faced prophets of evil visit you, don't ask them to come again. Encourage cheerful visitors who bring cheerful news, and who are not messengers of bad tidings. This done, the patient cannot fail to improve and ultimately be cured, unless his case has been neglected so long that it is utterly hopeless. The lungs will not heal as long as they are exposed to violent extremes of temperature, and if patients will only bear this fact in mind and use Dr. Schenck's medicines properly, as directed, they can scarcely fail to be cured.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

The City Amusements. At the WALNUT Mr. John S. Clarke will take a benefit to-night, when he will personate "Jeremiah Beetle" in Tom Taylor's comedy of "The Babel in the Wood," and "Jack Humpries" in Poole's farce of "Turning the Tables." There will be a matinee to-morrow, when Mr. Clarke will appear as "Jeremiah Beetle," and as "Cousin Joe" in the farce of "The Rough Diamond." On Monday Mr. John D. Stockton's comedy of "For a Goose" will be produced. This piece achieved a great success when it was brought out in London, and as the author is a Philadelphian, it will undoubtedly receive the proper amount of attention from our playgoers. At the CHESNUT the Lisa Weber troupe will appear for the last time this evening and to-morrow afternoon in the burlesque of "Zentral." On Monday Mad'le Fanny Janaschek will appear in English tragedy. The engagement of this great artist is limited to six nights, and the lovers of the higher forms of dramatic art may expect rare enjoyment from her performances. Mad'le Janaschek will personate "Mary Stuart," "Deborah," "Lady Macbeth," and other tragic characters. At the ARCH the comedy of "M. P." will be represented for the last time this evening and to-morrow. On Monday a new piece by Mr. Alberry, entitled "The Two Roses," will be produced. At DUPREZ & BENEDETTI'S OPERA HOUSE Mr. Andrew Hedder will have a benefit this evening, when he will appear as "Claude Melnotte" in "The Lady of Lyons." At the AMERICAN a first-rate Saturday night bill is announced. Adam Forester's combined menagerie and circus will exhibit this afternoon and evening at the corner of Broad and Wallace streets. At the ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE the burlesque of "Mad'le Nilsson; or, The Black Knight," with other entertainments, will be given this evening. At the ARCH STREET OPERA HOUSE the "Man in Black," "The Three o'clock Train," and "Forty Winks" are among the attractions offered for this evening.

CITY ITEMS.

FAST LIVING AND ITS CONSEQUENCES.—When "fast life" has undermined the strength, destroyed the appetite, impaired the digestion, and stolen the hue of health from the cheek—when the hand trembles, the spirits droop, and the whole physical and mental organization languishes, it is possible to repair the evil and restore the dilapidated system to full health and vigor? We answer that it is. Hundreds of cases have been cited, thousands might be cited, in which this regeneration has been accomplished by the regular and persistent use of PLANTATION BITTERS. Abstinence from the indulgences which have wrought the mischief is, of course, one of the means of restoration. But it is not sufficient alone. The consequences remain after the cause has been abandoned. A wholesome and genial tonic is absolutely necessary to rouse the corporal and mental energies from their state of collapse. This good work it is the mission of the Plantation Bitters to perform. But no other stimulant must be taken.

MR. WILLIAM W. CASBIDY, the jeweler at No. 8 South Second street, has one of the largest and most attractive stocks of all kinds of Jewelry and Silverware in the city. He has also on hand a fine assortment of fine American Western Watches. Those who purchase at this store at the present time are certain to get the worth of their money.

The demand on Saturday for our $15 and other beautiful and cheap suits surpassed anything in the history of our business. From morning until night there was one continual stream of customers making purchases at the Great Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 693 and 695 Chesnut street.

VALER'S RESTAURANT, No. 928 Chestnut, elegantly fitted up, is now in full blast, serving all the delicacies of the season from 6 A. M. to midnight. Parties returning from the theatres or opera house served at the shortest notice from an unsurpassed bill of fare. Ladies' Saloon on the second floor.

FROM G. F. J. COLBURN, DOCTOR OF DENTAL SURGERY, NEWARK, N. J.—The popular dentrice, known as Sododont, besides being a very pleasant addition to the toilet, contains ingredients that, if used according to the directions, will prove of the greatest utility to the health of the mouth and teeth.

MESSRS. THOMAS & SONS will sell on Tuesday next the valuable property No. 121 Walnut street, wide front, with back outlet, heating system, gas, bath, hot and cold water, furnace, etc. Sale positive. $ 9,300.
